Signals for the Port of Chittagong.

Storm signals will be only used within the limits of the Port of Chittagong to give notice to the shipping and general public of the early approach of a severe cyclone with its attendant storm-wave. The following are the storm signals which will be used within the limits of the port. They will be hoisted on the flagstaff yard-arm at Sudder ghât and on the Jooldia flagstaff yard-arm on receipt of instructions from the Meteorological office.

A ball indicates that a severe cyclone, of which the centre is in the neighbourhood of Akyab, will probably advance towards Chittagong.

1. Day warning signal.

A drum indicates that a severe cyclone with its attendant storm-wave is approaching Chittagong.

2. Day danger signal.

Three lights in a vertical plain indicate that a severe cyclone, of which the centre is in the neighbourhood of Akyab, will probably advance towards Chittagong.

Rule XXIV.—Every ship or vessel within the port shall remove any anchor spar, or other object projecting from her side.

Rule XXV.—No person shall use or use naked light of any description in the hold or between-decks of any vessel lying in the port. Closed lanterns, secured by lock and key, and in charge of an officer of the vessel, shall alone be taken between-decks or into the hold.

Rule XXVI.—Fires shall be permitted only in galleys or fire-places regularly constructed for the purpose; such fires to be kept alight only between daybreak and 9 P.M. Fires for cooking shall not be allowed on board of vessels in dock.

Rule XXVII.—With a view to the extinction of fires, all vessels in port shall be provided with three buckets for every hundred tons of registered measurement up to 600 tons, and two additional buckets for every 100 tons above 600: provided that the total number of buckets shall not be required to exceed 50 in any vessel. One-half of such buckets shall be left constantly hung up on the quarter-deck or other convenient place.

Rule XXVIII.—When fire has broken out in any vessel, the officers in charge of all vessels in neighbouring moorings or anchorage shall furl their awnings, get their force-pumps ready for use, and prepare for slipping their cables and chains, seeing specially that the pins of the shackles can be immediately knocked out.

Rule XXX.—All vessels about to leave the port shall hoist the Blue-Peter at the fore at least twenty-four hours before leaving the moorings, and shall keep it hoisted until the pilot takes charge of the vessel to take her to sea.

Rule XXXI.—No vessel shall steam, sail, or be towed up on the flood or down on the ebb within port limits except with the permission of the Port Officer.

Rule XXXII.—River steamers and tug steamers having no vessels in tow are permitted to move up on the flood, or down on the ebb, at their own risk and at a speed sufficient to keep the vessels under command; but in no case shall the speed exceed four miles an hour through the water.

Rule XXXIII.—For the use of the Government Launch Fire-engine, a charge of Rs. 50 will be made for every twelve hours and part thereof.

Rules for Pilots in the Port of Chittagong.

I.—Pilots in charge of inward-bound vessels are directed to hoist the vessel's number, and, if salt laden or from dutiable ports, are to have the ensign hoisted at the main-mast head for the information of the Customs Inspector, Jaldia.

II.—A pilot on taking charge of an inward-bound vessel shall, immediately on boarding her, hoist his distinguishing number, and hand over to the master of the vessel the following papers:—(1) Port Rules, (2) Pilotage Rules, (3) Medical Inspection Rules, (4) Customs Regulations. If any case of cholera, small-pox, or other epidemic disease common in India is on board he shall at once report the fact to the Port Officer, stating the number of cases, and shall await orders before taking up any anchorage in the harbour.

III.—A pilot detained on board at Jaldia will, in the event of the captain refusing to take steam, report the matter to the Port Officer and await orders.

IV.—The pilot shall not give over charge of his vessel in the river unless she has been moored or he has been relieved by a harbour master or other officer authorised to take charge.

V.—Pilots on arrival off town shall state the time of arrival, the vessel's name, the place where she has been left, and, if moored, with how much chain each way. This information is to be entered in a book kept at the Port Office for that purpose.

VI.—Every pilot shall on arrival report to the Port Officer the number of pilots on the station, and also any alterations he may have observed in the river on his way up.

VII.—No pilot shall take charge of an outward-bound vessel without an order signed by the Port Officer, or proceed unless the vessel has obtained her customs clearance. If the vessel is to take steam, he should not break ground without satisfying himself that the tug is engaged to take the vessel to sea, or to remain by her till the vessel is outside the Outer Bar.

VIII.—The pilot shall ascertain that the vessel has two serviceable bower anchors, and if she has not a sheet or spare anchor fit for a bower over her side, that she has one in such a position on deck that it can easily be brought into use in case of necessity. Also that a kedg with line ready bent be on deck and ready for immediate use.

IX.—If a pilot appointed to take a vessel to sea during neaps considers her draught too much, and that it would involve a risk and responsibility which he is unwilling to take, he should at once communicate the fact to the master and report to the Port Officer, for orders, fully explaining his grounds of objection.

X.—If after a pilot joins a vessel he finds that she is of larger draught than she was reported to be, or that she takes in any cargo that alters her draught, he will at once report the matter to the Port Officer and await orders.

XI.—Pilots are on no account to cross the bar between sunset and sunrise, on pain of dismissal, without the permission of the Port Officer in writing, the cost of lighting the buoys being defrayed by the ship concerned.

XII.—A pilot shall not relinquish charge of a vessel unless on account of sickness or other unavoidable necessity. If he is in any way impeded in the performance of his duty, he should report the circumstances to the Port Officer, and, if necessary, anchor the vessel.

XIII.—Pilots shall attend the Port Office daily, and shall not leave town without permission of the Port Officer being previously obtained.

XIV.—Until further orders, pilots shall be governed by the following rules as to the draughts of vessels to be moved either up or down, in or out:—

- (a)—They may move a vessel in or out without steam at a draught of 18 feet, and with steam to any reasonable draught.
- (b)—Vessels of 275 feet length and upwards shall not be brought up above Moiscally without permission from Port Officer, to whom her length and draught must be reported in writing.

XV.—No pilot on his way up or down the river, and not employed on any special duty, shall pass a vessel having a pilot signal flying without boarding her and ascertaining why she is without a pilot, and if required shall take charge of her, and take her on her way and stop by her until she can be left in safety.

XVI.—Masters are requested to report when there appears to have been any unnecessary delay in getting the pilot on board.

XVII.—If a vessel loses an anchor or anchors, the pilot shall immediately submit a report to the Port Office. The report should be attested by the master of the vessel, and to enable the Port Officer's Department to identify the lost articles, it shall indicate accurately the following particulars:—

- (1)—Locality of the loss.
- (2)—Bearings of known objects.
- (3)—Description, weight, and distinctive marks of anchors.
- (4)—Description and quantity of cable.

XVIII.—Should a vessel ground, collide with any vessel or buoy, or meet with any casualty while under weigh or at anchor, the pilot shall, on the first opportunity, forward to the Port Officer a report in writing of the occurrence, containing the following particular:—

- (a)—Locality of the accident.
- (b)—Bearings of any known object in view.
- (c)—The vessel's draught of water.
- (d)—The time of tide.
- (e)—Hour of the day the accident occurred.
- (f)—Manœuvre the pilot was executing or attempting to execute.
- (g)—The damage, if any, sustained.
- (h)—The time the vessel was on shore.
- (i)—Quantity of water made by the vessel.

XIX.—Pilots, before leaving a vessel, shall obtain a certificate from the master as to how he has performed his duty, and present the same to the Port Officer on arrival.

XX.—Pilots, whilst in town, should daily inspect carefully the channel and the river-book kept at the Port Office.

XXI.—If a pilot considers himself aggrieved by any conduct on the part of the master of a vessel, he shall submit his complaint in writing to the Port Officer for his consideration and orders.

XXII.—Masters or agents are requested to give at least 24 hours' previous notice when a pilot is required to shift or take a vessel to sea or for any other purpose, to enable the Port Officer to send for pilots from the mouth of the river, if required.

XXIII.—The cutter with pilots shall cruise in the day backwards and forwards from the Outer Bar buoys to off the mouth of the Sangoo river during the south-west monsoon, weather permitting, and shall remain day and night on her station, viz. three miles outside the Bar buoys during the north-east monsoon. The senior pilot on board will be held responsible should any complaint be made owing to delay being incurred in getting, or putting on, or taking a pilot out from a vessel.

XXIV.—The sanctioned pilotage charge is as follows:—

Draught in feet.	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
In or out	30	36	42	50	60	70	80	95	110

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
In or out	125	140	160	180	205	230	260

When the draught exceeds by more than six inches any depth here provided for, the next foot of draught shall be charged for.

For every foot, or part of a foot, exceeding six inches above 23 feet, an additional sum of Rs. 32 will be charged. Three-fourth rates will be charged for steamers and vessels towed by steam.

XXV.—In every case in which the services of a port pilot are not used, and the vessel is piloted by a person specially licensed to pilot in the Chittagong river, half the sanctioned charge for pilotage shall be paid.

XXVI.—All persons specially licensed to pilot in the Chittagong river shall be subject to the control of the Port Officer in regard to their pilotage work.

AFRICA—EAST COAST.

GULF OF ADEN.

Buoyage of the reefs at the entrance to Zeyla.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 57, issued from this Department, 11th October 1884, relative to the intended buoyage of the reefs at the entrance to Zeyla, information has been received announcing that the buoys were laid down on the 14th September 1884:—

EFAT SHOAL BUOY—A red iron conical buoy has been moored in $7\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms, at low water ordinary spring tides, at the East end of the shoal off Efât Island, and the following bearings are given:—

Centre of Zeyla town	S 24° W.
Right extreme of Sadalden Island	S 55° W.
Right extreme of Efât Island	N 71° W.

FILFIL SHOAL BUOY—A red iron conical buoy has been laid in 6 fathoms, at low water ordinary spring tides, at the West end of Filfil shoal, with:—

Centre of Zeyla town	S 48° W.
Right extreme of Sadalden Island	N 88° W.
Right extreme of Efât Island	N 53° W.

CHANNEL REEF BUOY—An iron conical buoy with black and white vertical stripes has been laid down on the Channel reef in 4 fathoms, at low water ordinary spring tides, in the following position:—

Centre of Zeyla town	S 36° W.
Right extreme of Sadalden Island	S 81° W.
Right extreme of Efât Island	N 53° W.

There is a small white beacon like a mosque just inside the North end of Efât Island.

Directions.—Vessels bound for Zeyla can either make Efât shoal buoy or the Filfil shoal buoy, and if the weather is clear the town will be seen before getting up to the buoys. Efât shoal buoy should be passed to the Eastward, and Filfil shoal buoy to the Westward, giving Channel reef buoy a berth of half a mile on either side. The directions given in the Gulf of Aden Pilot will then suffice. If the Channel reef buoy be washed away, great care is necessary in passing the reef, as it is difficult to distinguish and steep-to, and seems to be of larger dimensions than those given in the Gulf of Aden Pilot.

The Bearings are Magnetic.

Port Officer of Calcutta.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT FOR 1883-84.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—EXCISE.

Darjeeling, the 27th October 1884.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Board's Report on the Administration of the Excise Department for 1883-84.

The proposal to which reference was made in the Resolution recorded last year, for appointing a special Commission to consider and report upon the system of excise on country spirits in all its aspects after careful local enquiry, was carried into execution during the year under review. The Commission has since the close of the year submitted a report, which has been under the separate consideration of Government, and, as all questions connected with country spirits will be dealt with in the orders finally disposing of it, it will be unnecessary to enter at any length into the discussion of such questions in this Resolution.

2. The financial results of the administration of the Excise Department are shown in the following statement:—

PERIOD.	Revenue.	Charges.	Net revenue.	Percentage of charges.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Average of 1878-79 to 1882-83	83,79,296	2,69,118	81,10,178	3.2
1-82-83	97,81,850	2,65,438	95,16,414	2.7
Difference of the past two years	+6,41,321	—10,349	+6,51,670	—3

There was thus an increase in revenue of Rs. 20,43,875 over the average of the preceding five years, and of Rs. 6,41,321 as compared with last year. Moreover, there was a decrease of Rs. 10,349 in charges as compared with 1882-83. The largest increase of revenue occurred in Patna (Rs. 1,11,190), Chittagong (Rs. 57,126), Calcutta, Suburbs, and Howrah (Rs. 41,797), Shahabad (Rs. 37,890), Monghyr (Rs. 31,580), and Lohardugga (Rs. 31,025). Only seven districts show a decrease, viz. Gya (Rs. 15,263), Nuddea (Rs. 6,305), Purneah (Rs. 3,172), Rajshahye (Rs. 2,786), Dinagepore (Rs. 1,648), Noakholly (Rs. 1,559), and Backergunge (Rs. 469). The increase in each of the divisions as a whole, together with the incidence of the revenue, was—

DIVISION.	Increase.	Incidence per 100 of population.
	Rs.	Rs.
Burdwan (without Howrah town)	82,416	14
Presidency (without Suburbs)	54,717	10
Calcutta, Suburbs, and Howrah	41,797	237
Rajshahye	42,114	8
Dacca	14,048	8
Chittagong	59,279	8
Patna	2,04,276	17
Bhagulpore	56,909	14
Orissa	25,106	13
Chota Nagpore	60,659	14

Compared with 1882-83, there was no change in the incidence in the Presidency Division, while there was an increase of Re. 1 in each of the Divisions of Burdwan, Rajshahye, Dacca, Patna, Bhagulpore, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore; of Rs. 2 in the Chittagong Division; and of Rs. 5 in Calcutta. Apart from Calcutta, the districts in which the incidence was highest are Darjeeling (Rs. 69), Patna (Rs. 44), Gya (Rs. 28), Hooghly (Rs. 25), and 24-Pergunnahs (Rs. 24). It was lowest in Noakholly (Re. 1), Khoolna, Jessore, Dinagepore, Backergunge, Tipperah, and Singbhoom (Rs. 5). The population being taken at 66 millions, the excise revenue during the year gives a rate of two annas and five pie per head, or Re. 1-8 for every ten of the population.

3. The fluctuations under each head of the revenue are exhibited in the following table:—

ARTICLES.	REVENUE.			IN 1883-84 COMPARED WITH 1882-83.		IN 1883-84 COMPARED WITH 1878-83.

The heads under which the receipts fell below those of the preceding year are charas, majun, chundoo, spirits used for arts, and miscellaneous. Under all other heads there was an increase, especially under country spirits, ganja, and opium.

4. There was a small increase from 4,560 to 4,614 during the year in the total number of shops licensed for the sale of country spirits. Of these, 481 were licensed under the sudder distillery system against 466, and 4,133 under the outstill system against 4,094 in the preceding year.

5. The number of licenses taken out for the wholesale sale of country-made rum rose from 18 in 1882-83 to 24 in the year under review. Of these, 5 were taken out in Calcutta, 3 in Darjeeling, 2 in Dacca, and 4 in Mymensingh. On the other hand, the number of licenses for the retail sale of rum decreased from 115 to 103. The quantity of rum of country manufacture passed for consumption amounted to 13,832 gallons against 13,847, the duty realized therefrom showing a small advance from Rs. 74,020 to Rs. 75,124. The total realizations under rum amounted to Rs. 1,14,576 against Rs. 1,08,761. There was again a falling off in the importation of Shahjehanpore rum, the quantity imported in 1883-84 being 17,500 gallons against 18,340 gallons in the previous year. The Assam Administration has raised a question whether that province should not be credited with the duty paid in Calcutta, or received by the Bengal Government on account of rum imported for consumption into Assam. The matter is under consideration.

6. The total number of licenses, wholesale and retail, for the sale of imported wines was 999 against 941 in the previous year, while the revenue rose from Rs. 1,94,090 to Rs. 2,00,795. The quantity of foreign wines, spirits, and beer imported and the customs revenue realized therefrom were—

				Number of gallons.	Revenue. Rs.
„ 1883-84	601,404	37,598

It is remarked that the demand for claret in this country is declining; that as regards sherry, the public taste has followed the lead of England, where the trade has suffered severely; that champagne has recovered the decline of the previous year; that there has been a continued falling off in the importations of brandy and gin; and that the importations of whisky, rum, beer, and porter have increased.

7. The number of licenses issued for the sale of tari fell from 30,311 in 1882-83 to 20,138 in 1883-84. This decrease is due to the orders issued last year under which unfermented tari was exempted from the operation of the Excise Act throughout the Dacca Division. The revenue amounted to Rs. 6,63,693 against Rs. 6,61,887, the increase being obtained chiefly in Hooghly, 24-Pergunnahs, Calcutta, Gya, Shahabad, Durbhunga, and Bhagatpore.

8. The number of licenses taken out for the sale of pachwai was 2,25 against 2,159 in the previous year, and the revenue from license-fees rose from Rs. 1,76,613 to Rs. 1,83,054. The increase was chiefly obtained in Bankoora, Midnapore, Moorshedabad, Darjeeling, Mymensingh, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and Manbhoom, while there was a decrease in the revenue in Burdwan, Beerbhoom, 24-Pergunnahs, Rajshahye, Julpigoree, Dacca, Furreedpore, Chittagong, and Maldah. The increase in Bankoora and Midnapore is attributed to the reduction in the number of outstill shops in the Sonthal parts of the districts, some of which worked in concert with pachwai shops. The vendors being relieved of the outstills, the fees for their pachwai shops were increased. The increase in Moorshedabad and Sonthal Pergunnah is attributed to the establishment of a larger number of shops, in Darjeeling to the growth of population and development of business, in Mymensingh to the adoption of steps for preventing illicit manufacture, and in Manbhoom to the fact that certain outstill vendors who had taken settlement of country liquor shops at a high license-fee were induced to take a neighbouring pachwai shop also in order to protect the more valuable custom of their outstills. On the other hand, the decrease in Burdwan is ascribed partly to the high price of rice, from which alone pachwai is brewed in that district, and partly to the increased competition of country spirit and in Beerbhoom to the concessions made to the Sonthals in regard to home brewing. The decrease in the remaining districts was insignificant and calls for no special remark.

9. The quantity of ganja consumed in Bengal depends mainly upon the outturn of the Rajshahye crop. All ganja remaining in the wholesale golahs after two years is destroyed, and thus the annual consumption within the province can seldom very largely exceed the quantity produced, although it may, and frequently does, fall below it. The system under which excise duties are levied on ganja is as follows. Licenses for the cultivation of the hemp plant for the manufacture of ganja are granted by the supervisor of the ganja mehal, and all stages, both of the cultivation and of the manufacture, are subjected to strict supervision to prevent the risk of illicit transactions. All ganja thus produced is stored by the wholesale dealers in licensed golahs, which can be opened only at regular intervals, and in the presence of responsible Government officers. The retail sale is carried on by licensed vendors, who obtain their licenses under the auction system. All ganja issued from a wholesale golah to a licensed vendor is carefully weighed and examined in the presence of an Excise Deputy Collector or Sub-divisional Officer at the time of issue, and a fixed duty has to be paid before it leaves the golah. The tax on ganja thus consists of two parts, the fixed duty paid on the quantity which passes into consumption, and the license-fees. Any increase in either or both of these must tend, pro tanto, to raise the price of ganja to the consumer, and therefore to diminish the consumption of the drug.

The ganja crop of the year was much more plentiful than in the previous year, being 8,982 maunds against 6,264 maunds, and the result was a considerable fall in prices. The wholesale price of flat ganja ranged between Rs. 10 and Rs. 25 against Rs. 12 and Rs. 40, and that of round ganja between Rs. 12 and Rs. 35 against Rs. 15 and Rs. 45. There was an increase in the number of shops from 3,271 to 3,298; in the quantity consumed from 5,645 maunds to 5,881 maunds; in the revenue from license-fees from Rs. 7,95,223 to Rs. 8,44,776 and in the revenue from duty; from Rs. 10,65,274 to Rs. 11,28,937. The increase in the revenue, notwithstanding the late enhancement of duty, is no doubt in a great measure the result of the prosperity and increased spending power of the people. The increase was most marked in the Presidency and Patna Divisions. There was an actual decrease in the consumption in the Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, and Chota Nagpore Divisions, notwithstanding which the revenue shows an increase. A considerable quantity of illicit ganja has, for years past, found its way into the district of Midnapore from the adjoining Tributary States, and it has been found necessary in the interests of the revenue to prohibit the cultivation of the plant altogether in the State of Mohurbhunj. These orders were not issued until after the close of the year under review.

The Excise Commission have given reasons for suspecting extensive smuggling of ganja, and illicit sale by vendors under cover of their licenses. This matter will be separately enquired into.

10. The price of excise opium remained unaltered during the year. There was a decrease of 19 in the number of licenses issued, an increase of 116 maunds in consumption, and of Rs. 1,09,553 in the revenue realized. Almost half the increase in the revenue occurred in the Chittagong district (Rs. 54,550), where the increase in the quantity of the drug purchased (58 maunds) is due to the extension of smuggling into Arracan. It is understood that while on the Chittagong side the system is that generally in force in Bengal, on the Arracan side there is a system of farming by a monopolist. There the sales are limited, and this is due to the policy which has been deliberately adopted with respect to Burmah, viz. to keep down the quantity of opium available for sale in that province. The Board write—

If the authorities in British Burmah are interested in keeping the supply of opium down to a minimum, it is for them to guard their frontier and seaports against smuggling, long and difficult as the frontier may be to guard. It does not appear to the Board why the Bengal Government should spend money on police or other agency to prevent opium smuggling when the result of successful prevention must be to diminish the provincial excise revenue. On principle, therefore, the Board think it should be maintained that the cost of any preventive measures undertaken should be debited to Burmah. To be effective they are likely to be expensive. To prevent this smuggling, it is obvious that opium must be made as dear in Chittagong (or very nearly so) as it is in Arracan. The Board do not think the mere raising of the wholesale price at the Government treasury from Rs. 28 to Rs. 30, or even Rs. 32 a seer, would be sufficient. Some plan of a much more radical character would be required. * * the Board are of opinion that to nearly double the retail price would hardly be fair to the bond fide consumers in Chittagong. They would take measures to obtain the drug cheap from Calcutta and other districts, and smuggling, though diminished on the Arracan frontier, would be indefinitely increased elsewhere.

The Board, after a careful consideration of the subject, have come to the conclusion that so long as the Burmah system is maintained, it appears impossible to make any change in the Chittagong system which will not be injurious to the revenue, unfair to the bond fide consumers of opium, and fraught with difficulties as to smuggling into Chittagong from other Bengal districts, to which the smuggling on the Arracan frontier is nothing in comparison.

The Lieutenant-Governor agrees generally in the views expressed by the Board. The question, however, is one of no small difficulty, and Mr. Rivers Thompson desires that the Board will continue to give it their closest attention. It may be possible to come to some arrangement with the Government of British Burmah, by which the pronounced differences of system in the administration of the department in respect of opium between Chittagong and Arracan may be somewhat shaded off. Until this is done, it seems prima facie unlikely that any complete remedy can be applied to the evils complained of. A copy of this Resolution will be forwarded to the Chief Commissioner of Burmah.

An important seizure was made by the Hooghly police, in which over six maunds of contraband opium were confiscated. The offender was tried, convicted, and punished with imprisonment and fine.

11. The number of arrests for offences against the excise laws was 4,092 against 3,757 in the previous year, and the number of persons convicted was 3,386 against 3,104. Of the persons arrested, 3,563 were other than licensed vendors, 528 committed breaches of license, and one was employed in the Excise Department. Compared with 1882-83 there was greater activity both on the part of police and excise officers in the detection of breaches of the law.

12. The names of the officers selected by the Board for special mention will be noted in the Appointment Department. The Lieutenant-Governor again desires to thank the Board for their careful and efficient administration of the Excise Department during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TRIBUTARY STATES OF ORISSA FOR THE YEAR 1883-84.

POLITICAL.

Darjeeling, the 27th October 1884.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Administration of the Tributary States of Orissa for the year 1883-84.

Read also—

The Reports for 1881-82 and 1882-83, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

Of the 19 Killahs or States under the general designation of the Tributary Mehals, five were, during the year under review, as in the preceding year, under direct management, two—Angul and the Khondmals—being Government estates, and three, Baramba, Dhenkenal and Mohurbhunj, managed for their minor Chiefs. The other 14 States were administered by their own Chiefs under the general supervision of the Superintendent.

2. Of the 17 Native States one, “Pal Lehara,” pays tribute to Keonjhar, to which it was formerly subordinate. From the remaining 16 Native States the total tribute payable to this Government was Rs. 33,249-7-11. There was no balance outstanding from the previous year; and of the demand for the year under review, Rs. 10,633-14-5 had been paid in advance. The collections amounted to Rs. 26,112-0-3, of which Rs. 22,629-6-1 were for the current year and Rs. 3,482-10-2 in advance.

3. At the six stations where proper rain-gauges are kept, an average rainfall of about 55 inches was shown. But the rainfall, though not below the average, ceased early, and the crops in consequence suffered. It does not appear, however, that any great suffering was caused to the people, although the price of grain rose by more than 30 per cent. in some States. The Superintendent remarks that, if the present season be favourable, no serious distress need be apprehended. The returns of the Meteorological Department are up to date quite favourable from all the reporting stations, but these do not give the reports from the interior of the country, and it would be well for the Superintendent to impress on the Native Chiefs the advisability of procuring accurate information as to the condition of the people in order that steps may be taken, if necessary, for their relief.

4. The general health of the people is stated to have been much better than in the preceding year. There was the usual outbreak of malarious fever in certain parts; but except a few instances of cholera in Angul and of small-pox in Angul, Hindole and the Khondmals, the States were free from epidemics. But little appears hitherto to have been done in extending vaccination through the States. There was a very severe epidemic of small-pox in the Mohurbhunj State in 1882-83, which lasted three months, and carried off the Maharajah and his Rani. The people are reported to be still partial to inoculation, and to have no faith in vaccination. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that advantage should be taken of the fact that five of the States are now under direct management to encourage the spread of vaccination. It is probable that, if the Chiefs of the other States have its advantages prominently brought to their notice, they will be more inclined to enforce its adoption in their own States. In Cooch Behar the practice of inoculation was, during the administration of that State by this Government, prohibited, and the inoculators induced to adopt the profession of vaccinators. The results were excellent; and the Lieutenant-Governor recommends that the Superintendent should adopt some similar measures in the States under his management. The recent appointment of one vaccinator for the Khondmals and of two for Dhenkenal will have but slight effect until the preference of the people for the more dangerous prophylactic be overcome.

5. The population is generally scanty, and having abundance of waste lands to cultivate is disinclined to emigration. The trade and commerce, owing to the miserable condition of communications, are of no importance. There are said to be coal-fields in Talchere and Angul, and it is possible, if the Cuttack and Benares Railway be constructed, that they may be found of value. At present they cannot be worked. Although the Mahanuddi, Brahmani and Byturni rivers either pass through or take their rise in the Tributary Mehals, they are only navigable for native boats from June to December, and the navigation is much impeded by large rocks. There are no land routes deserving the name except some local roads in Dhenkenal, Keonjhar and Mohurbhunj. The two existing lines from Cuttack to Sumbulpore, one through Angul and the other through Sonapore, are submerged in parts during the rainy season, and are neither bridged nor metalled. Some of the Chiefs have made praiseworthy efforts to improve the state of their roads, but much of their effort has hitherto been wasted owing to want of system and supervision. The Superintendent reports that he is endeavouring to work out a scheme which will supply proper professional supervision to all public works throughout the Tributary Mehals, and that he hopes to overcome the chief difficulty, viz. that as to ways and means. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the further report promised on this subject. From the remarks made by the Superintendent, however, it would seem that not only is there an absence of supervision over the work executed, but a want of co-operation among the Chiefs themselves and the officers in the States under the management of this Government as to the construction of roads. In submitting his proposals, the Superintendent should report whether it would not be feasible to form a scheme for a regular system of roads by which all the States might benefit, each contributing a proper share in the construction.

6. The only State in which the people manifested any resistance to the authority of their Chief was that of Nilgiri; and it was reported that a party, discontented with the action of the Dewan, whose services had been lent to the Rajah, had committed many acts of violence. The Superintendent himself went to Balasore, and after holding an enquiry submitted a report to this Government. The Dewan was finally removed, and at the repeated request of the Rajah for a European officer, the services of Mr. Ricketts, the then Sub-divisional Officer of Bhuddruck, were lent to the State by Government. The disturbances have since subsided.

7. The total number of civil and revenue suits instituted during the year was 6,774 against 6,131 in the year 1882-83. The number of such suits pending from the previous year was 1,362, and of those pending at the close of the year under review 1,553. There were 6,583 cases disposed of, and of these 2,661 were contested. The tehsildars and managers disposed of 6,028 of the suits.

8. There were 1,456 offences reported and 1,104 returned as true. The Superintendent remarks that the difference is great, and that an attempt will be made to ascertain the cause. There were 321 true cases of theft, 24 of offences affecting human life, and 5 of dacoity and robbery. The number of crimes of violence appears very large, considering the scanty population. Altogether there were 1,000 cases brought to trial, affecting 2,129 persons. Of persons brought to trial, 1,072 were convicted, 921 acquitted, and 108 remained under trial at the close of the year. Serious charges, such as in a regulation district are tried by the Court of Session, are heard by the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendents; and the tehsildars and managers try the petty offenders. Appeals from the orders of the Assistant Superintendents and the Manager of Mohurbhunj, and in criminal cases from the orders of the Manager of Dhenkenal, are heard by the Superintendent; those from the orders of the tehsildars and the Manager of Baramba, and from decisions of the Manager of Dhenkenal in civil and revenue cases, are heard by the Assistant Superintendent. The managers, again, hear appeals from the orders of their assistants.

9. With regard to forest conservancy, the Superintendent remarks:—"The Tributary Mehals are without doubt among the best timber-producing tracts in India, but unfortunately the Native Chiefs, by whom a greater portion of it is owned, have hitherto taken little care of their forests. They have established no reserves, and the forests are recklessly wasted without any corresponding gain to agriculture or to the general wealth or prosperity of the country." The advice given to the Chiefs on this subject appears from the first to have been totally ignored by them. As the country is opened up, and the timber becomes more valuable, the Chiefs will no doubt be induced, in view of their own interests, to preserve the forests. In the meantime the Superintendent can do no more than impress on them the future advantage they will gain by preservation. No officer could be spared from the Forest Department of this Government or of the North-Western Provinces during the past cold season to examine and advise the formation of reserves in the forests of Dhenkenal and Mohurbhunj, as the late Superintendent had suggested. The Lieutenant-Governor will, however, endeavour to procure the services of an officer for the purpose during the ensuing cold season. The Khondmal forests were, it is stated, during the year examined by the Conservator and Deputy Conservator, and considered to be valuable. No report or recommendations regarding them have, however, as yet been received by this Government. The Superintendent considers that it would, in a political point of view, be a very dangerous experiment to insist on the formal reservation of these forests, and that whatever is done should be done gradually and with the consent of the Khonds themselves. As the Superintendent expresses his intention of visiting this part of the country next cold weather, and taking some steps towards an indirect forest conservancy, the Lieutenant-Governor will await his report before passing further orders on the subject. The reserved forests in Angul were brought by a Government notification of the 6th December under section 19 of the Indian Forest Act. The reserves notified have not yet been accurately surveyed, but the total area is reported approximately at 170,880 acres. The reserves in Angul are not at present worked, and are to be allowed rest for 10 or 12 years. It is satisfactory to note that, as regards Angul, the demarcation of boundaries has been practically completed.

10. The number of schools shown in the returns for the year was 1,060 and of pupils 13,667. The former increased by 56 and the latter by 1,091 as compared with the preceding year. Of the schools, 7 were Government schools, 26 cess schools, 138 primary fund and 889 unaided schools. The total expenditure for the year was Rs. 60,029, of which Rs. 7,589 were contributed by Government. For the purpose of regular inspection of all schools, the melials are divided into five circles, each of which is under a sub-inspector. One of these is paid from the Khondmal Education Fund; half of the pay of another from the funds of the Dhenkenal State; and the charges of the rest are paid by Government. The arrangements are stated to be insufficient and generally unsatisfactory, and the whole subject to be under consideration.

11. No change was made during the year in the number and sites of the post offices in the Gurjhats. There were 11 offices maintained from the Gurjhat post office fund, and the road establishment connected with these offices is paid by the Postal Department, the charges of the office establishments and contingencies being paid from the post office fund. The latter fund is made up by voluntary contributions by the Chiefs, the contribution of each being settled by the Superintendent's office. Some of the Chiefs fell greatly into arrears, there being no means of realizing the dues from them; but there appears a probability that the receipts will soon be sufficient to meet the expenditure. In addition to the post office lines maintained from the fund, there are four Government post office lines, viz. those from Cuttack to Angul, from Cuttack to Dhenkenal, from Balasore to Mohurbhunj and from Rosul Kunda in Ganjam to Bisipara in the Khondmals, and two private lines from Bhuddruck to Keonjhur and from Baripada to Bahalda.

12. The total current demand for the year under the head of land revenue in Angul was Rs. 32,983. There was no balance outstanding at the close of the year. Of the total demand of miscellaneous revenue, including arrears amounting to Rs. 6,630, the outstanding balance, which was entirely on account of judicial fines, was Rs. 403. Since the introduction of the sub-divisional system of accounts, payments into and from the sub-treasury are reported to be made regularly and punctually without any inconvenience. The excise revenue, owing to keener competition, increased from Rs. 1,244 to Rs. 1,579. The permanent retention of three peons for process service has been sanctioned since the close of the year. The only fund at the disposal of the Superintendent for roads and other improvements on the estate is the 10 per cent. assignment on the revenue collections, amounting during the past year to Rs. 3,245, and of this small sum good use appears to have been made. Owing to the large number of life-tenures that had become liable to re-assessment, an application made by the Superintendent for an extra establishment was approved in July 1883. The Superintendent now reports that at the time of submitting the application there were 11 cases for disposal, involving a total area of 5,887 acres, but that 29 fresh cases, affecting an area of 7,563 acres, have since come up. Assessment was completed in only four cases, however, with an area of about 5 acres, and measurement only in four other cases. The amount of work shown as done appears extremely small, but no explanation is given. The Superintendent states that he is not satisfied that the detailed measurement or assessment was necessary, and that he will reconsider the question before applying for an extension of time for the employment of the extra establishment. The Lieutenant-Governor will await his report.

13. In Baramba the settlement operations are reported to be nearly complete. The jumma assessed at the new settlement amounts to Rs. 28,365— an increase of over Rs. 5,000 above the former assessment. Of the debt of Rs. 10,000, Rs. 9,500 have been paid off. The collections on account of land revenue amounted to Rs. 14,159, and miscellaneous revenue Rs. 5,493. Efforts should be made to reduce the heavy arrears.

14. The minor Rajah of Dhenkenal, now in his 19th year, passed at the last matriculation examination of the Calcutta University in all subjects except English, and in that he failed only by a few marks. A European tutor has been appointed for him and for the minor Chief of Mohurbhunj. The young Chief of Dhenkenal married a daughter of the Rajah of Banai, in the Central Provinces, in February last. The settlement of the State lands is reported to be not yet completed. Endeavours should be made to complete it, if possible, by the time the minor Chief assumes the administration. The total current demand for the year was Rs. 1,09,102 against Rs. 1,73,622 for the preceding year. This large apparent decrease, however, is nominal, as the preceding year's demand included Rs. 67,242 on account of the nazarana refunded by Government. The collections made during the year, including current and arrear demands, amounted to Rs. 1,06,370, and in addition to this amount Rs. 24,155 under land revenue and Rs. 512 under miscellaneous revenue were collected in advance for the current year. The sum of Rs. 1,04,585 was invested during the year in Government promissory notes. The management of the jail dispensary and schools appears to have been creditable. The total expenditure on public works amounted to Rs. 35,809. The Superintendent states that on his visit to Dhenkenal during last cold weather, he found that the system followed in regard to many public works was very unsatisfactory. Most of the roads constructed were only fair-weather ones, and were impassable during the rainy season. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the Superintendent's orders to the Manager to prepare estimates for completing the metalling and bridging of five of the most important roads already made, and to postpone the construction of other new roads until those in existence have been completed. Every effort should be made to provide the State with good roads while it is still under direct management.

15. The State of Mohurbhunj, with an area of 4,243 square miles and a population of 385,737 souls, is the most important of the Tributary Mehals. The late Chief died in May 1882, and the State is now under direct management for his minor son, Sriram Chunder Bhunj, who is at present over 12 years of age. The Superintendent reports that, during the two years that the State has been under direct management, improvements have been made in almost every department of its administration. Justice is more speedily administered, the system of granting rent receipts in printed cheque forms is being gradually introduced, projects for the improvement of the State by tanks, irrigation bunds, and roads have been started, and the people are beginning to appreciate the advantages of the new system. The total demand for the year was Rs. 3,32,099, of which Rs. 1,82,505 were collected and Rs. 10,604 remitted. Of the balance, Rs. 1,38,989, remaining unrealized at the close of the year, Rs. 64,642 were due from the zemindari mehal of Nyabasan in Midnapore under the management of the Collector of that district. Labour is cheap and plentiful, the resources of the State are great, and they will probably be well developed during the remaining years of the minority. The construction of good roads, the proper settlement and collection of the land revenue demand, and the preservation of the extensive and valuable forests, should for some years fully employ the attention of the officers and all the spare resources of the State. The minor was at the time the report was submitted studying at the Ravenshaw Collegiate School in Cuttack.

16. The Superintendent's report regarding Athmullik is again satisfactory. Although the revenue the Rajah derives from his State is under Rs. 11,000 per annum, he so well husbands his resources that he is able, while maintaining his own dignity, to meet the expenses of his Government, and even to effect public improvements. He has, it is stated, opened out a difficult pass and constructed a good road leading to it, has established a school in his killah, a dispensary, and a post office entirely at his own cost. Mr Rivers Thompson desires that his sense of the high character and continued good administration of the Rajah may be conveyed to this Chief.

17. But few details are given in the report regarding the State of Boad. During the year under review, Baboo Madhu Sudan Rantra was Dewan, and since his appointment no complaints have been made against him. The Rajah is believed to be still heavily in debt.

18. The Superintendent was not able to visit the Daspala State during the year, and though he reports that the administration of the State has much improved of late, he gives no details as to what improvements have been made. It is, however, at least satisfactory to find that the State is now less disturbed than formerly. The Superintendent should, if possible, visit this State during the next cold season, and impress on the Rajah the necessity of improving its material condition.

19. The Rajah of Hindole appears to be disposed to improve his State as far as his means permit. He reduced his debts from Rs. 6,494 to Rs. 4,366, has established two schools, and has undertaken to construct a road and dispensary as soon as his debts are cleared off. He was, during the year, very unfortunate in his domestic concerns: his only son and heir and an infant daughter died, and all the buildings in his palace and nearly all his moveable property with a portion of his office records were destroyed by fire.

20. The State of Keonjhur is one of the largest of the Tributary Mehals, its area being 3,096 square miles, but the revenue is under Rs. 90,000 per annum. The Maharajah continued to bear the good character he had hitherto borne; but the Superintendent should advise him of the advantages to be gained by improving the internal communications of his State.

21. The small States of Pal Lehara, Khandpara, Tigira, Runpore, and Nursingpore are in a very backward condition. The introduction of improvements in these petty mehals no doubt greatly depends on the personal character of their Chiefs, but the success which has attended the administration of an able Dewan in Talchere within the last four years indicates to what an extent under good advice and guidance the grossest mismanagement may be ameliorated.

22. The administration of the Nilgiri State is reported to have been in a more or less chaotic condition throughout the year under report. The Rajah's authority was for some time set at naught, and some cases of violence were reported. The services of Baboo Bholanath Das as Dewan were not found conducive either to good administration or to improvement of the relations between the Rajah and his people, and it was found necessary to dispense with them. At the special and urgent request of the Rajah for the appointment of a European officer in the stead of the late Dewan, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctioned the appointment of Mr. Ricketts, and it is hoped that officer will be able to restore tranquillity. The senior Rani, who opposed the adoption by the Rajah of a son of the late Chief of Mohurbhunj to the exclusion of a son of his own brother, is dead, but there are, it appears, still many who support the claims of the alleged first adopted son. The question is at present unsettled, but the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that it should not remain undecided until the Rajah's death. The delay has no advantages to recommend it, and can only result in ultimate disappointment to one or other of the claimants and to dissensions in the meanwhile. The Superintendent should, therefore, submit a detailed report on the contested claim to adoption in order that a final decision may be made at an early date as to which of the claimants shall, in case of survival, be recognized as the heir on the death of the present Rajah.

23. Mr Smith held the office of Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals from 1st April to 6th July 1883. He then went on privilege leave for three months, and during the period of his leave Mr. Larminie acted for him. Mr. Smith returned on the 6th October and remained in charge till his appointment as Officiating Commissioner of the Presidency Division. From 25th November Mr. Larminie was again in charge till the end of the year. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his thanks to Mr. Larminie for his careful and interesting report. The Superintendent's remarks, contained in paragraphs 402 to 408 of that report, regarding the officers subordinate to him, will be recorded in the Appointment Department.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals of Orissa, for information and guidance.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 242I., dated Cuttack, the 8th September 1883, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

Resolution No. 13I., dated the 9th January 1884, by the Government of India on the Bengal Irrigation Revenue Report for 1882-83

Letter No. 26I. of 15th January 1884, from the Government of India.

Memorandum No. 2140I.R., of the 6th October 1884, from the Revenue Department.

Letter No. 839A. of the 23rd September 1884, from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces.

OBSERVATIONS.—The Government of India, in the letter quoted above, expressed an opinion that the proposal made by the Commissioner of the Orissa Division in his Revenue Report for 1882-83, to enquire into the present system of charging water-rates in Orissa, was deserving of consideration. The Board of Revenue have since asked that, should a Commission be appointed to consider the matter, the propriety of levying an owner's rate on land irrigated or protected should be remitted to it for report. The Lieutenant-Governor has decided to accept these recommendations, and also to include in the points referred to the Commission certain alleged irregularities in the system of recovering water-rates by the certificate process.

RESOLUTION.—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to appoint a Commission, consisting of the officers named below, to enquire into certain matters in connection with the Orissa canals :—

Lieutenant-Colonel J. M. McNeile, R.E., Joint-Secretary, Public Works Department, President.

Mr. R. H. Wilson, B.C.S.

Major C. W. I. Harrison, R.E., Superintending Engineer, Public Works Department, North-Western Provinces, Members.

The Commission will meet as soon as possible after 1st December next, and will enquire into, and report on, the following points :—

I.—The alleged oppressive procedure on the part of the Canal Revenue authorities in the assessment and recovery of water-rates, and especially on the operation of the "Certificate Procedure" Act (VII of 1880), which is stated to have been used in a hasty and injudicious manner, and to have caused considerable discontent among the ryots.

II.—The existing tariff of water-rates, both for long and short leases.

III.—The proposed imposition of an owner's rate, either on "Irrigated" or "Protected" lands.

The Commission should also express their view, from a consideration of the various facts which may be elicited in the course of the enquiry, as to the advisability of making any, and if so what, changes in the existing system of assessment and collection, and of the distribution of duties regarding assessments and the supply of water between the Engineer and Revenue officers.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the officers nominated to serve on the Commission; to the Commissioner of the Orissa Division and to the Superintending Engineer, Orissa Circle, for information and guidance; to the Revenue, Appointment and Financial Departments of this Government; the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces; and the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

To Ward No. 1, three Commissioners.

„ No. II, three „

„ No. III, three „

„ No. IV, two „

„ No. V, five „

„ No. VI, four „

Of the Qualification of Voters.

4. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

5. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

6. Subject to the proviso contained in Rule 4, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid, in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act, an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a pleader or mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

7. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. Each voter shall have as many votes as there are vacancies, and may give as many of these votes as he pleases to any one or more candidates.

Of the Registration of Voters.

8. For each ward a register shall be prepared by the Municipal Commissioners, in which shall be entered the names of the persons qualified to vote at elections. This register for each ward shall be prepared as soon as possible after the approval of these rules by Government, and hereafter shall be revised annually, and republished on the 1st October in each year.

9. When the registers are ready, copies of them shall be affixed at the principal civil and criminal courts, and at the office of the Commissioners, and so much of them as may refer to each ward shall be affixed at each police-station in that ward, and at such other places as may be deemed by the Chairman to be necessary.

10. Objections to, and claims for, the registration of voters may be made at any time being not less than 18 days before the election. All such objections and claims shall be heard by three Commissioners, to be appointed by the Chairman, who do not stand for election in the ward to which the objections and claims apply. The decision of the majority shall be final.

11. No person shall be qualified to vote unless his name has been entered in the register of voters.

Of the Qualification and the Nomination of Candidates.

12. The Chairman shall, at least 30 days before the date fixed as hereinafter provided for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates.

13. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

14. Any four persons registered as qualified to vote in any ward may nominate a candidate for election to represent such ward. The nomination shall be made in writing in the form annexed to these rules, and the candidate shall signify on the nomination paper his consent to the nomination. The nomination paper shall be delivered at the Municipal Office not less than ten days before the date fixed for the election.

15. The Chairman shall forthwith ascertain whether the nominators and the candidate respectively are qualified in accordance with these rules. If satisfied in this respect, he shall insert the name of the candidate in a list of candidates for the Commissionership or Commissionerships to be filled up. Such list shall also contain a specification of the qualifications of the candidate, and specifications of the names and qualifications of the persons nominating him.

16. On or before the morning of the ninth day previous to the election, the Chairman shall cause a copy of the list to be affixed at the Municipal Office, and another at each police-station within the ward.

17. Any registered voter may, within 48 hours from the publication of the list at the Municipal Office, object in writing to any such nomination; his objection shall specify the grounds on which it is made, and shall be delivered at the Municipal Office.

18. Such objection shall, within 24 hours, be decided summarily by the Sub-Committee appointed by the Chairman under Rule 10, and the decision, which shall be immediately announced, shall be final.

Of the manner of holding Elections.

19. The election of Commissioners in each ward shall be held on such date (not being less than 30 days after the publication of the registers of voters under Rule 9) as the Chairman, with the sanction of the Local Government, may appoint. This date shall be announced by advertisement in the Calcutta Gazette, and in such newspapers as the Chairman may think desirable; also by a notice affixed at the Municipal Office and at each police-station in the ward, and at any other place which may seem to the Chairman to be necessary for the due publication of the notice.

20. Elections shall be held at the following places:—

No. I	Ward	Obitpore police station.
" II	"	Baliaghatta ditto.
" III	"	Entally ditto.
" IV	"	Ballygunge ditto.
" V	"	Municipal Office.
" VI	"	Garden Reach police-station.

21. The Municipal Commissioners shall appoint polling officers and other establishments, and may define their duties so far as they may not be defined by these rules.

22. The allowances of establishments shall be fixed by the Commissioners, and these, as well as all other expenses incurred in conducting the elections, shall be paid from the funds of the municipality.

23. If the number of candidates be not greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall declare the candidate or candidates to be duly elected. If there be any vacancies for which no candidates have appeared, the Chairman shall report the fact for the information of Government.

24. If the number of candidates be greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall issue a public notice (to be affixed at the Municipal Office, at the police-stations, and at as many as possible of the chief public offices, and to be otherwise notified in such manner as may seem to him necessary), declaring the day and hours in which, and the place at which, the election is to be held, and also the names of the candidates.

25. The poll shall commence at 8 A.M. and shall close at 6 P.M.

26. Each candidate may appoint, by a letter to the Chairman, a copy of which shall be delivered by the candidate to each agent to serve as his authority, not more than two agents to be present at the polling place to watch the proceedings on his behalf, and to bring to the notice of the polling officers any instance of false personation or other malpractice which may come to their knowledge as the election proceeds. Such agents shall be bound to obey any directions which the presiding officer shall give them for the purpose of keeping order; and no election shall be invalidated on the ground that the presiding officer has exceeded his powers in this respect.

27. The polling officer shall be provided with a list of the registered voters qualified to vote within the ward.

28. The votes shall be taken by means of voting papers.

29. A voter may either attend at the polling place and record his vote, or he may forward his vote to the polling officer, so that it may reach him before the hour fixed for the close of the poll.

30. Any voter wishing to obtain a voting paper beforehand may apply, not less than five clear days before the day fixed for the election, at the Municipal Office for a voting paper. The application shall be in writing, and shall bear the signature of the voter written with his own hand; it shall specify his address and his number on the register. A voting paper in the form appended to these rules, shall be at once forwarded to the voter by post, or by such other mode of conveyance as may be convenient.

31. The voter having received this voting paper may—

- (1) Return it by post, duly filled up, to the Municipal Office, in a closed cover marked "Voting paper—Ward No.—;" or
- (2) Present it himself at the polling place within the time fixed for the poll.

32. All voting papers received at the office in accordance with the first clause of the last rule shall be made over unopened to the polling officer to be opened by him publicly at the polling place within the hours fixed for the poll.

33. Should any cover received at the Municipal Office, and not marked as required by Rule 31, be found to contain a voting paper otherwise in order, such paper shall be immediately placed in a cover and sent to the polling officer to be dealt with according to Rule 32.

34. No duplicate voting papers shall be issued, but any voter, to whom a voting paper may have been forwarded under these rules, may nevertheless attend and vote in person at the polling place. In this case the original voting paper shall be considered as cancelled.

35. The voting papers sent out from the office under Rule 30 shall be printed on paper of a different colour from that used for papers to be furnished at the polling place. They shall bear the signature of the Chairman stamped upon them, and shall be numbered consecutively, and duplicates of them similarly numbered shall be kept in counterfoil.

36. Any voter who may present himself at the polling place to vote shall appear before a polling officer, who shall question him as to his name, address, and number on the register, and after noting these facts in a voting paper (numbered consecutively), and in the counterfoil, shall hand over the voting paper to him.

37. The voter shall, if he can read and write, record his own vote on it, and shall present it to the presiding officer, who shall initial it, and shall enter the vote on the copy of the register made over to him under Rule 27.

38. If the voter be unable to read and write, his vote shall be recorded for him by an officer authorized by the Chairman; the paper shall then be returned to him for presentation to the presiding officer, who shall deal with it as directed in the preceding rule.

39. In all cases in which the voting paper is filled up in a language other than English, the name of the voter and of the person or persons for whom he votes shall be entered in English by an officer authorized by the Chairman.

40. If a voting paper received by post is not in order, the polling officer shall nevertheless receive and record the vote, at the same time recording the objection and separating the voting paper from those papers to which there is no objection.

41. If an objection, on the ground of personation, of non-registry or any other cause, be made to the polling officer in any case, the vote shall nevertheless be noted and separated as above, and the objections shall be recorded.

42. Any agent appointed by a candidate in accordance with Rule 26 may inspect any voting paper. He may, at any time up to the close of the poll, object in writing to the reception of any vote, stating the grounds of his objections, and he shall sign such statement.

43. If in any case the presiding officer shall find that a second voting paper is presented, purporting to be on account of a person whose vote has been already recorded, he shall proceed in the same manner as in the case mentioned in Rule 41.

44. At the close of the poll, the presiding officer shall transmit to the Chairman all objections, together with all the records relating to them. The Chairman, or, if he be prevented from attending, a Sub-Committee of Commissioners appointed by him, shall proceed on the next following day, not being a Sunday or holiday, to hear and determine such objections, and the decision shall be final.

45. At the close of the poll, the polling officer shall forward to the Chairman all the voting papers, arranged according to their consecutive numbers, in a packet duly sealed and secured.

46. As soon as may be after the decision of objections has been concluded, the Chairman shall publish, in the Calcutta Gazette, and at the Municipal Office, the names of the person or persons in whose behalf votes have been recorded, and the number of votes given for each of them; and the candidates for whom the greatest number of votes shall have been given shall be declared to have been duly elected.

47. If the same person be a candidate for election in more than one ward, on his election for one ward he shall cease to be eligible in any other ward.

48. In case of an equality of votes, the Chairman shall give a casting vote.

49. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

50. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that that irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

51. No person in the employment or pay of the Municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render the offender liable to dismissal.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES FOR ELECTION OF MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS
UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1884.

The 29th September 1884.—The following rules for the election of Municipal Commissioners in all Municipalities in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, Patna, Bhagulpore, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore Divisions (except Howrah and the Suburbs of Calcutta), have been laid down by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 15 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884:—

Of the qualification of voters.

1. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

2. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

3. Subject to the proviso contained in rule 1, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a Pleader or Mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

Of the registration of voters.

4. As soon as possible after these rules shall have been published, the Magistrate of the district shall cause to be prepared a register of persons qualified to vote. Such register shall be prepared from the assessment lists, from enquiries made by persons specially deputed for the purpose, and in such other manner as may appear expedient. Such register shall from time to time be corrected and added to as the Magistrate may direct. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the Municipality to furnish the Magistrate or the Sub-Divisional Officer with any available information required for the preparation and correction, from time to time, of the register in question.

5. At least one month before the date fixed for the elections as hereinafter provided, an extract from the register, showing the persons qualified to vote within each Ward, shall be published at suitable places within that ward. A copy of the whole register shall also be published at the municipal office.

6. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as he may depute for the purpose, shall sit to hear and decide objections to, and claims for, registration of voters on some date of which at least three days' notice shall have been given, and which shall be at least ten days after the publication of the lists in question, and at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections; and such decision shall be final.

7. The ward lists as amended, after the hearing and decision of claims and objections, shall be considered as the final lists of persons entitled to vote at the elections, and no person whose name does not appear in the ward lists shall be permitted to vote.

Of the qualification and the nomination of candidates.

8. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

9. Any rate-payer qualified to vote may nominate any other qualified person as a candidate.

10. The Magistrate shall, at least six weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates. Such nominations shall be delivered at the municipal office within fourteen days from the date of publication of the notices in question. No names of candidates shall be received after the expiration of such period.

11. The preliminary list of candidates, with the names of the persons nominating them, shall be published in each ward, and at the municipal office at least three weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. A notification shall at the same time be published, fixing a date for the hearing of objections to candidates. Such date shall be at least one week later than the publication of the notification in question.

12. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall hear and decide all objections to candidates; and such decision shall be final. 20. The proceedings shall commence by the presiding officer explaining the nature and objects of the meeting to the assembled voters. He shall then read out the list of candidates, and state the number of vacancies.

21. Each candidate shall then be proposed by one qualified voter, and seconded by another. When the majority for any candidate consists only of disputed votes, with reference to which further enquiry appears to be necessary, the result of such enquiry shall be notified on a subsequent date.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL DURING THE WEEK ENDING THE 31st OCTOBER 1884.

THE meteorology of the Province at the commencement of the week under review was dependent upon a disturbance the formation of which was briefly described in last week's report. The disturbance, as measured by the depression of the barometer, was small and extended over a large area. The air motion was comparatively feeble near the earth's surface. The rapid drift of the clouds and the amount of vapour brought up into the Province and deposited as rain indicated that the disturbance was very considerable, and the air motion large, in the higher atmospheric strata. It gave general and moderately heavy rain on the last day of the previous week to the whole of the coast districts, including Orissa, South-West and East Bengal. The rainfall extended over the whole Province excepting the northern districts of North Bengal and the adjacent districts of North Behar on the 25th, the first day of the week under review. It was distinctly heaviest in the divisions bordering on the coast, and several stations in South-West and East Bengal received large amounts. The rainfall extended over the whole of the interior of the Province on the 26th, and ceased in Orissa and the adjacent districts of South-West Bengal. The largest amounts fell in the northern and central districts of Behar, where a considerable number of stations received rainfalls varying from two to four inches in amount.

The supply of aqueous vapour brought up by the disturbance was now apparently exhausted. A few light sporadic showers fell on the 27th, but the disturbance rapidly passed away, and fine dry cool weather, with light northerly to westerly winds, was established over the whole Province again on the 28th, and continued during the remainder of the week. The disturbance hence lasted from the 23rd to the 26th, and gave abundant rain to every part of the Province, with the exception of portions of the Singhbhum, Cuttack and Balasore districts, and the more northerly districts of North Bengal (including Dinagenore, Rungpore, Cooch Behar, and Julpigoree) which received amounts differing slightly from the normal of the period.

East Bengal received an average of 3·2 inches, or four times the normal amount, ·8 inch; North Behar received an average of 2·2 inches, or slightly less than four times its normal, ·6 inch; South-West Bengal and South Behar each obtained an average of 1·6 inches, or slightly more than twice their normal amounts ·7 inch. North Bengal received an average of 1·2 inches, Chutia Nagpur ·6 inch, and Orissa 1·1 inch, their respective normal amounts being ·7 inch, 1·3 inches and ·5 inch.

The rainfall of the month, which has occurred during two periods of disturbance of somewhat unusual character, in the first and last weeks of the month, is above the average in nearly all districts of Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The excess is greatest proportionately in North Behar, and least in Chutia Nagpur. There is a slight deficiency (less than 20 per cent.) in Orissa.

Pressure was considerably above the average at the end of the last week under review except in Orissa. The low pressure in Orissa was due to the existence of a large but diffused cyclonic disturbance which formed in the Bay off the Orissa and Ganjam coasts. Pressure fell rapidly over the whole Province until Sunday morning. This was due partly to the further development of the disturbance, and partly to its northward march into South-West Bengal. Pressure was ·11" below the normal of the day on Sunday morning at Calcutta, where the deficiency was greatest on that day.

Pressure increased very rapidly during the next 24 hours, and was from ·03" to ·08" above the normal on Monday morning. The depression had hence filled up during this interval, and the disturbance disappeared completely before the evening. During the remainder of the week the movements of the barometer were small in amount and of no importance. The mean pressure of the week was slightly above the normal at all stations. The excess averaged ·01" in Chutia Nagpur, ·02" in Orissa and South-West Bengal, and ·04" in East Bengal and Central Behar.

Temperature was unusually low during the week. This was partly due to the disturbance at the commencement of the week, which reduced temperature in all parts of the Province, but most largely in South Behar. The mean temperature of the 26th was 8° below the normal mean in South Behar.

During the remainder of the week the variations from the mean were smaller. The night or minimum temperatures, as usual in November, diminished more rapidly than the day temperature.

The following table gives the minimum temperatures registered last week and during the previous week at eight stations for comparison:—

		Lowest temperature of week ending 31st October.	Lowest temperature of week ending 24th October.	Difference.

The mean temperature of the week was 2½° below the normal mean in Orissa and North Behar, and northerly winds in Bengal. Light, but steady, cool dry winds prevailed generally until the 29th, after which the winds were variable, local, and very light. This was due apparently to slight disturbance beyond the limits of the Province, partly in Upper India, and partly in the Bay.

Rainfall.—The rainfall of the week occurred during the disturbance which commenced on the 23rd, and passed away on the 27th, after which dry weather with clear skies obtained over the whole Province. It was stated in last week's report that rain fell generally and in moderately large amounts on the 23rd or 24th in Orissa, South-West Bengal and the greater part of East Bengal. General rain was received on the 24th, the first day of the week under review, over the whole of Orissa, South-West Bengal, East and North Bengal (excepting the Northern districts including Dinagepore, Rungpore, Julpigoree, and Cooch Behar,) Chutia Nagpur, South Behar, and the western districts of North Behar. The rainfall was fairly distributed, but was distinctly heaviest in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal. The following amounts exceeding three inches were registered at 6 P.M. :—

Contai	Midnapore	7.84
Poorce	Pooree	4.42
Saugor Island	24-Pergunnahs	3.71
Serajgunj	Pubna	3.47
Satkhira	Khoolna	3.42
Agartola	Chittagong Hill Tracts	3.30
Commilla	Commilla	3.27
Maliara	Bankoora	3.04

No rain fell on the 24th over Orissa and the greater part of South-West Bengal, and the south districts of Chutia Nagpur. The remainder of the Province received general rain, which was heavy over the greater part of Behar, moderate in North and East Bengal, and light in Chutia Nagpur and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. The following amounts exceeding 3 inches were registered at 6 P.M. :—

Station.	District.	Rainfall.
Tajpur	Durbhunga	5.36
Muddapur	Bhagulpore	3.97
Cox's Bazar	Chittagong	3.86
Durbhunga	Durbhunga	3.71
Hajipore	Mozufferpore	3.13

A few light local showers fell on the 27th, chiefly in East and North Bengal and North Behar. No rain occurred in any part of the Province during the remainder of the week.

Every district of East Bengal and South-West Bengal received abundant rain during the week. In North Bengal the rainfall was considerably in excess in the south-eastern districts of Bogra and Pubna, which shared the abundant rain that fell in East Bengal. It was slightly in excess in the central and south-western districts. Julpigoree, Cooch Behar, and Darjeeling, on the other hand, received barely 50 per cent. of the normal fall of the week.

In Behar, every district, except the Sonthal Pergunnahs, received a larger rainfall than the normal. The Durbhunga, Gya and Patua districts obtained by far the largest amounts averaging from four to six times the normal fall of the week. Over the greater part of Chutia Nagpur the rainfall was slightly in excess, but was below it in the Balasore, Cuttack and Singhbhum districts. Hence the rainfall of the week was most abundant in those districts of Behar, Central and East Bengal, where it was most deficient in the preceding monsoon months.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 31st October 1884 :—

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.
The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.
The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.
The directions and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.
The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

To Ward No. 1, three Commissioners.

„ No. IV, two „

„ No. V, five „

Of the Qualification of Voters.

4. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

5. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

6. Subject to the proviso contained in Rule 4, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid, in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act, an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a pleader or mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

7. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. Each voter shall have as many votes as there are vacancies, and may give as many of these votes as he pleases to any one or more candidates.

Of the Registration of Voters.

8. For each ward a register shall be prepared by the Municipal Commissioners, in which shall be entered the names of the persons qualified to vote at elections. This register for each ward shall be prepared as soon as possible after the approval of these rules by Government, and hereafter shall be revised annually, and republished on the 1st October in each year.

9. When the registers are ready, copies of them shall be affixed at the principal civil and criminal courts, and at the office of the Commissioners, and so much of them as may refer to each ward shall be affixed at each police-station in that ward, and at such other places as may be deemed by the Chairman to be necessary.

10. Objections to, and claims for, the registration of voters may be made at any time being not less than 18 days before the election. All such objections and claims shall be heard by three Commissioners, to be appointed by the Chairman, who do not stand for election in the ward to which the objections and claims apply. The decision of the majority shall be final. If no appointment of Commissioners is made by the Chairman under this rule, such objections and claims shall be heard by an officer or officers who shall be specially deputed in this behalf by the Magistrate of the district; and the decision of such officer or officers shall be final.

11. No person shall be qualified to vote unless his name has been entered in the register of voters.

Of the Qualification and the Nomination of Candidates.

12. The Chairman shall, at least 30 days before the date fixed as hereinafter provided for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates.

13. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

14. Any four persons registered as qualified to vote in any ward may nominate a candidate for election to represent such ward. The nomination shall be made in writing in the form annexed to these rules, and the candidate shall signify on the nomination paper his consent to the nomination. The nomination paper shall be delivered at the Municipal Office not less than ten days before the date fixed for the election.

15. The Chairman shall forthwith ascertain whether the nominators and the candidate respectively are qualified in accordance with these rules. If satisfied in this respect, he shall insert the name of the candidate in a list of candidates for the Commissionership or Commissionerships to be filled up. Such list shall also contain a specification of the qualifications of the candidate, and specifications of the names and qualifications of the persons nominating him.

16. On or before the morning of the ninth day previous to the election, the Chairman shall cause a copy of the list to be affixed at the Municipal Office, and another at each police-station within the ward.

17. Any registered voter may, within 48 hours from the publication of the list at the Municipal Office, object in writing to any such nomination; his objection shall specify the grounds on which it is made, and shall be delivered at the Municipal Office.

18. Such objection shall, within 24 hours, be decided summarily by the Sub-Committee appointed by the Chairman, or by the officer or officers specially deputed by the Magistrate of the district, as the case may be, under Rule 10, and the decision, which shall be immediately announced, shall be final.

Of the manner of holding Elections.

19. The election of Commissioners in each ward shall be held on such date (not being less than 30 days after the publication of the registers of voters under Rule 9) as the Chairman, with the sanction of the Local Government, may appoint. This date shall be announced by advertisement in the Calcutta Gazette, and in such newspapers as the Chairman may think desirable; also by a notice affixed at the Municipal Office and at each police-station in the ward, and at any other place which may seem to the Chairman to be necessary for the due publication of the notice.

20. Elections shall be held at the following places:—

No.	I Ward	Chitpore police station.
"	II "	Baliaghatta ditto.
"	III "	Entally ditto.
"	IV "	Ballygunge ditto.
"	V "	Municipal Office.
"	VI "	Garden Reach police-station.

21. The Municipal Commissioners shall appoint polling officers and other establishments, and may define their duties so far as they may not be defined by these rules.

22. The allowances of establishments shall be fixed by the Commissioners, and these, as well as all other expenses incurred in conducting the elections, shall be paid from the funds of the municipality.

23. If the number of candidates be not greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall declare the candidate or candidates to be duly elected. If there be any vacancies for which no candidates have appeared, the Chairman shall report the fact for the information of Government.

24. If the number of candidates be greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall issue a public notice (to be affixed at the Municipal Office, at the police-stations, and at as many as possible of the chief public offices, and to be otherwise notified in such manner as may seem to him necessary), declaring the day and hours in which, and the place at which, the election is to be held, and also the names of the candidates.

25. The poll shall commence at 8 A.M. and shall close at 6 P.M.

26. Each candidate may appoint, by a letter to the Chairman, a copy of which shall be delivered by the candidate to each agent to serve as his authority, not more than two agents to be present at the polling place to watch the proceedings on his behalf, and to bring to the notice of the polling officers any instance of false personation or other malpractice which may come to their knowledge as the election proceeds. Such agents shall be bound to obey any directions which the presiding officer shall give them for the purpose of keeping order; and no election shall be invalidated on the ground that the presiding officer has exceeded his powers in this respect.

27. The polling officer shall be provided with a list of the registered voters qualified to vote within the ward.

28. The votes shall be taken by means of voting papers.

29. A voter may either attend at the polling place and record his vote, or he may forward his vote to the polling officer, so that it may reach him before the hour fixed for the close of the poll.

30. Any voter wishing to obtain a voting paper beforehand may apply, not less than five clear days before the day fixed for the election, at the Municipal Office for a voting paper. The application shall be in writing, and shall bear the signature of the voter written with his own hand; it shall specify his address and his number on the register. A voting paper in the form appended to these rules, shall be at once forwarded to the voter by post, or by such other mode of conveyance as may be convenient.

31. The voter having received this voting paper may—

- (1) Return it by post, duly filled up, to the Municipal Office, in a closed cover marked "Voting paper—Ward No.—;" or
- (2) Present it himself at the polling place within the time fixed for the poll.

32. All voting papers received at the office in accordance with the first clause of the last rule shall be made over unopened to the polling officer to be opened by him publicly at the polling place within the hours fixed for the poll.

33. Should any cover received at the Municipal Office, and not marked as required by Rule 31, be found to contain a voting paper otherwise in order, such paper shall be immediately placed in a cover and sent to the polling officer to be dealt with according to Rule 32.

34. No duplicate voting papers shall be issued, but any voter, to whom a voting paper may have been forwarded under these rules, may nevertheless attend and vote in person at the polling place. In this case the original voting paper shall be considered as cancelled.

35. The voting papers sent out from the office under Rule 30 shall be printed on paper of a different colour from that used for papers to be furnished at the polling place. They shall bear the signature of the Chairman stamped upon them, and shall be numbered consecutively, and duplicates of them similarly numbered shall be kept in counterfoil.

36. Any voter who may present himself at the polling place to vote shall appear before a polling officer, who shall question him as to his name, address, and number on the register, and after noting these facts in a voting paper (numbered consecutively), and in the counterfoil, shall hand over the voting paper to him.

37. The voter shall, if he can read and write, record his own vote on it, and shall present it to the presiding officer, who shall initial it, and shall enter the vote on the copy of the register made over to him under Rule 27.

38. If the voter be unable to read and write, his vote shall be recorded for him by an officer authorized by the Chairman; the paper shall then be returned to him for presentation to the presiding officer, who shall deal with it as directed in the preceding rule.

39. In all cases in which the voting paper is filled up in a language other than English, the name of the voter and of the person or persons for whom he votes shall be entered in English by an officer authorized by the Chairman.

40. If a voting paper received by post is not in order, the polling officer shall nevertheless receive and record the vote, at the same time recording the objection and separating the voting paper from those papers to which there is no objection.

41. If an objection, on the ground of personation, of non-registry or any other cause, be made to the polling officer in any case, the vote shall nevertheless be noted and separated as above, and the objections shall be recorded.

42. Any agent appointed by a candidate in accordance with Rule 26 may inspect any voting paper. He may, at any time up to the close of the poll, object in writing to the reception of any vote, stating the grounds of his objections, and he shall sign such statement.

43. If in any case the presiding officer shall find that a second voting paper is presented, purporting to be on account of a person whose vote has been already recorded, he shall proceed in the same manner as in the case mentioned in Rule 41.

44. At the close of the poll, the presiding officer shall transmit to the Chairman all objections, together with all the records relating to them. The Chairman, or, if he be prevented from attending, a Sub-Committee of Commissioners appointed by him, shall proceed on the next following day, not being a Sunday or holiday, to hear and determine such objections, and the decision shall be final.

45. At the close of the poll, the polling officer shall forward to the Chairman all the voting papers, arranged according to their consecutive numbers, in a packet duly sealed and secured.

46. As soon as may be after the decision of objections has been concluded, the Chairman shall publish, in the Calcutta Gazette, and at the Municipal Office, the names of the person or persons in whose behalf votes have been recorded, and the number of votes given for each of them; and the candidates for whom the greatest number of votes shall have been given shall be declared to have been duly elected.

47. If the same person be a candidate for election in more than one ward, on his election for one ward he shall cease to be eligible in any other ward.

48. In case of an equality of votes, the Chairman shall give a casting vote.

49. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

50. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that that irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

51. No person in the employment or pay of the Municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render the offender liable to dismissal.

RULES FOR THE ELECTION OF MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS
UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1884.

The 29th September 1884.—The following rules for the election of Municipal Commissioners in all Municipalities in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, Patna, Bhagulpore, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore Divisions (except Howrah and the Suburbs of Calcutta), have been laid down by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 15 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884:—

Of the qualification of voters.

1. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

2. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

3. Subject to the proviso contained in rule 1, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a Pleader or Mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

Of the registration of voters.

4. As soon as possible after these rules shall have been published, the Magistrate of the district shall cause to be prepared a register of persons qualified to vote. Such register shall be prepared from the assessment lists, from enquiries made by persons specially deputed for the purpose, and in such other manner as may appear expedient. Such register shall from time to time be corrected and added to as the Magistrate may direct. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the Municipality to furnish the Magistrate or the Sub-Divisional Officer with any available information required for the preparation and correction, from time to time, of the register in question.

5. At least one month before the date fixed for the elections as hereinafter provided, an extract from the register, showing the persons qualified to vote within each Ward, shall be published at suitable places within that ward. A copy of the whole register shall also be published at the municipal office.

6. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as he may depute for the purpose, shall sit to hear and decide objections to, and claims for, registration of voters on some date of which at least three days' notice shall have been given, and which shall be at least ten days after the publication of the lists in question, and at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections; and such decision shall be final.

7. The ward lists as amended, after the hearing and decision of claims and objections, shall be considered as the final lists of persons entitled to vote at the elections, and no person whose name does not appear in the ward lists shall be permitted to vote.

Of the qualification and the nomination of candidates.

8. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

9. Any rate-payer qualified to vote may nominate any other qualified person as a candidate.

10. The Magistrate shall, at least six weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates. Such nominations shall be delivered at the municipal office within fourteen days from the date of publication of the notices in question. No names of candidates shall be received after the expiration of such period.

11. The preliminary list of candidates, with the names of the persons nominating them, shall be published in each ward, and at the municipal office, at least three weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. A notification shall at the same time be published, fixing a date for the hearing of objections to candidates. Such date shall be at least one week later than the publication of the notification in question.

12. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall hear and decide all objections to candidates; and such decision shall be final. Before publishing the final list, he shall ascertain that all the candidates are eligible and willing to stand for election.

13. The final list of candidates shall be published in each ward, and at the municipal office, at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. No candidate whose name is not contained in such list shall be eligible for election.

Of the manner of holding elections.

14. The elections for the different wards shall be held on such date as may be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor and notified in the Calcutta Gazette.

15. The Magistrate shall decide at what place the election for each ward shall be held.

16. The date fixed for the election in each ward shall be duly notified by beat of drum, and by the publication of notices in such ward at least one month beforehand.

17. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. He shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies for such ward.

18. All persons wishing to vote must be present at the elections. No votes by proxy or in writing shall be received.

19. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall preside at the election for each ward, assisted by a Committee of not less than three and not more than five rate-payers of the ward, nominated by the Magistrate.

20. The proceedings shall commence by the presiding officer explaining the nature and objects of the meeting to the assembled voters. He shall then read out the list of candidates, and state the number of vacancies.

21. Each candidate shall then be proposed by one qualified voter, and seconded by another. Subject to the control of the presiding officer on points of order, each candidate and his proposer and seconder shall be permitted to address the assembled voters on the subject of his candidature. The names of candidates not duly proposed and seconded shall be removed from the list.

22. In the case of the number of the candidates duly proposed and seconded not being greater than the number of vacancies, the presiding officer, if he is satisfied that not less than 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward or wards in which the election is taking place are present, shall at once declare such candidates to be duly elected.

23. If the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded exceeds the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall proceed to call for a show of hands in favour of each candidate. The presiding officer shall decide and state which of the candidates have received the largest number of votes by the said shows of hands. Should no poll be demanded against any one candidate, he shall declare such candidate to be duly elected.

24. Any defeated candidate, or his proposer or seconder, may demand a poll on his behalf, as against any or all of the candidates selected under the above rule.

25. When a poll is demanded, the votes shall then and there be recorded by the presiding officer with his own hand. All objections to voters shall, if possible, be summarily decided by the presiding officer, after reference to the register. No objections shall be entertained other than objections arising out of matters subsequent to registration under rule 6.

26. The presiding officer shall then and there declare such candidates as have a clear majority of votes to be duly elected. Provided that no candidate shall be declared to be duly elected unless at least 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward have appeared and recorded their votes.

27. If 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward are not present (Rule 22), or have not appeared and recorded their votes (Rule 28), the presiding officer shall report that the electors have failed, under section 16 of the Act, to elect Commissioners for the ward.

28. In case of an equality of votes for the same vacancy, and when the number of vacancies does not admit of all the candidates who have obtained an equality of votes being elected, the presiding officer shall postpone the election, fixing at the same time a date upon which the proceedings shall be re-commenced. When the majority for any candidate consists only of disputed votes, with reference to which further enquiry appears to be necessary, the result of such enquiry shall be notified on a subsequent date.

29. The list of duly returned candidates for the whole municipality shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Division for publication in the Calcutta Gazette.

Miscellaneous.

30. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

31. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that that irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

32. No person in the employment or pay of the municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render him liable to dismissal.

33. All costs incurred in the preparation of the register of voters, the publication of notices, the holding of elections, or taking any other necessary actions under these rules, shall be payable by the Commissioners out of the municipal fund.

Rules for Pilots in the Port of Chittagong.

I.—Pilots in charge of inward-bound vessels are directed to hoist the vessel's number, and, if salt laden or from dutiable ports, are to have the ensign hoisted at the main-mast head for the information of the Customs Inspector, Jaldia.

II.—A pilot on taking charge of an inward-bound vessel shall, immediately on boarding her, hoist his distinguishing number, and hand over to the master of the vessel the following papers:—(1) Port Rules, (2) Pilotage Rules, (3) Medical Inspection Rules, (4) Customs Regulations. If any case of cholera, small-pox, or other epidemic disease common in India is on board he shall at once report the fact to the Port Officer, stating the number of cases, and shall await orders before taking up any anchorage in the harbour.

III.—A pilot detained on board at Jaldia will, in the event of the captain refusing to take steam, report the matter to the Port Officer and await orders.

IV.—The pilot shall not give over charge of his vessel in the river unless she has been moored or he has been relieved by a harbour master or other officer authorised to take charge.

V.—Pilots on arrival off town shall state the time of arrival, the vessel's name, the place where she has been left, and, if moored, with how much chain each way. This information is to be entered in a book kept at the Port Office for that purpose.

VI.—Every pilot shall on arrival report to the Port Officer the number of pilots on the station, and also any alterations he may have observed in the river on his way up.

VII.—No pilot shall take charge of an outward-bound vessel without an order signed by the Port Officer, or proceed unless the vessel has obtained her customs clearance. If the vessel is to take steam, he should not break ground without satisfying himself that the tug is engaged to take the vessel to sea, or to remain by her till the vessel is outside the Outer Bar.

VIII.—The pilot shall ascertain that the vessel has two serviceable bower anchors, and if she has not a sheet or spare anchor fit for a bower over her side, that she has one in such a position on deck that it can easily be brought into use in case of necessity. Also that a kedge with line ready bent be on deck and ready for immediate use.

IX.—If a pilot appointed to take a vessel to sea during neaps considers her draught too much, and that it would involve a risk and responsibility which he is unwilling to take, he should at once communicate the fact to the master and report to the Port Officer, for orders, fully explaining his grounds of objection.

X.—If after a pilot joins a vessel he finds that she is of larger draught than she was reported to be, or that she takes in any cargo that alters her draught, he will at once report the matter to the Port Officer and await orders.

XI.—Pilots are on no account to cross the bar between sunset and sunrise, on pain of dismissal, without the permission of the Port Officer in writing, the cost of lighting the buoys being defrayed by the ship concerned.

XII.—A pilot shall not relinquish charge of a vessel unless on account of sickness or other unavoidable necessity. If he is in any way impeded in the performance of his duty, he should report the circumstances to the Port Officer, and, if necessary, anchor the vessel.

XIII.—Pilots shall attend the Port Office daily, and shall not leave town without permission from Port Officer being previously obtained.

XIV.—Until further orders, pilots shall be guided by the following rules as to the draughts of vessels to be moved either up or down, in or out:—

- (a)—They may move a vessel in or out without steam at a draught of 18 feet, and with steam to any reasonable draught.
- (b)—Vessels of 275 feet length and upwards shall not be brought up above Moiscally without permission from Port Officer, to whom her length and draught must be reported in writing.

XV.—No pilot on his way up or down the river, and not employed on any special duty, shall pass a vessel having a pilot signal flying without boarding her and ascertaining why she is without a pilot, and if required shall take charge of her, and take her on her way and stop by her until she can be left in safety.

XVI.—Masters are requested to report when there appears to have been any unnecessary delay in getting the pilot on board.

XVII.—If a vessel loses an anchor or anchors, the pilot shall immediately submit a report to the Port Office. The report should be attested by the master of the vessel, and to enable the Port Officer's Department to identify the lost articles, it shall indicate accurately the following particulars:—

- (1)—Locality of the loss.
- (2)—Bearings of known objects.
- (3)—Description, weight, and distinctive marks of anchors.
- (4)—Description and quantity of cable.

XVIII.—Should a vessel ground, collide with any vessel or buoy, or meet with any casualty while under weigh or at anchor, the pilot shall, on the first opportunity, forward to the Port Officer a report in writing of the occurrence, containing the following particular:—

- (a)—Locality of the accident.
- (b)—Bearings of any known object in view.
- (c)—The vessel's draught of water.
- (d)—The time of tide.
- (e)—Hour of the day the accident occurred.
- (f)—Manœuvre the pilot was executing or attempting to execute.
- (g)—The damage, if any, sustained.
- (h)—The time the vessel was on shore.
- (i)—Quantity of water made by the vessel.

XIX.—Pilots, before leaving a vessel, shall obtain a certificate from the master as to how he has performed his duty, and present the same to the Port Officer on arrival.

XX.—Pilots, whilst in town, should daily inspect carefully the channel and the river-book kept at the Port Office.

XXI.—If the pilot considers himself aggrieved by any conduct on the part of the master of a vessel, he shall transmit his complaint in writing to the Port Officer for his consideration and orders.

XXII.—Masters or agents are requested to give at least 24 hours' previous notice when a pilot is required to shift or take a vessel to sea or for any other purpose, to enable the Port Officer to send for pilots from the mouth of the river, if required.

XXIII.—The cutter with pilots shall cruise in the day backwards and forwards from the Outer Bar buoys to off the mouth of the Sangoo river during the south-west monsoon, weather permitting, and shall remain day and night on her station, viz. three miles outside the Bar buoys during the north-east monsoon. The senior pilot on board will be held responsible should any complaint be made owing to delay being incurred in getting, or putting on, or taking a pilot out from a vessel.

XXIV.—The sanctioned pilotage charge is as follows:—

Draught in feet.	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
In or out	30	36	42	50	60	70	80	95	110

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
In or out	125	147	160	180	205	230	260

When the draught exceeds by more than six inches any depth here provided for, the next foot of draught shall be charged for.

For every foot, or part of a foot, exceeding six inches above 23 feet, an additional sum of Rs. 32 will be charged. Three-fourth rates will be charged for steamers and vessels towed by steam.

XXV.—In every case in which the services of a port pilot are not used, and the vessel is piloted by a person specially licensed to pilot in the Chittagong river, half the sanctioned charge for pilotage shall be paid.

XXVI.—All persons specially licensed to pilot in the Chittagong river shall be subject to the control of the Port Officer in regard to their pilotage work.

6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (g), in order to secure that "a Candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained, after the deduction abovementioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates, will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be Selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. (d) A considerable portion of the marks for English History and Literature will be allotted to the work selected by the Candidate. (See notice on p. 4.) In awarding marks for this, regard will be had partly to the extent and importance of the periods or books selected, but chiefly to the thoroughness with which they have been studied.

(e) The Examination will range from Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elementary Geometry, up to the elements of the differential and integral calculus, including the lower portions of applied Mathematics.

(f) The standard of marking in Sanskrit and Arabic will be determined with reference to a high degree of proficiency such as may be expected to be reached by a Native of good education.

(g) Marks assigned in English Composition and Mathematics will be subject to no deduction.

(h) Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open Competition is declared.

In these examinations, as in the open competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one examination. The examination will be conducted on paper and visd voce, as may be deemed necessary. 13. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S.W.," at any time after the 1st December, 1884. The forms must be returned so as to be received at the office of the Civil Service Commissioners on or before 31st March, 1885 (i).

Besides the allowances abovementioned, a bonus of £150 will, as a temporary and experimental measure, be paid to any Candidate who, having obtained permission to remain an additional year, passes an examination qualifying for a degree in Honors at Oxford or Cambridge. This privilege will be hereafter extended to any other of the Universities above referred to, at which an academical distinction is obtainable which, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, corresponds to a degree in Honors at Oxford or Cambridge and to obtain which the additional year's residence in this country is necessary.*
- (6) All Selected Candidates will be required, after having passed the first periodical Examination, and before receiving the first instalment of their allowance, to attend at the India Office for the purpose of entering into an agreement binding themselves, amongst other things, to refund in certain cases the amount of their allowance in the event of their failing to proceed to India. A surety will be required.

(i) These forms should be accompanied by evidence on the points mentioned in Regulation 2 and by a list of the subjects in which the Candidate desires to be examined. The figures above show a decrease of Rs. 67,160, or 3 per cent. in the receipts, and of Rs. 88,258 or 27·7 per cent. in the charges, thus yielding an increase of Rs. 21,098, or ·1 per cent. in the net revenue. While there has been a decrease in the receipts from duty on imported salt, that on excise salt yielded an increase (Rs. 2,281, or ·01 per cent.), the net decrease in the receipts from duty on salt being slight, and calling for no comments. The decline in the receipts from rent of warehouses is attributed chiefly to the stocks being low, a state of things which continued for some months during the year under review. The decrease in the charges has been due to smaller refunds of customs duty on salt.

2. The total quantity of salt in stock at the commencement of the year was 14,16,637 maunds against 23,18,543 maunds in 1882-83. During the year under review, 94,62,565 maunds were imported against 84,46,014 maunds imported in the previous year, and 6,37,672 maunds were manufactured locally against 2,87,816 maunds locally manufactured in 1882-83. The total quantity available for consumption during the year thus amounted to 1,15,16,874 maunds against 1,10,52,403 maunds in 1882-83. Duty was paid on 91,64,307 maunds, including 5,16,498 maunds of Bombay salt passed free of duty. The stock in hand left at the close of the year was 20,00,056 maunds against 14,16,637 maunds in the previous year. There has thus been an increase both in importation and manufacture during the year of report.

As usual, Calcutta and Chittagong were the only ports into which salt was imported, the chief sources of supply being the United Kingdom, France, Bombay, Madras, the Arabian and Persian Gulfs and Italy. Spain and Austria did not contribute anything, and only a small consignment was received from Port Elizabeth. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the attempt made by the Compagnie Nationale de Navigation through Messrs. Ralli Brothers to import Sardinian salt and obtain cargoes from the Mediterranean ports, and trusts the enterprise will prosper in their hands. This attempt to open up a new line of trade explains the increase in importations from Italy, while the enhanced import from the Arabian and Persian Gulfs is attributed to the stocks of salt from those ports having fallen very low at the close of last year. Depression in the Eastern trade, small profits from freights for the homeward voyage, previous losses, and continued low prices, are said to have led to the decline in the importations from Liverpool. The proposal to reduce the wastage allowance to 3 per cent. by introducing a more careful system of weighment at Liverpool is still under the consideration of the Board of Revenue.

3. The clearances of imported salt from shipboard increased by 5,36,843 maunds, or 8·5 per cent. in Calcutta, and by 61,573 maunds, or 88·3 per cent in Chittagong during the year under report, thus showing a total increase of 5,98,416 maunds, or 9·4 per cent. in the quantity cleared at both the ports. The duty realized on the same amounted to Rs. 1,33,67,827 against Rs. 1,23,61,188 in 1882-83, showing an increase of Rs. 10,66,639, or 8·1 per cent. In addition to the above quantity, 54,650 maunds were cleared from shipboard at Chittagong under bond for Naraingunge. The increase in clearances from shipboard is attributed to large imports, slow trade, and low freights, as will be shown below.

A decrease of 7,65,768 maunds, or 30·4 per cent. in Calcutta, and of 13,472 maunds, or 4·7 per cent. in Chittagong, is observed in the clearances of imported salt from bond during the year under review; while, on the other hand, there was an increase of 20,131 maunds, or 80·8 per cent. in Naraingunge, and of 1,044 maunds in Balasore. The net decrease thus amounted to 7,58,055 maunds, or 23·3 per cent. in the total quantity cleared from bond in all the four ports, and of Rs. 13,11,707 or 26·4 per cent in the duty realized.

Five thousand nine hundred and eight additional maunds of salt were removed from Chittagong to Calcutta under section 105 of the Customs Act, while 4,59,520 maunds were cleared for Noakhally, Tipperah, Naraingunge, Chittagong and Calcutta on payment of duty at Chittagong, against a total quantity of 3,96,793 maunds in 1882-83. The increase is mainly attributable to larger clearances for Naraingunge.

4. The result of the manufacture of excise salt compares very favourably with that of the past two years, the total quantity manufactured amounting to 6,37,672 maunds against 2,87,816 maunds in 1882-83, thus showing an increase of 3,49,826 maunds. The outturn during the year under review was even larger than that in 1880-81 (6,15,776 maunds), which was a very successful year.

In the 24-Pergunnahs, where the manufacture was in the hands of one licensee, it was altogether abandoned during the course of the year. The licensee did not apply for a license on account of his having, it is said, a large stock in hand, and the trade not being profitable owing to the comparatively low price of imported salt.

In the Pooree and Balasore districts there was an increase of 2,75,751 maunds and 94,137 maunds respectively, while in the district of Cuttack there was a falling off of 12,415 maunds. The net increase in the Orissa districts was therefore of 3,57,469 maunds, or 127·5 per cent. in the quantity of salt manufactured during the year under review.

The Kurkutch or sun evaporated salt forms the bulk of the excise salt in Pooree, and the fact that the year was favourable for its manufacture partially explains the increase in this district. The dryness of the season explains also the increase in Balasore. These circumstances, combined with the efforts made by the manufacturers to recoup the loss sustained by them previously, and to bring the stocks up to the mark, secured the result noted above. The result would have been more satisfactory had not a class of the manufacturers, who were trying to counterbalance the partial failure of their rice crop by securing a good outturn of excise salt, been deterred from carrying on their operations by a sudden outbreak of cholera.

The existence of large stocks left undisposed of at the close of the previous year, coupled with the breaking out of bad weather during the year under review, which prejudiced the manufacturing operations, led to the reduced outturn in the district of Cuttack.

5. There was an increase in the sales of excise salt of 4,157 maunds in the 24-Pergunnahs, of 10,762 maunds in Cuttack, and of 94,450 maunds in Pooree, while in the district of Balasore the sales fell off by 33,158 maunds. The net increase in the sales thus amounted to 76,230 maunds or 20·9 per cent., and in the duty to Rs. 1,52,459 or 20·9 per cent.

It is pointed out that the increase in the sales in the 24-Pergunnahs is no indication of the development of the trade in excise salt, as the licensee simply attempted to clear as much salt as he could, and established a number of retail shops, disposing of the article even at a loss.

The increase in the district of Cuttack calls for no comments, having been exported either to Balasore or to the Tributary Mehals. Kurkutch salt, which is cheaper, is imported to this district in exchange for the salt locally manufactured, which is sent out to the neighbouring places.

In 1881 competition of Ganjam salt led almost entirely to the decrease in the sales in Pooree. In addition to this, the manufacturers there, learning of the smallness of the stock at the Ganjam warehouse, combined to demand comparatively higher prices for salt of inferior quality with the hope of realizing large profits. Their hopes were, however, frustrated, and in 1882-83 they lowered their prices, but too late to affect that year's result. It is satisfactory to note that their rate has now been reduced from Rs. 2·8 per maund in 1882-83 to Rs. 2·3 in 1883-84, which has led to a large increase in the sales in this district. That the Pooree manufacturers have regained their position in the market is apparent from the fact that, while the sales from Pooree increased by 94,450 maunds, those from Ganjam fell off by 84,605 maunds.

Of the decrease of 30,000 maunds in the Balasore district, 10,000 maunds are made up by the increased sales of Cuttack and the Liverpool salts in the protected area. With regard to the balance, it is said that sales from outside into the unprotected area, which cannot be ascertained, explain it partially. Increased consumption of Liverpool salt in Mohurbhunj, which used to take its supply from Balasore, also contributed to the decrease noted above.

6. The sales of salt in the portions of the saliferous districts of Bengal and Orissa, in which the rowanah system is in force, rose during the year under review from 9,96,877 to 10,22,157 maunds, thus showing a net increase of 25,280 maunds or 2·5 per cent. Increase in consumption is noticed in the districts of the 24-Pergunnahs, Khoolna, Backergunge, Chittagong and Cuttack, while Midnapore, Howrah, Noakholly and Balasore show a falling off.

Sales in Midnapore show a decrease amounting to 1,938 maunds or 3·3 per cent. Emigration on a larger scale than usual, the closure of the Orissa Coast Canal for a portion of the year, the facilities for manufacturing salt from brine, the high price of salt within salt limits, the failure of the police to detect illicit manufacture, are set forth as the causes which led to the decrease in question. Decrease of consumption in the Contai thana of this district was noticed in 1881-82, and formed the subject of a special report. Illicit manufacture was the principal cause of the decrease, and increased attention subsequently paid to its suppression led to an increase in consumption of 801 maunds in 1882-83. Of the causes enumerated above, it appears to Mr. Rivers Thompson that the decrease is mainly due to the inactivity of the police.

The decrease in Noakholly and Balasore is mainly due to increased purchases outside the protected area, while that in Howrah calls for no comments. Influx of visitors to the Exhibition accounts for the increase in the 24-Pergunnahs. In Khoolna importation of a large number of workmen may have to some extent led to the increase noted, but it is more probably due to the increased requirements of a growing population. The increase in Backergunge during the year under review confirms the belief expressed last year, that illicit manufacture is not carried on to any very great extent in that district. Vigilance on the part of the police in suppressing illicit manufacture and transport is said to have led to the increase in Chittagong. The increase in Cuttack was the largest, amounting to 11,732 maunds or 6·1 per cent.

7. The returns of salt attached, released, and confiscated during the year are more satisfactory than they were last year. Four hundred and fifty-nine seizures were made against 432 in the previous year, while the quantity of salt attached was only 697 maunds against 4,755 maunds in 1882-83. Midnapore again shows a falling off in the number of seizures as well as in the quantity attached. Out of the 19 cases of seizure in which 5 maunds and 14 chittacks were attached, 3 maunds 31 seers 2 chittacks were confiscated in 17 cases, while 1 maund 9 seers 12 chittacks were released in two cases. Considering the total result of the salt administration of this district, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot help remarking that the police must have been very negligent during the year under review with regard to this portion of their duties. The quantity of salt released was 547 maunds in 22 cases against 4,594 maunds in 40 cases, while that confiscated was 150 maunds in 436 cases against 163 maunds in 395 cases in 1882-83 respectively. The ratio of the quantity released to the quantity attached was therefore 79 per cent against 96 per cent. in the previous year, which is satisfactory. Of the 201 maunds of salt attached in 13 cases in Howrah, 200 maunds had to be released in one case, and the rest confiscated in the remaining 12 cases. The Commissioner is right in holding that this result suggests hasty action on the part of the police. The results in the districts of Backergunge and Noakholly are accepted as satisfactory. In the former the whole quantity attached (19 maunds 13 seers 4 chittacks) was confiscated, and in the latter, out of 12 maunds 25 seers 15 chittacks attached, only 15 seers were released, thus showing the judiciousness displayed by the police officers in making these attachments. In Cuttack the seizures numbered 103 with 1·22 maunds of salt attached, 25 maunds of which were confiscated in 102 cases and the balance released in one case. The seizures in the other districts call for no special comments. The number of seizures and of unsuccessful searches was 624 and 102 against 518 and 147 respectively in 1882-83, a result which is not unsatisfactory. The state of affairs disclosed in the district of Backergunge requires further explanation. One hundred and sixty-seven unsuccessful searches and 43 seizures were at first returned for this district, 102 of the former and 3 of the latter being in one sub-division alone. The figures were, however, subsequently corrected after "a careful enquiry" from 167 and 43 to 39 and 64 respectively. But it is not clear on what basis this enquiry was made and the figures altered, and the Lieutenant-Governor requests that the Board will call for further particulars on this point.

8. The number of prosecutions for offences against the Salt laws rose from 1,077 in 1880-81 to 1,262 in 1881-82, 1,173 in 1882-83 to 1,306 in 1883-84. The number actually disposed of, including cases pending from the previous year, was 1,304 against 1,174, while convictions were secured in 1,128 cases against 1,078 in 1882-83 respectively. Midnapore, Khoolna and Noakholly show an increase in the number of cases instituted, the others showing a decrease, except the 24-Pergunnahs, where the number was the same as that in the year preceding. Cases under sections 20 and 21 form the bulk of those in Midnapore, most of which were instituted in Contai. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner in the view that the rule requiring all sales to be entered in the pages should not be too strictly enforced. As a rule, people found breaking the conditions of their license should at first be warned, and prosecution should only be resorted to if the warning has no effect.

9. The amounts realized as fines and disbursed as rewards were Rs. 4,986 and Rs. 3,352 against Rs. 6,529 and Rs. 4,167 respectively in 1882-83. The action of the Deputy Magistrate of Balasore with regard to the payment of rewards is noted with displeasure. Rewards liberally and promptly awarded are great incentives to the detection and prosecution of breaches of the Salt law.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the Board's decision not to introduce any change in the present Salt law limits of the Khulna district. The larger question of placing the manufacture and sale of excise salt in Orissa under the supervision of the Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras, subject to the control of this Government, will be considered in connection with the special report on the subject recently submitted by the Board of Revenue.

11. In paragraph 9 of the Government Resolution on the Board's report for 1881-82, the question of simplifying the present salt system for the greater convenience of the public was initiated. Reports from the Commissioners of the saliferous districts were called for and incorporated in the Board's report for 1882-83. Supplementary opinions have again been furnished in the Board's report under review. The Board think that the existing salt system should be allowed to continue until the question of bringing the salt administration in Orissa under the control of the Madras Salt Commissioner is settled. The Lieutenant-Governor will postpone expressing his own view in the point.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor thanks the Board for their careful administration of the department during the year. The name of the officer favourably mentioned will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

„ No. V, five „

Of the Qualification of Voters.

4. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

5. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

6. Subject to the proviso contained in Rule 4, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid, in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act, an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a pleader or mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

7. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. Each voter shall have as many votes as there are vacancies, and may give as many of these votes as he pleases to any one or more candidates.

Of the Registration of Voters.

8. For each ward a register shall be prepared by the Municipal Commissioners, in which shall be entered the names of the persons qualified to vote at elections. This register for each ward shall be prepared as soon as possible after the approval of these rules by Government, and hereafter shall be revised annually, and republished on the 1st October in each year.

9. When the registers are ready, copies of them shall be affixed at the principal civil and criminal courts, and at the office of the Commissioners, and so much of them as may refer to each ward shall be affixed at each police-station in that ward, and at such other places as may be deemed by the Chairman to be necessary.

10. Objections to, and claims for, the registration of voters may be made at any time being not less than 18 days before the election. All such objections and claims shall be heard by three Commissioners, to be appointed by the Chairman, who do not stand for election in the ward to which the objections and claims apply. The decision of the majority shall be final. If no appointment of Commissioners is made by the Chairman under this rule, such objections and claims shall be heard by an officer or officers who shall be specially deputed in this behalf by the Magistrate of the district; and the decision of such officer or officers shall be final.

11. No person shall be qualified to vote unless his name has been entered in the register of voters.

Of the Qualification and the Nomination of Candidates.

12. The Chairman shall, at least 30 days before the date fixed as hereinafter provided for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates.

13. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

14. Any four persons registered as qualified to vote in any ward may nominate a candidate for election to represent such ward. The nomination shall be made in writing in the form annexed to these rules, and the candidate shall signify on the nomination paper his consent to the nomination. The nomination paper shall be delivered at the Municipal Office not less than ten days before the date fixed for the election.

15. The Chairman shall forthwith ascertain whether the nominators and the candidate respectively are qualified in accordance with these rules. If satisfied in this respect, he shall insert the name of the candidate in a list of candidates for the Commissionership or Commissionerships to be filled up. Such list shall also contain a specification of the qualifications of the candidate, and specifications of the names and qualifications of the persons nominating him.

16. On or before the morning of the ninth day previous to the election, the Chairman shall cause a copy of the list to be affixed at the Municipal Office, and another at each police-station within the ward.

17. Any registered voter may, within 48 hours from the publication of the list at the Municipal Office, object in writing to any such nomination; his objection shall specify the grounds on which it is made, and shall be delivered at the Municipal Office.

18. Such objection shall, within 24 hours, be decided summarily by the Sub-Committee appointed by the Chairman, or by the officer or officers specially deputed by the Magistrate of the district, as the case may be, under Rule 10, and the decision, which shall be immediately announced, shall be final.

Of the manner of holding Elections.

19. The election of Commissioners in each ward shall be held on such date (not being less than 30 days after the publication of the registers of voters under Rule 9) as the Chairman, with the sanction of the Local Government, may appoint. This date shall be announced by advertisement in the Calcutta Gazette, and in such newspapers as the Chairman may think desirable; also by a notice affixed at the Municipal Office and at each police-station in the ward, and at any other place which may seem to the Chairman to be necessary for the due publication of the notice.

20. Elections shall be held at the following places:—

No.	I Ward	Chitpore police station.
"	II "	Baliaghatta ditto.
"	III "	Entally ditto.
"	IV "	Ballygunge ditto.
"	V "	Municipal Office.
"	VI "	Garden Reach police-station.

21. The Municipal Commissioners shall appoint polling officers and other establishments, and may define their duties so far as they may not be defined by these rules.

22. The allowances of establishments shall be fixed by the Commissioners, and these, as well as all other expenses incurred in conducting the elections, shall be paid from the funds of the municipality.

23. If the number of candidates be not greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall declare the candidate or candidates to be duly elected. If there be any vacancies for which no candidates have appeared, the Chairman shall report the fact for the information of Government.

24. If the number of candidates be greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall issue a public notice (to be affixed at the Municipal Office, at the police-stations, and at as many as possible of the chief public offices, and to be otherwise notified in such manner as may seem to him necessary), declaring the day and hours in which, and the place at which, the election is to be held, and also the names of the candidates.

25. The poll shall commence at 8 A.M. and shall close at 6 P.M.

26. Each candidate may appoint, by a letter to the Chairman, a copy of which shall be delivered by the candidate to each agent to serve as his authority, not more than two agents to be present at the polling place to watch the proceedings on his behalf, and to bring to the notice of the polling officers any instance of false personation or other malpractice which may come to their knowledge as the election proceeds. Such agents shall be bound to obey any directions which the presiding officer shall give them for the purpose of keeping order; and no election shall be invalidated on the ground that the presiding officer has exceeded his powers in this respect.

27. The polling officer shall be provided with a list of the registered voters qualified to vote within the ward.

28. The votes shall be taken by means of voting papers.

29. A voter may either attend at the polling place and record his vote, or he may forward his vote to the polling officer, so that it may reach him before the hour fixed for the close of the poll.

30. Any voter wishing to obtain a voting paper beforehand may apply, not less than five clear days before the day fixed for the election, at the Municipal Office for a voting paper. The application shall be in writing, and shall bear the signature of the voter written with his own hand; it shall specify his address and his number on the register. A voting paper in the form appended to these rules, shall be at once forwarded to the voter by post, or by such other mode of conveyance as may be convenient.

31. The voter having received this voting paper may—

- (1) Return it by post, duly filled up, to the Municipal Office, in a closed cover marked "Voting paper—Ward No.—;" or
- (2) Present it himself at the polling place within the time fixed for the poll.

32. All voting papers received at the office in accordance with the first clause of the last rule shall be made over unopened to the polling officer to be opened by him publicly at the polling place within the hours fixed for the poll.

33. Should any cover received at the Municipal Office, and not marked as required by Rule 31, be found to contain a voting paper otherwise in order, such paper shall be immediately placed in a cover and sent to the polling officer to be dealt with according to Rule 32.

34. No duplicate voting papers shall be issued, but any voter, to whom a voting paper may have been forwarded under these rules, may nevertheless attend and vote in person at the polling place. In this case the original voting paper shall be considered as cancelled.

35. The voting papers sent out from the office under Rule 30 shall be printed on paper of a different colour from that used for papers to be furnished at the polling place. They shall bear the signature of the Chairman stamped upon them, and shall be numbered consecutively, and duplicates of them similarly numbered shall be kept in counterfoil.

36. Any voter who may present himself at the polling place to vote shall appear before a polling officer, who shall question him as to his name, address, and number on the register, and after noting these facts in a voting paper (numbered consecutively), and in the counterfoil, shall hand over the voting paper to him.

37. The voter shall, if he can read and write, record his own vote on it, and shall present it to the presiding officer, who shall initial it, and shall enter the vote on the copy of the register made over to him under Rule 27.

38. If the voter be unable to read and write, his vote shall be recorded for him by an officer authorized by the Chairman; the paper shall then be returned to him for presentation to the presiding officer, who shall deal with it as directed in the preceding rule.

39. In all cases in which the voting paper is filled up in a language other than English, the name of the voter and of the person or persons for whom he votes shall be entered in English by an officer authorized by the Chairman.

40. If a voting paper received by post is not in order, the polling officer shall nevertheless receive and record the vote, at the same time recording the objection and separating the voting paper from those papers to which there is no objection.

41. If an objection, on the ground of personation, of non-registry or any other cause, be made to the polling officer in any case, the vote shall nevertheless be noted and separated as above, and the objections shall be recorded.

42. Any agent appointed by a candidate in accordance with Rule 26 may inspect any voting paper. He may, at any time up to the close of the poll, object in writing to the reception of any vote, stating the grounds of his objections, and he shall sign such statement.

43. If in any case the presiding officer shall find that a second voting paper is presented, purporting to be on account of a person whose vote has been already recorded, he shall proceed in the same manner as in the case mentioned in Rule 41.

44. At the close of the poll, the presiding officer shall transmit to the Chairman all objections, together with all the records relating to them. The Chairman, or, if he be prevented from attending, a Sub-Committee of Commissioners appointed by him, shall proceed on the next following day, not being a Sunday or holiday, to hear and determine such objections, and the decision shall be final.

45. At the close of the poll, the polling officer shall forward to the Chairman all the voting papers, arranged according to their consecutive numbers, in a packet duly sealed and secured.

46. As soon as may be after the decision of objections has been concluded, the Chairman shall publish, in the Calcutta Gazette, and at the Municipal Office, the names of the person or persons in whose behalf votes have been recorded, and the number of votes given for each of them; and the candidates for whom the greatest number of votes shall have been given shall be declared to have been duly elected.

47. If the same person be a candidate for election in more than one ward, on his election for one ward he shall cease to be eligible in any other ward.

48. In case of an equality of votes, the Chairman shall give a casting vote.

49. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

50. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that that irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

51. No person in the employment or pay of the Municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render the offender liable to dismissal.

RULES FOR THE ELECTION OF MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS
UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1884.

The 29th September 1884.—The following rules for the election of Municipal Commissioners in all Municipalities in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, Patna, Bhagulpore, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore Divisions (except Howrah and the Suburbs of Calcutta), have been laid down by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 15 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884:—

Of the qualification of voters.

1. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

2. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

3. Subject to the proviso contained in rule 1, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a Pleader or Mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

Of the registration of voters.

4. As soon as possible after these rules shall have been published, the Magistrate of the district shall cause to be prepared a register of persons qualified to vote. Such register shall be prepared from the assessment lists, from enquiries made by persons specially deputed for the purpose, and in such other manner as may appear expedient. Such register shall from time to time be corrected and added to as the Magistrate may direct. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the Municipality to furnish the Magistrate or the Sub-Divisional Officer with any available information required for the preparation and correction, from time to time, of the register in question.

5. At least one month before the date fixed for the elections as hereinafter provided, an extract from the register, showing the persons qualified to vote within each Ward, shall be published at suitable places within that ward. A copy of the whole register shall also be published at the municipal office.

6. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as he may depute for the purpose, shall sit to hear and decide objections to, and claims for, registration of voters on some date of which at least three days' notice shall have been given, and which shall be at least ten days after the publication of the lists in question, and at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections; and such decision shall be final.

7. The ward lists as amended, after the hearing and decision of claims and objections, shall be considered as the final lists of persons entitled to vote at the elections, and no person whose name does not appear in the ward lists shall be permitted to vote.

Of the qualification and the nomination of candidates.

8. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

9. Any rate-payer qualified to vote may nominate any other qualified person as a candidate.

10. The Magistrate shall, at least six weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates. Such nominations shall be delivered at the municipal office within fourteen days from the date of publication of the notices in question. No names of candidates shall be received after the expiration of such period.

11. The preliminary list of candidates, with the names of the persons nominating them, shall be published in each ward, and at the municipal office, at least three weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. A notification shall at the same time be published, fixing a date for the hearing of objections to candidates. Such date shall be at least one week later than the publication of the notification in question.

12. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall hear and decide all objections to candidates; and such decision shall be final. Before publishing the final list, he shall ascertain that all the candidates are eligible and willing to stand for election.

13. The final list of candidates shall be published in each ward, and at the municipal office, at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. No candidate whose name is not contained in such list shall be eligible for election.

Of the manner of holding elections.

14. The elections for the different wards shall be held on such date as may be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor and notified in the Calcutta Gazette.

15. The Magistrate shall decide at what place the election for each ward shall be held.

16. The date fixed for the election in each ward shall be duly notified by beat of drum, and by the publication of notices in such ward at least one month beforehand.

17. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. He shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies for such ward.

18. All persons wishing to vote must be present at the elections. No votes by proxy or in writing shall be received.

19. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall preside at the election for each ward, assisted by a Committee of not less than three and not more than five rate-payers of the ward, nominated by the Magistrate.

20. The proceedings shall commence by the presiding officer explaining the nature and objects of the meeting to the assembled voters. He shall then read out the list of candidates, and state the number of vacancies.

21. Each candidate shall then be proposed by one qualified voter, and seconded by another. Subject to the control of the presiding officer on points of order, each candidate and his proposer and seconder shall be permitted to address the assembled voters on the subject of his candidature. The names of candidates not duly proposed and seconded shall be removed from the list.

22. In the case of the number of the candidates duly proposed and seconded not being greater than the number of vacancies, the presiding officer, if he is satisfied that not less than 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward or wards in which the election is taking place are present, shall at once declare such candidates to be duly elected.

23. If the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded exceeds the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall proceed to call for a show of hands in favour of each candidate. The presiding officer shall decide and state which of the candidates have received the largest number of votes by the said shows of hands. Should no poll be demanded against any one candidate, he shall declare such candidate to be duly elected.

24. Any defeated candidate, or his proposer or seconder, may demand a poll on his behalf, as against any or all of the candidates selected under the above rule.

25. When a poll is demanded, the votes shall then and there be recorded by the presiding officer with his own hand. All objections to voters shall, if possible, be summarily decided by the presiding officer, after reference to the register. No objections shall be entertained other than objections arising out of matters subsequent to registration under rule 6.

26. The presiding officer shall then and there declare such candidates as have a clear majority of votes to be duly elected. Provided that no candidate shall be declared to be duly elected unless at least 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward have appeared and recorded their votes.

27. If 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward are not present (Rule 22), or have not appeared and recorded their votes (Rule 26), the presiding officer shall report that the electors have failed, under section 16 of the Act, to elect Commissioners for the ward.

28. In case of an equality of votes for the same vacancy, and when the number of vacancies does not admit of all the candidates who have obtained an equality of votes being elected, the presiding officer shall postpone the election, fixing at the same time a date upon which the proceedings shall be re-commenced. When the majority for any candidate consists only of disputed votes, with reference to which further enquiry appears to be necessary, the result of such enquiry shall be notified on a subsequent date.

29. The list of duly returned candidates for the whole municipality shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Division for publication in the Calcutta Gazette.

Miscellaneous.

30. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

31. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that that irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

32. No person in the employment or pay of the municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render him liable to dismissal.

33. All costs incurred in the preparation of the register of voters, the publication of notices, the holding of elections, or taking any other necessary actions under these rules, shall be payable by the Commissioners out of the municipal fund.

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER 1884.

Normal meteorological features of the month.—The month of October in the Province of Bengal witnesses the transition from south-west to north-east monsoon conditions. The transition is a comparatively slow process, and differs considerably in character from the establishment of the south-west monsoon. The latter is usually an energetic action—an advance of a massive current up the Bay, impelled from behind by very strong forces. The reverse process is one of gradual decay or increasing weakness.

It has been more than once pointed out in these reports that the south-west monsoon is not a steady current, but is a series of up-rushes or advances of strong winds followed by intervals of weak winds or of partial exhaustion. The intermittent advances of strong southerly winds bring up with them vast quantities of aqueous vapour. The chief feature of humid winds is that they deposit rain as soon as favourable conditions occur, and that certain actions accompanying the rainfall increase the air motion. The mutual actions thus established hence tend for some time to extend the area of rainfall and increase its intensity. As the supplies of aqueous vapour are limited, this action only goes on for a brief period, and is followed by an interval of weakness, partial rainfall, and light winds. Each uprush gives rise to much eddying motion in front, which frequently accumulates to such an extent as to produce a cyclonic disturbance of considerable intensity. Hence it is that so many of the larger bursts of the monsoon rains in Bengal are preceded by cyclonic disturbances, which, as it were, carry the heavy rainfall with them over the country. The heaviest rainfall usually occurs near the front of the advancing moist winds, and plays an important part in their onward motion. It is almost certain that after the primary establishment of the monsoon current, the higher temperature in the interior of India acts a very secondary part in producing these advances of humid and rain-giving winds. This is most strikingly shown by the fact that prolonged heat and drought in Upper India in June and July (such as occasionally occurs) is not as a rule followed by exceptionally heavy rain during the remainder of the monsoon, but by a continuation of the drought or previous hot weather. It appears to be almost certain that after the monsoon is established it contains within itself forces or energy sufficient to ensure its continuance for some months. During the earlier monsoon months, its self-contained energy carries the current to the head of the Bay, and it recurves usually in East and North Bengal. As the monsoon season progresses, these advances generally become feebler, with longer intervals between them. After the beginning of October, they rarely advance as far as the head of the Bay, but recurve further south, and hence give rainfall to the west coast, the area of heavy rainfall travelling southwards with the recurving current, which is usually finally displaced from the Bay in the beginning of December. Occasionally cyclonic disturbances form in the Bay in front of the current in October, and advance to the north or west coasts of the Bay. The conditions are, at intervals of several years, favourable to the continued and prolonged accumulation of sufficient energy necessary to constitute an intense disturbance such as the Backergunj cyclone of 1876 or the Calcutta storm of 1864. The chief features of October are rapidly diminishing temperature, increasing pressure, and the prevalence of light northerly, and hence dry land, winds. In the early part of the month, advances of humid winds into Bengal, due to uprushes of the monsoon current, may occur, either quietly, or be preceded by cyclonic storms of moderate intensity. In the latter part of the month such advances are very rare, but may occur under very exceptional circumstances. The smaller cyclonic disturbances which form in front of the recurved current, after what may be termed the establishment of the north-east monsoon on the Madras coast, usually advance to the west coast and strike it between Orissa and Ceylon, and further south generally as the season advances. These storms, however, usually modify the winds in Bengal and frequently give cloudy skies, and light to moderate rain, such as in fact generally obtains in the outskirts of a cyclonic disturbance.

Average distribution of rainfall of the month.—The normal distribution of rainfall for October is more irregular than that of the preceding months of the rains. The rainfall of the month is due, as indicated in the preceding remarks, to two different causes or sets of actions. The first is the continuance of south-west monsoon conditions and rainfall in Bengal during the early part of the month, for periods which vary considerably from year to year. The second is the advance of cyclonic storms, formed during or after the recurvature of the south-west monsoon over the centre of the Bay, which change usually initiates what is termed the commencement or burst of the north-east monsoon on the Madras coast. The average distribution of rainfall for the month is hence somewhat irregular, and the actual distribution in any year may differ very greatly from the normal, if a cyclonic storm of unusual intensity or character occur. The following statement of the average rainfall of the month as determined from the average of the past 15 years' rainfall observations in which a few slight local irregularities in the normal distribution are omitted, gives a fairly approximate view. The average rainfall in Behar (with the exception of the Purneah and North Bhagulpore districts) and Chutia Nagpur (excluding the districts immediately bordering on South-West Bengal) varies from two and a half inches to four inches. The amount is least for the Gya district. It varies between four and six inches in the case of the previously excepted districts, the western districts of Orissa, and the whole of Bengal, excluding the Julpigoree district and a narrow strip extending along the coast, and bounded on the north by a curved line running through Cuttack, Jajpore, Diamond Harbour, Port Canning, Chandpur and Chittagong. Over this long narrow area, the width of which varies from 20 to 60 miles, the average rainfall exceeds 6 inches. It is absolutely greatest at False Point, for which it is 11·4 inches.

Meteorological summary of the month.—At the end of the month of September south-west monsoon winds of moderate force were blowing at the head of the Bay. There was at that time local depression of the barometer in Orissa and Ganjam. During the first two days of October the conditions were unaltered. Moderate rain fell over the districts in and near the depression, that is in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and the southern districts of Chutia Nagpur. The current increased considerably in force and extent, and the area of minimum pressure was on the 3rd somewhat suddenly transferred to South Behar and the Hazaribagh district. Heavy rain fell over the whole of the interior on that and the following day. North Behar and the northern districts of North Bengal received unusually heavy rain. The depression and attendant cyclonic circulation disappeared on the 5th, when light and local showers fell in East and North Bengal. The barometer had risen rapidly on the 4th and 5th, and on the 6th the distribution of pressure in Bengal and at the head of the Bay was such as indicated the commencement of the north-east monsoon period. A few days of fine weather with light variable winds in Bengal and the north of the Bay followed. On the 13th winds began to increase in force at the entrance to the Bay, which generated a disturbance of considerable intensity that passed across the coast near Negapatam on the evening of the 16th. Rain fell in connection with it over the coast area as far north as Chandbally on the 15th and 16th. This was followed by almost steady and continuous rain on the South Coromandel coast for some days until the 20th, when it almost entirely ceased. During this interval, the weather in Bengal was such as generally accompanies strong north-east monsoon winds on the Madras coast in October. Pressure was excessive, temperature unusually low, the air dry, and winds light to moderate, and from directions ranging between north-east and west over the Province generally. The barometer on the 19th in Bengal was very nearly two-tenths of an inch above the mean height. It then began to give way rapidly, and the conditions in the Bay changed. The winds weakened in force, and rain ceased to fall in Southern India. On the 22nd the conditions were such as usually precede the formation of a depression and cyclonic disturbance. The observations of the 23rd showed that a well-marked depression was in existence off the Ganjam and Orissa coasts, and was marching slowly northwards. It proved to be a very large and shallow depression, and attended with winds of moderate force at and near the earth's surface. It brought up very large quantities of aqueous vapour, which speedily raised the humidity of the whole Province. Orissa received moderately heavy rain on the 23rd. The rainfall extended to the greater part of Bengal as well as Orissa on the 24th. General rain was received on the next day over the whole Province, except the northern districts of North Bengal and the adjacent districts of North Behar. The influx now began to show signs of exhaustion. Little or no rain fell over the greater part of Orissa and South Bengal on the 26th. The only districts which received heavy rain were the central and eastern districts of Behar. The barometer had risen rapidly during the previous 48 hours. A few light local showers occurred on the 27th, chiefly in East and North Bengal, and were the last amounts received from this burst of rainfall. Fine dry weather with clear skies prevailed during the remaining days of the week.

Temperature.—The temperature of the month has been almost without exception continuously below the normal. The two periods of rainfall were unusually cool; on both occasions the mean temperature in Behar was for a short interval (on the 5th and the 27th) from 6° to 8° below the normal mean. The following table gives the variation from the mean in each division for the five weeks ending 31st October:—

VARIATION OF THE AVERAGE TEMPERATURE FROM THE NORMAL AVERAGE FOR THE WEEK ENDING—

The night temperature on the whole decreased from 8° to 12° over the interior during the month, and the maximum day temperature from 5° to 8°.

Pressure at the commencement of the month was below the normal. It was most deficient on the 1st and 2nd in Orissa. On the 3rd the area of most deficient pressure was transferred to Chutia Nagpur and Behar. Pressure increased rapidly on the 4th and 5th, and on the 6th was above the normal by amounts ranging from ·01" at Purneah to ·08" at Cuttack. It oscillated within narrow limits, and also increased generally from that date until the 19th, when it was in excess by amounts ranging from ·14" at Cuttack to ·18" at Patna and ·21" at Durbhanga. It then commenced to diminish, and was below the average by varying amounts until the 26th, when it increased rapidly and was above the normal during the remainder of the month. The mean pressure of the month was in excess by amounts which averaged '05" in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, '06" in South-West Bengal, '07" in East Bengal and '08" in Behar. The following gives a short account of the two important barometric depressions or storms of the month.

Barometric depressions and storms of the month.—Two depressions of unusual character formed during the month. They gave rise to very moderate winds and were chiefly remarkable for the large amount of rain which occurred over the Province under unusually favourable conditions during their existence.

1st.—Depression of the 3rd to the 5th in Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and North Bengal. Moderate monsoon winds were blowing at the head of the Bay and across the north of the Peninsula from the Bombay coast on the 29th and 30th of September. Pressure was at that time lowest in Orissa and Ganjam. This determined the rainfall on the 1st and 2nd chiefly to Orissa, South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. In consequence probably of a large increase in the strength of the currents, or perhaps of some unknown atmospheric actions in Central or Upper India, the area of minimum pressure was transferred on the 3rd to Behar and the adjacent districts of Chutia Nagpur. Pressure at 10 A. M. of the 3rd was lowest at Hazaribagh and '13" below the normal. Heavy rain commenced to fall in North and Central Behar and the northern districts of North Bengal. Pressure increased rapidly, and on the 4th was generally above the normal. It was lowest in Central Behar, and thus drew the moist winds from the Bay chiefly into North Bengal and Behar, where abnormally heavy rain was now received. The barometer continued to rise, and on the 5th there was no longer a local depression, nor any definite cyclonic circulation. Showers more or less local in character fell during the 5th, after which fine clear weather set in.

2nd.—Depression of the 22nd to the 27th. This commenced to form immediately after the first break in the north-east monsoon rains on the Coromandel coast. Its existence was not plainly indicated by the observations at the coast stations of the Bay until the morning of the 23rd, when there was a well-marked depression and cyclonic circulation covering Ganjam and Orissa and the adjacent portion of the Bay. The depression intensified slightly and drifted northwards. The centre crossed the coast on the evening of the 25th, and was near Calcutta at 10 A. M. of the 26th. It filled up rapidly during the day and disappeared before 10 A. M. of the 27th. It was throughout a very shallow depression and the winds unusually feeble near the earth's surface. It, however, brought up very large supplies of vapour, which were carried northwards and westwards as far as North Bengal and West Behar, and gave general rain over the whole Province, which was large in amount in many of the districts of Behar and North Bengal that had received very deficient rainfall in August and September.

Rainfall.—The rainfall of the month was entirely dependent upon the two depressions described above. Its chief feature is that it occurred most abundantly in those districts which received most deficient rain during the preceding months of August and September.

Time distribution of the rainfall.—On the 1st and 2nd, light to moderate showers fell in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal, and the southern districts of East Bengal, and on the 2nd in North Bengal and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. The amounts received were in no case large, but such as to indicate fairly general and uniformly distributed rainfall over a large area. The transfer of low pressure to South Behar on the 3rd initiated and accompanied one of the most general and largest bursts of rainfall during the previous monsoon in that area. It was heaviest on the whole in North Behar and Bengal. The following amounts exceeding 4 inches were registered at 6 P. M. of the 3rd:—

	Inches.		Inches.
Bhuddruck	... 6·08	Buxar	... 4·48
Purneah	... 5·03	Arrareah	... 4·45
Godda	... 4·52

The rainfall of the next 24 hours was much larger in amount. It extended over the whole of the Province excepting Orissa and the southern districts of Chutia Nagpur, and was excessive in the northern districts of North Bengal and the adjacent districts of North Behar. The following amounts exceeding 4 inches were registered at 6 P. M. of the 4th for the previous 24 hours:—

DISTRICTS.	Stations.	Rainfall in inches.

	Buxa	... 5·10
Rungpore	Bagdogra	... 4·85
Purneah	Kissengunj	... 4·55

The rainfall of the 5th was, in comparison with the previous, small in amount. Showers giving fairly general, but very moderate, rain were received in North and East Bengal, and the Purneah, Durbhunga, and Moorshedabad districts.

From the 6th to the 23rd no rain occurred over the Province, with the exception of one or two very light local showers, and a feeble burst of rain in the Pooree and Cuttack districts on the 15th and 16th, due to a slight disturbance in the south of the Bay, which advanced to the west coast, and affected the weather as far north as the Balasore district.

The disturbance which formed in the north-west of the Bay on the 22nd began to give rain to the coast districts on the 23rd. Orissa obtained heavy rain on that day, and light to moderate local showers occurred in South-West Bengal and the Chittagong and Backergunge districts. The heaviest fall on the 23rd was 5·1 inches at Pooree. The area of general rainfall on the 24th included the whole of Orissa, South-West Bengal, East Bengal (excepting Mymensingh), and the southern districts of North Bengal. The largest amounts registered on that day were:—

	Inches.		Inches.
False Point ...	5·79	Saugor Island ...	4·58
Perozepore ...	4·70	Contai ...	4·02

The rainfall of the 24th was large in amount, and well distributed in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal. On the 25th the area of rainfall extended further into the interior and included the whole of Orissa, South-West and East Bengal, the southern districts of North Bengal, Chutia Nagpur, South Behar, and the western districts of North Behar. It was very fairly distributed, but was heaviest in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal. The following amounts exceeding 3 inches were registered on the 25th:—

	Inches.		Inches.
Contai ...	7·84	Satkhiria ...	3·42
Pooree ...	4·42	Agartola ...	3·30
Saugor Island ...	3·71	Comillah ...	3·27
Serajgunj ...	3·47	Maliara ...	3·04

The influx of vapour commenced to diminish in amount on the 26th. No rain fell in Orissa, the greater part of South-West Bengal, and the southern districts of Chutia Nagpur. The remainder of the Province received general rain, which was heaviest in North Behar. The following rainfalls exceeding 3 inches were registered on the 26th:—

	Inches.		Inches.
Tajpur ...	5·36	Durbhunga ...	3·71
Muddapur ...	3·97	Hajipur ...	3·13
Cox's Bazar ...	3·86

A few light local showers of little importance occurred on the 27th. Dry weather with clear skies obtained during the remaining days of the month.

Local distribution of rainfall.—The total rainfall of the month was less than two inches in the Chumparun and Sarun districts, and in the more southern districts of Chutia Nagpur. It ranged between two and six inches in the whole of the remainder of the Province, excepting a narrow strip of the coast area, and the eastern portions of Comillah and Mymensing, and the Cooch Behar and Darjeeling districts, Purneah, Bhagulpore, and the larger part of Durbhunga and Mozufferpore, and the northern portion of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, in which it ranged from 6 inches upwards to 15 inches. It exceeded 10 inches over a small portion of the Orissa and South-West Bengal coast area, and also locally in the Cooch Behar district, and at Darjeeling and Muddapur in the North Bhagulpore district.

The rainfall was in defect over the western districts of North Behar, the greater part of South Behar, Chutia Nagpur, the whole of Orissa, except a very small tract on the coast, and the greater part of Central Bengal. The deficiency was less than two inches, except in parts of Burdwan, Chumparun, and the Cuttack districts.

It was in excess over the central and eastern districts of North Behar, the northern districts of North Bengal, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, Bancoora, the southern districts of South-West Bengal bordering on the coast, and the whole of East Bengal, excluding Furréd-pore and Dacca. Over a large portion of this it exceeded two inches, and was greater than five inches in very small areas represented by the following stations:—Pooree, Contai, Maddupur, Cooch Behar, and Perozepore. The same facts are expressed more precisely in the language of percentages in the table given below which gives complete data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of October in every district of the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due weight being made for the area which each station represents. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the weighted rainfall observations of the past 15 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall of the past month, determined by the same method from the actual rainfalls of the month at the registering stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall of the same period as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third column, but stated in a slightly different form. It expresses as a percentage how much the rainfall of each district for the past month varied in excess or defect from the normal rainfall, and hence gives the difference between the numbers in the third column and 100.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph, but those from 4th to 8th November from that of an Osler's anemograph and from a Robinson's anemometer.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the readings during the month. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast by 100. The normal means of rainfall are the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisions. The total rainfall at the sub-divisions in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rain gauge is denoted by a small square.

the past ten years. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater. The number denoting cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "district observations for the period in question during the past 12 years." The means for the "district" are the numerical averages of the rainfall returns received on which at least an hundredth of an inch fell.

TTA, the 12th November 1884.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL DURING THE WEEK ENDING THE 7TH NOVEMBER 1884.

AFTER the considerable burst of rainfall of the last week of October (which occurred between the 23rd and the 27th, fine weather with clear skies and northerly winds set in again over the Province, and continued to the end of the month. Monsoon winds apparently prevailed during this period over the south of the Bay. They were, however, not continued to the Coromandel coast in the normal manner, and weather became unsettled in the Bay on the 31st of October. A rapid fall of the barometer occurred on the first day of the week under review. The winds shifted at the head of the Bay, and indicated feeble cyclonic circulation. A small but severe whirl was generated, probably on the morning of the 1st, in the north-east of the Bay, and passed along the Chittagong coast, and across the mouth of the Megna into the Noakholly and Commillah districts. As it filled up almost entirely before the morning of the 2nd, the observations give little information of its advance. Very strong winds blew over, and to the east of, the path of the centre. It lasted for about five hours (from noon to 5 p.m.) at Chittagong and inflicted much damage on the native craft. It gave very heavy rain to the Chittagong, Noakholly, Commillah, and Backergunge districts, moderately heavy rain to the remainder of East Bengal, and light rain to Jessore, Khulna, Bogra, and Pubna. The Noakholly district received an average of 7.8 inches, Backergunge of 4.3 inches, Chittagong of 2.5 inches, and Commillah of 1.8 inches. The average rainfall of East Bengal for the 24 hours ending 6 p.m. of the 1st was 2.2 inches. After it passed away, winds began to strengthen again on the Coromandel Coast. On the morning of the 3rd north-east monsoon gradients were again established over the Bay. Heavy rain commenced to fall on that day on the South Coromandel and Ceylon coasts. Madras received nearly 23 inches, and Negapatam 21½ inches, between the 3rd and the 10th. The weather in Bengal from the 2nd has been such as usually accompanies a strong north-east monsoon on the Madras coast. Pressure has been steadily above the average; the mean daily temperature from 2° to 5° below the normal; the minimum night temperature unusually low; the air drier than usual; and the north-westerly winds very steady.

Pressure was slightly above the average at the end of the previous week, on Friday, the 31st October. A very rapid fall occurred during the next 24 hours, which was largest in amount at Calcutta (15") and Saugor Island (14"), and diminished northwards, westwards, and eastwards. A slight depression was hence in existence at the head of the Bay, indicating some disturbance. A small cyclonic storm or eddy passed northwards along the Chittagong coast and across the mouth of the Megna during the day. It commenced to fill up during the night, and completely disappeared on Sunday morning, when the barometer was rising rapidly. Pressure was considerably above the average on the 3rd by amounts ranging from .03" to .08". During the remainder of the week it oscillated within narrow limits, and the changes were of no importance. The mean pressure of the week was approximately normal in Orissa, East Bengal, South-West Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur. It was excessive in Behar, more especially in Central Behar, as represented by Durbhunga and Patna.

Temperature.—The disturbance at the commencement of the week brought up moist winds into the Province, which increased the humidity, produced more or less cloud in Bengal, and, as a further consequence, increased temperature, except in the area of heavy rainfall. Hence temperature was slightly above the normal in Orissa and South-West Bengal on the 2nd and 3rd. Normal cold-weather conditions and dry cool winds were established generally over the Province again on the 3rd or 4th, and temperature was considerably below the normal in all divisions after the 3rd. This was chiefly due to the abnormally low night temperatures. The following table giving the minimum night temperature on the first and last day of the week at nine stations illustrates the reduction that has occurred during the week:—

		Minimum temperature registered on Satur- day morning, 1st November.	Minimum temperature registered on Friday morning, 7th Novem- ber.	Decrease during week.
Calcutta	...	73.7	62.2	11.5
Berhampore	...	72.1	62.2	9.9
Chittagong	...	71.0	66.0	5.0
Serajgunge	...	72.2	61.8	10.4
Motihari	...	60.3	54.4	5.9
Buxar	...	67.3	55.9	11.4
Gya	...	67.3	54.2	13.1
Bankipore	...	67.2	59.8	7.4
Nya Doomka	...	67.9	59.5	8.4

The night temperature has hence diminished from 10° to 18° during the past fortnight over the whole of the interior of the Province.

The mean temperature of the week was 4° less than the normal mean at the East Bengal stations, 2° to 3° less in Behar and Chutia Nagpore, and 1° to 2° in Orissa and South-West Bengal.

Rainfall.—The only rainfall of the past week occurred in connection with the disturbance of the 1st. Rain was received over the whole of East Bengal, the Jessore and Khoolna districts of South-West Bengal, and the Pubna and Bogra districts of North Bengal. The amount received was unusually large in the Noakholly, Backergunge, Commillah and Chittagong districts, and moderate or small in the remainder of the area of disturbance. The following table gives the rainfalls registered at 6 P.M. of the 1st, exceeding two inches:—

District.	Station.	Rainfall in inches.
Noakholly	Noakholly 8 90
	Fenny 6 50
	Patuakhally 6 00
Backergunge	Barrisaul 3 71
	Bhola 3 06
Chittagong	Cox's Bazar 2 46
	Rangamati 2 16

A few light showers fell on the 2nd, but they were of no importance. The average rainfall of the week is very small, except in the coast districts of Orissa and East Bengal. It is less than a tenth of an inch generally in Behar, and than a quarter of an inch over the greater part of North and South-West Behar and the northern districts of East Bengal. It varies between half an inch and an inch and a half over Orissa and the coast districts of East Bengal. The rainfall of the week was eight times its normal amount in Noakholly, six times in Backergunge, four times in Commillah and Chittagong. It was in excess by small or moderate amounts in Mymensingh, Dacca, and Furreedpore. It was slightly in defect in Jessore and Bogra and Pubna. No rainfall in any other district of the Province.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 7th November 1884:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0.8 lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community taken in February 1881 was not reliable, owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

General Remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during five weeks ended 27th September 1884.

INCREASES.

Piece-goods.—This increase is due to a better demand on account of the Doorga Poojah Holidays.

Government Stores.—Large despatches of gunpowder and other stores to the Punjab account for this increase.

DECREASES.

Coal, up.—This decrease is attributable to fluctuating demand on foreign railways.

Railway Material, Foreign.—The heavy falling off in this material was owing to the despatches for State and other railways under construction having been less than during the corresponding period last year.

Seeds.—Small stocks, and buyers holding out for lower rates, caused a less active market than last year.

Rice.—This decrease is accounted for by the old crop having been deficient and the new crop riot in the market.

Cotton.—This is assignable to a drop in the prices at Liverpool, which caused dulness in the Indian markets.

Sugar.—Partial failure of last year's crop accounts for the falling off in this staple.

Wheat.—An exceedingly dull market, and almost total absence of demand for export, account for the decrease in wheat traffic.

Gunny.—This is due to the stagnation in the wheat traffic.

Ghee.—Due to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

Tobacco.—Want of demand in Punjab and Rajputana caused the decrease in this staple.

A. P. MACDONNELL,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

[First Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 17th November 1884.—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 10 of the Land Improvement Loans Act, No. XIX of 1883, the Lieutenant-Governor, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to make the following rules for the working of the Act:—

1. Loans under these rules will be made from such sums as the local Government may from time to time allot to the Board of Revenue.

2. Commissioners will submit, by the 15th October of each year, an estimate of the requirements for loans under the Act for each of the districts of their divisions for the ensuing financial year; and when orders thereon are received from Government and an allotment is made, the Board will distribute as funds are available. It will be in the power of Commissioners to divide the sum so allotted among the districts of their divisions at their discretion, and to transfer assignments from one district to another, but expenditure in the division must be kept within the amount assigned.

3. In these rules Collector has the meaning defined for it by the Act.

4. Subject to the provisions of these rules, the Collector may sanction loans not exceeding Rs. 1,000 for purposes specified in the Act, provided the district allotment must not be exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the division. Loans exceeding Rs. 1,000 require the sanction of the Commissioner, and exceeding Rs. 5,000 the sanction of the Board. In such cases the Commissioner or the Board may call for such detailed plans and estimates, or for such professional opinion on the project, as may seem necessary.

5. Applications for loans may be presented to any revenue officer, of or above the rank of a Canooongoe or Sub-Deputy Collector, for transmission to the Collector.

6. The application shall be made in writing as nearly as possible in the annexed Form A.

7. The Collector shall either make a local enquiry himself, or cause one to be made by a revenue officer not below the rank of a Canooongoe or Sub-Deputy Collector, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of form A.

8. (a) When the applicant's interest in the land to be improved is sufficient to cover the loan, no collateral security need be required. (b) When the sureties are a body of village residents who bind themselves jointly and severally as provided in section 9 of the Act, their personal surety shall be sufficient. (c) In all cases not covered by clause (a) or clause (b) of this rule, immoveable property shall be hypothecated by the applicant as collateral security.

9. Repayment shall be by half-yearly instalments. The date of the first instalment shall not exceed two years from the date of the loan, and shall, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, be fixed with reference to the time when the improvement will begin to yield a return.

10. The date of the last instalment shall not ordinarily exceed ten years from the date of the loan, the amount of the instalments being fixed, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement. With the sanction of the Board of Revenue, the time for repayment may in special cases be extended to 20 years.

11. If the proposed improvements fall within the provisions of section 11, clause (2) of the Act, and the security offered is good and sufficient, the Collector may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if empowered to do so. Otherwise he shall forward the application with his report to his superior officer for disposal.

12. If the loan be sanctioned, the applicant shall be required to sign a certificate in the annexed Form B, and, when his interest in the land to be improved is not sufficient to cover the loan, to execute, together with his sureties, if any, a bond in the annexed Form C or Form D as the case may be.

13. A copy of the certificate shall be given to the applicant, and payment of the loan shall be made at the district or sub-divisional treasury on its presentation.

14. (i) The rate of interest shall be one anna in the rupee, or $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum.

(b) But the local Government may for special reasons, and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest or without interest.

(c) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest, is not paid when it falls due, the Collector may, if he thinks fit, charge interest on it at any rate not exceeding $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment.

15. The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the table in annexed Form E, which shows the amount of equal half-yearly payments necessary to re-pay a loan advanced with interest at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

16. The dates for payment of instalments shall usually be the dates fixed for payment of the land revenue.

17. Instalments may be suspended by order and at the discretion of the Collector on proof of failure of crops or other exceptional calamity. The Collector shall report the suspension through the Commissioner to the Board of Revenue, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

18. The Collector shall make provision for the inspection from time to time of works undertaken under the Act. In all cases the work shall be inspected within one month after the expiration of the time within which completion was directed in the certificate.

19. If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior revenue authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

20. When any portion of a loan made under these rules is found to be irrecoverable, a special report shall be made to the Board of Revenue.

VI.—Every pilot shall on arrival report to the Port Officer the number of pilots on the station, and also any alterations he may have observed in the river on his way up.

X.—If after a pilot joins a vessel he finds that she is of larger draught than she was reported to be, or that she takes in any cargo that alters her draught, he will at once report the matter to the Port Officer and await orders.

XIV.—Until further orders, pilots shall be guided by the following rules as to the draughts of vessels to be moved either up or down, in or out:—

XV.—No pilot on his way up or down the river, and not employed on any special duty, shall pass a vessel having a pilot signal flying without boarding her and ascertaining why she is without a pilot, and if required shall take charge of her, and take her on her way and stop by her until she can be left in safety.

XVI.—Masters are requested to report when there appears to have been any unnecessary delay in getting the pilot on board.

XVII.—If a vessel loses an anchor or anchors, the pilot shall immediately submit a report to the Port Office. STATE AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 18th November 1884.

RESOLUTION.

READ again—

Circular letter to Commissioners of Divisions, No. 16T—R, dated 7th October 1884, calling for detailed reports on the harvest prospects, and on the state of the water and fodder-supply in the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

Read—

The Reports submitted in reply by the Commissioners of the Patna, Bhagulpore, Chota Nagpur, Orissa, Presidency, Burdwan, Rajshahye, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions. The rainfall statistics for each district of the Lower Provinces of Bengal for the six months ending 31st October 1884.

The south-west monsoon of the year 1883 was feeble in Bengal and gave deficient rainfall over a large part of the province. It terminated much earlier than usual in the last week of September. There was a remarkable atmospheric disturbance in the first week of December 1883, which gave general rain to the greater part of the province, but with this exception the last cold-weather rains were unusually light. The first six or seven weeks of the following hot weather were hence excessively dry, the temperature increasing with great rapidity and culminating in a period of extreme heat and dryness during the second and third weeks of April last. Higher temperatures and lower ranges of humidity were registered at the Behar stations at that time than have been observed for many years in April. The intense heat in the interior gave rise to strong sea winds, which produced much atmospheric disturbance during the early part of last May, and, in consequence, frequent local storms of abnormal severity in every part of these provinces, except South Behar and Chota Nagpur, where dry westerly winds prevailed. About the 10th May dry hot weather again set in.

The general influence of the heated interior regions of India now began to draw the south-east winds across the equator, and thus to generate the south-west monsoon at the entrance to the Bay of Bengal. Squally weather with strong south-west winds and heavy rain followed, which culminated in a small but intense cyclonic disturbance which struck the Arracan coast at Akyab. A short lull followed this brief rush of wind and rain, when another outburst of less intensity, but greater diffusion, permanently established the south-west monsoon over the Bay. The monsoon reached the Bengal coast on the 31st of May, and by the first week of June had extended over the whole province. The rainfall of May was above the average over nearly the whole of North and East Bengal, and the greater part of South Bengal, excessive local falls occurring in Cooch Behar, Julpigori, Mymensingh, and South Chittagong. It was deficient over the remainder of the province, more especially in Orissa and the Darjeeling Hills.

The subsequent distribution of the monsoon rainfall was largely due to the peculiar atmospheric conditions which obtained at the commencement and during the greater part of the rains. Barometric pressure was relatively high in East Bengal, and perhaps North Bengal. It was, on the other hand, lowest, relatively to the normal distribution, in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. These peculiar conditions helped to draw the main body of the monsoon current into the south-western districts of the province, and hence to give abnormally light monsoon rains over the area of excessive pressure and its neighbourhood, including East and North Bengal and North and Central Behar.

The monsoon current at its first establishment over the province was feeble; and the transition from the showery weather of the month of May to the rains of June was therefore much less marked than usual. Light to moderate rain fell during the first week of June, and fairly abundant rain during the second week. A partial break in the rains then ensued, to be followed by a storm at the head of the Bay in the third week of the month, and by several days' general rain. The rainfall of June was very irregularly distributed; Orissa and the adjacent districts of South-West Bengal receiving too much, while the fall was below the average over the remainder of the province. The deficiency, however, was small, except in Beerbhoom, Bankoora, Shahabad, and Chota Nagpur.

In July a series of five small storms, which formed in rapid succession near the head of the Bay, gave heavy rain to the Orissa and Chota Nagpur districts over which they passed, and drew away the rain-giving winds from East and North Bengal and Behar. The rainfall of July was accordingly in excess over the greater part of Orissa and Chota Nagpur, Midnapore, and the coast districts of South and East Bengal. It was also locally in excess in Purneah and Cooch Behar, but elsewhere in defect, the deficiency being greatest in Central Behar, Bengal, Mymensingh, and Dacca.

The early part of the month of August was marked by a break in the rains in North Bengal and Behar, followed by a more prolonged cessation in North Bengal, Behar and Chota Nagpur. The rainfall of the month was below the normal everywhere, with the exception of one or two isolated areas where it was excessive. The deficiency was proportionately largest over Central and North Behar, Central and North Bengal, and the northern districts of East Bengal, and exceeded 50 per cent. in Bogra, Dinagepore, Nuddea, and Rajshahye.

In spite of a prolonged break, the rainfall of September was above the average over the north-western and southern districts of Behar, Chota Nagpur, the southern and central districts of South-West Bengal, and the coast districts of East Bengal. Elsewhere it was in defect, the deficiency being greatest in Mymensingh, and in the Rajshahye and Bhagulpore Divisions.

The rainfall in October was of a very unusual nature and extremely favourable, considering the previous character of the monsoon. Early in the month a depression formed in Behar, due apparently to the combined action of the Bombay and Bengal branches of the monsoon current. This gave general rain over the whole of Behar and the greater portion of Bengal, the rain being heaviest over the area most in want of it, including the north-eastern districts of North Behar and the northern and central districts of North Bengal. This rain was followed by clear dry weather with northerly winds, but after a short interval heavy rain, with north-east winds, continued for some days. This ceased on the 20th, but immediately a small depression formed off the north-west coast of the Bay, which, advancing into South-West Bengal, gave general rain, uniformly distributed, over the whole province. The usual cold-weather winds then began, and the south-west monsoon ended. Thus the south-west monsoon of 1884 was of unusual character. It was, as a rain-giving current, moderately strong in June and the earlier part of July, excessively weak in August, somewhat stronger in September, and above average strength in October. One of the more important features of a weak monsoon is the abnormal irregularity of the distribution of the rainfall. A reference to the tables printed as an appendix to this Resolution will show that this feature was very strongly marked, and that even in the same district the rainfall varied within wide limits, so that one station received ample supplies, whilst an adjacent one suffered from drought.

The foregoing paragraphs give a general sketch of the meteorological conditions which prevailed throughout Bengal during the last year. It remains to indicate how these varied in the several divisions, and how the variations affected the outturn of the crops. The result will afford a further confirmation of the close dependence of the harvest outturn of these provinces on the propitious distribution of the rainfall, rather than (within necessary limits) on its actual quantity. It will also supply a proof of the great advantages to Government of a competent Meteorological Department, both as indicating harvest prospects, and as affording an invaluable check on the correctness of local estimates of crop produce or crop failure.

To begin with Orissa, there was in that Division very light rain in May and August, but quantities above the normal fell in June and September. On the whole the rainfall for the season varied but slightly from the average, and was in excess in the Balasore district. The meteorological conditions were therefore favourable to agricultural operations, and accordingly the Commissioner considers that there is "no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder-supply in any of the districts of the division." In Balasore, indeed, the abundant rainfall enables the Collector, Mr. Grant, to report that in his district the "prospects of the harvest are unusually bright."

Again in South-West and Central Bengal, that is to say, in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, fairly abundant rain fell in May and June, although there was much local variation. The rainfall of July and August was considerably below the average, but the deficiency was in some measure made good in the southern and eastern districts by ample rain in September, and moderate rain in October. The rainfall of the whole season was from 19 to 25 per cent. below the normal in Burdwan, Nuddea, Moorshedabad, and portions of Beerbhoom. The crop results suggested by the meteorological observations coincide, on the whole, with the information regarding the harvests reported by the local officers. Beginning with the Presidency Division, it may on the whole be said with the Commissioner that "there is no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder-supply in any of the districts in this division." It must, however, be added that, although in the division as a whole things are not such as to suggest any apprehension of scarcity, the outturn in Nuddea and Moorshedabad is likely to be deficient. In the Kaligunge thana, and in a portion of the Meherpore sub-division of the former district, there has been a considerable failure of crop, and some deficiency of water-supply is also anticipated. There is indeed, according to the Commissioner, no cause for immediate alarm, and as in regard to the other portions of the district no special anxiety is felt, it will be only necessary to direct attention to a limited area. In regard to this area, further enquiries are now being instituted. As in Nuddea, so also in Moorshedabad only a limited area is affected to such an extent as to create anxiety. Although the crops are reported to be short in different proportions all over the district, there has been nowhere complete failure. Importation of food is going on briskly in several places, and although in the spring, or perhaps earlier, it may be necessary to provide employment for certain classes, the reports do not indicate that pressure, if it supervenes, will be greater than can be met by a moderate expenditure on public works. In regard to the tracts affected in both districts, a further report is to be submitted by the Commissioner after visiting the spot and considering local requirements. Finally, the Commissioner reports that the crops are satisfactory in Khulna, the 24-Pergunnahs and Jessore.

Looking to the Burdwan Division, it is apparent that there is no cause for anxiety in the Hooghly, Howrah, Bankura, and Midnapore districts. In the Beerbhoom district the outturn of the autumn rice averages 6 annas in the Sudder and 5 annas in the Rampore Hat sub-division, while the far more important amun or winter crop gives promise of an average of 7 annas in the former and 5 annas in the latter area. No misgivings are felt regarding fodder, and the water-supply is only threatened in isolated localities. Trade is brisk, and stocks in hand are reported to be still considerable. On the whole, the Commissioner thinks it improbable that general measures of relief will be required in Beerbhoom, though perhaps here and there some trifling assistance may be necessary beyond that already afforded. It is evident, however, that the district will require attention. Portions of it promise an average harvest, while in other parts a serious failure of crop is to be apprehended. It is indeed probable that, taken as a whole, the produce of the district will suffice for its wants, while means of remunerative employment will be afforded to the able-bodied portion of the population by the recently commenced works on the Bengal-Nagpur Railway. Still watchfulness is necessary, having regard to the recent pressure, though on the whole the district seems likely to tide over its difficulty.

In the Culna sub-division of the Burdwan district, the Montessor thana will have a deficient crop outturn, and some doubt is also expressed as to the sufficiency of the water supply. From the Cutwa sub-division the information is not precise, but, so far as can be judged, no assistance will probably be necessary. A further report on this point will, however, be submitted. In the Kanksa thana of the Raneegunge sub-division, where little or no aus is grown, the winter crop is reported to have suffered severely; and much the same state of things is said to prevail in the Bood-Bood, Ausgram, and Sahibgunge thanas of the Sudder sub-division. All these localities, however, are within easy reach of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway works, where ample employment can be found for all labourers, and things may turn out better than is now anticipated. On the whole, then, it may be said with regard to Central and South-Western Bengal that no anxiety need be felt except in respect of isolated tracts in the Nuddea, Burdwan, and possibly also in the Beerbhoom districts.

Passing to East Bengal, including the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, we have seen from the meteorological returns that this part of the country received abundant rain in May and June, while the supplies of July and August were considerably below the average. The rainfall of September and October was irregularly distributed, but was generally in excess. In September the Mymensingh district received unusually small amounts, only 28 per cent. of the average of the month. Taking the division as a whole, the deficiency for the season exceeded 20 per cent. in the Mymensingh district only, for which it was 30 per cent., this being the only district in which the rainfall was seriously deficient. The local reports as to the crops entirely bear out what might have been inferred from the rainfall distribution. In the whole of the Chittagong Division the outturn of both rice harvests promises to be fully up to the average. In Backergunge the prospects of the year are even better than usual, and a largely increased export of rice from that district is anticipated. Similar accounts are given from Furreedpore. In Dacca there has been a fair crop, failure being apparent only on the high lands, while such pressure as may be experienced in the north of the district bordering on Mymensingh will be amply met by employment on the works of the Dacca-Mymensingh Railway. In Mymensingh itself, where the rainfall has been least propitious, the only part of the district where prospects are indifferent is the Attia sub-division; and even in Attia it is stated that "there is no cause for anxiety."

In North Bengal, heavy rain in May was followed by a deficiency, increasing steadily from 16 per cent. in June to 64 per cent. in September. Abundant rain fell in all districts, except Bogra and Rajshahye, in October; but the results of the season show that the deficiency of rain was greatest in Rungpore, Bogra, and Dinagepore.

In the case of this division the reports of the local officers show that the deficient rainfall has been followed by a more or less marked failure of crop, showing itself in numerous isolated localities rather than in continuous tracts. In the Rajshahye district, taken as a whole, the crop will be short, and, although it may very probably be that the people in many parts of the district will be pinched, the opinion of the Collector, that there is no cause to fear a general scarcity over the whole district, may be accepted as correct. The circumstances as disclosed at present support the Commissioner's view that, if any assistance is required in the shape of relief works, it will only be required in isolated places, and probably not much, if at all, in excess of what the Road Cess Funds can provide. In Dinagepore there will be no want of food, water, or fodder, and if any pressure be experienced in the south and south-west of the district where crops have suffered most, it will not be greater than ordinary employment on the district roads will suffice to meet. In Rungpore and Pubna prospects are such as to call for no special measures of any kind, while the condition of Julpigori and Darjeeling is satisfactory. In regard to Bogra, the remaining district of the division, the tract east of the Karatoya river is reported to be safe, while in the area west of that river the aus was either an average or a bumper crop, the promise of the amun being something under half of an ordinary crop. Throughout the division the spring crops are reported to promise well. On these facts the Commissioner expects that Government will find it necessary to supplement the ordinary road cess expenditure by grants for other relief works. The experience of last year in this tract shows that the people are far better able to support pressure from crop failure than had then been supposed. No doubt their capacity to withstand the effects of crop failure is less after two indifferent harvests than after one; still, on the facts now disclosed, the Lieutenant-Governor is not disposed to embark, without further evidence as to necessity, on such undertakings for relief purposes as were begun last year, only to show that the alleged necessity for them did not exist. The tract is one which should certainly receive the attention of the local officers, the condition of the people being described from time to time in the periodical reports prescribed at the close of this Resolution.

In Behar the rainfall throughout the season up to October was unusually deficient in every district except Chumparun, where the rain of September was excessive. The deficiency was most serious in Purneah and North Bhagulpore, which received only 33 per cent. of their normal amount, and in Monghyr and South Bhagulpore, which obtained only 50 per cent. In October matters improved, and the whole of Behar, except Chumparun and Sarun, received abundant rain, Purneah and the Sonthal Pergunnahs being specially favoured in this respect. The total rainfall of the season was deficient by amounts varying from 20 per cent. in Sarun, Shahabad, Gya, Patna, Monghyr, Bhagulpore, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, to 72 per cent. in Gya and the Sonthal Pergunnahs.

For the Patna Division the agricultural results may be summed up in the statement, that the four districts of Chumparun, Sarun, Mozufferpore, and Shahabad are declared to be safe, while the remaining three districts of Durbhunga, Patna, and Gya are also free from danger, except the Sudder and Nowada sub-division in Gya, the Behar sub-division of Patna, and the Sudder sub-division of the Durbhunga district. The fact that the portion of the Monghyr district which borders on Durbhunga is reported to be well off should lead to more careful enquiry as to the condition of the tracts about Roserah, which are now stated to exhibit indications of future scarcity. In the Bhagulpore Division no scarcity is apprehended in Monghyr and Purneah. In portions of Bhagulpore and the Sonthal Pergunnahs some pressure is anticipated, although, on the information now furnished, the Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to accept that conclusion. From Maldah the reports are less satisfactory, but as the information regarding the condition of the people and the state of the crops in Maldah has already on more than one occasion been found on examination to be inaccurate, the Lieutenant-Governor will postpone forming a final opinion until the new Collector of the district has had time to enquire into the facts. Meanwhile, the Commissioner has already been instructed to give adequate relief wherever needed.

The rainfall of Chota Nagpur was intermediate in character between that of Behar and Orissa. It was in defect until September, when the division received copious rain. This state of things corresponds with the crop reports and estimates of the local officers, which show that the prospects of the season are unsatisfactory only in those parts of Chota Nagpur which border on areas of failure in the Patna and Burdwan Divisions. The report of the Commissioner that there is no present cause for anxiety as regards food, fodder, and water-supply in any district of his division, and the further fact that the prospects of the winter rice have been improved by the October rain, seem to place Chota Nagpur beyond the reach of anxiety.

To conclude, the only portions of these Provinces regarding which further enquiry or special measures of precaution or assistance seem to be called for during the coming year are the Sudder and Nowada sub-divisions of Gya, the Behar sub-division of Patna, the Sudder sub-division of Durbhunga, portions of the Burdwan, Nuddea, Moorshedabad, and possibly also of the Maldah, Beerbhoom and Bogra districts. Even here it is evident that the crop failure does not cover the whole of the areas indicated. Further and more minute enquiries will now be necessary in order to determine, in accordance with the principles laid down in the Provisional Famine Code, the villages likely to be actually affected by distress, the classes of people in each village likely to need relief, the best means of affording it, and the probable cost. Special attention should also be paid to stimulating private charity and enlisting the co-operation of local residents of influence and public spirit in meeting such distress as may be expected to occur. These enquiries have no doubt been already completed either wholly or partially, but the facts should now be reviewed in the light of the preceding remarks, and the result reported within one month from this date. Meanwhile, in anticipation of such reports, the Lieutenant-Governor relies on the energy and resource of local officers to meet with adequate measures of relief any sudden emergency, should such, contrary to expectation, arise; and to that end he will be prepared to consider applications for funds in addition to those already granted, or for increased establishments, which Commissioners may on sufficient grounds deem it necessary to make.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, BENGAL ;

The 7th November 1884.

JOHN ELIOT,

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt of Bengal.

No. 1209, dated Cuttack, the 3rd November 1884.

From—W. R. LARMINE, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Orissa Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

REFERRING to your circular No. 16T—R, dated 7th October 1884, I have the honour to report that there is no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder supply in any of the districts of this division. The Collector of Balasore, Mr. Grant, reports that the prospects of the harvest in his district are unusually bright.

No. 6M.A., dated Calcutta, the 3rd November 1884.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

IN accordance with the instructions contained in Government Circular No. 16T R, dated the 7th October 1884, I have the honour to submit the following report on the state and prospects of the crops, and the condition of the people, in each sub-division of each district in this division.

2. As far as I can gather from the reports received from the several Collectors, there is no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder-supply in any of the districts in this division. In Nuddea and Moorshedabad, however, the prospects of the crops are not very brilliant, and the outturn as estimated is not sufficient. The prospects of the crops in Bongong of the Jessore district are also not very favourable. I give below an abstract of the district reports, together with my opinion with regard to the condition of each district.

3. 24-Pergunnahs.—As regards the sudder sub-division, there is no reason to apprehend any want of food, fodder, or water in this tract. The late rice promise well. It wanted only a shower of rain at the end of October, and this fell exactly as it was required. This rain will, it is stated, prove highly beneficial to both paddy and vegetables, and a full crop is expected. The general health of the public has also been reported to be good.

4. The aus crop, which, however, forms not more than about a sixteenth part of the whole rice crop, appears to have been a 10-anna one.

5. As to the increased price of food grains ruling at the present moment, it is observed that the demand for labour is always pressing and wages are pretty high, so that the working classes do not, as a rule, much feel the present rise in the rates, and there is nothing to show any particular change for the worse in the condition of the lower classes of the people.

6. Besides rice, which of course forms the staple food crop, there is a fair cultivation of sugarcane, date, betel-leaves, and vegetables in a good many places of the sudder sub-division; as well as of jute and dhonchia silkworms are also reared, though to a small extent in the Bistupur and Auchipur police stations. The prospects of these are favourable.

7. The outturn of the amun crop last year was about a 10-anna one. It is not easy, Mr. Stevens says, to state with any degree of accuracy the stock in hand, but the supply in the local markets is up to demand, which circumstance is a sure indication of the sufficiency of the stock, and there seems to be no fear of the store running short within a few months to come.

8. The supply of fodder and of water, both for irrigation and drinking purposes, is as good as it usually is in most years.

9. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Diamond Harbour reports that the condition of his sub-division with regard to the supply of food, fodder, and water is quite normal, and he assures us that there is no cause of any anxiety in respect of his sub-division. There is no aus here.

10. Mr. Stevens observes that the Sub-Divisional Officer submitted his report before the last rainfall, and he estimated the yield of the late paddy at 12 annas. Since then there has been rain, which must materially improve its prospects, and a good harvest may be safely expected.

11. In the same way, the Deputy Collector of the Baraset sub-division reports that there is no cause of anxiety regarding food, fodder, or water-supply in his sub-division; that the last aus crop was a fair one; and that the amun now in the field is estimated by him to be an average one. There is, he states, ample water-supply, and the paddy in stock, including the last bhadoi crop, is quite sufficient to last five months.

12. The officer in charge of the Basirhat sub-division, in his report despatched before the last rain, informed the Collector that there was no cause of anxiety regarding the food, fodder, and water-supply in his sub-division, and that he expected a full paddy crop. He also expressed a belief that the stock in hand was more than sufficient for the demand of the people till the harvesting of the crop now in the field.

13. In both Baraset and Basirhat there is a fairly large area of jute and date trees.

14. The Cantonment Magistrates of Barrackpore and Dum-Dum have reported to the effect that their crops are good, and that there is no apprehension of scarcity. Their supplies, however, are chiefly imported.

15. Mr. Stevens has made the following general remarks :—

“ Speaking generally, I believe—(1) that the aus harvest, which is of little importance, except in the north of the district, has been nearly average, but perhaps slightly below it; (2) that the amun crop promises to be at least average; (3) that the weather has been very favourable for sowing rubbi crops, where such are grown; (4) that other miscellaneous crops are generally good ; (5) that, as regards water and fodder-supply, there is no reason to apprehend any deficiency."

16. " The public health is good."

17. As regards this district, there is no cause for anxiety. The prospects of the crops are very favourable, and we expect to have more than an average crop.

18. Nuddea.—In the sudder sub-division the aus was very poor: 4 annas in the Kaligunge police station; an 8-anna crop having been harvested in all the rest. At Kaligunge and Nakashipara, too, the amun crop has almost failed, only 1-anna crop being expected at the former and 2 annas at the latter; while within the Kotwali and Chapra jurisdictions 4 and 5 annas, respectively, are only expected. The prospects of the rubbi crop are reported as doubtful, but all agree that with rain they are likely to be good; and as rain fell during the end of October, the Collector has called for further report from all the thanas on this point.

19. Within the sub-division of Kushtea, the aus was bad at Kushtea, Bhaluka, Dowlutpur, Nawpara, and Damukdea, being 4 annas only. At the last-named place, however, a fair amun crop of 12 annas is expected, but at the rest it has been a failure, except at Khoksa, where a small harvest of 6 annas may be looked for. This crop was destroyed partially by temporary overflow of the large rivers and by insects. The rubbi, on the whole, with timely rain, is estimated at 12 annas.

20. In Chooadanga the average outturn of aus was 6 annas; at Jibanagur it was 8 annas; and Kalupole, 4 annas; while at the remaining thanas it was only 6 annas. At Damurhuda, the amun is estimated at 8 annas, at Kalupole 3 annas, at Chooadanga 2 annas, at Alumdanga 2 annas, and only 1 at the rest. The Sub-Divisional Officer has, however, reported that with rain this crop will improve. The rubbi crop is estimated at 10 to 12 annas.

21. In Ranaghat itself the aus was the worst, being 6 annas only. It was 8 annas in Santipur and 10 annas in Chagda and Haringhatta. In Ranaghat and Santipur the outturn of amun is estimated at 4 annas only. There are no other staple food-grains in the latter, but in the former a full harvest of rubbi is expected, and 3 annas of teel. In Chagda what the expected outturn in amun is has not been mentioned. It is only stated that the prospects are not good in high lands. A further report has been called for from the Sub-Divisional Officer. The rubbi crop is expected, in the event of there being rain, to be 10 annas. In Haringhatta the amun is expected to be 14 annas, and the rubbi is spoken of as not bad.

22. As regards the Meherpur sub-division, the Sub-Divisional Officer, having visited the whole sub-division, has sent in a special report under the Collector's orders, issued previous to the circular from Government, and I submit herewith a copy of this report for your perusal. It will be observed that the Sub-Divisional Officer has divided his jurisdiction into two circles, viz., outer and inner, and has not, like other officers, given the outturn thana by thana. In the outer circle the outturn of aus was 10 to 12 annas, and the prospects of amun are exceedingly bad, the greater portion having been scorched. The state of the amun, however, is a matter of indifference, since, in the Kalantur beel, a bumper crop is expected, which will, after December, not only bring enormous quantities of food into the market, but will afford labour to thousands of the people. The cold weather crops, too, are described as magnificent.

23. In the inner circle, however, the aus was 4 annas and amun nil. The cold weather crops, however, are all good at present, but will require rain to mature them.

24. In the sudder sub-division indigo and jute are extensively cultivated. Hemp is also to be seen here and there, and sugarcane is grown in almost all the thanas. In Kushtea, Chooadanga, and Ranaghat jute, indigo and sugarcane, and in the latter sub-division tobacco, form the chief non-food staples. All these are doing fairly well, and form a considerable factor in the capacity of the people to withstand pressure from crop failure, especially in those parts where food-grains are even in good years imported.

25. Taking into consideration the harvests of last year, which were bad, the prices now current, and the poorness of the last bhadoi crop, the several Sub-Divisional Officers, excepting Kushtea, after making such enquiries as were desirable, are of opinion that the stocks in hand will suffice for the next four months at least. The Kushtea Sub-Divisional Officer estimates only a two months' supply; but seeing that the crops of last year were better in that sub-division than elsewhere, the estimate, the Collector considers, is too low. Mr Beames of Meherpore estimates the supply within the inner circle to be decidedly low, but does not state how long it will last. The trade in paddy is fairly active throughout the district, and may have some effect in preventing the mahajans from withholding their stores. As a rule, paddy is imported into, and not exported from, this district, and hence the above estimates are not so low as at first appears. If, however, the prices in neighbouring districts, from which exportations are generally received, range high, it will add to the pressure likely to be experienced.

26. There is not expected to be any considerable variation in the supply of fodder, at any rate for some months.

27. As regards the water-supply, there is always in this district a great deficiency in those parts which are remote from the rivers, but this deficiency is not likely to be this year greater than it was last. Indeed, on the whole, the supply will probably be somewhat better.

28. Mr. Tayler makes the following general remarks:—

“Taking the district as a whole, there is a likelihood of some pressure here and there in each sub-division, but notably in Kaligunge thana within the sudder and within the inner circle at Meherpore. In these places especially prices are likely to be high, and this will fall chiefly on the very poor and labouring classes. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Meherpore has asked for special grants for road works within the inner area. But with this exception, none of the other officers have proposed to carry on any special work.

“I am, however, of opinion that a special grant might be made to the Road Cess Committee for construction of roads or tanks in those parts where pressure is most felt; and if the earthwork for the Central Bengal Railway, which is to run through the district, was again undertaken, much benefit would accrue to the labouring classes in Ranaghat, Santipore, Nakashipara, and Kaligunge.”

29. The prospects of the crops in this district are far from being good. They are especially bad in the Kaligunge thana of the sudder sub-division and in the inner circle of the Meherpore sub-division. In these places it may perhaps be necessary to open some relief works, but I do not wish to make any definite proposal till I have visited the said places, which I intend to do immediately. I am not inclined to believe that there is any cause for immediate alarm. The water-supply in the inner circle is reported by the Sub-Divisional Officer to be very deficient, and it may be necessary to do something in that direction. As to the other parts of the district, I do not think there is much cause for anxiety. There is every year a large import in Nuddea. I do not recollect any year of the five I was Magistrate-Collector of Jessore in which large importations were not made from the Jessore Sunderbuns. With the stock in hand, the amun and other food crops and importation the people will, I have no doubt, be able to tide over the present difficulty.

30. Jessore.—Mr. Barton states that, judging from the present, there is no fear of famine or scarcity of food in this district. The absence of rain from the 6th to 23rd October 1884 caused apprehension of some injury to the amun crop, especially that which is on high land; but the rain that fell on the 24th and 25th ultimo has removed it, and the amun has been greatly benefited by the rain. On a rough estimate the amun crop is expected to yield an outturn of 12 annas in this district. The price of rice has recently increased. It is selling at Rs. 3 to Rs. 3-12 a maund. This high price will probably continue till the amun crop is harvested, and its produce appears in the market in December next, when it is hoped the price will fall. As far as the Collector has been able to collect information regarding the stock of rice in this district, he considers that it is sufficient to meet the local consumption for three months.

31. It is premature to say anything now about the prospects of the rubbi or winter crops. The sowings of these crops have just commenced. The recent rains have benefited the cultivation of these crops. The prospects appear good.

32. There is no fear of any failure of the water or fodder-supply in this district. The rivers and tanks are full.

33. Mr. Barton adds that, as at present there is no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder in his district, it is therefore not necessary for him to submit any detailed report. He has, however, given succinct account separately for each sub-division of the state and prospect of crops, and which is abstracted below.

34. Sudder.—The sudder canoongo, who was sent out to make local enquiries, reports that he visited many fields and villages, as well as some of the principal markets. He reports that the last aus or bhadri crop yielded on an average 10 annas of the full crop, and estimates that the amun crop is expected to yield an outturn of 12 annas. The cultivation of the rubbi or winter crops has just commenced. The recent rains have done good to the sowings of these crops. Very few non-food staples grow in this sub-division. Jute and indigo grow here and there. The high prices that have recently ruled in the rice market are attributed to a smaller import and larger export than usual. The stock of rice in this sub-division is estimated to meet the local requirements for four months, provided the export is not carried on to any large extent. In case the export goes on largely, the stock will last only for two months. There is no fear of want of drinking water or fodder. No system of artificial irrigation prevails in this sub-division. Taking the outturn of the last aus crop and the prospect of the coming winter rice into account, there is no anxiety for food. But the high prices will cause pinching to many.

35. Jhenidah.—The Sub-Divisional Officer reports that there is no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder. The last aus crop yielded on an average an outturn of 8 annas in this sub-division. The Sub-Divisional Officer estimates that the amun crop will yield an outturn of 10 annas. He reports that the stock of food in his sub-division will meet the local demand for about four to six months. The price of rice has gone up considerably. Coarse rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee. The rice market is not expected to improve until the amun crop is harvested. The prospects of date-juice and sugarcane are reported favourable. The last jute crop yielded more than an average outturn.

36. Magura.—The Sub-Divisional Officer, who personally saw some parts of his sub-division, reports that the aus crop partially failed in some places, but it was a splendid one in others. Taking the whole into consideration, he estimates the aus to have yielded ----- while in the interior the Sub-Divisional Officer came to know that the people in the vicinity of Salkia station were borrowing paddy and money from the mahajans. The amun crop are reported to be good. Some injury is reported to have been done to this crop in some places by an insect called majra, but notwithstanding this the outturn is estimated at 10 to 12 annas. The ploughing for the rubbi crop is going on. Prospects fair. There is no anxiety for food, water, or fodder-supply in this sub-division. The stock of rice in hand is estimated to meet the requirements for two months. As regards non-food staples, the jute occupies a prominent place in this sub-division. It yielded an outturn of 12 annas last year.

37. Narail.—The Sub-Divisional Officer reports that there is no cause of anxiety for water and fodder. He is also of opinion that there will be no want of food. The stock of food is estimated to last for three months. The last aus crop yielded a 10-anna harvest. The amun is expected to yield an outturn of 12 annas. It is too early to speak of the prospects of the coming rubbi crops, the sowings of which have just commenced. Jute is grown to some extent in this sub-division, but the market being dull, the produce from it is inappreciable this year.

38. Bongong.—The aus or bhadoi crop yielded an outturn of 10 annas. The yield from amun is estimated by the Sub-Divisional Officer to be only 6 annas. He says that want of rain retarded the sowings of the amun, and adds that he himself saw fields of dhan scorched for want of rain. The only places where the amun has succeeded are the very low lands and beels. The prospects of the rubbi crops are not unfavourable. Jute is grown in this sub-division to a small extent, but this cannot help the people to any appreciable extent. The Sub-Divisional Officer believes that the mahajans have ample stocks of paddy in their hands, but they are waiting for high prices; hence there is not much activity in trade; and the result is the gradual increase of price. It is estimated that there is in this sub-division four months' supply of food. The Sub-Divisional Officer says that he does not take a desponding view, but entertains a hope that the people will manage to pull through until they reap the bhadoi crop. There is no scarcity of drinking water or of fodder in this sub-division.

39. Mr. Barton makes the following general remarks as regards his district :—

"The prospects of the amun crop are reported to be good from all sub-divisions, except Bongong, where the outturn is estimated to be 6 annas only. I think the rain that fell on the 24th and 25th October has improved the condition of the amun in Bongong.

"The season for date-juice, from which goor or molasses is prepared, has now come. This article is a source of income to the peasantry in this district, and it will help them to some extent."

40. In Jessore or in the 24-Pergunnahs there is no cause for anxiety. The year will probably be better than the past year as respects food, water, and fodder-supply.

41. Sudder.—Moorshedabad.—The last bhadoi was a good average crop in the low lands and on the dearahs, but a failure on the high lands, where the rice withered up and was not worth cutting. Taken together, it cannot be called more than a 4-anna crop.

42. The winter rice crop will be a bumper one in the Kalantur, that is, in about half the area planted out, and an almost entire failure elsewhere: a 6-anna crop is the most that can be expected.

43. The recent rise in the rivers will necessitate the re-sowing of the dearah lands, but this is almost compensated for by the increased fertility given by a fresh deposit of silt. The ground is moist, and rubbi prospects generally are very fair.

44. Indigo, mulberry, and jute are, if sugarcane be excluded, the principal non-food staples. Of these, the prospects of the first are good, though the October sowings are behind hand. Mulberry promises well, and with a clear sky the worms, now hatching out, will thrive. Jute is cut, and gave a very fair yield.

45. Last year's harvest were bhadoi 10 annas, amun 6, and rubbi 6.

46. Current prices at present are: fine rice 10 and common 13 seers the rupee, with a tendency to become easier as the roads are drying and supplies arrive from Beerbhoom.

47. With an increased outturn there has been a larger export of indigo, and the high prices have led to a brisk import of rice. These apart trade is bad, and the cloth market, a pretty good sign, is unusually sluggish.

48. With a second bad year stocks are known to be low, and, as far as can be judged, the supply in hand is not at the most sufficient for more than two months.

49. Fodder will be short, but not to any serious extent. As to employments, there is some dearth of it at present, and will be till the silk filatures reopen, about November 15th. The Collector has therefore provided road work wherever it was asked for, and he is told that it comes in very usefully. Irrigation is little resorted to, and though water must be husbanded, there will be enough.

50. Kandi.—Bhadoi is not grown in this sub-division, except on the extreme east, along the lands bordering the Bhagirathi, and the area thus occupied is so insignificant that the crop need not be taken into account.

51. On the occasion of his visit to Kandi at the beginning of October, the Collector made full enquiries as to the prospects of the winter rice in this the worst part of the district, and arrived at an estimate of 6½ annas. But heavy rain has since fallen, working a considerable change for the better. The outturn now cannot be less than 8 annas, and may be more for the area planted out. This, however, is taking the whole sub-division, only half of what would be under rice in an ordinary year, and so an 8 anna crop means in reality nothing more than a 4-anna one.

52. Rubbi prospects are generally stated to be fair, and of course they have been much improved by the rain which has fallen since the sub-divisional report was written.

But rubbi in the Rarh, the local name of the stiff clayey tract bordering on to Beerbhoom, is of but secondary importance.

53. Mulberry is the only non-food staple of any importance. It will be a good crop, but the decline of the silk industry operates most injuriously upon prices, and renders it of less assistance than it otherwise would be.

54. Amun is the only crop grown, and its yield last year is stated to have been 9 to 10 annas. Common rice sells at 13½ seers the rupee.

55. Trade is said to be stagnant: people having little money to spend and not being disposed to spend what they have. Rice is coming in from Beerbhoom in good quantities, but this of course means local scarcity, and is no subject for congratulation.

56. The Sub-Divisional Officer thinks there may be two months' supply in hand, and it is certain the mahajans have and are holding back grain. Still the estimate is a little too sanguine.

57. There is no water for irrigation. The people have allowed the large tanks, dug for this special purpose, to become choked up and have only the most premature means of raising water. Water for drinking purposes there will be, but before March it will in many places be bad and scarce. No difficulty as regards fodder is anticipated. Employment by next March will be wanted in Gokurn, Saktipur, and the greater part of Khurgram, and before that time the roadwork will be all finished.

58. Lalbag.—Bhadol yielded from 4 to 6 annas. It is not grown to any extent, except in thana Bhugwangola on the banks of the Pudma, and the area under it is at the most but one-fourth of the sub-division.

59. Here, as elsewhere, transplanting was much delayed owing to the long drought, and from 6 to 8 annas of the acreage has not been touched. Previous to the late rainfall the outturn was estimated at 5 to 6 annas, but now it may be safely estimated at 8 annas or a trifle more.

60. The late rise in the rivers destroyed a considerable breadth of recently sown kalai, but this notwithstanding rubbi prospects are decidedly good, though the season will be a late one.

61. Mulberry is a promising crop, but one not likely to be remunerative at present prices. The October sowings of indigo have been damaged by the rise in the river and the late heavy rain, whilst jute is grown only in small quantities for local consumption. This exhausts the list of non-food staples. Cocoon-growers are complaining of the low prices, which have fallen from 11 puns the rupee in 1882 to 32.

62. Bhadol last year gave 12 annas, amun 8 and rubbi 10.

63. Common rice sells at 13 seers the rupee, and wheat at 18. Wheat is cheaper throughout the district than it has been at any time during the last four years, and this is a fact to be borne in mind. In 1866 rice sold at 9 and wheat at 8 seers, but nature's liberality proved sufficient to cope with the crisis. In 1874 rice sold at 13 and wheat at 16, so that things were really somewhat worse than they are at present. Government gave three quarters of a lakh, which was spent on roads, laid out with a regard alone to the demand for labour, and the Committee now find that the repairs take up all their money.

64. There have been considerable arrivals of rice at Bhugwangola, the price, wholesale, being Rs. 2-8 the maund, or 16 seers the rupee, and the consignments, principally from Tipperah, are in excess of ordinary years. In other respects trade is slack, things not having improved since the extensive failures among the Kayas.

65. It is estimated that there is a supply in hand for two months.

66. On the right banks of the Bhagirathi things are much the same as in Kandi; that is, tanks dug for purposes of irrigation have been allowed to choke up, and there will not be too much water for drinking. To the east tanks have been filled up from the rivers wherever communication existed, or could be effected; where it was not practicable, well-sinking may have to be resorted to, as many tanks are likely to be dry by February. It is possible, too, that there may be a difficulty about fodder, but on this point it is almost too early to venture an opinion.

67. Jungipur.—Bhadol is grown only in the Bagri, i.e., that part of the sub-division lying east of the Ganges and comprising nearly half the culturable area. It was an almost complete failure on the high lands, but the low lands yielded well, and the outturn on the whole was from 6 to 8 annas.

68. The amun in this sub-division, nearly all of which is grown in the Rarh, presents an almost complete analogy, and the yield is likely to be a 6-anna one, or possibly something more, as the late rains will have an effect.

69. The rubbi promises well on all lands liable to inundation. There has been a good deposit of silt, and prospects as yet are decidedly favourable. Kalai, however, has been much damaged by floods, and this tends to keep up prices.

70. Mulberry here, as elsewhere, promises well, and jute was a fairly heavy crop. These non-food staples, however, are of only secondary importance.

71. The Sub-divisional Officer being new to his charge, no figures for last year's yield has been given, but those for Lalbag, the circumstances of which are very similar, may be safely taken.

72. Coarse rice sells at present from 13½ to 14 seers the rupee, with a downward

73. Nothing is said about trade, but the Collector believes that there is very little of it in this sub-division.

74. The Sub-divisional Officer, following the estimate of men who are experienced, thinks that there is a five months' stock in hand. The Collector doubts it very much, as it is not known why stocks should be so much larger in Jungipur than they are elsewhere, where two months have been taken. With rice coming in from Eastern Bengal, it is not at all likely that the mahajans would hold on for so long, and a five months' supply means a large capital locked up, even in a year of low prices.

75. Want of water is likely to be felt to some extent, and with a second year's deficient rainfall it cannot be reached at the usual depth. Employment is another want which is being met at present by road work, but will need some larger project. As to fodder, the large extent of ground that has lain fallow will provide grazing, more or less indifferent, in excess of ordinary years. To conclude, the western portion of this sub-division, parts of Suti and Mirzapur thanas, is the worst part of the district, and will need special measures, though it is doubtful if work can be found there.

76. The prospects of the amun crops in some parts of the district, especially in Kandi sub-division, are nearly as bad as in Nuddea, and it may be necessary to open relief works in some places. After I have visited Nuddea, I will visit this district, and submit a further report as to what relief works, if any, should be opened, and in what places. The water-supply in some places is also expected to be deficient, and something, however, may have to be done to supply the want. As regards fodder, I am not inclined to think that there will be much deficiency. The land lying fallow will afford grazing to the cattle. This was also feared last year, but nothing particular came of it. It is impossible now to foretell what showers may fall, and there is no good done in replenishing the tanks from time to time every year.

77. Khoolna.—The Collector states that there is no cause for anxiety in this district regarding food, water, or fodder. The district depends only very slightly on its aus crop. That was a fair one, and in parts very good. The amun is the chief crop that up to the present is good. The Collector, who submitted his report before the rains which fell in the end of October, stated that "if there should be more rain, it will be a bumper or 16-anna crop; if not, a 12-anna one." There are many other miscellaneous crops, such as date, sugar, betelnut, and cocoanut. These are all fair.

78. The prospects of the amun crop in this district are indeed very good, and there is no cause for anxiety here.

79. To sum up, it will be seen that crops are good in Khoolna and satisfactory in the 24-Pergunnahs and Jessore, and that anxiety is limited to parts of Nuddea and Moorshedabad. Watchfulness is needed there. The Collectors of those districts will be asked to give fortnightly reports, and I will visit the parts affected at once. The Collector of Moorshedabad will be also asked to give details of the work, which, though ordinary road cess work, he has already taken in hand for the purpose of assisting the people.

No. 266, dated Meherpur, the 22nd October 1884.

To—The Collector of Nuddea.

In reply to your memorandum No. 1525G, dated the 10th instant, endorsed in Commissioner's No. 16MA, dated 8th October, I have the honour to report as follows.

Without going into too minute details, which will be supplied separately with this, in answer to your No. 1515G, dated the 9th October, I am now in a position to report further, as directed by the Commissioner, after having visited every part of the sub-division and having made the minutest and most careful enquiries from every source at my disposal.

Such enquiries were necessitated owing to the conflicting statements of those on whom I chiefly depended for accurate information, viz., the numerous planters who reside in the sub-division. Thus, for instance, Mr. Gibson of Ramnagore, on the one hand, was inclined to be too sanguine as to the condition of things; whilst on the other Mr. Patrick Smith of Kathuli was inclined to take too gloomy a view of things. Then, again, Mr. Macdonald and his assistant, Mr. Macdonnel, differed in their views, though living so close together, and Mr. Macnaughten of Nischindpore is not himself quite satisfied as to the true state of things at present.

Under the circumstances, I had carefully to weigh the information I received, but am now satisfied that I could not arrive at more correct conclusions than those I now offer as the result of my deliberations.

During the Poojas over 6 inches of rain fell in this sub-division, and all over it, and the result is that a very great change has taken place in the prospects of the crops and the well-being of the people.

Before Poojas it was evident that, should the rain then cease, the amun dhan would be a complete failure, and that it would be nearly impossible to sow anything worthy the name of a cold-weather crop.

The Pooja rains have considerably altered that state of things.

The amun dhan has improved, the land has been rendered cultivable for cold-weather crops, and those crops, such as rahar, til, pepper, kalai, &c., which were in the ground at the time, give promise of a better outturn than has been seen for many years past. Again, the recently sown cold-weather crops have got a healthy and vigorous start, and with rain in December and January, or both, we may expect to have a bumper rubbi crop.

Even to-day the few drops which have fallen will do good, and a little more rain still threatens.

The position may be thus briefly summed up. Had there been no rain after the commencement of the Poojas, there would have been a famine: now the worst that can occur is a scarcity.

The present state of things is generally this. Allowing for rain falling in December or January, the people living on the borders of the sub-division will not suffer at all, but those living in the centre of the sub-division will feel considerable pressure for many reasons, and it would be decidedly advisable for Government to contribute a little relief in the shape of road-making, in order to assist those who in times of distress cannot well command employment.

I here append a rough sketch of the sub-division to assist in reference, and request that this letter may be read with the letter in reply to No. 1515G of the 9th October, in order to the complete understanding of the subject.

From this sketch map it will be seen the part most affected (marked with red ink) includes the sub-divisional head-quarters and Kathuli.

Outside this part, that is to say, in the greater part of the sub-division, the state of things is generally this.

The aus crop was 10 to 12 annas in the south, and 8 to 10 annas in the north, the whole area usually cultivated being also this year cultivated.

The amun crop has been a distinct failure, little having been sown, and that in no place showing an outturn of more than 6 annas: the proportion of crop sown this year against that sown in ordinary years being 2 to 3 annas.

The rubbi crop promises to be a bumper one, but the result of all this is that during the next two months of November and December a little pressure will be felt, which may be completely tided over with a modicum of help from Government.

As regards the distressed part within the red lines, the case is far otherwise.

Here the aus crop was only 4 annas, and the amun amounts to about 2 annas, and barely that out of one-twentieth of the amount usually sown.

Here then there will be during the months of November and December need for more help than elsewhere.

I have before said that no such thing as famine is likely, but in the distressed part all agree with me in thinking that during November and December the pressure will be most surely felt by the poorer and more helpless of the labouring classes, and I would suggest that Government should give assistance in the following manner. To Mr. Patrick Smith of Kathuli, an old and highly respected resident of the sub-division, a sum of Rs. 1,000 to be laid out in road-making, as may seem advisable to him, on the Government road from Meherpur to Karimpore thana. To Mr. Macdonald of Shikerpore Rs. 500, to be laid out as may appear to him advisable on the repairs of the road from Gopalpore to Mamdagree (a Government road from Meherpur to Moorsshedabad district).

This would relieve all the heaviest distress, and at the rate of 6 pice a day (the present rate of wage), Rs. 500 would give relief to 300 people a day for two months.

In the outer circle there is an abundance of water-supply from the rivers Jellinghee and Matabhanga, but in the inner circle there will probably be great distress from failure of water-supply, owing, it is said, to the neglect to give effect to Mr. Patrick Smith's proposal last year to cut the bund at the mouth of the Kajla river and let the water in from the Matabhanga.

I am not aware how this is to be met, and I fear that many deaths will occur, the indirect result of a deficient water-supply. The fact is that the water-supply in the centre of the sub-division has been getting more and more scarce during the last three years owing to the neglect to open the mouths of the Kajla and the Bhyrub, and these two works might well be taken in hand as relief works, and in order to give a good supply of water in the forthcoming year.

The Bhyrub might be opened up by cutting half a mile of silted bed of river between it and the Kharia (Jellinghee) at Karimpore, and the Kajla might be opened up by cutting a similar distance between it and the Matabhanga.

Should the Commissioner approve of these as relief works, I could procure rough estimates and submit when called on.

I consider that I should now be placed in a position to grant Messrs. Macdonald and Smith sums of Rs. 500 and Rs. 1,000 respectively at any moment I may be called on to do so by them, they of course submitting accounts in due course showing the application of the funds they may be entrusted with.

To this last I beg the favour of an immediate reply, after consulting the Commissioner.

For further information I must refer you to the accompanying letter in reply to circular No. 1515G. of the 9th October.

No. 94, dated Chinsurah, the 11th November 1884.

From—JOHN BEAMES, Esq., Commissioner of the Burdwan Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

In reply to your circular No. 16T—R, dated 7th October, I have the honour to report on the state and prospect of crops and condition of the people in the districts of this division.

2 In the Hooghly, Howrah, Bankoorah, and Midnapore districts there is no cause for anxiety.

3 Beerbhoom.—Sudder sub division. Aus or early rice crop (probably what is meant by the term bhadr in your letter) averaged 6 annas, extremes being 10 annas in the west and 3 annas in the east. The aus crop is in all parts of Bengal Proper insignificant, being grown only on selected spots and in small quantities.

4. The amun or winter crop, the main harvest of the year, gives promise of an average of 7 annas, extremes ranging from 12 annas to 3 annas.

5. Rampore Hat Sub-division.—Aus, average 5 annas; amun probably 5 annas.

6. Throughout the district there is extremely little rubbi cultivation; there may perhaps be a little more this year in consequence of the partial failure of the rice crop. So far, however, nothing has been done in this direction. There are no non-food staples in this district.

Last year's rice harvest was below the average, being about 9 annas in the Sudder and 7 annas in Rampore Hat.

Prices have of course risen; but the present rate does not look very alarming, being 14 pukka seers to the rupee as against 22 seers at the corresponding period last year.

Trade has naturally suffered in a district where the principal business is export of rice. The returns from the railway stations from July to October in the Sudder sub-division show a falling off of two-thirds as compared with the same period last year, and in Rampore Hat seven-eighths.

7. The stocks of food-grains must have been very seriously reduced. The Collector considers from local enquiries that there is probably a sufficient supply (including the aus) to last for another five months. A railway runs through the whole length of the district, and private enterprise will probably pour in supplies whenever wanted.

8. The water-supply has somewhat decreased, but it is only in the small tracts affected by scarcity that the decrease is serious. Irrigation of crops is not much resorted to. There is no cause for anxiety about fodder.

9. On the whole, I do not think it probable that any further general measures of relief will be required in this district, though, perhaps, here and there some trifling assistance may be necessary.

10. Burdwan.—Raneegunge sub-division. No cause for anxiety in thanas Assensole and Raneegunge. In thana Kanksa little or no aus is grown. The amun or winter crop will probably be only a 4-anna one, and there will be distress in patches here and there. Rubbi sowings have begun, but the crop is a very unimportant one. There are no non-food staples. Last year's crop averaged only 6 annas. Common rice now sells at 13 to 14 pukka seers. Water getting scarce, tanks having been nearly emptied in trying to save crops by irrigation. The late rain has partly replenished them, but the want of water will be felt next hot-weather. There is no anxiety about fodder, as there is abundant waste land for grazing. The rice trade has somewhat fallen off, but there will probably be sufficient import as soon as a demand makes itself felt.

11. Special report will be submitted hereafter regarding Kanksa thana.

12. Sudder sub-division.—Thana Bood-Bood adjoins Kanksa, and its condition is a little worse than that thana. There was a 3-anna aus, but it is grown in so small an area as to be of little use. The amun in 10 or 12 villages has failed altogether, and in others there will only be a 2-anna crop; in some places as much as 4 annas. Rubbi prospects are more hopeful, though there is very little cultivation of this kind.

Last year's harvest was about 5 annas. Common rice sells at 12 to 13 pukka seers. In other respects the remarks made about Kanksa will apply. A special report will be submitted about this thana also.

13. Ausgram.—The circumstances of this thana resemble generally those of Kanksa and Bood-Bood, though the amun may possibly yield as much as 6 annas. This thana also will, unless matters mend soon, be included in the report to be submitted regarding Kanksa and Bood-Bood.

14. Sahibgunge.—Same remarks as under Ausgram.

15. Burdwan.—Aus average 6 annas, but very little of it is grown. Winter crop (amun) will be about 6 annas. There is good promise for rubbi, but not much is grown. Last year's harvest was not very good, but with so large a town as Burdwan in the middle of it, there is not likely to be any scarcity of stocks. Coarse rice is now selling from 14 to 16 seers, this price due more to holding up of stocks than to scarcity. Water and fodder plentiful. Though there are a few patches of bad harvest here and there, the general condition of this thana does not give rise to any anxiety.

16. Satgachia, Khundghose, Rama, and Salimabad.—Up to date there is no reason to apprehend scarcity in these thanas. In the two last-named, the amun crop is expected to yield from 10 to 12 annas, and in the other two 8 annas.

17. Cutwa Sub-division.—The information given by the Sub-divisional Officer is unfortunately not precise. The Collector, however, thinks that Ketugram thana is not likely to suffer much; the amun is expected to yield a 7-anna crop, and the aus yielded about 5 annas. In the other two thanas, Cutwa and Mungalkot, there has been failure of crop in patches, but the condition of these two thanas will form the subject of further report.

There is some jute grown in parts of this sub-division, and until recently rice was being exported to Moorshedabad. There are probably still considerable stocks in the towns of Cutwa and Dainhat, which are centres of trade.

18. Culina Sub-division.—Thana Culna expects a 10-anna harvest, and is quite secure. In Purbasthali no immediate scarcity is to be expected. Montessur seems to be badly off. The aus was only 5 annas, and the amun is expected to be from 4 to 5 annas. No rubbi has yet been sown. There are no good roads in this thana, and it is therefore difficult to put in supplies. Rice is selling at from 13 to 14 seers, and there will be some scarcity of water but not of fodder.

19. The annexed map will show the tracts in which scarcity is impending. It will be seen that they are comparatively small in area, and, with the exception of Montessur and Sahebgunge, readily accessible. Employment for the able-bodied is available on the Bengal-Nagpore Railway, and Government has given a sum of Rs. 5,000 for charitable relief to those unable to work. Present necessities are thus provided for, and subsequent reports will show what further measures are likely to be required.

No. 507G, dated Dacca, the 28th October 1884.

From—F. WYER, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Dacca Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

WITH reference to your letter No. 16T—R of the 7th instant, I have the honour to state that, with regard to this division, there is no cause of anxiety regarding food, fodder or water-supply. The Collector of Backergunge reports that the prospects of that district are better than usual; and so far from there being any cause of anxiety, the exportation of rice will probably increase from between 45 and 50 lakhs of maunds, the quantity last year, to 60 lakhs this year. The Collector of Mymensing reports that the condition of that district does not differ from the normal state, and the only part of the district where the prospects are not good being the Attea sub-division, but even here there is no cause of anxiety. The Collector of Furzedpore reports the same for his district, and adds that Katwali-para and Gopalgunge will probably export largely. In Dacca, on the whole, there has been a fair crop, the only failure being the crop grown on the high lands, and there may be some pressure to the north of the district, but the Dacca-Mymensing Railway will furnish ample employment, if, as is not likely, the people in that part are driven by want to look for work.

2. In Backergunge the great non-food staples, if such a term be allowable, are supari and cocoanuts. Of the latter 13 annas and of the former not far from a full crop is expected. Mr. Dutt reports that the wealth in Backergunge from these crops and from other sources is so great that even if the rice crop failed at any time, a contingency not at all likely to arise, the people would be well able to pay for imported rice. Both in Dacca and Mymensing the jute crop, which was a good average one, is being held back on account of the low price. This proves that the ryots are well off; otherwise they could not do this. In Furzedpore the yield of the crop has been good everywhere, and in Goalundo it is said to have been a bumper one. In this district the area planted with jute was not larger than usual. In Dacca, however, owing to the high prices last year, a larger area was planted, and since it costs the ryots very nearly Rs. 3 a maund to grow and prepare this crop, they have lost by its cultivation.

No. 493GC, dated Chittagong, the 1st November 1884.

From—E. E. Lewis, Esq., Commissioner of the Chittagong Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

WITH reference to Government Circular No. 16T—R, dated 7th October 1884, calling for a report on the state and prospects of the crops, I have the honour to report that in all the districts of my division there exists no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder-supply.

2. In Chittagong the Collector, after personal enquiry, says that the crops, both aus and amun, are full average crops.

3. In Noakhally the aus crop has been 12 annas, while a bumper crop of amun is expected.

4. The Deputy Commissioner of Chittagong Hill Tracts reports that the condition of his district does not vary materially from its normal state, with the exception that the prospects of cotton are more favourable than they have been for many years past. He adds that some of the jooms beyond the frontier line are being destroyed by rats; on this he promises to submit a further detailed report.

No. 319Mct., dated Darjeeling, the 31st October 1884.

From—LORD H. ULICK BROWNE, Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

WITH reference to Government Famine circular No. 161.—R., dated 7th October 1884. I have the honour to submit a report on the state and prospects of the crops, and the condition of the people, in the several districts of this division.

2. The Collector of Dinagepore, Mr. Tuto, reported, on the authority of Mr. Ricketts, Manager of the Sunkerpore Wards' Estates, that the only portion of his district which is threatened with scarcity is the south and south-west, and he did not think that much more will be required even there than the ordinary employment that can be given on the roads.

There will be no want of food, water, or fodder. Since he so reported, I have heard from him demi-officially that there has been good rain almost everywhere, and that the south and south-west had the benefit of it. Under the circumstances, I think it unlikely that Government will have to be asked to give or do anything in the Dinagepore district in consequence of short crops, and so give none of the details required in the case of districts in which distress is expected.

3. I enclose a copy of the Collector of Rajshahye's report, No. 809G, dated 27th October 1884, with the statements and map received therewith in original. The report may not comply exactly and precisely with the requirements of the Government circular on every minor point, but it does on almost all of them, and it seems to me to give full information on all main points.

My own opinion of the condition and prospects of the Rajshahye district is this: I think it rather possible than probable that relief works in excess of the Road Cess Committee's annual repairs of roads may be required in parts of the district before the next rubbee and aus crops are reaped: that if they are required, the amount to be spent in such works will not be large, and that with perhaps a few other small localities, where a little employment may be required for a short time, the need for employment will be confined to the Burhind tract. But I do not think it at all certain that relief works will be necessary anywhere in excess of the employment offered by the Road Cess Committee in repairing roads, and it may very probably result in the people in parts of the district being merely pinched, but being unwilling to go on relief works. While giving this opinion, I also wish to say that, when, as in this case, there has been no general and considerable failure of crops, it is not easy to form an opinion thus early in the season, and that it will be much more easy to do so a month hence. The Collector, it will be seen, expects to be able to judge better when he has heard whether the late rain has been general, but I believe he will know more at the beginning of December.

If Government will leave it to me to report again if I find it necessary to do so when the Collector and I have been able to obtain fuller information, they may rely on my doing so, if I do find it necessary, as soon as I can do so with the least confidence; but from the information now before me I am able even now to express an opinion that the only sure and unfailing test in the case of a district so circumstanced is whenever complaints of distress and requests for relief are received to reply by an offer of employment on relief works at the rate of three annas a day for a fair day's task for an able-bodied raiyat (not professional cooly), and lower rates for women and children. I propose to have the condition of the people watched, and to ask the District Officers and Road Cess Committees to act as above. The Collector will be requested to do all in his power to secure his obtaining information of distress and giving the people an opportunity of complaining by a visit to the locality by a Government officer as if on ordinary business, so that the offer may be made without delay if it is really needed. As regards water and fodder, some inconvenience will be felt in certain localities for want of water, which will have to be fetched from a distance, and doubtless the people will drink bad water near at hand in preference to fetching good water from a distance, which will cause sickness. In the matter of fodder, the cattle may be thinner than usual owing to there being less grass, but I do not expect more than that at present informed. Prices will be high, but there will be no difficulty about a sufficient supply of food being brought to where it is wanted.

4. The rainfall in Pubna during the past season has been much below the average, and it is reported that the aman crop will be "very short in places;" but it is said that there is no reason to anticipate distress in any portion of the district. Mr. Bolton says it is possible that special arrangements may be required hereafter to provide labour for the poor around Taras in the Roygunge thana, where the people had a bad season last year; but "there is no urgency in the matter, and in any case the Road Cess Committee would probably be able to do all that is needed."

There are no very large stocks of grain in the district, but the supply is said to be sufficient, and it would be supplemented, if necessary, by importation from the eastern districts.

The water and fodder-supply is also sufficient.

In the case of Pubna, none of the details mentioned in the Government circular will be necessary. The Collector will be told to keep himself informed of the condition of the people of Taras and Roygunge.

5. I enclose a copy of the Collector of Bogra's report. It is very defective in respect, i.e., it gives no information as to the crops, past and present in the portion the district to the east of the river Karotoya, and though the Collector had not visited that tract, he could have supplied the information obtained from his subordinates. From what have heard, however, I have no anxiety as regards this tract, though I will enquire about it. If it is necessary, I will address Government about it, but not otherwise, unless I hear to the contrary.

As regards the rest of the Bogra district, I have to submit the following remarks.

All the relief Government gave last year was employment on relief works when people complained of distress and wanted such work. Government could, in my opinion, do no less in any year. In the case of the khear or red clay tract that has now suffered more or less from bad crops for three years, and which only grows the single crop of winter rice, I expect that, in addition to all the Road Cess Committee can spend in repairing roads, Government will have to complete the railway bank from Sooltanpore to Bogra in the course of the next eight months, and to supplement the road cess funds by grants to a considerable amount for other relief works. Employment will also be necessary in other parts, though to a less extent. How much money will be required for relief works is uncertain, but the experience of last year showed that, putting aside the very few professional coolies, the people of Bogra will not work for hire at all if they can help it, and will work at any private employment they can obtain in order to avoid resorting to public relief works. From what the Collector reports about the increase of grain thefts and burglaries thus early, it looks as if employment may soon be wanted.

I expect that the people in the worst tracts will suffer a good deal for want of water, and will be compelled to dig wells. The cattle in such tracts will suffer from a short supply of fodder, but it is probable that a good number of cattle may be sold.

Prices will run high no doubt, but any quantity of food required can be easily brought into the district by railway, rivers, and roads. The point is that in certain tracts there will be no money to buy food if it were ever so cheap, and it will have to be provided by relief works. Whether some charitable relief will be required will not be known till later, but probably it will. I expect that Government will have to suspend the collection of the revenue demand over the worst parts on condition of zemindars doing what may be thought necessary for their tenants.

In the case of Bogra, I propose to obtain information as to the parts to the east of the Karotoya, and to have the condition of the people on the west of it carefully watched. I will take up at once the question of what roads would be useful in the worst tracts, in case work on a considerable scale is necessary. I do not think the time has yet come for preferring a report in the Famine Code form, but that time will probably come about a month hence.

I shall visit Bogra towards the end of next month, and will address Government about that district again in due course.

6. From the report of the Collector of Rungpore it appears that wherever the aus rice is grown, a full bumper crop has been harvested in all four sub-divisions, and that the jute crop has also been good; but there will be in the different sub-divisions an aman crop which will vary from 4 annas to 12 annas. Where no other crop is grown, and where the outturn is low, some pinching is expected; but nothing more. The supplies of food and fodder are ample everywhere, and except in a few special localities in the Gyabanda sub-division, where a few wells may have to be dug, there will be no want of water. Altogether the Collector and I, as at present informed, do not think any special measures will be necessary anywhere in the Rungpore district, and so I give no further details.

7. The foregoing paragraphs give all the information and opinions I am in a position to give at present in regard to districts about which there seems to be room for the least doubt, even as regards any part of a district; but when the District Officers have done some touring, we shall feel more certain.

The present state of the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling does not vary so materially from the normal condition as to give cause for the least anxiety as regards food, water, fodder, or want of employment.

The price of rice in Julpigoree, however, is very high, "principally on account of export to other districts." Common rice is now being sold at 11 seers per rupee, against 18 seers and 20 seers in the corresponding months of 1883 and 1882, respectively.

No. 724G.D., dated Bogra, the 26th October 1884.

From—C. J. O'DONNELL, Esq., Offg. Collector of Bogra,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

WITH reference to your circular No. 297Met., dated the 17th instant, giving cover to Government Circular No. 16T.—R. (Famine), Revenue Department, I have the honour to submit the report therein called for in regard to the district of Bogra.

2. I regret the time allowed has been so short, for although I have been continuously in camp since the date of the circular, the 7th October, I have failed to personally inspect the whole district. I have been entirely unable to visit that portion which lies to the east of the river Karotoya; but as it is a low-lying tract, traversed in all directions by navigable rivers, water-channels, and marshes, besides that it is a large producer of aus rice and chéena, whilst the people are enriched by the jute trade, I think it may be considered safe from scarcity. Its inhabitants are also to a considerable extent boat-owners, or work at oft-times as boatmen, and so obtain a share in the profits of the valuable carrying business of Eastern Bengal.

3. On the west of the Karotoya the prospects are much less favourable. After visiting all the thanas in this tract, except Sherepore, and having examined large areas in each, I beg to give the following replies as succinctly as possible to the question asked in the Government Circular, adding a few special remarks at the end of my report.

4. It is to be understood that my replies apply only to the portion of the district west of the Karotoya.

5. Over the whole of this area the bhadoi or aus crop was good. I believe it was everywhere an average or 12-anna crop, and in places a bumper crop.

6. I fear I cannot estimate the outturn of the winter rice now approaching maturity at more than 6 annas, varying from 10 annas in Sibgunge and Nawabganje thanas, and 8 annas in Khetlal and Panchbibi to 6 annas in Adamdighi and 4 annas in Bogra and Sherepore. Excluding the four more favourably circumstanced police divisions, there remains a tract, bounded on the west by the railway, on the north and east by the Sherepore, Bogra, and Dinagepore road, and on the south by the district frontier towards Pubna and Rajshahye, in which I think it would be rash to estimate more than a five-anna crop, or, roughly, a third of a full bumper crop. In places it is undoubtedly more, but over many rice plains it is much less; for, unfortunately, it is the fact that on some high runs of country the crop will barely produce its seed grain. This area, it may be observed, is nearly continuous with that portion of the district which is composed of a reddish stiff clay, known as khear.

7. The promise of the rubbee or spring crops, so far as one can judge thus early in the season, is excellent. The heavy rain of the beginning of the month, and the light showers that now are falling, although they have come too late for much of the winter rice, have thoroughly moistened the ground, and ploughing and sowing are already unusually advanced this year. The spring crops, however, I would remark, form but a small portion of the total food-supply of the district.

8. In no part of the Cis-Karotoyan tract, except Panchbibi, where sugarcane and jute are largely grown, are any important non-food staples produced to such an extent as materially to enrich the people, and so enable them to sustain the effects of a food-crop failure.

9. The crops last year were much as they are this year; that is to say, a fair bhadoi was followed by a deficient amun and a good rubbee crop. At the same time, judging by the rainfall statistics, the range of prices, and numerous statements I have heard, the winter rice was much less of a failure than it is this year, and hardly justified the relief measures taken so promptly by Government as soon as the first distress was reported: still it is manifest that such as it was, and covering exactly the same area as the failure of this year, the khear tract, it considerably encroached on the resources of the people and their ability to meet the losses that have now come upon them.

10. Prices are distinctly high at the present time, and have risen during the past two months from 15 seers to 12 seers (pucca) for the rupee. I regard the later price as one which, if not soon reduced, must press on a large section of the people in a very appreciable degree. It will entirely depend on the fact whether this rate is maintained or not, after the amun harvest is reaped, whether serious distress will or will not be felt. If, as I hope, grain is abundantly imported from Rungpore and Mymensing, the price will fall; but if this expectation is not realized, the tract I have particularized above (viz. the thana of Adamdighi and the portions of thanas Bogra and Sherepore lying to the west of the Karotoya) will require careful watching, and very probably some form of relief early in the coming year.

11. Trade is very active in all parts of the district, but I regret to say that I regard this fact with some alarm. I fear that its ordinary direction and tendency is towards export and depletion. I need hardly refer to a fact so well known as that the khear tract, which is also the area of failure, produces a fine species of rice, little used for local consumption, and which is eagerly bought up by petty traders, who are in effect agents to the large exporting firms in Calcutta. I anticipate that these men will use all their efforts to secure some part of their ordinary supply, and I fear that in the end of November and throughout December, before serious pressure is felt, they will be only too successful in still further reducing the district stocks, which now are not too abundant. Much will depend on the action of the zemindars in regard to rent, and the Government in regard to revenue. If these two forces exert themselves as in ordinary years, if where there is short produce they demand full rent and revenue, the peasantry will have no means of escape from the depleting trader. The raiyat must sell his rice. I always have held, and always will hold, that the quickest, honestest, cheapest, and safest form of relief is, when Government has satisfied itself that there is a really grave failure of food-supply, to at once act on the principle that where rent cannot be paid without danger, revenue cannot be demanded without setting an example a Government should not set. Further, when once revenue collection is suspended, we should insist on proportionate clemency in the zemindar. I do not for an instant speak of remission. In nineteen-twentieths of Bengal the revenue assessment is so easy that only in the most exceptional cases would absolute remission be justified. The suspended revenue could be recovered in three to five years by instal without interest, the loss of the latter amount being the measure of the general contribution of the province to local distress.

12. I am entirely unable to estimate the amount of grain stocks in the district in the manner suggested, that is, in terms of food-supply, for so many months. Judging by previous periods of distress, I venture to express the opinion that the district will probably be able to feed itself till the beginning of the hot weather—four to five months hence.

13. The supply of water for all purposes is abnormally deficient. The rivers are already at their hot-weather level and are loaded with impurities. They are almost all stagnant, and jute-steeping has been carried on in most. There is already an unusual amount of cholera about the district, and I fear that public health will deteriorate rather than improve. With the advent of the hot weather, I have even graver fears of trouble to the people from this source than from the failure of food-supply.

The fodder-supply, after the cattle have grazed off the short stubble of the crop that is partially saved, or the standing rice, as they are already doing in many places, will necessarily be very deficient in the khear tract. The rice nearly everywhere, even where the grain yield promises well, is short in stalk.

14. I have replied as far as I can the questions raised by the Government circular.

15. In order to aid Government in estimating the present condition of the crops, I give below a table showing the rainfall, month by month, in the three abnormal years—1873, last year, and this year.

	1873.	1883.	1884.	REMARKS.
	Inches.	Inches.	Inches.
January	0 22	0 58	...
February	0 10	0 16	0 13
March	0 17	1 53
April	3 12	3 02	3 20
May	2 01	6 78	1 75
June	6 74	7 44	16 17
July	7 95	16 93	9 60
August	12 83	8 91	3 15
September	3 29	2 82	2 53
October	0 31	1 87*	* Up to 1 P.M. on the 26th, when it was still raining.
November
December	0 38	0 79

16. Two important facts are potent from the above table. The first is the extreme shortness of the rainfall in August and September of the present year. I do not believe in the efficacy of October rain, except to fill out the grain in plants which have not only survived the drought of the two preceding months, but still retain considerable vigour. The second conspicuous point is one of good hope. The rainfall in April, May, June and July could hardly be more propitious for the aus crop, which the dry, hot weather in the end of July and the beginning of August ripened to perfection. This fact alone would convince me that what I have heard on all sides is true, namely, that the aus yielded nearly a bumper outturn. It was also an unusually extensive crop. Not only on the poli or light sandy soil, but also on the stiff khear clay, that people hastened to refill their granaries, left half empty by last year's failure. Going about the district, I have everywhere noticed that a very considerable portion of the worst amun rice stands on fields which have already yielded an aus harvest. This is a fact of very great importance. I regret that I have no means of estimating, with even a distant approach to statistical accuracy, what proportion the aus bears to the amun area. We are still, I regret to say, nearly as ignorant on this and such like agricultural questions as we were ten years ago. I may here mention that the people employ aus rice principally as food, and I have heard the opinion freely expressed that they will not readily part with this their ordinary means of sustenance.

17. I should not conclude this report without drawing attention to the fact that burglaries and thefts show a marked increase. During the third quarter of the present year, 71 burglaries and 119 thefts were reported as compared with 46 burglaries and 71 thefts in the corresponding months of July, August and September 1883. The object of several of these offences has been food-grain, and the accused in many cases have pleaded the pressure of hunger. Considering, however, that these figures represent the total crime against property among three-quarters of a million of people, it would be as unwise to attach too much importance to them as it would be to ignore them altogether.

18. As to the probability of serious distress, I think it distant. There are few landless day-labourers in the district. I believe the coming cold weather, with a promising rubees harvest, will supply a fair amount of employment to them. The short crops are, moreover, confined to one-third portion of the district, and the population affected will not exceed quarter of a million. About 5 per cent. of this number probably live by day labour, and if Government gives a small subscription to the District Road Fund, besides completing the Sultanpore-Pogra Railway embankment, I think we will have sufficient aid to tide us over the period before next rains.

No. 809G, dated Rampore Beaulah, the 27th October 1884.

From—E. H. RUDDOCK, Esq., Collector of Rajshahye,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

• WITH reference to Government Famine Circular No. 16T—R, dated the 7th instant, I have the honour to state that I called for reports from the sub-divisional officers, the District Superintendent of Police, and some of the zemindars and managers of estates in the district. The report from the sub-division of Nattore has not yet been received, but the district report being due on the 27th, I beg to submit the following report on the several points noted in the circular.

2. I beg to annex a tabulated statement clearly showing the approximate condition of each police station in the district under the various heads referred to in the Government circular, and to offer the following observations in regard to each station.

3. Beaulah.—In this station there was a fair yield of the bhadoi crop, but the amun prospects are indifferent, except in places where the inundation water has reached. Sugar-cane cultivation is carried on extensively, as also mulberry, and the rearing of silk cocoons, which gives employment to a considerable portion of the population of this and the neighbouring thanas, is a fair source of income.

4. It is worthy of mention, in connection with Rampore Beaulah, Charchat and Pooteah thanas, that Messrs. Watson & Co. distribute about ten lakhs of rupees every year for advances for cocoons. In addition to this, I understand that Messrs. Louis Payen & Co. distribute between two and three lakhs of rupees similarly, principally in Rampore Beaulah thana. The placing of so much hard cash at the disposal of the people must be a great help to them.

5. The prospects of the winter crops are fair. Scarcity of water is felt only in the interior, that is, in villages far removed from the course of the river. The condition of trade in the market is dull. The supply of paddy in store is not large. I do not anticipate any difficulty about fodder, though much may not have been preserved; but there is ample grazing ground on which the cattle can thrive for months, and even if there is any difficulty in any particular part, the cattle can easily be taken for two or three months, as is frequently done, on to the churs where there is an enormous lot of excellent grazing ground. All those whom I have consulted are unanimous on this point, and to save time I may observe that this remark applies generally to the whole district.

7. Tannore Police Station.—In the villages within the jurisdiction of this thana also rice is extensively grown. The country is Burind to the north and west, and the paddy grown was plentiful, but much of it was destroyed by late sowing and by reason of drought except what grew near tanks which afforded facilities for irrigation. The crop standing in the fields is not in a good condition. Jute has been grown to some extent, and the cultivation of mulberry is carried on on a small scale. Owing to demand for irrigation and to want of rainfall, scarcity of water will soon be felt. Those that have money decline to work, and the poorer raiyats alone work at very high rates, not having grain in their houses. The fact mentioned in the Lieutenant-Governor's Resolution on the divisional report, as regards scarcity in Bogra and relief works, applies here and to the district generally, that people will not work away from their homes, nor will they work at all on anything like relief works as soon as pressure is removed. I mention this here, as in this police station last year there were parts where it appeared relief was necessary, but the people could not be induced to work away from their homes.

8. Bagmara Police Station.—The rice grown here is in the low lands generally, and is largely used in Pooteah, besides being exported. The river Baraloo, which flows through this part of the country, did not overflow, and consequently, as the bheels were not inundated, the amun crop will be short, though the outturn of the aus was favourable. There is no reason, however, to fear that the quantity will be inadequate, although the prices may be high. Jute has given a fair outturn, and though the price has fallen far below that of last year, still there will be a fair profit. Mulberry has been a fair crop, and a good deal of work is done in cocoons, and it is hoped they will show favourable results. Scarcity of water is felt in some parts of this thana. The last cold-weather crops were good, and the prospects of this year so far favourable.

9. Police Station Futteah.—Rice, both aus and amun, used to be grown in the low lands under the Doorgapore outpost, but of late years from insufficient produce the raiyats have abandoned the cultivation of rice and devoted themselves to the cultivation of sugarcane, which yields a surer and more profitable outturn, and they now depend upon rice imported from elsewhere. Mulberry and cocoons, moreover, flourish in these parts of the country, and the prospects of the crops this year are favourable. The inundation of the Ganges afforded a good supply of water, and no scarcity is likely to be felt in the cold weather.

10. In this police station are situated the Rajbarees of the Pooteah and Taherpore families, and though their properties are scattered all over several districts, it may be convenient to summarise here the reports I have received respecting the properties in this district.

11. Taherpore Estate.—In the villages belonging to the estate situated in thanas Rampore Beaulah, Pooteah, Nattore, Singra, and Bagmara, the bhadoi or aus crop seems to have been generally an almost total failure; in fact the average is set down at 2 annas. This, however, I think rather too low an estimate. This failure of the bhadoi crops has, however, been compensated by the good crop of mulberry, sugarcane and jute, also by the rearing of cocoons; for though the price of jute was lower than last year, still it was high enough to yield a large profit. The general prospects of the winter amun crop are not promising from want of rain. It is, however, a significant fact mentioned by the gentleman from whom I got my report, that the mahajuns have, in anticipation of distress, ceased to lend the raiyats paddy. He also complains of the imperfect state of irrigation, which has led to poor paddy crops ever since 1882, and this has been aggravated by the wheels not being inundated.

12. Pooteah Estate.—The Manager of the Pooteah Estate reports that, generally speaking, the condition of the mehals is discouraging. He has submitted a statement, from which I find that the outturn of the late bhadoi crop in the estate was about $4\frac{1}{2}$ annas. The prospects of the rubbee crop are good, and the amun paddy promises to yield an outturn of nearly 5 annas. The produce of jute and sugarcane has been satisfactory in some mehals, while in others it is either fair or tolerable. Cocoons are abundant, and it is reported that, if the Pousbund result in success, there will be no apprehension of any hardship, notwithstanding the failure of the bhadoi crop. Paddy is selling at from 25 to 28 seers per rupee, and rice from 14 to 16 seers. Price of wheat from 22 to 25 seer per rupee. Some raiyats have paddy in stock, and the stocks in the mahajuns' granaries is sufficient to last two or three months in case of distress. Kalye was cultivated in some of the mehals, but owing to the overflowing of the river, cultivation has been washed away and destroyed. Generally speaking, trade is only nominal in a few of the mehals.

There is no cause for anxiety about the supply of drinking water. The Manager recommends the excavation of tanks in some three or four mehals where there is some difficulty about getting drinking water.

13. Police Station Charchat.—This station is similar to Pooteah. Here the villagers grow a little rice, but the lands are principally cultivated with sugarcane and pulse, and the villagers mainly depend apparently upon the cold-weather crops. Mulberry and cocoons flourish, and on the banks of the rivers Ganges and Bural indigo is cultivated. The cold-weather crops were favourable last year, and equally favourable results are expected this year. Some kalye was grown in the low land, but it was submerged and destroyed owing to a sudden and late rise of the river. In some parts where the flood-water could not reach, scarcity of water is and will be felt by the villagers.

14. Nattore Police-station.—Here the countries are watered by the rivers Ganges and Atrai, and rice is grown to a large extent. In the high lands, however, there is not much rice grown; but sugarcane and pulse very profitably take its place. The prospects of the rubbee crops are so far favourable. The rise of the Ganges is expected to give a favourable outturn of the amun crop in the low lands, and the sugarcane and pulses also promise fairly. The winter crops of last year were good. Scarcity of water will be felt in the high lands owing to the deficient rainfall.

15. Lalpore Police-station.—The prospects of crops in this station are rather distressing. Little rice is grown in the low lands, and the villagers have to depend to a great extent on imported rice, which has been almost entirely consumed. The villagers migrate for labour. Want of water is also felt, and will be more keenly felt still, unless there is rain. Sugarcane and kalye have grown, and indigo cultivation is extensively carried on.

16. In the zemindaries of Messrs. Watson & Co., notwithstanding that no inundation had submerged the high lands for a period of two or three years, large tracts of lands were brought under cultivation on account of the high price of grain, and up to the middle of July, writes Mr. Abbott, a gentleman of very great experience, and who has long been in the district as the chief agent of Messrs. Watson & Co., the paddy crops in the Bilmaria, Charchat, and Pooteah stations had most favourable weather. But want of rain in the beginning of Srabun had disastrous effects, and the high lands brought under cultivation yielded for the bhadoi crop not more than 4 annas. The last bhadoi crops are said to have ranged from 1 to 16 annas, and the average was not less than 7 annas. The winter crop of Bharun amun paddy, it is estimated, will yield 12 annas. This I think rather too sanguine an estimate. Half the kalye crop sown on the churs was submerged owing to the late rise of the rivers. The prospects of the remaining kalye now on the fields are fair, and it is hoped there will be an outturn of 8 annas. In the villages Biralda, Dungapara, Monegram, Tulshipore, and Gungarampore, mulberry and cocoons have turned out well, and sugarcane also promises well, and it is believed they will enable the raiyats to withstand pressure from crop failure. The raiyats who produce paddy have not been selling it this year, perhaps in anticipation of distress.

17. It is difficult to ascertain (continues Mr. Abbott) whether the raiyats have dhan in their houses. The general belief is that there is a small supply in the mahajuns' golahs and none in the houses of the raiyats. Mr. Abbott, however, is of opinion that a supply sufficient to last for four months exists in the mahajuns' golahs, and that the kalye and rubbee crops also stored there are in large quantities. The latter yielded last year a produce larger than has been known for 20 years.

18. There is no scarcity of water in villages situated close to the river, and if there are showers of rain, there need be no fear of any such scarcity. But in villages remote from the river distress is being already felt, owing to the want of rain and the inundation water not having reached the villages. The distress of these poor villagers can only be removed by a heavy downpour of rain.

19. Boraigunge Station.—Much rice is produced here, and it is exported by boats to other parts of the district. In the bheels to the south and west amun and Boro paddy are grown, and although it is reported that owing to the drought crops have suffered materially, I am not inclined to give credence to this report, as from the fact of the country having been inundated by the overflow of the Ganges, such a thing was not possible. In the high lands turmeric is extensively grown, with large profits, and sugarcane also is extensively cultivated. Water-supply will, however, be short, for the Ganges water in the fields will dry up unless there is rainwater to help it.

20. Police station Singra.—Here the lands are generally low, and very large tracts are cultivated with paddy. Reports about paddy crops and jute are most favourable from this station. Only the north portion of this station is Burind, and the crops may have sustained some injuries there owing to want of seasonable rain. Winter crops are grown here on a smaller scale. The water famine will be felt only in the high lands situated to the north and east of the police-stations.

21. Nowgong Police-station.—Here the cultivation of aus paddy is extensive, and the villagers had stored the bhadoi or aus crop in large quantities. The outturn of the bhadoi crop is estimated by the sub-divisional officer at 8 to 9 annas. Much jute was grown, and it sold at tolerable prices. Last year's winter crops were good, and the cultivation of ganja extensive, but this means low prices; in fact, the sub-divisional officer says the price per maund pucea ranged from Rs 4 to Rs. 15. In high lands some scarcity of water will be felt.

22. As to the prospects of the amun, both bona and ropa, in the sub-division generally, it appears from the sub-divisional officer's report that the people have had the sense to store up all the water of the copious rain in June for use for irrigation purposes, and the result is that the ropa or transplanted amun, which depends almost entirely on rainwater, was fully planted out, and where there is water stored up near, the outturn is likely to be between 6 and 7 annas. As to the bona dhan, it is doing very well in deep bheels where there is water, but many bheels are dried up from insufficient water, and there the paddy has withered. No estimate is made as to the probable yield by the sub-divisional officer, and the District Superintendent has estimated it at 5½ annas.

23. Police-station Panchoopore.—Here the crops are watered by the two rivers Atrai and Nagore, and are consequently able to show a favourable outturn. Much of their rice, however, is exported elsewhere, which has led to the increase in the selling price of rice in those parts of the country. Jute is also grown here largely. There can be no scarcity of water felt in this part of the country where there are two rivers to irrigate the lands and supply water for drinking purposes, and the only portion that is liable to be so affected is the portion lying on the borders of the district of Bogra. The sub-divisional officer estimates the bhadoi crops at 7 annas. I have already dealt with the prospects of the amun.

24. Police-station Manda.—Much rice is grown here, and the villagers were prudent enough to grow a large quantity of jute, which has yielded tolerable profits. Rice in the low lands is safe, but extensive tracts to the north and west are Burind, and unless there is sufficient rainfall, I am afraid the crops on these portions will suffer very materially. But the remarks about amun under Nowgong apply generally here also. Winter crops flourish on the banks of the river Atrai. I am afraid there will be much scarcity of water felt over the Burind country, if there be not more rain.

25. It will be observed that I have hitherto made no mention of the probable amount of grain in store. The subject is a difficult one, and it is really impossible to say how much grain there is in store. The general opinion, however, seems to be that there is a store of four months' food in the district.

A curious fact was mentioned to me. Some raiyats had to remove their houses owing to the encroachment of the river. They were supposed to have next to no dhan whatever, but when they came to remove, it was found that each man had several hundred maunds of dhan in store; one man, supposed to have nothing, having as much as 1,200 maunds. If, therefore, this may be taken as a typical case, the supply in store may be taken as even greater still. I believe the raiyats have in many places been holding back their paddy from fear of scarcity; and, besides, it must be remembered that, if there is scarcity, it would have been a very dangerous thing for a man to have let his neighbours know how much grain he had, as he would run great risk of being plundered.

26. I have narrated above in detail the prospects and condition of the crop in the several thannas in my district, and from what has been stated, it will be seen that there is no cause to fear a general scarcity over the whole district. It is true the export last year was very considerable, but even in spite of this large export and the price at which rice is selling at present in the various markets in the district, I do not apprehend a scarcity all over, and I do hope that, even if the entire Burind rice crop in the Godagaree, Tannore, Singra, and Manda police-stations fail, there will be found sufficient rice in the district to meet its demands. Should there be a failure, relief will be required probably in the Burind; but I think after the rainfall of the last three days, it is difficult to report with any degree of certainty, whether the prospects are such as to raise an apprehension of scarcity, until we hear more of the extent of the rainfall and as to whether it has been general. If it has been general, the prospects will no doubt be much better than those given in this report, and I think another report in a fortnight would be advantageous. There is no doubt that much paddy, which seemed hopeless, will pick up to a certain extent. At any rate this report may be taken as giving the prospects of the district from the most unfavourable point of view.

27. I beg to annex a map showing in different colours the condition of the several thannas in the district. I shall, as I have observed above, call for further report enquiring whether the rain of these last three days has been general, and how it is regarded by the raiyats; and when this information is obtained, I shall submit a further report, in which will be embodied the report from the sub-division of Nattore. In compiling this report, I am under great obligation to the District Superintendent, Mr. Bamber.

P. S.—Since writing the above I have just received the report of the Nattore Sub-divisional Officer, and I may remark on it generally that I am glad to say he takes a much more cheerful view of the prospects than I, with the knowledge then before me, had ventured to express. The rainfall has been greater than in the previous year, and distributed more evenly. The prospects of the amun and rubbee crops are generally good. The places where scarcity of drinking water will be felt are not many, and his opinion about the abundance of fodder agrees with that already expressed. There is one gloomy feature—the outturn of aus, the principal crop in Lalpur, was 2 annas only.

Last year's prevailing rates not to be depended on, as it has been collected from hearsay.

E. H. BUDDOCK,
Collector.

No. BG, dated Camp Buxar, the 30th October 1884.

From—J. BOXWELL, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

WITH reference to Government circular order No. 16T—R of the 7th instant, I have the honour to submit a special report on the state and prospects of the crops in the several districts of the Patna division.

2. The Durbhunga report has come in to-day. I thus have the advantage of the latest possible information from that district, which was one about which there was most fear. It is plain that Mr. Price's report is much fuller and better than it could have been if it had been written only a day or two earlier.

3. I shall first give a very short summary of the results, then extract from the district reports, and finish with any necessary comment.

4. Of the seven districts, Chumparun, Sarun, Mozufferpore, and Shahabad are declared safe. It is clear from the reports that this decision is well founded.

5. Of the remaining districts, the sub-divisions of Modhubani and Tajpore in Durbhunga, of Barh, Dinapore and Patna in Patna, and Aurungabad in Gya are also declared safe.

6. There remain the sub-divisions of Nowada and Gya in Gya, Behar in Patna, and in Durbhunga the sudder sub-division, which cannot be declared safe, and about which a special report of danger is required.

7. In these sub-divisions certain tracts again can be picked out as much better off than the rest. I can therefore here describe more particularly the areas of very bad crops. Mr. Grierson, Collector of Gya, has prepared a map for his district. His latest enquiries confirm what was believed before.

8. The worst tract in the division is clearly the north-eastern portion of the Gya district, including all the north of Nowada and the Atri thana of the sudder. In this tract there is little jungle and a large extent of rice plain, which ought to be covered with rice now. A great part of this has not even been cultivated for rice. I myself have seen the land lying unploughed.

9. The Behar sub-division of Patna is subject to very much the same conditions. I am a little surprised at the good accounts from Behar. Mr. Quinn says it is worse off than any other part of the district, and he is watching and prepared for worse news. But from the report, Behar is very much better off than Nawada.

10. In Durbhunga, the south-eastern portion of the sudder about Roserah is declared much the worst. It would be interesting to compare Mr. Price's report with what is said about Begu Sarai in Moughyr bordering it to the south-east.

11. As directed in the circular order under reply, I report that in Chumparun, Sarun, Mozufferpore, and Shahabad "the condition of the district does not vary materially from the normal state." I therefore abstain from all details, and declare that there is "no cause for anxiety regarding food, water, or fodder-supply."

12. The Collector of Durbhunga reports:—

"In Modhubani the outturn of the last bhadoi is estimated to have been a 9 annas crop throughout the sub-division, and the probable yield of paddy to be an 8 annas crop. The rubbee, which has been very extensively sown this year, is in a prosperous state, and promises a good outturn.

There are two or three important non-food staples grown in this sub-division, such as sugarcane, indigo. The prospect in respect of these staples is good, and with the help derived from them, supplemented by the outturn from food-crops, the people of this sub-division will be enabled to support themselves comfortably till the next year's bhadoi comes in. The labouring classes will perhaps require to be furnished with some employment later on; this can easily be found for them in the repairs and construction of village roads.

"There is no cause for anxiety regarding fodder or water-supply.

"In Tajpore, which in my opinion is very little behind Modhubani in its generally satisfactory condition, the bhadoi was all round an eight annas crop; the paddy will scarcely be a four annas crop (but Tajpore is not generally a rice-producing country), whereas at present the prospects of the rubbee are excellent; in fact could not be better. So also I may say of tobacco, which is extensively cultivated in this sub-division. I may, I think, without hesitation say that the present condition of the people and the crops in Tajpore does not afford any cause for alarm; prices this October are not higher than they were during the same month last year; and there will be food available sufficient for the supply required for the next four or five months. I do not anticipate any failure in the water or fodder-supply in Tajpore, that is, if rain falls as it ought to do in December or January.

"Sudder sub-division.—This sub-division is, I consider, far way the worst off of the three in the districts. Concerning a part of it I can speak from direct personal observation, for I am now under canvas in the tract which was reported by the police to be worst affected. The outturn of the last bhadoi did not exceed a ten annas crop all round. The prospects of the paddy are generally bad; in some places no crop at all can be reaped, the plants being used for fodder for cattle, so great has been the deficiency in the rainfall. Here, at Roserah, it is 8 inches less than it was in the famine year. Throughout the sub-division not more than a fourth of the usual area could be sown with paddy, and the general outturn is estimated at two to four annas, at the outside, of an average crop.

"Had it not been for the rain ($2\frac{1}{2}$ inches) which fell yesterday and the day before, and which has benefited greatly the rubber sowings (paddy having perished irretrievably, as I carefully noted when riding dryshod on the 25th from Brichowli to Mangalgarh across a country which ordinarily at the time of the year should consist of inundated rice-fields), there would have been experienced most severe distress in the south-eastern corner of this district. Since the late rain I anticipate a fair crop of rubber. Non-food staples, tobacco and sugarcane, promise very well. I am inclined to think that the stocks of grain locally grown have been drawn upon to depletion, but the import trade is very brisk and food-grains are being conveyed in large quantities by rail into the district. Prices are not much, if at all, higher than they were this time last year, and I rejoice to add that root crops form an important factor in the present supply of food. These are selling at two dhebuas (about four pies) a seer for the last two weeks, a seer being generally considered sufficient for a single full meal.

"The prospects in respect of water and fodder-supply were causing much anxiety till the late rain on the 25th and yesterday. Tanks and wells were very low. Some of them had actually run dry, and the paddy-straw, which in a year of good crops served later on for fodder for cattle, had been actually grazed down by cattle in the fields. Prospects now have assumed a much more favourable appearance, and it looks as if we would get more rain. But in any case the south-eastern portion of the sub-division, if no other, will have to be closely watched, and the employment afforded later on, if necessary, for the labouring classes in the construction and repairs of district and village roads. At present there is no actual suffering anywhere."

13. The Collector of Patna says with regard to Behar sub-division:—

"I take this sub-division first, as the condition of affairs there is worse than in other parts of the district.

"(a). The bhadoi outturn on the average was about a 6-anna crop.

"(b). When the sub-divisional officer wrote his report, he anticipated that the winter rice would be a 2-anna or a 5-anna crop, according to whether more rain should fall or not. Since the receipt of the report there has been heavy rain, and according to present information a 5-anna crop may be expected.

"(c). Rubber crops.—When the sub-divisional officer wrote, a fair outturn was expected, probably an 8-anna crop. The heavy rain which has since fallen has in some cases done harm and in others good. On the whole, I think than an 8-anna crop may still be expected.

"(d). Non-food staples.—The only important non-food staple is opium, the prospects of which since the recent rain should be good, and a good opium crop will have a very considerable effect in enabling the people to tide over a bad season.

"(e). Food stocks.—Everything points to the conclusion that stocks are low. Last year's bhadoi and rice harvests were very poor. The present prices are higher than in other parts of the districts, and the accumulations of grain are never large." The Collector considers the food stocks sufficient for two months at the outside.

"(f). Water-supply.—Since the late heavy rain, I think there need be no longer any anxiety on this head.

"(g). Fodder.—The Collector thinks the late rain has also taken away cause for anxiety under this head."

14. The Collector of Gya, Mr. Grierson, has written a very full and careful report. It is difficult to quote from, because it both is very argumentative and takes the district, not sub-division by sub-division, but crop by crop. I should have to extract passages too much scattered over his report. Therefore, in the case of Gya, I condense the information supplied. As has frequently been reported, the Gya crops vary very greatly in quality from thanna to thanna. The bhadoi crop in the sudder sub-division was—

In thannas Gya, Shahrghati, and Bara Chati 10 annas; in Tikari 14 annas; and in Atri only 6 annas of a full crop. For the sub-division as a whole the bhadoi was 11 annas of a full crop.

In Nowada the bhadoi was—in Nowada thanna 8 annas; in Pakri Barwan 4 to 8 annas; and in Rajouli 10 annas.

For the Nowada sub-division as a whole the bhadoi was 8 annas of a full crop.

In Aurungabad the bhadoi was from 8 annas to 16 annas, although in one outpost—Goh—in thanna Daudnagar it was almost a total failure. I shall return to this matter. The bhadoi outturn for the Aurungabad sub-division as a whole is between 10 and 11 annas.

In Jehanabad bhadoi is put down at 8 annas, and the Collector calls the bhadoi of the district as a whole 9 annas of a full crop.

15. On the rice crop, Mr. Grierson writes:—

"The paddy crop of the sudder sub-division is best in the Shahrghati thanna, and is expected to yield about 10 annas. In Gya and Tikari thannas it may be fairly estimated at about 8 annas, in Bara Chati at 6 annas, and in Atri we can hardly expect even 1 anna. Thus the sub-divisional outturn I estimate at 7 annas of a full crop."

The Nowada rice is thus estimated: Nowada thanna less than 2 annas; Pakri Barwan less than 2 annas, being worse again than Nowada thanna; Rajouli 4 annas.

In Aurungabad, Nabinagar thanna will have 14 annas. The worst parts of the sub-division expect 6 annas. A large portion expects 8 annas, and the sub-divisional officer estimates the outturn as a whole at 10 annas of a full crop.

The sub-divisional outturn in Jehanabad is estimated at 7 annas. The variation is very great from tract to tract.

One area of about 80 square miles is expected to yield about a 14-anna crop; while another, about half as big, will not give more than 1 anna.

The Collector writes:—

"I arrive at the conclusion that the district outturn of the winter rice will be a little more than 5½ annas of a full drop."

16. I need not, and indeed cannot, be so precise about rubbee prospects. They are just now very good; but so early in the season accurate estimates cannot be made. A much larger area than usual is being sown, and the land everywhere has abundant moisture.

Sugarcane is counted a non-food staple. In Gya sugarcane, opium, and linseed are important. Mr. Grierson says:—"In the sudder sub-division sugarcane is extensively cultivated, and this year it is exceptionally good. Up to this time the price of molasses is very high, and the crop promises a handsome return to the cultivators. There is no doubt that it will go a great way towards alleviating the severity of the partial failure of the winter rice."

In Aurungabad sugarcane is very good. Both sugarcane and poppy are of great use in helping cultivators to meet a food-crop failure.

"In Nowada sub-division the only important non-food staple is opium. It is cultivated on a large scale, and if it turns out a good crop, it will be a great comfort to the cultivators and the zemindars

"In Jehanabad, the sugarcane having last year proved a general failure, has been very sparingly cultivated; but wherever it has been planted, it is an excellent crop."

"17. The annexed table will show the current price of the food-grains in all the sub-divisions of the district. The incessant supply of grain from the North-Western Provinces is the chief reason for prices being as low as they are. The trade has been all along and is still very active. Wheat and gram are imported in large quantities from the north-west and rice from the east, and are being taken away daily by pack-bullocks and carts all over the district."

18. Grain stocks are reported low, not even enough for a month's consumption. The Collector estimates the sudder sub-divisional stocks as not exceeding 2,00,000 maunds. The Nowada stocks are put down at 2½ lakhs, also about a month's consumption. The sub-divisional officer continues:—

"But there is scarcely any fear of a sudden and serious deficiency in food-supply, for the raiyats will get dhan, kurtli, and sugarcane crops within the next four months. Their pack-bullocks, more than in an ordinary year, are constantly bringing loads of grain from Gya, Behar, Shekhpura, and Jamui.

"Stocks in Aurungabad are very low in consequence of last year's bad harvest.

"Rice is coming from Patna and Gya and supplying the markets of Goh, Rafigunge, and Muddenpur.

"Southern markets are still supplied from local stocks. Gram and wheat are coming in from Shahabad.

"If all the markets were to be supplied from local stock, it would not last more than two months."

The sub-divisional officer of Jehanabad calls the stock large and sufficient for six months or more, but points out that they are very unequally distributed and not likely to come into the market. He trusts to import chiefly.

19. On fodder and water-supply Mr. Grierson writes:—

"As a necessary consequence of the failure of rice there will be some scarcity of fodder for cattle everywhere, and especially in those parts of the district where the rice crop will be a total failure; but we have to fear nothing about water-supply for drink purposes or for irrigation.

"In the jurisdiction of thannas Nowada and Pakri Barwan and the outpost of Hasua, fodder will be very scarce. There is not much fear for other parts."

20. The condition of the people is reported as fairly good almost everywhere, and very bad nowhere. Just now there is plenty of employment, but after the rubbee sowings are over in those parts where the rice has failed there is a probability of distress.

Much of the Nowada report is taken up with discussing the rumoured deaths from starvation. The rumour has not yet been quite traced home. It is almost certain that some cases of beggars dying from insufficient food combined with other causes will be found. I heard such rumours myself long ago, but they were not distinct enough for any action.

21. Mr. Grierson sums up thus:—

‘On consideration of the circumstances of all the four sub-divisions, I believe that there is no cause for anxiety for any part of the district except certain portions of the Nowada sub-division. The year will not be worse than the last year, either in respect of the supply of food, fodder or water, and if the rabi crop turns out to be what it promises now, there will be no material variation in the condition of the people, nor will the labourers be in much want of employment. Of course there will be some want of employment between the period of paddy and rabi harvest, but the planting, digging, and irrigating of sugarcane, as well as irrigation of poppy crops, will supply the want to some extent.

22. I have given the Durbhunga report in full. It will explain how conclusions are reached. Mr. Price shows why he has no fears for Modhubani or Tajpore, and why he considers the south-eastern part of the sudder sub-division so badly off.

As I have said, I am surprised at the good accounts from Behar, continuous with Nowada, and subject to similar conditions. But Mr. Quinn is watching with great care.

Gya is both much the worst off of all the districts, and best known to me. Since I began to write this, I have had a letter from Mr. Grierson from Pakri Barwan in the extreme east. He says the country is in a much worse state than close about Nowada. There is much more land uncultivated.

The bad area of Gya is about 50 miles long from Atri in the sudder to Pakri Barwan in the east of Nowada by about 15 miles wide in the widest part. The bad piece from its irregular shape will have an area of about half such a rectangle.

A separate report containing proposals will be submitted in due course.

23. I recapitulate very shortly. The whole of the division is safe except the parts described below:—

1st.—The south-east of the sudder sub-division of Durbhunga, in which the late bhado was 10 annas, the winter rice is from 2 to 4 annas; rabi prospects are fair; stocks are very small; trade is very brisk; prices are moderate; root crops are good and not dear; water and fodder prospects are greatly better since the late rain, and there is no actual present distress.

2nd.—The Behar sub-division of the Patna district, where bhadoi was 6 annas, winter rice may be 5 annas, rabi 8 annas; opium will give much help. Stocks are low, about enough for two months. Fodder and water prospects were bad before the late rain.

3rd.—The Pakri Barwan and Nowada thanas of Nowada, and Atri of the sudder sub-division in the Gya district, where bhadoi was from 4 to 8 annas, winter rice almost a total failure—certainly under 2 annas; rabi prospects good; non-food staples are very useful; trade is very brisk; stocks are very low—about enough for one month; fodder prospects are bad; water is sufficient for all purposes, and the present condition of the people does not appear to be bad.

No. 2751R, dated Bhagulpore, the 3rd November 1884.

From—W. H. D'OYLEY, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the report called for in the Government famine circular No. 16T—R of the 7th October 1884.

2. The district officers of Monghyr and Purneah apprehend no distress or scarcity in their districts. Mr. Kean of Monghyr says that “I do not think there is any cause for anxiety regarding the food, water or fodder-supply, and I do not apprehend any want of employment for the labouring classes such as to call for the adoption of special measures.” Mr. Weekes, in writing of Purneah, says “I have little anxiety about any part of the district, none at all for the northern half, and only a little about parts of the south, about which I will report in more detail subsequently.”

3. I beg to append extracts from the reports received from Bhagulpore and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, giving the information required by Government regarding each sub-division. It will be seen that though the prospects in the former district are not bad, yet the Collector anticipates some pressure in certain parts, and thinks that relief works will have to be started. I think, however, that the assistance of Government will not be required.

4. The prospects in parts of the Sonthal Pergunnahs only are unfavourable, and Mr. Forbes' estimates of the prospects of his district can be safely accepted.

5. During the last week I visited the Begooserai and Jamui sub-divisions of Monghyr, and found that the late rains had improved prospects very much, and that the rubbi sowings had germinated, and the seedlings were strong and healthy; in both sub-divisions the bhadoi crop was an excellent one, and the prospects of the rubbi are as good as they could be. There were no signs of distress.

6. I regret I am unable to supply any information in connection with the district of Maldah, as, up to the time of my writing this letter, I have not received the Collector's report, though his special attention was drawn to the Government orders, and he was directed to submit his report so as to reach this office not later than the 28th ultimo. While in the Purneah district I observed that though a large proportion—about one-third—of the dhan lands had no dhan in them, they had been almost all ploughed and sown with mustard, wheat and other rubbi crops: these were coming up thick and well. I ascertained from the Collector that the part of the district he was anxious about was the portion near Munihari, opposite the Sahibgunge railway station. A Sub-Deputy Collector had been sent out, and reported that the people were in distress and had to be satisfied with one meal a day; that rice was selling at 10 seers per rupee. He did not report on the condition of the people, and probably placed too much faith in what they told him. I asked the Collector to visit this part of his district at once and submit a further report. The rice crops are moderately good; a few fields only here and there may not yield more than 2 annas; but I saw some very fine crops about 20 miles north of Purneah, which will probably yield 10 to 14 annas, while the average yield will be about 8 annas.

Extract from letter No. 1369R, dated the 29th ultimo, from the Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Pergunnahs, to the address of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs.

THE sub-divisional officers of Deoghur and Jamtara report the condition of their sub-divisions as regards crops, &c., to be normal, and that they do not anticipate any distress of any kind. They estimate the rice crop at a 12 anna one, and expect a good rubbi harvest; no more need therefore be said in regard to them. I may at the same time dismiss the Damin. The people there have reaped a bhadoi harvest such as has not been seen or heard of for many years. They will have a full 10 annas rice crop, and their rubbi prospects are excellent, and later on they will have the mohwa; and if with all these they are not well off, they never will be.

I now turn to Godda. The condition of this sub-division is perhaps the worst of the whole district. The bhadoi crop was a 12 annas one, and where rice has been sown the crop will probably be from a 6 to 8 annas one; but there is a very large area on which no rice at all was sown; and as they have now had three bad seasons, no matter how plentiful the rubbi harvest may prove to be, it will not enable them to withstand pressure. Agricultural stocks in Godda must of necessity be exceedingly low, and distress will probably begin to shew itself early here.

I should say that, taking the food and non-food rubbi crops together, the result to the ordinary cultivator would not add more than 3 annas to his food-supply; i.e. supposing his rice crop to be 8 annas, a bumper rubbi would raise his food-supply to the equivalent of 11 annas. The ordinary cultivator being in debt gets very little benefit from his non-food rubbi crops: they go either to his mahajan or to pay the rent.

The three pergunnahs in Godda where the largest area of fallow rice land is to be found are Barkop, Patsanda, and Munihari—Patsanda being the worst. The people of these tracts are now living on their bhadoi crops. They will have no rice when that is done, and will have to depend entirely on the rubbi. The poorer classes will probably anticipate this and borrow on it early—in fact as soon as their present bhadoi stock begins to fail them.

Rajmehal.—I have already dealt with Damin. The sub-divisional officer does not anticipate any real distress in the zemindari portion. I do not fully support him in this. I am inclined to think that the hot season will bring a good deal of distress of a more or less severe kind among the poorer classes. Stocks cannot be large even among the well-to-do, and a large number of the semi-agricultural semi-labouring classes have probably a very limited supply.

The rubbi in Rajmehal is certainly better, and a more important factor in adding to the food-supply than elsewhere in the district; but this applies, as a rule, I think, to just that class of fairly well-to-do cultivators with whom we need not concern ourselves; and notwithstanding the favourable view taken of the position by the sub-divisional officer, I am afraid that by April and May we shall find a considerable amount of distress, particularly in the south of the sub-division towards Pakour. It must be remembered that the greater the Bengali element in the villages, so the amount of bhadoi crop disappears. In the Damin jenara or makai is the staple food of the people; it is a most prolific crop, and the area sown is enormous. In the Bengali villages the area of land under makai diminishes gradually from the slopes of the hills till the plain or pure Bengali tract is reached, when it disappears almost entirely, and the place of the bhadoi in importance as a food-producing harvest is taken by the rubbi, but not to the same extent, as the mainstay of these people is of course the rice crop.

Next is Pakour, i.e. the zemindari portion. The sub-divisional officer estimates the last bhadoi as a full 16 annas crop. He estimates the winter rice at 8 annas all round with the exception of that portion of the sub-division, viz. pergunnah Ambar, which is subject to Gangetic floods, and in which a considerable amount of wheat is grown. The area of the rubbi crop is small and comparatively insignificant. The sub-divisional officer, while looking forward to favourable rubbi prospects, estimates its powers of staving off pressure at about a fortnight. This is probably a low estimate.

The Maharaja of Mohepore writes still more hopefully, and declares most emphatically that there will be no distress. I shall allude to this again in my general remarks.

Doomka.—Prospects in this large sub-division are somewhat uneven on the whole. I should say they were fair, and there is little call for anxiety. The bhadoi harvest has probably been a fairly full 16 annas crop all over.

The dhan or winter rice crop I should estimate all round at 8 annas, though there are tracts here and there, notably in Darhi Molessar and other tracts to the south-east bordering on Beerbhoom, where there is a considerable amount of fallow rice land; but the rubbi, if it continues to enjoy the same favourable weather it does now, should add certainly 4 annas to the food-supply.

The foregoing is based on the reports of the sub-divisional officers. I now take the general questions, and deal first with stocks.

I am of opinion that the great bulk of the agricultural population, have, or will have, sufficient stocks of food to last them if they are prudent, throughout the season. But the petty cultivators, and those who live chiefly by labour, have little or no stocks of their own, but as long as agricultural labour is to be had they will have no difficulty in meeting their daily wants. These remarks apply to the sub-divisions in the following order:—

Goḍḍa.		Rajmehal.
Pakour.		Doomka.

When agricultural operations are over, say about March, this class of the population will begin to feel distress which will increase in intensity somewhat rapidly owing to high prices. It must be remembered that prices have been abnormally high throughout the past year and looking at the fact that agricultural stocks are everywhere abnormally low, the probability is that when the real outturn of the winter rice comes to be ascertained, most agriculturists, looking ahead, will hold on, and prices, instead of falling as they usually do after the winter harvest, will rise and continue to rise as the season advances. The condition of the surrounding districts will also materially assist towards the raising of prices. It follows, then, that as agricultural labour slackens, those classes which are dependent on it, and whose limited means of purchasing food will be all the sooner exhausted on account of high prices, will have to turn to our works for relief. This probably will begin to shew itself appreciably about the end of March or the beginning of April. Until then I am of opinion that there will be no cause for anxiety of any kind. These remarks, however, do not apply to the large uncultivated tract I have spoken of as existing in the three northern pergunnahs of Goḍḍa here. I am afraid the pressure will begin to shew itself very much earlier, and the distress will be intensified and may take the shape of actual famine. Mr Grant, the sub-divisional officer, estimates the number of souls that will probably be affected at from 10,000 to 15,000, and these people will require assistance for nearly six months. Such are shortly the prospects of the crops as far as I am at present in a position to judge.

As regards water-supply, given three years' short rainfall and the water-level in the month of October some 60 to 80 per cent. lower than previous registration for 16 years had shewn it to be in that month when it should be at its highest, and I think it is prudent to assume that, as the dry season progresses and the water recedes still further, considerable difficulty, if nothing worse, in obtaining water is likely to arise. Of course it may be that there is a certain level below which the water never falls, but on this point I am not in a position to give an opinion. Many parts of the district suffered considerable inconvenience last year from want of water, notably along the chord line and about Rajmehal, and another year of short rainfall is not likely, I think, to improve matters.

Fodder.—None of the sub-divisional officers appear to anticipate any difficulty about fodder. I would note one fact. All the bamboo on the hills, and even here and there in the plains the common country bamboos, have all died this year, thus I believe indicating a want of moisture near the surface.

Extract from a letter No. 1257 G., dated the 29th ultimo, from the Collector of Bhagulpore, to the address of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs.

Soopole.—The outturn of bhadoi was 8 or 9 annas, that of winter rice is expected to be 8 annas, and the prospects of rubbi are very favourable. A large area in Soopole is sown with mustard and linseed, the prospects of which are good. These crops help considerably in enabling the ryots to pay their rents. The harvests of the year before were poor. Prices are high and large exports of grain were made during the year; there cannot therefore be large stocks in hand. It is believed, however, that there are sufficient to last two or three months, i.e. till the cutting of the winter rice. The tanks have not been well filled this year, but the people rely chiefly on wells, and water is to be found near the surface; there is therefore no anxiety under this head. There is no apprehension of failure of fodder. Prices are likely to be high till the next bhadoi harvest; and as the labouring classes have found it extremely difficult to get along during the past year, it is possible that work on a small scale will have to be found for them from March or April next.

Madhepoorah.—The conditions of Madhepoorah are much the same as those of Soopole, but the sub-divisional officer of Madhepoorah takes a more favourable view of the prospects of the year. He estimates the stock in hand at three to four months' supply, expects an 8 annas dhan crop, and does not apprehend any distress.

Sudder.—The outturn of the bhadoi crop was 12 annas; that of dhan is estimated at 8 annas, and there is every prospect of a magnificent rubbi harvest. There is no likelihood of any relief being necessary except perhaps in the tracts to the south of Ghogha and round Kherhi. The outturn of rubbi, castor, &c., along the Ganges and in Colgong should be very good indeed.

Banka.—The outturn of bhadoi was about 12 annas; that of dhan is estimated at not more than 6 annas. The prospects of rubbi are very good indeed. The country between the two roads which converge from the north at Bowsee and a tract east of the Belassi puddee have suffered most. During the last year food-grains were largely imported into the sub-division. The markets are apparently well supplied, but prices are very high (11 seers of rice per rupee). It is estimated that there are 4½ months' supplies in the sub-division. Oilseed and sugarcane are largely grown and will be of great assistance. No severe distress is expected, but the poorer cultivators, whose dhan happens to have failed, will probably feel some pressure until the rubbi harvest. When the rubbi sowings are over a month hence, the labouring-classes will be hard up for work. The dhan harvest will give some help, but not so much as usual, owing to the comparatively small amount of dhan grown. It is expected therefore that relief for the labouring classes will be required for a few months in the tracts indicated above. No deficiency in the supply of water or fodder is anticipated.

No. 2769R, dated Bhagulpore, the 4th November 1884.

From—W. H. D'O'RY, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

In continuation of my letter No. 2751R of yesterday's date, I have the honour to report that from the Maldah Collector's reply to the Government circular regarding the prospects of the crops, &c., received this day, it appears that in no place at present is severe distress prevailing. Should, however, the haimanti crop be a failure, the Collector fears that distress would be general, and that extensive relief operations would be necessary. There is, however, every reason to hope that there will be no such failure.

2. I annex an extract, paragraph 8 from the Collector's report, which shows the Collector's opinion as to the state of affairs in the Maldah thana, and it is only in that thana that pressure may be said to be somewhat severe. I would point out, however, that, although the Collector says that in pergunnah Shikarpore the people are in extreme distress, he states that the prospects of the rubbee are good, and that the late rain has improved the prospects of the haimanti rice crop. Relief measures have been provided for by the Road Cess Committee at the Shibgunge, Gomastapore, and Maldah stations; and at these places, as also at the Nawabgunge, Khurba, Tulsihatta and Bamangola stations, there will be a scarcity of water. Zemindars will be urged to deepen old tanks and dig new ones, and Mr. Porch has been requested to exert himself and use his influence in this direction as much as possible.

3. Extensive road works have been provided for, and these will give considerable relief. The rubbee crop is expected to give a good yield. The jute crop in Maldah has yielded from 12 to 16 annas.

Extract paragraph 8 from letter No. 931, dated the 2nd November 1884, from the Collector of Maldah to the address of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs.

"8. Maldah Station—(1.) Bhadoi was not sown in pergunnah Shikarpore. In the villages situated along the bank of the Mahanunda it was sown, and the outturn has been 10 annas on an average.

(2.) For want of water, only half the quantity of the lands culturable has been cultivated with haimanti this year. The rain that fell about a fortnight ago has done immense good to the plants cultivated in the low lands. The plants in the high lands, however, are withering away, and will be totally destroyed should there be no rainfall soon.

(3.) The rubbee crops have much benefited by the late rainfall. The prospect of these crops is good, but owing to the sudden rise of the river, some portion of the kalai and muttar sown on low lands has been destroyed.

(4.) Of non-food crops, only mulberry is cultivated here in a very small quantity of land.

(5.) The food-grains have been selling now at the following rates:—

Coarse rice	12	seer per rupee
Wheat	16	ditto.
Barley	16	ditto.
Makai	25	ditto.

(6.) There is very little food-grain now in store; only about one-eighth of the people have got it in their houses. This may be sufficient for two months' consumption. The remaining seven-eighths of the people have been supporting themselves by making purchases from the bazar.

(7.) Owing to the scanty rainfall for the last two or three years many of the tanks have already, or will soon be dried up. There is likely to be water famine at Bakail, Chitapore, Hoorbone and Gopalpore, in pergunnah Shikarpore. A tank may be excavated for the benefit of the people of these villages.

- (8.) The fodder for cattle will be sufficient.
- (9.) The people residing in purgunnah Shikarpore, especially those living in Nunbari and its vicinity, are in extreme distress. Relief measures have been found necessary in order to give employment and relief to local labour. Extensive road cess works have been provided by the District Road Cess Committee in the badly affected parts of this thana for local labourers."

No. T—C, dated Camp Hazaribagh, the 29th October 1884.

From—A. L. CLAY, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

WITH reference to your circular No. 16T—R, dated 7th instant, I beg to report that, after consulting all the district officers, and speaking from my own observation in parts of Lohardugga, Hazaribagh and Manbhoom, I am of opinion that there is no present cause for anxiety as regards the food, water or fodder supply of any district in this division.

2. The rainfall has certainly been deficient in some parts, especially in the west of the Manbhoom district towards Bankoora, and (as I am told) in the north towards the Jharkhand border. In many places the inferior (high-level) rice lands have either not been cultivated at all, or will produce a short crop. The loss in this respect has to a great extent been compensated by a full bhadoi crop, which would have suffered from the heavy rain that might have benefited the higher rice lands. The outturn of Indian-corn has been unusually good, and the plentiful supply of this grain has enabled the people to tide over the interval between the spring and winter crops, which might otherwise have been a time of some pressure. Without attempting to make any estimate (which would at best be little more than a guess) of the amount of stocks in hand, I should say there is plenty of food in the country to go on with till the winter harvest is gathered. The prospects of this have been further improved by the rain that has fallen within the last few days.

3. It is yet too early to speak of the rubbi crops, which also are not very important in this division. The condition and prospects of non-food staples such as lac, tusser, &c., are believed to be normal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S REPORT ON WARDS' AND ATTACHED ESTATES IN THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR 1883-84.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE

Calcutta, the 17th October 1884.

READ—

The Board's Report on Wards' and Attached Estates in the Lower Provinces for 1883-84.

The Board's Report has reached Government long after the prescribed date, the delay being attributable to the additional work imposed on local officers in connection with the Tenancy Bill. The delay in the submission of this Report was anticipated by Government, and is sufficiently explained.

2. The number of Wards' Estates under management during the year was 113, while the number of Attached Estates was 93. The former number was less by four, and the latter greater by two, than the corresponding numbers of the preceding year. The year opened with an arrear demand on account of rent and cesses, from both Wards' and Attached Estates together, of Rs. 57,26,136. The current demand for the year was Rs. 57,65,675, thus making a total demand of Rs. 1,14,91,811. Of this sum Rs. 53,73,690 were collected and Rs. 4,29,408 remitted. The outstanding balance was thus Rs. 56,80,615. This is a very large balance indeed, and the Board make some appropriate and important remarks on its character and origin which, as having an immediate bearing on the Tenancy Bill now under consideration, the Lieutenant-Governor will quote in extenso:—

“While one set of rates is entered as payable in the accounts, another rate is actually paid. The full rent which is entered in the zemindari books may be paid in the most favourable years, but as a rule a zemindar is willing to receive and be satisfied with a rental considerably below the amount of the full demand as shown on his books. The difference is debited to a hajul account, or it is merely shown as a balance against the ryot, or in some cases is kept alive by instalment bonds executed by the ryot. Almost every estate under the Court of Wards comes under its management, with large unrealizable balances, and it is found that even the current demand is not realizable in spite of all the exertions of the managing establishment. Year after year the percentage of collections from Wards' estates is less than the current demand. The result has generally been considered unsatisfactory, but no other result can be shown without oppressing and harassing the tenantry. It is no exaggeration to say that a fair and liberal zemindar does not collect more than 75 per cent. of his nominal rent-roll on an average of years. There is good reason for believing that in some of the eastern districts the average of late years has not exceeded 60 per cent.

“The Court of Wards has only on two occasions shown a general average from all its estates amounting to 100 per cent. But the superior organization of the Court's management, the influence which the authority of Government officials is able to exercise, and it may be added, the power of the certificate procedure for the recovery of arrears of rent, has enabled the Court of Wards to show far more favourable results than private proprietors would be able to do, and the average of collections is now rarely below 90 per cent. on the current demand.”

Briefly put, these remarks amount to a confession of excessive rentals; and not only so, but that in many places zemindars, conscious of the fact, are satisfied with a rental considerably below the full demand, but retain the difference against the ryot in a separate account as a mark of his perpetual servitude and bondage. In one case it is reported that the instalment bond to keep alive the debt extends over a period of 53 years. The Board's statements mean further that zemindars' rents are so exorbitant that large arrears must necessarily accrue, and that even the Court of Wards, with the great powers for recovering rents conferred on it by the Certificate Procedure, finds the rentals of the estates of which it takes charge so extravagantly high as to be realizable only in the most prosperous years. The Satkhira Wards' Estate, with a nominal rental of less than 8 lakhs, came under the Court's control a few years ago with 60 lakhs of irrecoverable arrears; while the Srinuggur Estate in Purneah, with a rental under 2½ lakhs which was taken charge of last year, shows irrecoverable arrears amounting to nearly 11 lakhs.

This aspect of the land question in Bengal was brought to the notice of the Government of India in paragraph 50 of the Lieutenant-Governor's Board of Revenue enforces, with great authority, the considerations urged by the Lieutenant-Governor in favour of limiting enhancements of rent. The remarks of the Board of Revenue, quoted above, come very opportunely as a forcible refutation of statements, persisted in notwithstanding repeated contradictions, that rentals in these provinces are usually moderate. The only true test of moderation in rents is the tenant's capacity to pay them, and yet live with comfort. Here we have it demonstrated from actual experience that in estates situated in various districts of Bengal and Behar, and therefore presumably typical of the condition of things in neighbouring zemindaries, rents are so high that they can only be fully realized in years of exceptional prosperity, notwithstanding the special measures of compulsion which the Board can under the Certificate Procedure put in force. If the Court of Wards, armed with the Certificate Procedure, cannot usually recover more than 90 per cent. of the current year's rent in those zemindaries of which it takes charge, the question naturally occurs whether punctuality of payment can be secured by any improved procedure with which Government can provide zemindars generally for the recovery of rent. The experience of the Court of Wards seems to show that the evil lies not so much in the procedure as in the excessive demand.

The Lieutenant-Governor is ready to admit that this feature of the agrarian difficulty is not universal throughout Bengal, and that there are parts of the country, where cultivators are few, in which the ryots can to a great extent make their own terms, while the demand of the zemindars must be limited. It may be accepted, however, that such cases are exceptional; and upon a general view of the province, the facts which the report of the Board of Revenue supplies present grave considerations which will not take those by surprise who have studied the Report of the Famine Commission. The statistics of production given in that Report for Bengal are, no doubt, only approximations to the truth. They make no claim to precision. Still they are entitled to attention as estimates based on the best available information, which moreover have been subjected to the scrutiny of a Commission of Experts. According to the Report of the Famine Commission, then, the soil of these provinces is estimated to yield a gross produce valued at 103½ millions sterling. If to that sum we add one-third as the value of dairy and miscellaneous produce, we get a total production valued at less than 140 millions sterling per annum for the support of 70 millions of people. Assuming ten millions for infants and persons who do not subsist in any way by agriculture, we still have 60 millions of people, each of whom would thus have no more than one anna per day to supply all wants and meet all claims. If the insignificant number of those who receive rents be deducted on the one hand, and on the other the large amount (probably not less than 20 millions sterling in one shape or other) received by them as rent, the condition of the vast mass of the agricultural population will stand forth as an even more unsatisfactory revelation. As has been observed, the statistics of production lay no great claim to precision, but they are at all events sufficiently correct to indicate the serious nature of the agrarian problem in Bengal which the Tenancy Bill seeks to mitigate, to establish beyond reasonable doubt the great poverty of the masses in these Provinces, and, so far, to confirm the inferences to be drawn from the experience of the Court of Wards.

4. The Board enter into explanations of the falling off in the percentage of collections, attributing the unfavourable result to the bad harvests, and to the fact of some estates with bad arrears and excessive rentals having recently come under management. Both reasons are admissible, and a prominent instance of the latter is furnished by the Srinuggur Estate in Purneah, to which allusion has just been made as coming under management with nearly 11 lakhs of irrecoverable arrears. Under such circumstances, it is impossible to secure a good percentage of collections on the nominal demand, and no blame can attach to the Board for the financial results that have been obtained. Financial results are not the only test of successful management, nor are they always a good test. If balances were properly revised, irrecoverable and bad debts struck off, and the demand adjusted to the ryot's true capacity to pay, then, indeed, financial results would be a good test of successful management. The revision of balances, and the adjustment of the demand to the ryot to pay, are no longer questionable matters. They are part of the settled policy of Government on this question, and it is satisfactory to find that the Board bear this in mind, though as yet no very great advance has been made in giving effect to it. It is recognised that careful examination and enquiry are needed before debts are remitted; still, as the Lieutenant-Governor said last year, it must not be forgotten that unrealizable arrears, not to speak of excessive rents, exercise a depressing effect upon the tenant, and make him a worse rent-payer than he would be if the demand on him were reasonable and equitable. Therefore the Board should not lose sight of the general policy that, wherever possible, they should push on those surveys, records of rights, and adjustments of rents, which had been begun some time ago. Such surveys, &c., are now in progress in 15 Wards' Estates where it was possible to prosecute them, and when the Tenancy Bill becomes law, and supplies settled principles and a clear procedure, the work can be accelerated.

In the Resolution on last year's Report, the Lieutenant-Governor referred with approval to the Board's views as to the duty of Managers of Wards' Estates in reference to the Certificate Procedure. The Board said that "a manager should not sit in his office and write out certificates by thousands, but should stir up his assistants to push on collections, and not until all reasonable means short of suits have failed should he have recourse to the certificate procedure." The Lieutenant-Governor fully concurred in that view; and to enable him to ascertain how far managers acted upon it, desired that the aggregate amount of rent, for which certificates are filed, should in future be reported to Government. The Board, complying with the Lieutenant-Governor's suggestion, now report that, during the year, 12,409 certificates have been filed for the recovery of Rs. 3,56,137. Having regard then to the extent of the demand as stated in paragraph 3 above, the Board appear to be warranted in saying that "the number of certificates filed is not sufficient to justify a conclusion that the procedure of the Public Demands Recovery Act is unduly resorted to by managers of estates generally."

5. The preceding remarks have dealt with the broad aspects of the year's administration regarding the debts due to the estates under management. A few words are now necessary regarding the liabilities of the estates and how they were discharged. The total liabilities amounted to Rs. 45,85,374, out of which Rs. 6,53,627 were paid and Rs. 16,943 reduced by compromise. The unpaid balance amounts, therefore, to Rs. 39,14,804, but nearly $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of this is disputed, while over $4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs are a nominal debt shown against the Port Canning Estate which Government has recently purchased. The Lieutenant-Governor is not dissatisfied with the general result, though he agrees with the Board in thinking that the increased balance of Government revenue due from the estates is an unsatisfactory feature in the returns. In Wards' Estates the balance is largest in the Presidency Division, and in Attached Estates in the Chota Nagpore Division. The Lieutenant-Governor expects that the next year's report will show an improvement under this head.

6. The management charges are still high in Rajshahye, but the general incidence of those charges, 10 per cent. on the current demand of rent and cesses, is not above what the Government has declared to be reasonable. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the Board have arranged with the Accountant-General for a periodic audit of the accounts of all the more important estates in the province. The maximum audit fee agreed upon, 6 annas per cent. of the current rent demand, seems fair.

7. To conclude this portion of the review of the Court's administration, it may be said that the year began with a cash balance of Rs. 17,78,237, and with investments valued at Rs. 21,05,030, and the receipts from all sources during the year were Rs. 62,69,133. The disbursements during the year were Rs. 62,90,102, and the year ended with a cash balance of Rs. 17,57,268, and with investments valued at Rs. 22,64,014. The changes which, during the year, occurred in the estates under management—some being released and others brought under control—prevent one set of figures agreeing with the other.

8. The Board give a brief, but sufficient, sketch of the history of the "Court of Wards' Fund," and the growth of the principle on which the system of rates to cover charges incurred in the Revenue offices on account of Wards' and Attached Estates is regulated. It is unnecessary to discuss the question here, or to say more than that under the orders of Government the recoveries from those estates are so adjusted as to cover the disbursements and leave only a nominal margin of difference.

9. The Board furnish the following statement and comments on the expenditure incurred on works of improvement during the year. The question of landlords' improvements has been now thoroughly discussed in connection with the Tenancy Bill, and the principles which the Lieutenant-Governor hopes to see accepted are such as will in future years justify a substantial outlay in all Wards' and Attached Estates. During the year under review the Board seem to have done as much as the unsettled state of the law and the executive agency at their disposal enabled them to do:—

DIVISIONS.	Subscriptions and donations to schools.	Subscriptions and donations to dispensaries.	Maintenance in efficient condition of estates, buildings, and other immoveable property.	Improvement of land and property, and benefit of ward.

"The contributions in aid of schools and dispensaries have increased from Rs. 34,478 and Rs. 16,252 to Rs. 39,989 and Rs. 19,445 respectively. The large expenditure in the Patna Division on account of schools is due to the contribution made by the Sasseram endowment towards supporting the local Madrassa. The disbursements for maintaining in efficient condition estates, buildings, and other immoveable property has decreased from Rs. 1,23,593 to Rs. 90,431. The expenditure in 1882-83 was augmented by an outlay of Rs. 40,000 on the construction and repairs of buildings in the Chota Nagpore Division. As anticipated in last year's report, a much larger expenditure has been incurred on land improvement and in works designed for the benefit of the tenantry. The increase from Rs. 72,576 to Rs. 1,20,493 is distributed through all the divisions, the only observable diminution being in the Rajshahye Division, where it is due to the release during the year of the Chaklajat Estate.

"The policy of spending money on improvements was fully discussed in last year's report, and the Government expressed its approval of the Board's remarks on the subject. In one particular only a modification has been introduced by the Government of India into the instructions already issued, and in accordance therewith the Board have directed that the rule enjoining managers to endeavour to make such arrangements as may be fair with the tenants before the work is undertaken should be rescinded, and that instead of so doing managers should consider and deal with each case on its own merits."

10. The Board devote their 19th paragraph to the question of the education of the minors under their charge. The information furnished is in each case satisfactory so far as it goes. Three minors—the Kumar of Nuddca, the Maharajah of Chota Nagpore, and his brother—are under the care of English tutors, and are making favourable progress. Miss Courjon, the proprietress of a valuable estate in Noakholly, is now in France with her uncle and guardian, M. Eugene Courjon. The other minors are either being instructed in zemindari management, having finished their education, or are attending colleges or schools. The education and training of wards of Court is a question which the Lieutenant-Governor had hoped before now to consider separately. More urgent business, however, has prevented this hitherto, but he hopes for a suitable opportunity to discuss the matter with the Board.

11. The following summary notices the chief points of interest in the detailed divisional reports:—

Burdwan Division.—The current demand of rent and cesses due to the estates under the Court of Wards in this division amounted to Rs. 9,72,52 and the arrear demand to Rs. 11,24,355, making a total of Rs. 20,96,881. The rent and cesses due from the estates were Rs. 1,01,049 and Rs. 50,902, which Rs. 17,276 and Rs. 4,824 respectively were left unpaid. The collections amounted to Rs. 9,02,941, or 92 per cent. on the current demand, against 91 per cent. of the preceding year, and Rs. 77,063 were remitted. The balance outstanding at the end of the year of report was Rs. 11,16,948, of which Rs. 4,36,322 were due to the Mysadul estate, which was released on the 1st April 1884, and Rs. 4,60,288 (out of which so much as Rs. 3,57,054 are doubtful debts) to the Sultangacha estate. The debts due by the estates were reduced to the extent of Rs. 1,39,192, the balance thus standing at the year's close at Rs. 4,94,794. Rupees 4,596 were given in aid to schools, Rs. 6,039 to dispensaries, Rs. 23,546 to repairs of buildings, and Rs. 22,853 to works of improvement. The cost of management amounted to Rs. 1,25,951, or 12 per cent. on the current rent and cess demand. The condition of the ryots was not satisfactory in any of the estates; the early cessation of the rains led to a considerable failure of crops, and it was only the well-to-do among the tenants who were able to meet the rent demand in full.

Collections of rent in the Chowghoria estate have slightly improved. Owing to the scattered nature of its lands, some of which are aymas held ijmali with other persons, the management of this estate presents difficulty. The Jhargram estate's debt (Rs. 1,11,049) was reduced to the extent of Rs. 21,277 during the past year, and its income from the sale of timber is increasing. The minor, who is now 18 years of age, should be initiated into the practice of zemindari management. The Mysadul estate, which was under the Court of Wards for about six years, from 1878, was released on the 1st April 1884, on the eldest Ward coming of age. During this short period the income of the estate increased, without any enhancement of rent rates, by Rs. 60,948. From the surplus funds a three annas share in the Tumlook zemindari, with an income of Rs. 36,479, was purchased, a considerable portion of the ijara mehals brought under khas management and a saving of Rs. 15,253 effected on account of the collection charges granted to the ijaradars. Assessment of excess lands in the possession of leaseholders and the reclamation of waste lands contributed to the increase noticed above. The average cost of management was 9·8 per cent. on the collections of rent and cesses. The financial position of the estate is therefore satisfactory. Rupees 4,21,158 were invested in purchase of Government securities, a share of the Tumlook zemindari and other lands. The ryots are fairly prosperous and on good terms with the proprietors and their agents and servants. Attention was also paid to the education of the proprietors.

12. Presidency Division.—During the year under review there were 25 estates (18 wards, 5 attached, and 2 trust estates) under management in this division. Two small Wards' estates (Choa and Cossim Bazar), and one attached estate (the Port Canning Municipal estate) were released during the year. As in the previous year, no returns were received from Narail. The current demand for rent and cesses due to the remaining estates amounted to Rs. 16,96,861, and the arrear demand to Rs. 14,58,779. The collections amounted to Rs. 15,36,578, or 90 per cent. on the current demand, against 99 per cent. in the previous year, the decrease being chiefly marked in the Satkhira estate. The remissions amounted to Rs. 1,93,194, of which Rs. 1,73,960 were granted in the Cossim Bazar estate alone. Of the outstanding balance of Rs. 14,25,878, more than half was due to the Satkhira and Cossim Bazar estates alone. The total management charges were Rs. 1,30,171, or 7 per cent. on the current rent and cess demand. Debts were paid to the extent of Rs. 1,04,703, the balances still left unpaid by the estates standing at the year's end at Rs. 8,76,527. Of this, however, Rs. 4,61,679, due from the Port Canning Municipal estate, are only nominal, as the estate has been bought in by Government in a civil court sale in execution of a decree for the debt due to Government.

The expenditure for the support of schools and dispensaries amounted to Rs. 8,714 and Rs. 2,832, and for works of improvement to Rs. 46,594.

The Port Canning Municipal estate will henceforth be borne on the Collector's register of revenue-paying lands, as it has ceased to be treated as an attached estate. The Orphangunge market of Kidderpore is now managed as a trust estate under the control of the Board of Revenue; but as the Accountant-General has raised objection to this procedure, the Board have recommended that the estate should be excluded from the list of trust estates, and be exempted from the special rates levied on trust estates for audit of accounts, &c. This would in fact be to deal with the estate in all respects as a Government estate. Its assets are Rs. 46,581 a year on account of rents, &c., with a cash balance of Rs. 3,15,150 at the beginning of the year under report.

The Nuddea Ward's estate, with a current demand of Rs. 1,61,316 (rent and cesses), showed a falling off in the collections of rent (96 per cent. against 108 per cent. during the previous year), owing to default made by the putnidars. The cost of management was 6 per cent. only on the current demand. The expenditure, including Rs. 16,000 for the purchase of a house, Rs. 9,568 invested in Government securities, Rs. 8,650 spent in repairing the archways leading to the Rajbari and other minor charges, amounted to Rs. 1,94,218, and left a cash balance of Rs. 14,689. In their last report the Board drew the Lieutenant-Governor's attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the ryots in the Nuddea estates, and accordingly special enquiries were instituted to ascertain the cause of, and the remedy for, the state of things said to exist. The result of the enquiry seemed to show that the previous reports were inaccurate, and that in point of fact the ryots were better off than ryots in neighbouring estates. Such contradictory reports on a matter which should not admit of any doubt in the first instance call for further enquiry and explanation. The estate is under the charge of Baboo Kartick Chunder Roy, an old and faithful servant of the Rajah's family, of whose kindly disposition towards the tenantry there can be no doubt. His present account of the condition of the ryots is far from satisfactory. The matter will be dealt with separately. The minor owner of this estate is at Berhampore under the tuition and care of Mr. Oswell. He has made fair progress in his studies, and is preparing for the Entrance Examination.

There are some peculiar difficulties in the management of the Narail estate, a portion of which is held entirely by the minors, the remainder being held jointly with the other shareholders. The management is said to have slightly improved during the year under report, but the accounts are still most complicated and voluminous. From the report received, it is hoped that the present manager will be able shortly to bring up to date the back accounts of the minor's separate estate. As regards the joint estate, the manager finds great difficulty in procuring information from the servants, who are not under his control. The Wards were removed from the Hare School in Calcutta to the school at Narail. The elder Ward, who is now approaching his majority, is stated to pay little attention to his studies, but some effort should be made to give him instruction in zemindari management. The younger Ward is reported to be making good progress. In the Nashipore Māl estate, which has a current demand of Rs. 2,86,919, the collections amounted to 98 per cent. and the cost of management to only 2 per cent. on the current demand. The minor passed the Entrance Examination, and is preparing for the First Arts Examination. He is also learning zemindari business in the manager's office. In the Nashipore Debutter estate (with a current demand of Rs. 1,07,676) the collections amounted to 103 per cent. against 95 per cent. in the previous year. The Cossim Bazar (Gopal Kristo Roy's) and Choa estates of Moorshedabad, which remained under the Court of Wards for 16 and 13 years respectively, were released in a solvent condition during the year on the Wards attaining their majority. The Cossim Bazar estate of Ashutosh Nath Roy possesses a rental of Rs. 2,94,259, the revenue rent and cess demand on it being less than a lakh. The arrear demand for rent, however, amounted to Rs. 5,06,498. The collections during the year aggregated Rs. 3,20,960, or 109 per cent. on the current rent and cess demand, against 97 per cent. in the previous year. The remissions amounted to Rs. 1,68,538, due from the late proprietor's time. The arrear balance stood at Rs. 3,11,259 at the close of the year, the larger portion consisting of good debts under realization. Some progress was also made in recovering debts due to the estate, and a sum of Rs. 1,06,050 was invested in Government securities, the total value of which, at the close of the year, amounted to Rs. 1,56,946 besides a cash balance of Rs. 1,55,551. The chief work done by the manager during the year was the adjustment of arrear balances. Questionable demands on the part of the estate for nazarana, assessment of rent-free land, &c., were for the most part cleared off, and the little which still remained will be wiped off very soon. These proceedings have established better feelings between the ryots and the management of the estate.

The Lieutenant-Governor notes that, notwithstanding numerous impediments in the way of working this estate, much good has been done.

In the Satkhira estate the current demand was Rs. 3,58,792 and arrear Rs. 4,27,326. The collections amounted to Rs. 2,19,696, or 61 per cent. on the current demand against 88 per cent. of the previous year. There was some increase in the debts due by the estate; but the debts due to the estate were somewhat reduced. The administration of the estate during the year has not been satisfactory. From the facts disclosed it appears that the estate has been greatly mismanaged owing to systematic neglect on the part of the late manager in all departments, and immediate steps should be taken to carry out the enquiries ordered by the Board with a view to establishing a better system. The Wards are students of the Hindu School in Calcutta.

In the Syudpore estate, the management of which has been transferred from Jessore to Khoolna, the collections of rents and cesses due to the estate were 90 and 93 per cent. on the current demands respectively, against 102 and 100 per cent. in the previous year. The total receipts were Rs. 2,36,930 and the disbursements Rs. 1,82,374.

13. Rajshahye Division.—There were 18 estates under management, of which three (Kalindrapore, Mainam and Chaklajat) were released and one (Dighaputtea) was taken in charge during the year. The current (Rs. 5,96,609) and arrear (Rs. 4,59,039) demand of rent and cesses due to the estates amounted to Rs. 10,55,648, of which Rs. 5,20,259, or 87 per cent. on the current demand, were collected during the year against 99 per cent. in the previous year. The decrease was mainly due to short collections in the Chaklajat estate for the last six months before its release. The remissions amounted to Rs. 35,868, of which Rs. 15,811 were granted in the Chooramun estate. The balance was Rs. 5,06,168, of which Rs. 2,69,343 and Rs. 65,950 were due to the Chaklajat and Sunkerpore estates respectively. Excluding cost of repairing buildings, survey and settlement charges, the cost of management was Rs. 96,385, or 16 per cent. on the current demand of rent and cesses. The debts due by the estates were reduced by Rs. 6,846, leaving a balance of Rs. 25,407, of which Rs. 13,090 represent disputed claims. The expenditure on account of schools was Rs. 3,761, dispensaries Rs. 5,256, buildings Rs. 6,985, and works of improvement Rs. 9,415. The total receipts, including the balance (Rs. 1,80,498) of the previous year, amounted to Rs. 8,24,039, of which Rs. 6,71,190 were expended; Rs. 58,144 were invested in Government securities, the total value of which was thus raised to Rs. 3,79,563. The general condition of the tenantry on the Dinagepore estates is said to be one of prosperity. The ryots of the Rajshahye estates suffered from the year's scanty rainfall.

The Kalindrapore estate, which was placed in charge of the Collector in August 1872, by the Judge of Dinagepore, on account of the lunacy of the proprietor Girish Chunder Singh, and was released in July 1883 on his complete recovery, was at first held khass till 1878-79, and was then farmed out up to 1882-83 when it was again brought under khass management. During the 11 years the property was in charge of Government, the demands were regularly met, debts paid up, the rental increased from Rs. 5,798 to Rs. 7,315 by the settlement and reclamation of waste lands, and the relations between the landlord and the tenants were satisfactory. The percentage of collections on the current demand in the Sunkerpore estate was 85·6, but it was really 99 per cent. on the actual demand of Rs. 54,204, if what is called the "hajut" balance be excluded. The "hajut" system of land tenure is one involving the suspension of the demand in bad seasons and its recovery when things improve. The "hajut" portion of the demands, collections, and balances were never shown in any return submitted to the Collector. It was thus open to the manager and his subordinates to collect as much or as little as they pleased of the balances. Towards the close of the year, the manager of this estate was, owing to misconduct, removed from his appointment. Some efforts at agricultural improvements were made in the Chooramon, Chowgong and Burdhankotee estates, but neither in connection with these estates nor with the Sumbulpore, Haripore, Lahirpore, and Mainam estates is there any information furnished by the report that need be summarized here.

The Chaklajat estate in Julpigoree, belonging to the Maharajah of Cooch Behar, was under the Court of Wards from April 1872 to October 1883.

During this period the rent demand increased from Rs. 2,66,136 to Rs. 3,05,440, and the arrear demand was reduced from Rs. 4,41,538 to Rs. 2,11,525. Rupees 3,17,680 were remitted on account of rent. Much of this represented amounts which, after collection from the ryots, had been embezzled by naibs, tehsildars and other collecting agents before the estate came under the management of the Court of Wards. During the administration of the Court, the net surplus assets amounted to Rs. 7,10,948, of which Rs. 3,65,314 were remitted to Cooch Behar, Rs. 2,74,472 were invested in Government securities, and the remainder was placed in the Lloyd's Bank at Darjeeling, and in the hands of the manager and the Deputy Commissioner. Rupees 58,368 were spent on works of improvement and utility, Rs. 47,177 on education, and Rs. 16,082 in affording medical relief. The condition of the ryots is comparatively much better than that of their brethren in other parts of Bengal. The rents are low, lands generally fertile, and the tenants enjoy much larger profits than the ryots of other landlords. The relations between them and the landlord are, on the whole, satisfactory. The whole estate was surveyed and measured at a cost of Rs. 2,60,398, and the total increase obtained by resettlement of tenures at enhanced rents was Rs. 36,981, to which a further addition of Rs. 10,000 may be made by the resettlement of such tenures as could not be settled by the Court of Wards before its release. The enhancement was brought about amicably and without any complaint of injustice or overassessment.

14. Dacca Division.—There were 18 estates under management, three of which were released during the year under report. The collections of rent and cesses due to these estates amounted to only Rs. 3,34,238, or 84 per cent. on the current demand of Rs. 3,96,625, against 85 per cent. in the previous year. The balance was Rs. 4,21,434, of which Rs. 2,45,232 and Rs. 90,978 were respectively due to the Dhankoorah estate and the estate of Jagat Kishore Acharjya. The management charges were low—8 per cent. on the current demand. Judging by financial results the management was not successful.

The Dhankoorah estate, consisting largely of waste lands, situated in the districts of Dacca, Mymensingh, and Tipperah, is under the management of the Collector of Dacca. The total demand due to the estate is Rs. 1,29,821, which, after defraying the recurring charges, leaves a net balance of Rs. 55,805. When the estate was taken charge of in 1882 the accounts were in great disorder, and no great progress has yet been made in reducing them to order. It is to be hoped that the new manager Baboo Durga Kanto Chowdhery will be able to effect an improvement and to push on collections. The debts due to this estate amounted to Rs. 2,69,578, of which Rs. 8,212 have been recovered, and of the balance of Rs. 2,61,366, so much as Rs. 2,42,591 are said to be irrecoverable or doubtful of recovery. The debts due by the estate amounted to Rs. 2,14,119, of which Rs. 30,665 have been paid, and of the balance, about a lakh of rupees will have to be paid after the accounts of the old amlah have been adjusted. The year closed with a cash balance of Rs. 37,371. The two minors are making good progress in the Dacca Collegiate School under the superintendence of a tutor at home.

The attached estate of Nabadurga Debya, which, owing to quarrels between the owners, has been under management for 36 years, is the largest and the best managed of all in Backergunge. The collections were 116 per cent. of the current demand. There is now some hope that it will be soon possible for the Court to withdraw from the management.

The estate of Jagatkishore Acharjya, with a current demand of Rs. 1,88,321, is perhaps the most important one in the division. The collections of rent and cess were very unsatisfactory, being 86 and 66 per cent. on the current demand of each. The debts due from the estate were reduced from Rs. 3,43,514 to Rs. 3,04,844. The cost of management was Rs. 10,259, or 5 per cent. on the current rent and cess demand. The minor will attain his majority in November next, when the estate will be released from the control of the Court of Wards.

15. Chittagong Division.—Thirteen estates were under management in this division. The collections were Rs. 4,15,669, or 108 per cent. on a current demand of Rs. 5,92,161 due to the estates, the percentage of the previous year being 96. The management charges were 10 per cent. on the current demand.

The debts due by the estates were reduced from Rs. 71,446 to Rs. 66,637. Rupees 4,996 were laid out in works of improvement. The condition of the tenantry was prosperous throughout the year. The progress of the Wards at school was, however, unsatisfactory.

In the estate of Fuzl Ali Khan, 122 per cent. of the current demand of rent and cesses was collected, and, after paying the usual charges, the cash balance stood at Rs. 98,843, the greater part of which will shortly be invested in Government securities. Great confusion prevailed in the estate owing to the absence of a proper rent-roll and other accounts. A complete survey and record of rights has been sanctioned. The relations between the widow of the late proprietor and the revenue authorities continue somewhat strained, and the manager has been instructed to avoid all interference with her. The minor is at the Chittagong Madrassa, and is reported to be an intelligent and promising child.

The Courjon estate showed good results, and the condition of the tenants was satisfactory. The financial position of the Basharut Ali Chowdhuri's estate is satisfactory.

16. Patna Division.—None of the eight estates under management in this division are of great importance, except the Narhan estate in the Durbhunga district, which has a rent and cess demand of Rs. 1,75,542. The total demand of rent and cesses due to all the estates amounted to Rs. 3,79,976, of which Rs. 2,59,227, or 90 per cent. on the current demand of Rs. 2,86,917, were collected during the year, against 99 per cent. in the preceding year. The decrease was due to the partial failure of the crops. The charges of management were more than 13 per cent. on the current demand—a result due partly to the substitution of direct management for farming.

In the Narhan estate the collections of rent, however, fell from 98 per cent. in the previous year to 91 in the year under report, owing to the partial failure of the late crops. Of the cess demand, 99 per cent. were collected. The rental was slightly increased by effecting direct settlement with ryots. But the relations between the manager and the tenants of some of the villages are in consequence said to be strained. In other villages no friction is said to exist. In connection with these enhancements in the Narhan estate, the Lieutenant-Governor requests that a special report may be submitted giving the facts in all necessary detail.

17. Bhagulpore Division.—Of the 13 estates under management in this division, one (Surjapore) was released in November 1883. Of the current demand of rent and cesses due to the estate, amounting to Rs. 6,15,479 and an arrear demand of Rs. 16,14,692, Rs. 5,92,373, or 96 per cent. on the current demand, were collected during the year against 105 per cent. in the previous year. The collections in five estates only rose above 100 per cent.; in the rest they were not satisfactory. The balance at the close of the year was Rs. 15,90,752, of which Rs. 14,96,816 belonged to the Srinagor estate, being mostly irrecoverable arrears from the time of the old proprietor. Steps should at once be taken to recommend for remission those balances which are found irrecoverable. The cost of management was Rs. 95,753, or 15 per cent. on the current demand. Rupees 1,09,793 were paid in liquidation of debts (Rs. 3,48,589) due by the estates, of which two (Lalpore and Malpa) are hopelessly involved, and endeavours are being made to sell portions of them to clear as much as possible of their debts, or to give up the management. Rupees 12,972 were spent on works of improvement.

The Phulberia estate is heavily indebted, and a portion of it must be sold to clear off its debts. The minor proprietors of this and of the Chauthan and Malpa estates made fair progress in their studies during the year. The Shahpur, Lagma, and Lalpore Patori estates suffered much from the early cessation of the rains; the crops fell below the average, and collections were consequently short. Some relief was given to the distressed tenants by employing them in digging drains and erecting embankments. In the worst localities half the demand was suspended.

The Surjapore estate, said to be the finest in Purneah, was under the Court of Wards from March 1874 to November 1883. During this period 93·7 per cent. of a total demand of Rs. 18,83,725 were realised by an establishment costing 4·1 per cent. A heavy debt of Rs. 12,67,948 was paid off, and Government securities for Rs. 44,730 and a cash balance of Rs. 26,421 were made over to the proprietors. This result is stated to have been secured without selling any portion of the property or enhancing rents. The increase in the profits is stated to be due to efficient management, settlement of waste lands and the introduction of new ryots to extend cultivation. It is noted that a successful agricultural exhibition was held at Kissengunge in January 1883, in which the ryots of this estate took a prominent interest.

The Srinagor estate, also a large one in Purneah and the neighbouring districts, has a total rent and cess demand of Rs. 2,77,709, which, after payment of all charges, leaves a net balance of more than a lakh of rupees. The cost of management was 11 per cent. on the current demand for the year under report. The estate is held jointly in equal shares with the Buneli Raj. The collections of rents and cesses were 87 and 56 per cent. respectively. These unsatisfactory results were due to deficiency of crops in some parts of the estate.

The management of the Chanchal estate, under Mr. H. Reily, was satisfactory. The collections exceeded 100 per cent., and much work of improvement and utility was undertaken. A survey and settlement of the estate has been completed, and the tenants are in a fairly prosperous condition. The success of the manager in securing a proper settlement of all disputes regarding the classifying or rating of lands by village punchayats deserves special notice, as confirming the views on the subject which the Lieutenant-Governor has recently expressed in his report on the Rent Bill.

18. Orissa Division.—Of the ten estates under management, two (Panimando and Chuck Salim) were released during the year. Of the total demand of Rs. 2,18,139, Rs. 1,59,259, or 102 per cent. on the current demand of Rs. 1,55,129, were collected, against 109 per cent. in the previous year. The management charges were 10 per cent. on the current demand. Rupees 9,486 were spent on works of improvement, besides contributions of Rs. 1,725 and Rs. 594 to schools and dispensaries respectively. The balance at the end of the year was Rs. 1,24,832 in cash and Rs. 32,388 in Government securities. The ryots on the whole were tolerably comfortable; though there was some loss of crops there was no distress; and the relations between the tenants and the collecting agency continue satisfactory.

The results of the management of the Kanika estate were good, though a little less so than in the previous year. The collections in the Panimando and Sukinda estates (89 and 77 per cent.) were not satisfactory. A survey and settlement of the Sukinda estate is in progress, and, when completed, may be expected to afford facilities for better management.

19. Chota Nagpore Division.—Of the ten estates under management, one (Dhalbhoom) was released and one (Begoon Koodar) was taken charge of during the year. The current rent and cess demand was Rs. 3,79,279, and the arrears amounted to Rs. 2,21,650, of which 105 per cent. were collected during the year against 93 per cent. in the previous year. The debts due by the estates (Rs. 1,49,133) were reduced by Rs. 23,678. The cost of management amounted to Rs. 40,738, or 10 per cent. on the current demand. The Government securities belonging to the estates amounted to Rs. 4,51,324, of which the greater part belonged to the Chota Nagpore and Dhalbhoom estates.

The rental of the Dhanwar estate was very considerably raised by the recent resettlements, and a revision of these settlements has been ordered. The collections were only 77 per cent. on the current demand, owing to failure of crops and delay in concluding settlements which are now under revision. A survey and settlement will soon be made in the Serampore estate. The collections in the Chota Nagpore estate amounted to (rents) 116 and (cesses) 122 per cent. on the current demand, against 94 and 77 per cent. in the previous year. The cost of management was 11 per cent. against 10 per cent. in the previous year. Arrangements are being made for erecting a suitable residence for the minor. The survey operations in the estate have been completed. The Dhalbhoom estate has been released to the owner in a good condition. Its finances, its tenantry, and its agriculture made satisfactory progress under the management of the Court of Wards.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MacDONNELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

ANNUAL GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION, 1883-84.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 15th November 1884.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Chota Nagpore Division for the year 1883-84.

The report is submitted by Mr. Hewitt, who was in charge of the Division throughout the year.

2. Tours.—The Commissioner's tour extended over parts of the three districts of Hazaribagh, Lohardugga and Manbhoom, and the Tributary State of Sirgoojah, where a special police force was employed in arresting, after much trouble, a number of Korwa dacoits who had plundered and burned many villages during the previous six months. Mr. Hewitt enquired into several local questions of importance during the course of his tour, and this portion of his report gives an interesting account of the rapid extension of cultivation and consequent destruction of forest which has taken place in the Division during the last twenty years. Tours of sufficient length and thoroughness, ranging from 93 days in Hazaribagh to 122 days in Manbhoom, were made by the district officers. Specially useful work was done by the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga in re-aligning a number of district roads which will serve as feeders to the recently sanctioned Bengal-Nagpore Railway. The tours of the two officers in charge of the Govindpore sub-division were insufficient, but this is explained by ill-health.

3. Weather and the Crops.—In all districts except Manbhoom the rainfall was deficient in quantity, and throughout the Division excessive rain in July and August damaged the bhadoi crop, while the winter rice suffered for want of rain in September and October. Towards the close of the rains a large portion of the crop was saved by irrigation from artificial reservoirs, and it is hoped that this experience will give an impetus to the construction of these useful works. Should the Tenancy Bill be extended to Chota Nagpore, the provisions regarding improvements will operate most beneficially in a country where the extreme rapidity of surface drainage renders cultivation peculiarly dependent upon appliances for storing and distributing water. There is reason to believe that the action of the zemindars and petty tenure-holders in enhancing rents, and opposing fixity of tenure during the last twenty years, has had the effect of deterring the cultivators not only from constructing new reservoirs, but from repairing the old ones which were made in times when titles were less jealously enquired into.

4. Public health and material condition of the people.—The total recorded mortality was slightly less than in the previous year in all districts except Hazaribagh, where the increase is attributed to more accurate registration. Cholera showed itself in an epidemic form in parts of Hazaribagh and Palamow, and along the Grand Trunk Road in Manbhoom. Deaths from small-pox declined everywhere except in Hazaribagh, where the mortality rose from 127 to 405. Vaccination was carried on by a salaried Government agency in Lohardugga and parts of Singhbhoom, and by licensed vaccinators in the rest of the Division and in four of the Tributary States. It is stated that 143,360 operations were performed during the year, of which 131,825, or nearly 92 per cent., proved successful. Considering the weakness of the superior staff in relation to the large area over which the operations extend, the Lieutenant-Governor entertains some doubt as to the accuracy of the statistics of successful operations, and the Commissioner should ascertain how, and to what extent, the returns of the vaccinators are actually checked. It is not clear under what authority the fees for vaccination have been remitted in the Kolhan, and why salaried vaccinators are employed in Lohardugga. On the former point it is observed that the remarks contained in paragraph 4 of the Resolution on the Report for 1881-82 were merely provisional, and did not convey a definite order for the remission of fees. These points require the Commissioner's attention.

Owing to the partial failure of the main rice crop, the material condition of the people has fallen for the time being below its usual standard of prosperity; but there are no grounds for supposing that this decline is likely to be permanent. Spare land is everywhere abundant, communications are improving, and the people themselves are ready to seek work wherever labour is in demand.

5. Emigration and Immigration.—The number of registered emigrants rose from 6,738 to 13,383 in consequence, it is stated, of the short harvest and high prices. These statistics, however, do not include persons who left the Division as free emigrants—a system which shows every sign of entirely replacing that under which emigrants are registered before leaving the districts where they live. The whole question of the development of free emigration has recently been considered by the Lieutenant-Governor in dealing with the Report on Inland Emigration for 1883, and certain special instances, in which the system has been abused, are still under enquiry. For the present, it is sufficient to remark that the Bengal-Nagpore Railway will probably, while under construction, absorb a large proportion of the labourers who now emigrate to Assam, while, when it is completed, it will open fresh areas of labour-supply and materially facilitate the unassisted emigration to which the people naturally incline.

6. Prices of food and labour.—The partial failure of the crops and the strong demand from neighbouring districts where the failure had been more marked raised the average price of common rice by from four to seven and a half seers in the rupee as compared with the average price of the previous year. The fluctuations in the price of wheat are immaterial, as at present only a small quantity is produced or consumed in the Division. Wages of unskilled labour are said to have risen slightly in the neighbourhood of tea gardens in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga, and to have fallen in parts of Manbhoom owing to “the dearness of provisions and consequent distress among the labouring classes.” This latter remark apparently refers to money wages only, and the fact, even if correctly reported, is of slight importance in a district where unskilled labourers are for the most part employed in agriculture and are invariably paid in kind.

7. Manufactures and Mines.—The existing manufactures of Chota Nagpore are of the coarsest character. Raw material indeed is not wanting, and labour, though rough and unintelligent, is cheap. Everywhere the jungles yield lac and tusser silk, and in some parts of the Division, notably at Burrakur and in the neighbourhood of Balamath in Hazaribagh, the relative distribution of iron-ore, limestone and coal seems peculiarly favourable for smelting operations on a large scale. Large quantities of serviceable iron are produced by rough indigenous processes, but so far defective communications and the want of any permanent demand have deterred capitalists from attempting any active development of the existing resources. Mr. Hewitt’s prediction that the Division is destined to be the centre of large manufacturing industries has much to support it in the natural wealth of the country and the results obtained in the Barakur iron works; but it remains for the present a distant prospect. If any forecast of the kind can now be legitimately attempted, it may perhaps be surmised that the opening out of the country by railways may ultimately lead to the production of iron locally cheaper than it can be imported from England. But the very cause which will render iron manufacture possible, will in all probability be fatal to tusser and lac. Both of these manufactures depend for their raw material upon the forests, and although it may be the case that the railways now projected will open fresh sources of supply, there can be little doubt that within a few years the growth of population will lead to the denudation of forests on so large a scale that neither lac nor tusser will be procurable in sufficient quantities to supply large factories.

It is at present uncertain to what extent the extension of railways in Chota Nagpore will cause new coal-fields to be resorted to. The Bengal-Nagpore Railway, on which work has recently been commenced, will pass within twelve miles of the Jheria coal-field in Manbhoom, and will traverse a portion of the Hingir field in the Tributary State of Gangpur. But the Jheria field is cut off from the line by the river Damodar, and the quality of the Hingir coal has not yet been fully ascertained. The Benares-Cuttack line would open out the Palamow coal-fields, and if the route by the Damodar valley is adopted, would pass within a moderate distance of the valuable coal-fields of the Karanpura valley in Hazaribagh. Mr. Hewitt thinks that the Jheria coal-field "will no doubt be developed" by the Bengal-Nagpore Railway, and this notwithstanding the extensive operations in the collieries which lie on either side of the line near Sitarampore.

8. Tea.—The statistics furnished by the Commissioner do not show the number of gardens in Lohardugga nor the area under mature and immature plant. The approximate yield of all the gardens in Hazaribagh was 107,762lbs. against 93,510 in 1882-83, while in Lohardugga the outturn rose from 196,781lbs. to 249,364. The average yield per area of mature plants increased in Hazaribagh from 110 to 113lbs., and in Lohardugga from 170lbs. to 175lbs. Prices ranged during the year from one to two annas per pound above the average of 1882-83. Under existing conditions, tea-planting seems to be making steady, though slow, progress on the higher levels of Chota Nagpore. Spare land is plentiful and labour exceptionally cheap. It remains to be seen whether the railways sanctioned and planned will affect the industry by stimulating emigration and raising the local rates of wages.

9. Trade and Commerce.—No trustworthy statistics of import or export trade are available, nor does it seem likely that such statistics could be collected, except at a cost out of all proportion to their value. Trade routes are numerous, and a large portion of the traffic of the country is still carried by pack-bullocks and on suggurs or light block-wheeled carts, which find no difficulty in evading any stations selected for the purpose of registering traffic on the main roads. In spite of a partial failure of the winter crop, rice was exported in unusually large quantities from Manbhoom, Singbhoom, and Lohardugga to districts where the failure had been more complete. The trade in oilseeds and hides was also very large. The export of lac declined owing to the failure of the winter crop of 1883, while heavy rain in July and August reduced the exports of tusser in all districts except Singbhoom, where the outturn was plentiful and the trade was stimulated by purchases made for a European firm in Midnapore. A large number of railway sleepers was exported from Lohardugga by contractors who supply the East Indian Railway. The Manbhoom supply is said to be on the decline, as the forests in that district have been nearly exhausted. Under the head of imports, it is observed that the import of salt into Chuttra in the west of Hazaribagh has declined in consequence of the opening of the Gya Railway, which makes it more convenient to send goods direct from Gya to Palamow. This is one of the first indications of that shifting of local centres of trade which must necessarily follow upon the extension of railways in a country where trade has hitherto been carried on by the most primitive methods, and has been peculiarly dependent upon the convenience of the larger dealers. In Manbhoom the import of European piece-goods is said to have decreased, and that of country piece-goods to have risen. The statistics, however, are admittedly only conjectural, and the conclusion drawn by the Deputy Commissioner that country-made goods are beginning to compete successfully with imported articles appears to be premature. It is quite certain that if the next few years see the completion of the Bengal and Central Provinces Railway, which traverses the districts of Manbhoom and Singbhoom, and of the Benares-Cuttack line which will connect the North-Western Provinces through Palamow and Lohardugga with the western and south-western districts of the Lower Provinces, a vast development will be given to the great agricultural and mineral resources of a comparatively backward and unknown part of the country.

10. State of public feeling.—Public opinion in the Division, so far as it exists at all, concentrates itself upon matters of purely local interest, and is unmoved by the public questions, such as Local Self-government and the Tenancy Bill, which attract some attention in Bengal Proper. In Hazaribagh and Lohardugga the development of emigration to Assam under the new Act is regarded with alarm by tea-planters and landholders of all classes, as reducing the labour supply in a sparsely populated country and tending to raise the current rates of wages. In the south of Manbhoom some feeling has been excited by the proceedings of Messrs. Watson and Company, who have taken a long lease of the large estate of Burrabhoom, and have introduced an assessment based on the standard bigha where rent had hitherto been paid on the area estimated by the eye as requiring a maund of seed to sow it. This settlement has been referred to in the report of this Government on the Bengal Tenancy Bill as a practical instance of the good that may be done by the intervention of a Government officer to decide, in consultation with both parties, questions which the courts are unable to deal with on a large scale, or with any prospect of arriving at uniform results.

11. Administrative changes.—The only administrative changes of importance made during the year were the establishment of a Bench of Magistrates at Gurwa, the chief trade centre of Palamow, and the re-arrangement of the thana boundaries of the entire district of Lohardugga.

12. Police and Crime.—The conduct of the Police during 1883 is stated to have been better than in the previous year, but the Commissioner remarks that, with very few exceptions, the Sub-Inspectors and head-constables are hardly fitted to hold independent charge of stations. The introduction of a new grade of Sub-Inspectors has failed to induce a better class of men to come forward as candidates, and the attempt to enlist the sons of zemindars in the higher grades does not show much promise of success. It is believed that the unhealthiness of many parts of the Division, the hardships of travelling during the rains, and the difficulty of procuring good food or any of the conveniences of life anywhere except in the head-quarters stations, make service in Chota Nagpore peculiarly unpopular with natives of Bengal and Behar. These deterrent conditions will, however, tend to disappear as communications improve and trade becomes more active, and it may then be possible to officer the police of these backward districts more efficiently. In the meantime efforts should be made to utilize the numerous rural police as a preventive agency by assigning to them regular beats, and making the headmen among them responsible for any increase of crime within definite areas. To do this effectually will require careful organization in the first instance, and much tact and vigilance in keeping the men up to their work. But unless it is done, the large expenditure incurred on the survey of ghatwali tenures which has been completed in Manbhoom, and is now going on in Singbhoom, will have been thrown away. The Commissioner observes that the demarcation of the ghatwali lands renders it possible to improve the service by removing incapable men. He considers, however, that vacancies should be filled by appointing residents of the immediate neighbourhood, and that as a rule only aborigines should be selected. It has been suggested on the other hand that the discipline of the ghatwali police would be materially improved if officers who have done good service as head-constables and sub-inspectors in the regular police were appointed as sirdar ghatwals of tenures forfeited for misconduct. This question will be considered in the Judicial (Police) Department in connection with the completion report of the Manbhoom Ghatwali Survey. The number of cases of cognizable crime fell from 5,448 to 4,903, the decrease being chiefly in Hazaribagh and Manbhoom. Offences against the person show a decrease from 508 to 344, which is probably due to the fact that cases of simple hurt are no longer cognizable. Of 4,875 persons actually tried during the year, about 64 per cent. were convicted. In Sessions cases the percentage of convictions was 66·2. It is satisfactory to observe that the percentage of stolen property recovered is higher throughout the division than in the previous year, and shows especial improvement in the districts of Manbhoom and Singbhoom.

13. Civil suits.—The following statement shows the number and value of suits instituted in each district of the Division during the last two years:—

DISTRICTS.	NUMBER OF SUITS IN—						VALUE OF SUITS IN—
	1882-83.			1883-84.			1882-83.			1883-84.

There was a decrease, for which no specific causes are assigned, in title suits and suits for money and moveable property, and an increase of 673 in suits under the rent laws. In Manbhoom the number of rent suits rose from 1,634 to 2,240 owing, it is believed, to Messrs. Watson and Company having introduced the practice of suing for arrears of rent at the close of the year for which the arrear is due, whereas the other zemindars of the district usually bring such suits at intervals of three years. With regard to civil suits, the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga remarks that the existing procedure is too complicated for the district, and it is added that, as the Deputy Commissioner can only take up civil work in the intervals of his other duties, there should always be an Assistant at Ranchi with powers of a Subordinate Judge. This suggestion will be considered in the Judicial Department.

14. Land and Land Revenue.—Out of a total demand of Rs. 4,02,854 from 376 estates, Rs. 3,82,766 were collected, being a percentage of 95·8 on the demand. Everywhere the collections from permanently settled estates were good, and the proportion of total collections to total demand would have been considerably higher, but for the failure to collect more than 85 per cent. from the Government estates in Lohardugga. Creditable progress was made in the survey of the Khalsa villages in Chota Nagpore, and only 17 villages now remain to be completed. This survey has been done at an average cost of 2 annas $4\frac{1}{2}$ pie per acre, and is reported to be extremely accurate. The Assistant Superintendent, who was formerly a member of the Revenue Survey Department, has, during the course of the survey, trained 54 apprentices for whom work will almost certainly be found in the Cadastral Survey shortly to be undertaken in Behar. The survey of ghatwali lands in Manbhoom, commenced in April 1880, was completed on the 31st May 1883 at a total cost of about Rs. 27,000. Its results were disputed on a large scale by Messrs. Watson and Company in Burrabhoom and by the zemindars of other estates who filed civil suits to recover lands demarcated in excess of the true ghatwali area. The whole question was gone into afresh by Mr. Risley after he was relieved of the charge of the district by Mr. Clay, and a series of compromises were concluded, under which the ghatwals retain as ghatwali as much land as could fairly be deemed to belong to their service tenures, while in respect of the remaining area found in their possession, they become the rent-paying tenants of the zemindar, holding their lands at privileged rates in consideration of the fact that they are in many cases the descendants of the first clearers of the soil. The most elaborate of these compromises—that concluded between Government, Messrs. Watson and Company, the zemindar and the ghatwals of Burrabhoom—is being followed in dealing with similar questions arising out of the survey of ghatwali lands in Singbhoom, and the question of adapting it to the ghatwali tenures of Bankura is under consideration.

The whole question of the system under which settlements of Government and Wards and Encumbered estates are to be conducted in Chota Nagpore have been discussed at length during the present year, and orders have issued which represent the Lieutenant-Governor's final opinion on a difficult and complicated subject. Without disputing that as an abstract proposition it may be well to replace the arrangements now in force by a systematic measurement and assessment which will have the effect of fixing definite rates of rent for all the chief estates in the Division, Mr. Rivers Thompson cannot consent to this readjustment alone being made the means or the justification of largely enhancing the rents of cultivators who in many cases have themselves cleared their lands from the original jungle.

The current demand of Road and Public Works cesses rose in Hazaribagh from Rs. 69,019 to Rs. 88,789, and in Lohardugga from Rs. 91,996 to Rs. 1,46,845, owing partly to revaluations and partly to readjustment of instalments. In Manbhoom, on the other hand, the current demand fell from Rs. 72,660 to Rs. 63,089. This is due to the fact that the revaluation of the district completed in July 1882 was so carelessly done that the whole proceedings have had to be revised, the cesses being in the meantime collected at the old rates.

DISTRICTS.	Average of 1878-83.	Actuals of 1882-83.	Actuals of 1883-84.	Increase of revenue of 1883-84 over average of 1878-83.	Increase over actuals of 1882-83.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Hazaribagh	1,48,335	1,81,275	2,03,160	54,825	11,885
Lohardugga	2,13,248	2,61,782	2,06,524	83,576	31,043
Singbhoom	19,460	20,608	22,844	3,424	2,278
Manbhoom	63,805	79,052	94,707	30,903	15,655
Total ...	4,44,848	5,56,715	6,17,576	1,72,729	60,860

The revenue derived from country spirits amounted to Rs. 5,13,985, or 83·2 per cent. of the total revenue of the year. The number of outstills was increased from 667 to 678, but each of these supplies an average area of 39·7 square miles, and an average population of 6,233. The Commissioner's remarks on the suitability of the outstill system to the local peculiarities of Chota Nagpore will be considered in connection with the report of the Excise Commission. It is satisfactory to observe a considerable decrease in the consumption of ganja, accompanied by a rise in the revenue derived from that drug. The consumption of opium has increased owing in part to greater vigilance on the part of the police and excise officers in the opium-producing district of Hazaribagh.

16. Stamps.—The total revenue including penalties rose from Rs. 2,60,448 to Rs. 2,93,827. The increase is largest in Hazaribagh, where some civil suits of high value were instituted by the zemindar of Ramgurh. A smaller increase in Lohardugga and Manbhoom is attributed to the same cause.

17. License tax.—Deducting refunds and remissions, the nett demand of license tax rose from Rs. 52,070 to Rs. 54,200, and the collections from Rs. 50,888 to Rs. 52,495. The increase is most marked in Lohardugga, where it is ascribed to the re-opening of the trade in railway sleepers, which was suspended during 1882-83. In Manbhoom the demand fell off slightly owing to the dulness of the lac trade and the transfer of assessments to other districts. On the general character of the tax the Commissioner remarks:—

The tax on the whole, I think, is a good one, and it will, I hope, become a permanent tax not liable to annual revision, but only to revisions for a term of at least five years, allowing assesses the liberty of applying to the district authorities for a reduction of their assessments if they can show such a reduction in their profits as will justify their demand. It is the annual enquiries which I believe are the chief cause of complaint among persons assessed or liable to be assessed to the tax.

18. Monetary arrangements.—The receipts of currency notes fell off considerably in Lohardugga and Manbhoom owing to the failure of the lac crop, and in the former district the issues were also contracted in consequence of the inability of the treasury to meet the demand for remittance. In Lohardugga and Singbhoom copper was greatly in demand among tea planters, road contractors and purchasers of lac, oilseeds, tusser and malua. Among the cultivators in the interior of these districts copper is the only currency in use, and a large portion of the export trade is still carried on by barter, in which salt and cloth form the purchasing medium.

19. Forests.—The attitude of the local zemindars has rendered it impossible to take any action for the preservation of private forests under the rules framed by the Commissioner and Conservator last year. The matter will be again taken up in the camping season when the Inspector-General of Forests will visit Chota Nagpore with the Conservator in order to confer with the Commissioner on the spot. It is hoped that Mr. Hewitt's influence will be able to overcome the ignorance and indifference of the proprietors, and to persuade them that the introduction of a system of conservancy under the supervision of the Forest Department will secure to them a permanent income from property which is now being rapidly destroyed. The necessity of taking early measures to protect the private forests of Chota Nagpore is strongly accentuated by the action already taken for railway construction in many parts of the division, and the importance of the subject is clearly brought out by the following extract from the Commissioner's report:—

What between jhoom cultivation, the destruction of young trees by goats and cattle, the enormous consumption and destruction of timber in these countries, where every one builds his house of young trees, placed close together, fences in his garden with young trees, and cuts large numbers to burn for manure on his upland cultivation, the new settlement of a hilly tract means the denudation of the hills in a few years, and this denudation must largely increase before very long, when railways will make traffic in timber more profitable than it is at present. The denudation of the hills is followed by the soil being washed away by rain, and the hills changed from valuable forests into bare rock, while the river-beds must be filled up by the denuded earth and gravel, and the rainfall decreased by the loss of the trees.

20. Roads and Communications.—Fair progress was made during the year in road work in all districts of the Division. The Commissioner's remarks on the subject will be considered in the Public Works Department. The construction of the Bengal-Nagpore Railway, which is now in hand, will necessitate a revision of the road system of the three districts of Manbhoom, Singbhoom and Lohardugga. Several existing lines of road will be replaced for all but petty local traffic by the railway. The relative importance of others will be materially affected, and at several points new feeder roads will be required to meet the readjustment of trade routes which may be looked for. The whole question therefore should now be carefully gone into by the District Road Committees concerned. Should it be the case that the road cess funds are inadequate to meet the requirements of the railway, the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to consider any reasonable application for special grants for the construction of feeder roads.

21. Education.—The number of schools of all kinds rose from 1,325 to 1,362, and of pupils from 38,217 to 42,097. The number of aborigines attending school increased from 8,756 to 10,120. Considering the backwardness of the population, the progress in higher education indicated by the fact that 17 candidates passed the Entrance examination against 8 in the previous year must be considered satisfactory. Female education has made a remarkable advance in Singbhoom, where the number of girls' schools increased during the year from 8 to 36, and the number of pupils from 224 to 1,176. This excellent result seems to be largely due to the personal interest taken in the matter by the Deputy Commissioner.

22. Wards and Attached Estates.—Owing to the release of the large estate of Dhalbhoom in Singbhoom, only eight estates were under the charge of the Court of Wards against nine in the previous year. The current demand on account of rent for all the estates amounted to Rs. 3,03,301, and the collections including arrears to Rs. 3,10,958 or 102·2 per cent. The demand on account of cesses came to Rs. 75,974, and the collections to Rs. 90,620 or 119·3 per cent. These results, which are stated to have been attained without excessive recourse to the certificate procedure, are very good. Only one estate, that of Jhalda in Manbhoom, is heavily encumbered with debts, but these will be cleared off before the proprietor, who is now only seven years old, attains his majority. The conduct of all the wards is favourably reported on.

Of the estates attached and managed under the Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estates Act, two were released during the year, leaving 69 under management. The total demand, arrear and current, on account of rent and cesses amounted to Rs. 3,63,232, of which Rs. 2,38,446 or 65·6 per cent. were collected. The percentage of collections to current demand was 100 in Singbhoom, 94·4 in Lohardugga, 92·7 in Manbhoom, and 72·5 in Hazaribagh. In Hazaribagh and Lohardugga the short collections are attributed to the partial failure of the winter rice crop in those districts. No explanation is given in the case of Manbhoom.

It is observed that the amounts actually paid to the creditors of these estates fall far short of the estimates which were framed for this purpose when the estates were originally taken under management. Thus the total debts of all the estates being Rs. 17,24,220, it was proposed to pay Rs. 6,36,653 by the 31st March 1884, but the amount actually paid was only Rs. 4,47,935, leaving a balance of Rs. 12,76,285 at the close of the year. In Lohardugga the payments have fallen short of the schemes by no less than Rs. 1,33,858, in Manbhoom by Rs. 39,505, and in Hazaribagh by Rs. 15,504. Singbhoom, with only three encumbered estates, is the only district where the sanctioned arrangements have been worked up to. The reason seems to be that the original estimates were in many cases unduly sanguine, and that in their anxiety to bring under management as many estates as possible, the local officers took credit in their schemes for the proceeds of sales they have been unable to effect, and for enhancements of rents which have never been settled, while they made little or no allowance for short collections resulting from failure of crops. The Board should now look into the matter and consider whether the schemes cannot be revised so as to bring them into closer accordance with existing facts.

23. Conduct of Zemindars.—Rasbehari Lal Singh, zemindar of Jherriah in Manbhoom, is again commended for his support of dispensaries and schools, and for a further donation towards the completion of the Govindpur lake. No other landholders are favourably mentioned. Many of the zemindars of Hazaribagh are said to be resorting to fraudulent suits for arrears of rent with the object of obtaining enhancements, while the conduct of several zemindars of Manbhoom and Lohardugga in respect both of their tenants and their relations to members of their own family deserves severe censure. On the whole, however, it may be said that active misconduct is rare among the zemindars of Chota Nagpore, and that their shortcomings are for the most part due to hereditary indolence and ignorance of anything that goes on outside their own estates.

24. Character of Officers.—The Commissioner's remarks on this subject will be considered in the Appointment Department. Among European Officers Messrs. Power, Risley and Renny, and among Native Officers Baboo Rai Churn Ghose, Rakhal Das Haldar and Ashutosh Gupto, are highly spoken of by the Commissioner.

BEQUEST BY THE LATE DR. BHOLANATH BOSE.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 15th November 1884.

READ—

Letter No. 8163. dated the 19th October 1884, from the Director of Public Instruction, and enclosures, relative to a bequest made by the late Dr. Bholanath Bose of Furreedpore for the benefit of the Calcutta Medical College.

THE executor and executrix of the estate of the late Dr. Bholanath Bose, Civil Medical Officer of Furreedpore, have, in accordance with the terms of his will, forwarded to the Principal of the Medical College, Calcutta, the following scientific instruments and medals to be presented to the Institution:—

Air Pump.		Spectroscope
Galvanic batteries.		Polariscope.

Two gold medals and two silver medals awarded to Dr. Bholanath Bose at the London University College, and one silver medal with claps awarded to that officer by Government for field services.

The Principal proposes, according to the wishes of the testator, that the instruments should be placed among those belonging to the College for the use of the students, and that the medals should be put in a separate case and hung up in the College Library. The Lieutenant-Governor approves these proposals.

2. The executor and executrix have also forwarded to the Principal of the College a Government promissory note for one thousand rupees for the foundation of a prize or scholarship. The Principal proposes that the interest of the sum of Rs 1,000, amounting to Rs. 40 per annum, should be appropriated for a prize to be awarded in alternate years to the 4th-year matriculated student, who is pronounced by the Physicians of the Hospital to be the most successful at bedside diagnosis of disease, and by the Surgeons of the Hospital to be the most successful in diagnosis of surgical cases, and that the examination should be held in September of each year. The Lieutenant-Governor approves these proposals, and desires that the thanks of Government be conveyed to the donor's executor and executrix.

3. The Principal of the College will be the administrator of the fund, which will be designated the "Bholanath Bose Prize Fund."

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

READ the following :—

No. 122, dated India Office, London, the 25th September 1884 .

From—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—The Government of India.

I FORWARD herewith, for your information, a copy of a letter, and its enclosure, from Sir Frederick Bramwell, relating to the International Inventions Exhibition to be held next year at South Kensington.

No. 1575, dated South Kensington, S. W., the 8th August 1884.

From—SIR FREDERICK BRAMWELL, Chairman,

To—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

I HAVE been requested by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to bring to your Lordship's immediate notice the forthcoming International Inventions Exhibition, which is to be held, under the patronage of Her Majesty the Queen, in the buildings at South Kensington, at present occupied by the International Health Exhibition. The Exhibition will be opened in May 1885; and as the time for preparation is short, it is hoped that your Lordship will have the goodness to cause early notification to be made of His Royal Highness's request that the Government of India will favour him with their co-operation by taking an active part in an exhibition which will doubtless prove of benefit to the inhabitants of all countries by bringing prominently to their notice the many inventions which have been made since the Great International Exhibition of 1862, and by gathering together examples of the music of all nations.

• The prospectus, copies of which are forwarded herewith, will fully explain the nature and purpose of the forthcoming Exhibition. I beg leave to call attention to the following rules which specially concern exhibitors in Foreign countries and the Colonies.

“45. The Foreign and Colonial Commissioners appointed by their Governments are invited to communicate with the Secretary. They will be charged with the consideration of all questions relative to the distribution of the space allotted to their respective countries; and the Executive Council will place at their disposal all information and plans which may be useful to them. Foreign and Colonial Commissioners will be required to guarantee that all exhibits in their respective sections are in accordance with the classification and the Regulations.

“46. The applicants for space from countries in which no Commissioner has been nominated must appoint agents in England to act on their behalf.

The Executive Council would suggest that the Government of India should be asked to give full publicity to the announcement of this International Exhibition in its two divisions of inventions and music, and be asked to appoint a Commission to arrange for the due display of goods under the various groups, and to settle, in communication with the Council, matters connected with India.

The Executive Council trust that the Government of India will generally co-operate with them in promoting, in this manner, an exhibition of great practical importance to the commerce and industry of the world, and in making it, in a large sense, International.

I beg leave to add that it might be useful to supply for the use of the Government India copies of the prospectus, of which any number can be forwarded on application to the office.

PROSPECTUS.

It is intended to hold, in the year 1885, an International Exhibition of Inventions and of Musical Instruments, in the Exhibition Buildings, Royal Horticultural Gardens, South Kensington.

DIVISION I.—INVENTIONS.

This division will be devoted to Apparatus, Appliances, Processes and Products, invented or brought into use since 1862.

The collection of inventions will, it is hoped, serve to bring vividly before the public the progress which has been made, during the last quarter of a century, in applying the discoveries of science to the purposes of daily life.

For the practical realization of this idea it will be desirable, not only to exhibit the apparatus by which a process is carried out (or a model or diagram of it), side by side with the resulting product, but also to show the working of, at all events, a limited number of industrial processes in their consecutive stages.

Having in view the wide range of this International Exhibition, and the limited nature of the total available area, it will be necessary to restrict, as much as possible, the amount of space which can be allotted even to the most important classes; and only under exceptional circumstances can applications be entertained for space for objects which have been shown in the Smoke Abatement Exhibition, 1881; the Fisheries Exhibition, 1883; or the Exhibition of Health and Education of the present year. [*The classes including such objects are marked in the annexed classification with an asterisk.] As regards agriculture, also, it is considered that the annual shows of the Royal Agricultural and kindred Societies will render it unnecessary to admit more than a few typical examples of each class of the improvements effected during recent years; and these should be, as far as possible, represented by models or diagrams.

It will, indeed, be preferable that inventions generally should (as far as practicable) be illustrated by models, which in the case of an entire machine may be accompanied by actual examples of the parts improved.

Where the invention relates to parts only of a machine, the whole machine will not be admitted, unless the improvement (in respect of which the machine is offered for exhibition) cannot be sufficiently well shown without the exhibition of the entire apparatus, or unless, in the opinion of the Executive Council, the exhibit is of such special interest as to render its admission desirable.

Exhibitors will be required, by reference to a specification and Letters Patent or otherwise, to show that their proposed exhibits come within the terms set forth in the conditions of Division I.

As the Exhibition will be limited to the illustration of industrial processes, examples of either the raw material employed, or the finished product, will only be admitted when they are required for the full demonstration of a particular process. It is not proposed to allot space for exhibition of manufactured goods alone, unaccompanied by any illustrations of the process of manufacture.

Intending Exhibitors should fill in the accompanying Application Form, which must be sent to the Secretary not later than the 15th September. Applications from Foreign countries and the Colonies will be received up to the 1st of November.

DIVISION II.—MUSIC.

This division will consist of examples of Musical Instruments of a date not earlier than the commencement of the present century; and, in addition, any machinery, apparatus, or appliances connected with their manufacture or use, or in any way bearing upon the science and art of music, will be admitted. There will, furthermore, be Historic Collections of Musical Instruments, and of Paintings and Engravings representing musical subjects, without any restriction as to date.

Intending Exhibitors in this Division should fill in the Special Application Form supplied for the purpose, which must be sent to the Secretary by the 15th September. Applications from Foreign countries and the Colonies will be received up to the 1st of November.

13. Inasmuch as the scope of this exhibition is very extensive, while the total area available is limited, it will be necessary to restrict, as much as possible, the space available for each exhibitor. NOTES.

[Extracted from the Regulations, which see for fuller instructions.]

Division I of the Exhibition will be devoted to apparatus, appliances, processes, and products invented, or brought into use since 1862.

Division II will consist of examples of musical instruments of a date not earlier than the commencement of the present century; and of Historic collections of musical instruments and appliances, and paintings, engravings and drawings representing musical subjects, without any restriction as to date.

A separate form of application will be supplied for Division II (Music).

Manufactured articles or products will only be admitted in so far as they may be necessary to illustrate an improved method of manufacture, or an improvement in the machine or process by which they are produced.

Exhibitors should state fully in their application form the features of novelty in respect of which they offer any article for exhibition.

Untried and unpatented inventions will not be accepted unless recommended by a competent authority.

When the invention relates to parts only of a machine, the whole machine will not be admitted, unless the improvement (in respect of which the machine is offered for exhibition) cannot be sufficiently well shown without the exhibition of the entire apparatus, or unless in the opinion of the Executive Council the exhibit is of such special interest as to render its admission desirable.

Inasmuch as the scope of this Exhibition is very extensive, while the total area available is limited, it will be necessary to restrict as much as possible the space available for each exhibitor. It will, therefore, be preferable that inventions should (as far as practicable) be generally illustrated by models, which in the case of an entire machine may be accompanied by actual examples of the parts improved.

The classification is not to be considered as exhaustive. Where there appears to be no head under which an invention may come, the exhibitor should apply for space in the group most nearly cognate.

In cases where an invention may come within the scope of several distinct groups, the Exhibitor is at liberty to enumerate the groups into which he considers it should come, in order that reference may be made to it in the different sections of the Catalogue; but duplicate exhibits will not be admitted.

Except under exceptional circumstances, no applications will be entertained for space for objects which have been shown in the Smoke Abatement Exhibition, 1881; the Fisheries Exhibition, 1883; or the Exhibition of Health and Education, 1884. The space allotted to Agricultural Exhibits will be strictly limited.

There will be no charge for space.

PROPOSAL TO DIVIDE THE DISTRICT OF MIDNAPORE INTO TWO DISTRICTS.

The 15th November 1884.—The following is published for general information.

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 155, dated Chinsurah, the 18th April 1884.

To—The Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces

IN reply to your No. 804A., dated 25th May 1883, paragraph 6, I have the honour to submit my proposals for dividing the district of Midnapore into two. The proposal might more correctly be described as one for the revival of the old zillah of Hijlee, which down to the year 1836 constituted a separate district. It is this which, with some trifling modifications, it is now proposed to restore.

2. It is admitted both by Government and the Board that the district of Midnapore, as at present constituted, is too large to be efficiently managed by one district officer aided by the usual staff. This opinion is based not only upon the statistics of area and population, but upon the figures which show the amount of work arising yearly, and upon the still more important consideration of the physical impossibility of one Collector's adequately supervising the multifarious concerns of so extensive a charge. It will be advisable here to discuss each of these three points in detail, as the Board, to whom this report is submitted, has no official cognizance of matters not directly connected with the revenue administration of the district.

3. First, as to area and population. The area of Midnapore is 5,082 square miles. Excluding the thinly-peopled non-regulation districts, a great part of which consists of wild hill and jungle, and confining the comparison to the settled and populous regulation districts, it appears that Midnapore is now the second in size in Bengal, being exceeded only by Mymensingh. The population is 2,517,802, and in this respect Midnapore stands fourth, being surpassed by Mymensingh, Durbhunga, and Mozufferpore only. I take these figures from volume I, page 87, of the census report of 1881.

4. These figures speak for themselves. To any one who is acquainted with the nature and amount of the work which has to be done by a Collector and his staff in these provinces in the present day it is unnecessary to point out how well nigh impossible it must be for even the most vigorous and able officer satisfactorily to administer a district of more than five thousand square miles in extent with close upon 2½ millions of inhabitants. The task is rendered still more difficult by the fact that the people of Midnapore are by no means easy to deal with, being addicted to organized opposition and passive resistance to the officers of Government to a degree which fortunately is rarely found in other parts of Bengal.

5. Secondly, as to the amount of an ordinary every-day work. The statements appended to this report give the actual figures for the last three years in respect of both criminal and revenue work.

6. Statements I.A. and I.B. show the number of cognizable and non-cognizable criminal cases respectively. As the Board are doubtless aware, cognizable cases are those which are investigated by the police on the complaint of the person injured. Non-cognizable are those in which the complainant addresses himself at once to the Magistrate, and in which, save under exceptional circumstances, the police take no action. The statements show the cases of both kinds in Midnapore and the other districts of this division. For purposes of comparison, I have also given the figures for three of the heaviest districts in other parts of Bengal, viz., 24-Pergunnahs, Mymensingh, and Backergunge.

7. I have no desire to draw a highly-coloured picture, nor is it in the slightest degree necessary for me to endeavour to make the work appear heavier than it is. I have therefore no hesitation in admitting that the criminal cases in Midnapore are not of an exceptionally intricate or difficult nature, but the mere number of them is sufficient to occupy a very large portion of the time of the magisterial officers, and proportionately reduces the time they can spare for revenue and general work.

8. There are 25 police thanas in Midnapore, and I believe some 40 or more outposts. The District Superintendent has to visit all these several times a year, and it is beyond the power of one man to do all this work and still to keep proper control over the general police work of the district. As a consequence of the inability of the District Superintendent to watch the work of so many thanas, the Magistrate also, who depends on the District Superintendent for his information in police matters, is prevented from keeping the necessary check on police work, and in many parts of Midnapore, especially in those which are far away from head-quarters, police work has become very lax and unsatisfactory. The Inspector-General of Police is fully aware of this, and strongly supports my views as to the necessity of dividing the district into two.

9. Statement II shows the revenue business of Midnapore as compared with the same districts as are shown in the criminal statements, and covers the last three years. The very large excess of cases as compared with other districts is, it will be seen, partly due to certificate cases; though even excluding these there is a very heavy file of ordinary cases.

10. Of course much of the certificate work is due to the agitation for reduction of rents that has for some time been going on in the extensive estates of Jellamootha and Majnamootha, and it might be argued that with the disappearance of this agitation the work would become lighter. This is undoubtedly true; only we cannot tell when the resistance to Government demands will cease; and even if it should become less pronounced after a time, there will always be a very large quantity of certificate work. It is a singular comment on the way in which our legislation affects the people that the certificate procedure, which was introduced for the purpose of coercing recalcitrant defaulters into paying their dues to Government, has in many districts (and notably in Midnapore) been accepted by the people as an additional means of resistance. People who would have paid up without coercive measures in former times now almost insist on those coercive measures being taken against them, and will not pay till all the formalities of the law have been complied with. I therefore consider it very improbable that there will be any marked diminution of certificate work in Midnapore for a long time to come.

11. It will be seen that the columns showing work under the rent laws are now blank; but this state of things will be much altered should the new Tenancy Bill become law, and especially if a cadastral survey and record-of-rights should be undertaken. The immense increase of work which would result from these measures must be borne in mind as likely to affect the problem of the administration of Midnapore in the immediate future.

12. I would also call attention to the immense amount of work shown under the head of "Miscellaneous business disposed of," which for all the three years embraced by the statement largely exceeds that of all the other districts with which the comparison has been made.

13. This is most laborious and important part of the Collector's work. Under this head are shown all the long consultations involving much careful thought and enquiry imposed upon the Collector by his general administrative duties. These are the management of 18 wards' estates, some of them of considerable extent; that of the very numerous khas mehals; the revenue survey now going on; the Salt Department; irrigation and collection of water-rates; the pleadings in Government suits; the road cess; education; municipalities; the difficult and complicated work connected with embankments and drainage questions; and other matters of minor importance.

14. It is impossible to give by figures an idea of the amount of work that all these things involve, but Government and the Board are too well aware of the ever-increasing burden of reports, appeals, enquiries, and the rest, for it to be necessary for me to dilate further on this point.

15. I wish, however, to call attention to the fact that Midnapore, while it is almost the largest district in Bengal, is also one where miscellaneous, political, and administrative work is the heaviest, and it is one in which, in addition to the ordinary calls upon a Collector's time and attention, there are also very heavy special departments which do not exist at all, or to a very much less extent, in other districts; such are salt, canals, embankments, and khas mehals.

16. I trust I have now said enough to prove that the Midnapore district is too large and the work too heavy to be managed by one district officer and staff. I will now proceed to explain the reasons for the division into two districts which I am proposing.

17. There are only two possible methods of division as far as I can see—that proposed by me, and another which has been mentioned by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, and which, coming from so high a source, demands respectful consideration.

18. This latter proposal has not been precisely defined, but its general scope is to take a portion or the whole of the Tumlook subdivision of Midnapore and add it to Howrah, and then to erect Howrah into a full Collectorship, instead of as it is at present a revenue subdivision under the Collector of Hooghly.

19. There are, however, I beg respectfully to submit, many grave objections to this measure. In the first place Tumlook is separated from Howrah by the Koopnarain river. This is a broad tidal estuary, in most places nearly two miles wide, and at most times of the year dangerous to cross owing to the force of the tide and the numerous and shifting sandbanks. The new district would be cut in two by this large river, and regular communications between the two halves would be always difficult and often impossible.

20. Secondly, the people of Tumlook would have just cause for complaint if severed from the rest of the tract to which their district geographically belongs. It matters little whether we put them under Midnapore or under Contai, but to put them under the distinct and alien jurisdiction of Howrah would be hard upon them in a variety of ways.

21. Thirdly, the district so constituted would be a very straggling, amorphous entity. It would be about 60 miles long and about 20 broad, having thus about 1,200 square miles of area cut in two by a big river and inhabited by two entirely dissimilar races—pure Bengalis in the one-half—Midnapurians (a mixed race—half Bengali, half Ooriya) in the other.

22. Fourthly, the relief granted to Midnapore by this step would be comparatively small. Only an area of 600 square miles would be withdrawn from that district, and an area, moreover, in which there is comparatively little work. What is imperatively demanded by the necessities of the case is the separation of Midnapore from Contai. So long as these two heavy areas are left united there will be undue pressure of work, and no perceptible relief will be gained by snipping off odd corners like Tumlook.

23. Lastly, the Hooghly district is already a very small one, and though the density of its population gives it certain importance, yet the population is not one that gives much work to the Magistrate or to the Collector. Hooghly could well take in the magisterial work of Howrah and yet not be anything like as heavy as the 24-Pergunnahs, not to speak of other districts.

24. For the above reasons I strongly deprecate any attempt to solve the problem by uniting Tumlook and Howrah. I am convinced, after much careful study of the question, that the true solution lies in restoring the old Hijlee district, or to put it in terms of existing administrative units, making two districts, one of which shall contain the present subdivisions of Midnapore and Ghattal and the other those of Contai and Tumlook. I may here mention that ever since the amalgamation of the two districts, the Hijlee records have been kept apart from those of Midnapore in the Collector's record-room. There would therefore be no difficulty, delay, or expense in sending them back to Contai.

25. There would thus be two districts, not indeed of equal size, but of very nearly equal importance as regards work. The excess area of the future district of Midnapore over that of Hijlee is accounted for by the fact that a considerable tract in the western portion of the former is sparsely populated hill and jungle. I give below the area, population, and revenue of the two districts—

	Area in square mile.	Population.	Revenue.		Road and Public Works Cons.
			Rs.	A. P.	Rs.	A. P.
Midnapore	3,484	1,483,532	12,09,280	3 10	1,70,078	10 6
Hijlee	1,589	1,034,270	12,96,949	9 11	1,11,903	5 6

26. A few unimportant changes are required in the boundaries of the subdivisions; these are the following:—The transfer of thana Danton from Midnapore subdivision to that of Contai: the people of Danton have longstanding relations with Contai: all their export trade goes in that direction. There are numerous civil cases between Danton and Contai people arising out of this traffic, which already large will soon be very much larger, owing to the opening of the Orissa Coast canal. From local enquiries which I made when last at Midnapore, I learnt that the people of Danton, if they had to choose between Midnapore and Contai, would very much prefer union with the latter. The transfer of this thana to Contai would be a great relief to the sudder subdivision of Midnapore, which already contains 11 thanas, and would not overburden Contai, which only contains six.

27. The thana of Panskoorah, now under Tumlook, will have to be transferred to Midnapore sudder. The Orissa Trunk Road, from Calcutta to Cuttack, and the Midnapore Canal both run through this thana, and afford easy communication with Midnapore. It would be a hardship to compel the people of this thana to take their cases into Contai, which is a long way off, and has no road or river communication with their country, while Midnapore is so near and so easily accessible. The removal of this thana will leave the town of Tumlook quite at the northern end of the subdivision, but I do not propose any change in the subdivisional head-quarters at present. If the Roopnarain goes on cutting into its right bank as it is doing now, Tumlook will be washed away in a few years, and as simultaneously with this event the Orissa Coast canal will be open for traffic, the importance of Tumlook as a centre of trade will cease. The merchants will probably move to the head of the canal at Gheokhali, which is already becoming a place of some importance, and it will probably, in any case (I mean whether Midnapore is divided into two or not), be advisable to move the subdivisional head-quarters to that place, which is fairly central. This, however, is a point which may be left for future consideration.

28. The small pergunnah of Moynachour, which is now in the sudder subdivision, but which runs down in a point to within a very short distance of Tumlook, should be included in that subdivision. These few changes would round off the Hijlee district, and leave a good working boundary between that and Midnapore. In the annexed map I have shown the boundaries of the two districts as proposed above. I also submit an old map of 1845, in which the two districts of Midnapore and Hijlee are shown as they formerly existed. The Collector has unfortunately rather spoilt the map by painting all over it the present subdivisions; but the Board will be able to distinguish in spite of this the old Hijlee district, which is indicated by a wash of purple. Allowing for the changes that have occurred since 1845 on the Orissa frontier, it will be seen that the modern Hijlee district, as proposed by me, does not differ very markedly from the old one, and this is an important point, as the people will be more easily reconciled to a return to the old arrangements, which yet live in the memory of the older inhabitants, than they would be to one which was entirely new and strange to them.

29. I now approach the most important part of the subject—the question of the cost of the proposed measure, and how it may best be met. The figures I shall submit have taken some time to collect, and will of course be closely scrutinized both in the Board's office and in the Secretariat. I believe that they will be found substantially correct.

30. The first thing I propose to do is to abolish the Howrah Magistracy. This will set free the cost of a District Magistrate and his establishment and that of a District Superintendent of Police and his establishment. These two officers and their staff could then be transferred bodily to Contai, and as Howrah would sink into a subdivision of Hooghly the Contai subdivisional staff could be transferred to Howrah. So far there would be no extra expense. The Howrah revenue establishment is, however, only that of a subdivision; there would therefore have to be provided the difference between a subdivisional and district establishment on the revenue side for Contai. We have also, as I shall show presently, to provide for a criminal court for Howrah. I shall now explain these various points in detail.

31. First as to Howrah. Its present position is in the highest degree embarrassing and anomalous. On the revenue side it is a subdivision, and the officer in charge is called the Covenanted Deputy Collector, and is subordinate to the Collector of Hooghly. On the magisterial side he is, however, a full Magistrate, and the post is always held by an officer graded as a Magistrate and Collector. It not unfrequently happens that the district officer of Howrah is much senior in the service to the district officer of Hooghly, under whom he has to serve in revenue matters, and although I am happy to say that in general the good feeling of the officers concerned leads them to avoid all friction, yet things have at times come perilously near to open dispute, and the position is often very strained. At one time some three years ago the post of Magistrate and Covenanted Deputy Collector of Howrah was held by an officer of 20 years' standing, who had officiated as Commissioner, while that of Collector of Hooghly was held by an officer of 10 years' standing, the Junior Officiating Collector on the list, and whose substantive status was only that of Assistant Collector.

32. This latter officer naturally shrunk from issuing orders to one so much his senior, and though the former loyally carried out all orders issued to him, he thought himself fully justified in remonstrating in a tone of superior knowledge and experience whenever he thought that his youthful superior was mistaken. Later on, between the Collector of Hooghly and another Covenanted Deputy Collector of Howrah, there arose a difference of opinion on road cess matters, which was carried to a very regrettable extent, and which I had much difficulty in adjusting.

33. It will, I think, be admitted that it is not advisable to perpetuate an arrangement which places two officers in such delicate relations, and under which the proper discharge of public duties can only be secured by considerable sacrifice on both sides. In some respects the situation has been improved of late years by conferring on the Covenanted Deputy Collector the powers of a Collector, as for instance, in the Land Acquisition, License Tax, and Salt Departments. In the Excise Department there is a somewhat bewildering difference of practice. As regards the rural parts of his jurisdiction, the Covenanted Deputy Collector is subject to the Collector of Hooghly, and excise matters are managed by the Excise Deputy Collector of that district, who never knows exactly to whom he ought to report. If he reports direct to the Collector, then the Covenanted Deputy Collector has fair reason for complaining that he is kept in ignorance of what is going on. If he reports to the Covenanted Deputy Collector, an additional stage, involving much delay, is added to the transmission of the report before it reaches the Collector, and there arises the anomaly that the Excise Deputy Collector of Hooghly reports to an officer to whom he is not in any way subordinate.

34. In regard to the Municipality of Howrah the position is still more peculiar, for in that area the excise matters are under the Collector of Calcutta, from whose orders appeals lie direct to me, so that the Covenanted Deputy Collector has no voice at all in the matter. This gives rise to much friction, as Howrah swarms with cheap hotels, drinking bars, and low grogshops, over which the officer at Howrah has no control, though he has full power to interfere in his capacity of Magistrate. When he does so, there arises an outcry from the Collector of Calcutta and his subordinate.

35. I will not prolong this report by detailing all the difficulties and confusion that arise from the anomalous position of the officer in charge of Howrah. I will merely say that they are endless and of constant occurrence and constitute an anomaly of the greatest magnitude. It may, however, be added that owing probably to the proximity of Howrah to Calcutta it frequently happens that an officer is posted there merely for a short time, while waiting for a permanent appointment, so that changes are very frequent. Some two years ago the Municipal Commissioners of Howrah presented a petition to Government, in which they pointed out that within the preceding three years the post of district officer had been held by no less than 28 officers. During the year 1883 also six officers in succession have held this post.

36. One other remark will suffice to conclude this part of the subject. The Magistrate of Howrah is frequently employed on duties beyond his district. He is one of the Port Commissioners of Calcutta. He sits as Judge for the Trial of Pilots. He is put on Commissions for various purposes connected with shipping and other matters. All these occupations draw him away from his duties as a district officer, and in many, if not all of them, he is independent of the Commissioner of the Division, who cannot insist on his doing his district work, no matter how much in arrears it may be, because he is acting in some other capacity under the direct orders of Government.

37. Considering that Howrah is now a large town, containing upwards of one hundred thousand inhabitants, and that those inhabitants are engaged in purely urban occupations, and have no sort of connection with the rural population, I think it will be admitted that the best organization for this town will be that prevailing in the capital and its other suburbs, with which Howrah is now so closely connected.

38. The existing confused and confusing arrangements may have met the exigencies of the case when they were established 40 years ago, but they cannot do so now. In 1841

Howrah was a very inconsiderable place; now it is one of the largest towns in Bengal; and not only has the number of the inhabitants immensely increased, but their character has entirely changed. They are no longer to any great extent persons connected with the district around to whom any administrative severance from that district would cause loss or trouble. The natives are merchants, shipowners, millowners, clerks in the Calcutta offices, factory hands, petty shopkeepers. The Europeans are merchants, railway employés, and owners of factories, who have nothing whatever to do with the district.

39. Under these circumstances I think it would be found to work much better and to suit the inhabitants better if the Municipality of Howrah were placed under a Presidency Magistrate like those in Calcutta, who would have nothing to do but to try their cases all the year round; who would have no occasion to go into camp or be in danger of being called away to duties in Calcutta, or enquiries in places 30 to 40 miles off in the interior. The existing municipal police might be placed under the Commissioner of Police for Calcutta, and all the criminal cases tried by the Presidency Magistrate assisted by the already existing and numerically strong Benches of Honorary Magistrates. Excise and stamps might remain under the Collector of Calcutta, as at present.

40. The town being thus provided for, the rural area of the Howrah subdivision consisting of the two thanas of Domjoor and Jagatballabpore would become an ordinary subdivision presided over by a native Deputy Magistrate. The Hooghly district would thus have five subdivisions as noted in the margin, and even then would not have so large an area or population as the 24-Pergunnahs or Naddea, or many other districts. The head-quarters of the subdivisional officer might be at Howrah, and he might share with the Presidency Magistrate the large three-storied building which is now used as the Magistrate's cutcherry; or if this were objectionable, he might be located at Bali or Domjoor or some place just outside municipal limits.

41. I am aware that some zemindars (who I may remark do not live in the Howrah district) have petitioned Government against the abolition of Howrah as a separate district. But apart from the fact that these gentlemen from their position are incapable of grasping or weighing all the grave political and administrative aspects of the case, it may be observed that the proposed change would not alter their position in any perceptible way. They already pay their land revenue to the Collector at Hooghly, and they would continue to do so. All other branches of the revenue administration are already conducted from Hooghly, and they would continue to be so. No alteration in the civil jurisdiction is contemplated; they would still take their civil and rent suits to the same munsifs as now. In criminal matters they have now a Covenanted Magistrate and two Deputy Magistrates with two Benches of Honorary Magistrates all sitting at Howrah. Under the proposed change they will have a Presidency Magistrate, (who may be a covenanted civilian or a barrister), a Deputy Magistrate in charge of the subdivision, and two Benches, either all sitting actually at Howrah, or all but one at Howrah, and that one only two or three miles off. Where then is the hardship of the change?

42. There can be no sentimental feeling about a place of yesterday like Howrah, such as was once urged in favour of Hooghly by those who owned house property there, and who concealed their fear of losing their tenants on the removal of the courts under poetical references to the historical associations of the place.

43. There can also be no question as to the waste of costly and scarce administrative machinery which would result from dividing the already small district of Hooghly into two with two district officers and two full sets of revenue and criminal establishments while only one district officer and an establishment is allotted to the district of Midnapore more than four times as large. Even the unnatural alliance of Tumlook to Howrah would not, as I have shown above, reduce the inequality. Government cannot afford to throw away its officers, and it would be doing so to give two districts to the small tongue of land between the Hooghly and the Hoopnarain, while the vast tract stretching from the latter to the hills of Orissa was treated only as one.

44. The cost of these changes, as compared with that of the existing arrangements, is exhibited in statement III appended. It will be seen that while the actual present cost comes to Rs. 93,720 per annum, the cost, according to my calculations of the proposed arrangements, comes only to Rs. 92,232, so that instead of an increase there will be an actual saving. This is on the supposition that only one Deputy Collector is allowed for the management of the Howrah subdivision. This, I think, will be enough when the large and populous town which gives so much criminal work is taken away.

45. The figures for the present establishments and their cost are taken from the office returns. Those for the Presidency Magistrate were furnished to me by the Judicial Department of Government, and those for the new Hijlee district are taken from the proposals for the recently established district of Khoolna, and were supplied by Government in the General Department. Even if it should be thought necessary to alter or increase my figures slightly the excess will not be very great, as it will be observed that it will be possible to effect considerable reductions in the establishments at Midnapore, when the district is reduced in size. In addition to the abstract statement III I also submit detailed statements for each of the offices, both actual and proposed, mentioned therein.

46. I have not included on either side of the account the salaries of judicial officers and their establishments, as no change is proposed in them. It will probably be necessary for the Judge of Midnapore to visit Contai periodically to hold sessions, but no other alteration is necessary. I can give no estimate of the cost of new buildings which will be required at Contai, as this is a matter concerning which I have no information. I observe, however, that in submitting to Government of India proposals for the district of Khoolna, this item was not included by the Government of Bengal. There are already several large buildings at Contai: probably much accommodation might be provided by enlarging them.

The statement has been prepared from the figures given in the Board's Land Revenue Report. The figures in column 23 for the years 1881-82 and 1882-83 had to be compiled from different statements. There has therefore been slight discrepancy in the figures for the districts of Hooghly, 24-Pergunnahs, and Mymensingh.

Of the Qualification of Voters.

4. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

5. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

6. Subject to the proviso contained in Rule 4, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid, in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act, an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 3, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a pleader or mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

7. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. Each voter shall have as many votes as there are vacancies, and may give as many of these votes as he pleases to any one or more candidates.

Of the Registration of Voters.

8. For each ward a register shall be prepared by the Municipal Commissioners, in which shall be entered the names of the persons qualified to vote at elections. This register for each ward shall be prepared as soon as possible after the approval of these rules by Government, and hereafter shall be revised annually, and republished on the 1st October in each year.

9. When the registers are ready, copies of them shall be affixed at the principal civil and criminal courts, and at the office of the Commissioners, and so much of them as may refer to each ward shall be affixed at each police-station in that ward, and at such other places as may be deemed by the Chairman to be necessary.

10. Objections to, and claims for, the registration of voters may be made at any time being not less than 18 days before the election. All such objections and claims shall be heard by three Commissioners, to be appointed by the Chairman, who do not stand for election in the ward to which the objections and claims apply. The decision of the majority shall be final. If no appointment of Commissioners is made by the Chairman under this rule, such objections and claims shall be heard by an officer or officers who shall be specially deputed in this behalf by the Magistrate of the district; and the decision of such officer or officers shall be final.

11. No person shall be qualified to vote unless his name has been entered in the register of voters.

Of the Qualification and the Nomination of Candidates.

12. The Chairman shall, at least 30 days before the date fixed as hereinafter provided for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates.

13. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

14. Any four persons registered as qualified to vote in any ward may nominate a candidate for election to represent such ward. The nomination shall be made in writing in the form annexed to these rules, and the candidate shall signify on the nomination paper his consent to the nomination. The nomination paper shall be delivered at the Municipal Office not less than ten days before the date fixed for the election.

15. The Chairman shall forthwith ascertain whether the nominators and the candidate respectively are qualified in accordance with these rules. If satisfied in this respect, he shall insert the name of the candidate in a list of candidates for the Commissionership or Commissionerships to be filled up. Such list shall also contain a specification of the qualifications of the candidate, and specifications of the names and qualifications of the persons nominating him.

16. On or before the morning of the ninth day previous to the election, the Chairman shall cause a copy of the list to be affixed at the Municipal Office, and another at each police-station within the ward.

17. Any registered voter may, within 48 hours from the publication of the list at the Municipal Office, object in writing to any such nomination; his objection shall specify the grounds on which it is made, and shall be delivered at the Municipal Office.

18. Such objection shall, within 24 hours, be decided summarily by the Sub-Committee appointed by the Chairman, or by the officer or officers specially deputed by the Magistrate of the district, as the case may be, under Rule 10, and the decision, which shall be immediately announced, shall be final.

Of the manner of holding Elections.

19. The election of Commissioners in each ward shall be held on such date (not being less than 30 days after the publication of the registers of voters under Rule 9) as the Chairman, with the sanction of the Local Government, may appoint. This date shall be announced by advertisement in the Calcutta Gazette, and in such newspapers as the Chairman may think desirable; also by a notice affixed at the Municipal Office and at each police-station in the ward, and at any other place which may seem to the Chairman to be necessary for the due publication of the notice.

20. Elections shall be held at the following places:—

No. I Ward	Chitpore police station.
" II "	Baliaghatta ditto.
" III "	Entally ditto.
" IV "	Ballygunge ditto.
" V "	Municipal Office.
" VI "	Garden Reach police-station.

21. The Municipal Commissioners shall appoint polling officers and other establishments, and may define their duties so far as they may not be defined by these rules.

22. The allowances of establishments shall be fixed by the Commissioners, and these, as well as all other expenses incurred in conducting the elections, shall be paid from the funds of the municipality.

23. If the number of candidates be not greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall declare the candidate or candidates to be duly elected. If there be any vacancies for which no candidates have appeared, the Chairman shall report the fact for the information of Government.

24. If the number of candidates be greater than the number of vacancies, the Chairman shall issue a public notice (to be affixed at the Municipal Office, at the police-stations, and at as many as possible of the chief public offices, and to be otherwise notified in such manner as may seem to him necessary), declaring the day and hours in which, and the place at which, the election is to be held, and also the names of the candidates.

25. The poll shall commence at 8 A.M. and shall close at 6 P.M.

26. Each candidate may appoint, by a letter to the Chairman, a copy of which shall be delivered by the candidate to each agent to serve as his authority, not more than two agents to be present at the polling place to watch the proceedings on his behalf, and to bring to the notice of the polling officers any instance of false personation or other malpractice which may come to their knowledge as the election proceeds. Such agents shall be bound to obey any directions which the presiding officer shall give them for the purpose of keeping order; and no election shall be invalidated on the ground that the presiding officer has exceeded his powers in this respect.

27. The polling officer shall be provided with a list of the registered voters qualified to vote within the ward.

28. The votes shall be taken by means of voting papers.

29. A voter may either attend at the polling place and record his vote, or he may forward his vote to the polling officer, so that it may reach him before the hour fixed for the close of the poll.

30. Any voter wishing to obtain a voting paper beforehand may apply, not less than five clear days before the day fixed for the election, at the Municipal Office for a voting paper. The application shall be in writing, and shall bear the signature of the voter written with his own hand; it shall specify his address and his number on the register. A voting paper in the form appended to these rules, shall be at once forwarded to the voter by post, or by such other mode of conveyance as may be convenient.

31. The voter having received this voting paper may—

- (1) Return it by post, duly filled up, to the Municipal Office, in a closed cover marked "Voting paper—Ward No.—;" or
- (2) Present it himself at the polling place within the time fixed for the poll.

32. All voting papers received at the office in accordance with the first clause of the last rule shall be made over unopened to the polling officer to be opened by him publicly at the polling place within the hours fixed for the poll.

33. Should any cover received at the Municipal Office, and not marked as required by Rule 31, be found to contain a voting paper otherwise in order, such paper shall be immediately placed in a cover and sent to the polling officer to be dealt with according to Rule 32.

34. No duplicate voting papers shall be issued, but any voter, to whom a voting paper may have been forwarded under these rules, may nevertheless attend and vote in person at the polling place. In this case the original voting paper shall be considered as cancelled.

35. The voting papers sent out from the office under Rule 30 shall be printed on paper of a different colour from that used for papers to be furnished at the polling place. They shall bear the signature of the Chairman stamped upon them, and shall be numbered consecutively, and duplicates of them similarly numbered shall be kept in counterfoil.

36. Any voter who may present himself at the polling place to vote shall appear before a polling officer, who shall question him as to his name, address, and number on the register, and after noting these facts in a voting paper (numbered consecutively), and in the counterfoil, shall hand over the voting paper to him.

37. The voter shall, if he can read and write, record his own vote on it, and shall present it to the presiding officer, who shall initial it, and shall enter the vote on the copy of the register made over to him under Rule 27.

38. If the voter be unable to read and write, his vote shall be recorded for him by an officer authorized by the Chairman; the paper shall then be returned to him for presentation to the presiding officer, who shall deal with it as directed in the preceding rule.

39. In all cases in which the voting paper is filled up in a language other than English, the name of the voter and of the person or persons for whom he votes shall be entered in English by an officer authorized by the Chairman.

40. If a voting paper received by post is not in order, the polling officer shall nevertheless receive and record the vote, at the same time recording the objection and separating the voting paper from those papers to which there is no objection.

41. If an objection, on the ground of personation, of non-registry or any other cause, be made to the polling officer in any case, the vote shall nevertheless be noted and separated as above, and the objections shall be recorded.

42. Any agent appointed by a candidate in accordance with Rule 26 may inspect any voting paper. He may, at any time up to the close of the poll, object in writing to the reception of any vote, stating the grounds of his objections, and he shall sign such statement.

43. If in any case the presiding officer shall find that a second voting paper is presented, purporting to be on account of a person whose vote has been already recorded, he shall proceed in the same manner as in the case mentioned in Rule 41.

44. At the close of the poll, the presiding officer shall transmit to the Chairman all objections, together with all the records relating to them. The Chairman, or, if he be prevented from attending, a Sub-Committee of Commissioners appointed by him, shall proceed on the next following day, not being a Sunday or holiday, to hear and determine such objections, and the decision shall be final.

45. At the close of the poll, the polling officer shall forward to the Chairman all the voting papers, arranged according to their consecutive numbers, in a packet duly sealed and secured.

46. As soon as may be after the decision of objections has been concluded, the Chairman shall publish, in the Calcutta Gazette, and at the Municipal Office, the names of the person or persons in whose behalf votes have been recorded, and the number of votes given for each of them; and the candidates for whom the greatest number of votes shall have been given shall be declared to have been duly elected.

47. If the same person be a candidate for election in more than one ward, on his election for one ward he shall cease to be eligible in any other ward.

48. In case of an equality of votes, the Chairman shall give a casting vote.

49. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

50. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that that irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

51. No person in the employment or pay of the Municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render the offender liable to dismissal.

RULES FOR THE ELECTION OF MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS
UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1884.

The 29th September 1884.—The following rules for the election of Municipal Commissioners in all Municipalities in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, Patna, Bhagulpore, Orissa, and Chota Nagpore Divisions (except Howrah and the Suburbs of Calcutta), have been laid down by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 15 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884:—

Of the qualification of voters.

1. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have resided within the limits of the municipality for one year previous to the date of the election.

2. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8 in respect of any rates imposed by the Act, and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote.

3. Subject to the proviso contained in rule 1, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding such election, paid in respect of any of the rates imposed by the Act an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a Pleader or Mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, shall be entitled to vote.

Of the registration of voters.

4. As soon as possible after these rules shall have been published, the Magistrate of the district shall cause to be prepared a register of persons qualified to vote. Such register shall be prepared from the assessment lists, from enquiries made by persons specially deputed for the purpose, and in such other manner as may appear expedient. Such register shall from time to time be corrected and added to as the Magistrate may direct. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the Municipality to furnish the Magistrate or the Sub-Divisional Officer with any available information required for the preparation and correction, from time to time, of the register in question.

5. At least one month before the date fixed for the elections as hereinafter provided, an extract from the register, showing the persons qualified to vote within each Ward, shall be published at suitable places within that ward. A copy of the whole register shall also be published at the municipal office.

6. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as he may depute for the purpose, shall sit to hear and decide objections to, and claims for, registration of voters on some date of which at least three days' notice shall have been given, and which shall be at least ten days after the publication of the lists in question, and at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections; and such decision shall be final.

7. The ward lists as amended, after the hearing and decision of claims and objections, shall be considered as the final lists of persons entitled to vote at the elections, and no person whose name does not appear in the ward lists shall be permitted to vote.

Of the qualification and the nomination of candidates.

8. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate.

9. Any rate-payer qualified to vote may nominate any other qualified person as a candidate.

10. The Magistrate shall, at least six weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates. Such nominations shall be delivered at the municipal office within fourteen days from the date of publication of the notices in question. No names of candidates shall be received after the expiration of such period.

11. The preliminary list of candidates, with the names of the persons nominating them, shall be published in each ward, and at the municipal office, at least three weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. A notification shall at the same time be published, fixing a date for the hearing of objections to candidates. Such date shall be at least one week later than the publication of the notification in question.

12. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall hear and decide all objections to candidates; and such decision shall be final. Before publishing the final list, he shall ascertain that all the candidates are eligible and willing to stand for election.

13. The final list of candidates shall be published in each ward, and at the municipal office, at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. No candidate whose name is not contained in such list shall be eligible for election.

Of the manner of holding elections.

14. The elections for the different wards shall be held on such date as may be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor and notified in the Calcutta Gazette.

15. The Magistrate shall decide at what place the election for each ward shall be held.

16. The date fixed for the election in each ward shall be duly notified by beat of drum, and by the publication of notices in such ward at least one month beforehand.

17. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. He shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies for such ward.

18. All persons wishing to vote must be present at the elections. No votes by proxy or in writing shall be received.

19. The Magistrate, or such other gazetted officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall preside at the election for each ward, assisted by a Committee of not less than three and not more than five rate-payers of the ward, nominated by the Magistrate.

20. The proceedings shall commence by the presiding officer explaining the nature and objects of the meeting to the assembled voters. He shall then read out the list of candidates, and state the number of vacancies.

21. Each candidate shall then be proposed by one qualified voter, and seconded by another. Subject to the control of the presiding officer on points of order, each candidate and his proposer and seconder shall be permitted to address the assembled voters on the subject of his candidature. The names of candidates not duly proposed and seconded shall be removed from the list.

22. In the case of the number of the candidates duly proposed and seconded not being greater than the number of vacancies, the presiding officer, if he is satisfied that not less than 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward or wards in which the election is taking place are present, shall at once declare such candidates to be duly elected.

23. If the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded exceeds the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall proceed to call for a show of hands in favour of each candidate. The presiding officer shall decide and state which of the candidates have received the largest number of votes by the said shows of hands. Should no poll be demanded against any one candidate, he shall declare such candidate to be duly elected.

24. Any defeated candidate, or his proposer or seconder, may demand a poll on his behalf, as against any or all of the candidates selected under the above rule.

25. When a poll is demanded, the votes shall then and there be recorded by the presiding officer with his own hand. All objections to voters shall, if possible, be summarily decided by the presiding officer, after reference to the register. No objections shall be entertained other than objections arising out of matters subsequent to registration under rule 6.

26. The presiding officer shall then and there declare such candidates as have a clear majority of votes to be duly elected. Provided that no candidate shall be declared to be duly elected unless at least 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward have appeared and recorded their votes.

27. If 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward are not present (Rule 22), or have not appeared and recorded their votes (Rule 26), the presiding officer shall report that the electors have failed, under section 16 of the Act, to elect Commissioners for the ward.

28. In case of an equality of votes for the same vacancy, and when the number of vacancies does not admit of all the candidates who have obtained an equality of votes being elected, the presiding officer shall postpone the election, fixing at the same time a date upon which the proceedings shall be re-commenced. When the majority for any candidate consists only of disputed votes, with reference to which further enquiry appears to be necessary, the result of such enquiry shall be notified on a subsequent date.

29. The list of duly returned candidates for the whole municipality shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Division for publication in the Calcutta Gazette.

Miscellaneous.

30. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

31. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that that irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

32. No person in the employment or pay of the municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render him liable to dismissal.

33. All costs incurred in the preparation of the register of voters, the publication of notices, the holding of elections, or taking any other necessary actions under these rules, shall be payable by the Commissioners out of the municipal fund.

CALCUTTA, the 17th November 1884.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL DURING THE WEEK ENDING THE 14TH NOVEMBER 1884.

THERE is little to note in the meteorology of the past week. North-east monsoon winds prevailed over the greater part of the Bay and continued to give heavy rain to the South Coromandel coast and Ceylon until the 15th, when the rain ceased. A rather rapid fall of the barometer, extending from the 9th to the 12th, initiated a change in the distribution of pressure in the Bay. Previously pressure was lowest in the south-west of the Bay, and decreased in amount from the head of the Bay southwards. The area of low pressure was transferred to Aracan and Burmah, so that pressure increased from east to west across the Bay. This condition was established on the 14th and still obtains. During the period of falling barometer, skies clouded over generally in Bengal and Behar, and a few light showers fell in Orissa and East Bengal. The rise of the barometer on the 13th was speedily followed by the disappearance of the cloud, and fine clear dry weather was again established over the Province on the 13th or 14th.

PRESSURE was increasing at the commencement of the week. This continued until the 9th, when it began to give way. It diminished slowly, but continuously, until the morning of the 12th, when a slight recovery commenced. The oscillations of the barometer are usually of little importance in November. The only noteworthy feature is that there is always a tendency to the formation of cloud during falling barometer, and this was shown very distinctly during the past week. The sky clouded over on the 11th and 12th, and began to clear again on the 13th with a rising barometer. The mean pressure of the week was considerably above the normal. The excess averaged .02" in Orissa, .03" in South Bengal, and .05" to .07" in Behar.

TEMPERATURE was unusually low during the week. This was mainly due to the low night temperature, which at present accompanies the steady prevalence of dry northerly winds. The mean temperature of the week was from $3\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ below the normal in Bengal, Behar, and Chutia Nagpur, and nearly 3° in Orissa. The deficiency in the temperature was hence very uniform over the Province. The following table shows the diminution in the night temperature during the week at several stations:—

				Minimum temperature, Nov. 8th.	Minimum temperature, Nov. 14th.	Decrease.
Cuttack	65.8	57.3	8.5
Calcutta	64.2	62.2	2.0
Burdwan	62.9	58.9	4.0
Dacca	62.9	61.9	1.0
Darjeeling	39.2	36.0	3.2
Dehree	58.8	57.0	1.8
Gya	58.0	51.2	6.8
Hazaribagh	53.6	51.8	1.8

Humidity and Rainfall.—The air was unusually dry at the commencement of the week. The humidity increased slightly during the cloudy period extending from the 10th to the 12th or 13th, and then diminished. A few very light showers fell in the Pooree and Cuttack districts of Orissa and in East Bengal on the 12th and 13th. The rainfall was of no importance.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 14th November 1884:—

- The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of an Osler's anemograph and from a Robinson's anemometer.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

The 17th November 1884.—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 10 of the Land Improvement Loans Act, No. XIX of 1883, the Lieutenant-Governor, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to make the following rules for the working of the Act:—

1. Loans under these rules will be made from such sums as the local Government may from time to time allot to the Board of Revenue.
2. Commissioners will submit, by the 15th October of each year, an estimate of the requirements for loans under the Act for each of the districts of their divisions for the ensuing financial year; and when orders thereon are received from Government and an allotment is made, the Board will distribute as funds are available. It will be in the power of Commissioners to divide the sum so allotted among the districts of their divisions at their discretion, and to transfer assignments from one district to another, but expenditure in the division must be kept within the amount assigned.
3. In these rules Collector has the meaning defined for it by the Act.
4. Subject to the provisions of these rules, the Collector may sanction loans not exceeding Rs. 1,000 for purposes specified in the Act, provided the district allotment must not be exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the division. Loans exceeding Rs. 1,000 require the sanction of the Commissioner, and exceeding Rs. 5,000 the sanction of the Board. In such cases the Commissioner or the Board may call for such detailed plans and estimates, or for such professional opinion on the project, as may seem necessary.
5. Applications for loans may be presented to any revenue officer, of or above the rank of a Canoongoe or Sub-Deputy Collector, for transmission to the Collector.
6. The application shall be made in writing as nearly as possible in the annexed Form A.

7. The Collector shall either make a local enquiry himself, or cause one to be made by a revenue officer not below the rank of a Cancoongoe or Sub-Deputy Collector, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of form A.

8. (a) When the applicant's interest in the land to be improved is sufficient to cover the loan, no collateral security need be required. (b) When the sureties are a body of village residents who bind themselves jointly and severally as provided in section 9 of the Act, their personal surety shall be sufficient. (c) In all cases not covered by clause (a) or clause (b) of this rule, immoveable property shall be hypothecated by the applicant as collateral security.

9. Repayment shall be by half-yearly instalments. The date of the first instalment shall not exceed two years from the date of the loan, and shall, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, be fixed with reference to the time when the improvement will begin to yield a return.

10. The date of the last instalment shall not ordinarily exceed ten years from the date of the loan, the amount of the instalments being fixed, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement. With the sanction of the Board of Revenue, the time for repayment may in special cases be extended to 20 years.

11. If the proposed improvements fall within the provisions of section 11, clause (2) of the Act, and the security offered is good and sufficient, the Collector may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if empowered to do so. Otherwise he shall forward the application with his report to his superior officer for disposal.

12. If the loan be sanctioned, the applicant shall be required to sign a certificate in the annexed Form B, and, when his interest in the land to be improved is not sufficient to cover the loan, to execute, together with his sureties, if any, a bond in the annexed Form C or Form D as the case may be.

13. A copy of the certificate shall be given to the applicant, and payment of the loan shall be made at the district or sub-divisional treasury on its presentation.

14. (a) The rate of interest shall be one anna in the rupee, or $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum.

(b) But the local Government may for special reasons, and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest or without interest.

(c) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest, is not paid when it falls due, the Collector may, if he thinks fit, charge interest on it at any rate not exceeding $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment.

15. The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the table in annexed Form E, which shows the amount of equal half-yearly payments necessary to re-pay a loan advanced with interest at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

16. The dates for payment of instalments shall usually be the dates fixed for payment of the land revenue.

17. Instalments may be suspended by order and at the discretion of the Collector on proof of failure of crops or other exceptional calamity. The Collector shall report the suspension through the Commissioner to the Board of Revenue, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

18. The Collector shall make provision for the inspection from time to time of works undertaken under the Act. In all cases the work shall be inspected within one month after the expiration of the time within which completion was directed in the certificate.

19. If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior revenue authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

20. When any portion of a loan made under these rules is found to be irrecoverable, a special report shall be made to the Board of Revenue.

21. The Board of Revenue shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

At the end of the paragraph insert—

VIII. The number of copyists licensed should not be greater than will admit, under ordinary circumstances, of each vernacular copyist earning at least Rs. 12, and of each English copyist earning at least Rs. 20 per month. Each copyist is to keep a register showing his receipts, which he is to submit once a month to the Magistrate, who will thus be enabled to regulate the establishment of copyists and to reduce the number, if required, with reference to the provisions of the preceding rule. The Magistrate may, under pressure of work, depute to his head clerk the duty of examining these registers; but he is under no circumstance to omit doing so himself at least once a quarter, and a certificate of his inspection of these books is always to be inserted in the annual report.

"The number of copyists in each office must be so reduced as to bring the earnings of each at least up to the prescribed minimum. No copyists shall be employed, or, if already employed, retained in employment, whose work is carelessly performed or whose handwriting is illegible or difficult to decipher. The copying departments should, where practicable at the head-quarters of a district, be amalgamated into a single separate department of which the salaried examining clerk shall be the chief ministerial officer. All the copying work required by the several Magistrates' Courts at head-quarters should be done by the District Magistrates' Copying Department."

IX. A fee of 8 annas shall be charged for searching. This fee shall be levied by means of a court-fee stamp, to be affixed to all applications for information or for copies, except such copies as the law requires to be given free of cost. The stamp shall, in the case of applications for copies in form B, be in addition to the one-anna stamp required, under article I (a), schedule II of the Court-fees Act VII of 1870, on such applications. In the case of applications for information, the searching fee shall be the only fee required to be affixed to form A.

"A fee of 4 annas shall be charged for searching for all documents of which copies are applied for, whether certified* or uncertified. This fee shall be levied by means of a court-fee stamp to be affixed to all applications for information or copies, except such copies as the law requires to be given free of cost. The stamp shall, in the case of applications for copies in Form B, be, in addition to the one-anna stamp required under Article I (a), Schedule II of the Court-fees Act VII of 1870, on such applications. In the case of applications for information, the searching fee shall be the only fee required to be affixed to Form A. One searching fee only shall be charged for any number of copies taken from the same record and included in the same application. No searching fee shall be charged in respect of copies of papers which have not been deposited on the rack of the record-room."

* Vide Section LXIII of Act I of 1872 (The Indian Evidence Act.)

Charges for Authenticated and Unauthenticated Copies.

(a) In all Criminal Courts, a uniform charge shall be made for the preparation of copies; whether authenticated or unauthenticated, at the rate of four annas per folio. This term, it is to be carefully explained to all subordinate officers, merely denominates a certain quantity of manuscript; the folio to consist of 150 words English, or 300 words Vernacular, four figures counting as one word.

(c) All copies, whether authenticated or unauthenticated, must in future, before issue, be examined by a salaried officer. The copies themselves will in all cases be made by section-writers, who will be remunerated at the rate of two annas per folio.

(f) To protect the interests of the Government, care must be taken to see that no copies issue from the Courts which are not prepared on the prescribed stamp paper, which must be written on one side of the sheet only, and not contain more than the authorized number of words. On the other hand, care must be taken to see that applicants are not imposed upon by the copyists spreading their writing over a larger number of sheets than is necessary. By insisting on the number of lines in each sheet being uniform, control may easily be exercised in this matter, the number of words in a few of the lines in each folio being checked. The business of a copyist is (like most other occupations) one calling for skill, and greatly dependent for its successful practice in experience. Copyists, therefore, must possess or acquire skill in their business, or they ought not to be retained.

(i) In the cases of authenticated copies, the Court-fee chargeable under the Court-fees Act should be levied by affixing the necessary stamp to the first folio of the copy.

Instructions.—The final result of trial as regards each person will determine the "head of offence" under which he is to be entered. When an accused is tried under more than one "head of offence," he should be exhibited under the principal one only, unless he happens to be accused of entirely distinct offences supported by separate evidence, in which case the trials would be separate and the results independent.

In the column for remarks against the name of each accused, a note should be made stating (1) whether the accused applied to the High Court for an order under Section 456 of the Code; (2) whether he applied to the High Court under Section 526 of the Code for the transfer of their cases; and (3) the class of officer (Magistrate or Sessions Judge) who disposed of the case, and whether or not they were European British Subjects.

The district or province, from or to which the cases of the persons entered in columns 7 and 9 were transferred, should also be noted in the column for remarks.

Distinctive marks should be made—

In column 5, to show the number of persons who applied under section 2, Act III of 1884, for transfer or committal of their cases.

In columns 12 to 15 and 18 to 22, to show the number who claimed to be tried (1) by a mixed Jury, section 451A (1) of the Code, or (2) by a mixed number of Assessors, Section 451 (2).

The entries should be made immediately after the receipt of the complaints, if complaints are received in the morning, or, if complaints are received in the evening, the first thing on the following morning, and the entries should be signed by the Magistrate as soon as they are made. When a case is made over for trial to another Officer, an entry to this effect should be made in the column for remarks. The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A promissory note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 800 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee-pore factory for the year 1883-84, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee-pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. The public are hereby informed that the opium manufactured at the Patna factory in season 1883-84 includes about 4,500 chests of 76° consistence, and that the opium manufactured at the Ghazee-pore factory in the same season includes about 8,883 chests of 72° and 1,965 chests of 74° consistences. The higher consistences will be mentioned in the sale notifications of the months in which they will be sold.

19. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

PROCEEDINGS OF AN ENQUIRY HELD UNDER PART III OF THE RULES FOR ENQUIRING INTO, AND REPORTING ON, SERIOUS ACCIDENTS ON INDIAN RAILWAYS BY THE MAGISTRATE OF NUDDEA IN THE CASE OF AN ACCIDENT WHICH OCCURRED AT THE ARUNGHATTA STATION OF THE EASTERN BENGAL STATE RAILWAY ON THE 2nd OCTOBER 1884.

The following papers are published for general information.

J. WARE EDGAR,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

FROM the evidence adduced before me at Bagoola on the 30th and 31st October last it is clear that the entire blame for the railway accident at Aran-ghatta on the 2nd October last, and the dire consequences which resulted therefrom, rested with the unfortunate driver Walter Cumming, now deceased. It has been proved to my satisfaction by the statements of drivers, guards, station-masters, and other railway officials that the telegram containing the words "detained here," when taken with the main signal, which admittedly was at danger, was not misleading, and that with such there was no possible excuse for the driver not bringing his train to a stand short of the main signal. This is further supported by other telegrams, similarly worded, which had been made over to drivers who had stopped their trains before reaching, or else opposite, the station. Doubtless, in the cases of these last-mentioned telegrams, the distant as well as the main signal was at danger; but at Araughatta especially, where the line is so straight that the main and distant signals can both be seen at the same time, even had the latter been white, the former should have prevented the driver from entering the station limits, otherwise than at a slackened speed, and going beyond the station itself. It is quite evident, both from the evidence and conduct of the guard of the mail train, that he thoroughly understood what ought to have been done; and if he did so, there is no reason to suppose that the driver was misled thereby.

As regards the state of the distant signal, all the station staff swear positively to its being in working order and at danger. Their evidence must of course be received with caution, but for the following reasons I am inclined to believe that their statements are true.

The machine by which this signal is worked, if left untouched, keeps the red spectacle over the light, and it is only by pulling down the lever and fixing it that the said spectacle is removed from the face of the lamp. The rule, too, is that distant signals should remain at danger; that the lever should be lowered on the approach of a train, and again allowed to fly back as soon as the train has passed within it. Under such circumstances, it can scarcely be said that, through neglect, the signalman left the signal white. He must purposely, either of his own accord or under orders, have lowered the lever; but why he should have done so it is difficult to see. It certainly might be, that he neglected to unfix his lever after the last train had passed in; but had he done so, it is, I think, more than probable that this neglect would have been noticed by some one during the interval which elapsed between that and the mail train. The only witness, other than the staff station, who can or who is likely to be able to speak to the state of this signal is the guard of the train. Passengers, even if awake, would seldom, if ever, look at them. This guard states that when he sighted the distant signal, he was distant about one mile from it; that it was white; but at the same time, seeing the main at red, he at once went to his brake, and by means of it tried to attract the attention of the driver. But when this evidence is read with that of Mr. Patterson, the Permanent Way Inspector, there is a possible way of explaining how it was that the guard found this signal white. Mr. Patterson, it seems, took down from Bagoola a relief train some few hours after the accident, and he states that when at a distance of two miles from the distant signal, he, too, noticed that it was white; but on approaching nearer to it he saw it was red. This change, it seems, might be caused by the lamp not having been pulled up to its extreme height. Now, it is, I think, quite possible that the guard, after once seeing the light white, but perceiving the main signal against the train, busied himself with his brake, and in other attempts to attract the driver's notice, and never again looked at the signals. There was certainly no necessity for his doing so, and there was every necessity for his giving his full attention to other matters. I would here also remark that, under the rules, a half-red and half-white signal is a danger signal.

As to the distant signal being out of working order, there is not the slightest proof. The Reverend Mr. Bell, who heard a discussion on this subject, says that he heard a man, whom he took to be one of the station staff, say that it was out of order, and that if he saw that man again, he could identify him. When, however, the whole station staff were paraded before him, he distinctly said that that man was not among them. This gentleman further states that he heard the station-master say that he had shown a hand red light, from which he drew the inference that he (the station-master) admitted that the distant signal was out of order. I am, however, unable to concur in this latter view. It was the station-master's duty, whether the signal was at danger or not, to show the red hand-light under the circumstances; and as I have no doubt that any discussion which took place so soon after the accident would be attended with a certain amount of confusion, it is quite possible that the station-master's remarks had no connection with that of the person who said that the signal was out of order. Added to this, the evidence of Mr. Patterson goes most clearly to show that it was in good working order.

With reference to the conduct of the station staff after the accident, the most that can be said is, that for the space of some five minutes they were quite unnerved, and shut themselves up in one of the station rooms. But even this is not satisfactorily proved. Indeed, the evidence of the guard actually disproves that the station-master shut himself up, though it goes to show that he was too unnerved to be of any great use at such a time, when there was so much for the station-master to do. There is nothing surprising in the fact that some of the passengers should have required his assistance and failed to find him; nor is it to be wondered at that for a short time he, and indeed every one not possessed of cool courage in time of danger, should have been unnerved. As far, then, as the station-master and his staff are concerned, there are, I consider, not the slightest grounds for believing that they in any way neglected their duty. In short, I can only account for this accident by the supposition that the driver and his firemen were asleep till it was too late to prevent the collision.

With reference to the management since the line has been taken over by Government and the "line-clear" system generally, the Manager, Major L. Conway Gordon, R.E., has fully deposed, and I feel sure that all who heard that evidence must have been thoroughly satisfied with the clear, free, and straightforward way in which it was given. From it there can be no doubt that complaints which have been made of reduction of the working staff, and the consequent overwork which has been forced on the existing staff, has no foundation in fact; but that, on the contrary, the strength of the working staff has been actually increased.

The line-clear system, as now described by the Manager, seems to ensure the safety of all trains; that is if, in practice, the rules are strictly enforced. In a case tried by me some months back, when the line was with the Eastern Bengal Railway Company, it seemed to me that the rules were not practically always attended to; and hence I made certain suggestions, which, however, I now find from Major Gordon's evidence, are not needed. I think, however, that it would be an additional safeguard if it was distinctly laid down that, when the "line-clear" was only from one station to the next, the rule that the telegram is to be delivered by the station-master to the guard, and by the guard to the driver, should be strictly carried out, and that drivers should not be permitted to pick up the "line-clear." This would ensure all trains, which were even only likely to cross another, to come to a stand at the station, irrespective of the signals, which would then be additional, and not the chief, guide for drivers, as they now are.

There now remains only to consider the action taken by the various authorities after the accident. The evidence shows that the guards of both trains, with the assistance of the passengers, did all that was possible, under the circumstances, till the arrival of relief trains from Bagoola, Kanchrapara, and Calcutta; that the Deputy Magistrate at Ranaghat, Inspector of Police, Sub-Deputy, Native Doctor, and some police were on the spot as soon as it was possible for them to get there; that the wounded were first attended to, and their sufferings relieved, as far as circumstances admitted, and they were sent down to Calcutta under charge of medical men; that the dead bodies were collected, and police deputed to watch them and all property that was lying about; that every endeavour was made to have dead bodies identified; and that when it was no longer advisable to keep the bodies, they were disposed of decently, and that not till descriptive rolls had been taken, and a list of all property made out. There were doubtless many difficulties to contend against, some insurmountable; but there is, I think, no reason to believe that more could have been done than was done under the circumstances.

On my return from Bagoola, the District Superintendent sent me a copy of the Indian Mirror, dated the 24th, in which complaints of robbery and want of due attention to the sufferers were made, and it was stated that some of the wounded in the hospital in Calcutta would speak thereto. I at once sent this off to the Deputy Magistrate of Ranaghat, with directions to go to Calcutta, see and examine the wounded there; and if he found any ready to depose to such facts, to send me word, in order that I might myself record their statements. I am glad, however, to be able to say that the report of the Deputy Magistrate clearly shows that none had any such complaint to make.

In conclusion, I have to express my thanks to Mr. W. C. Bonnerjee, Standing Counsel, for the assistance he rendered me in conducting this enquiry, and to Major Gordon for the arrangements made for the convenience of the Court and for my personal comfort.

W. V. G. TAYLER,

Magistrate.

The 5th November 1884.

BEFORE leaving Bagoola I directed the discharge of the station-master, who had been arrested and was on bail.

W. V. G. TAYLER,

The 5th November 1884.

Magistrate.

The deposition of MAJOR L. CONWAY GORDON, R.E., taken on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873 before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Lewis Conway Gordon. I am Manager of Eastern Bengal State Railway. I took over charge of my office on the 31st August, or 1st September last, from Colonel DeBourbel. Since I have been in charge I have made no reductions except in the clerks of my own office. These clerks had nothing to do with the working of the railway. I am not aware of any reductions in the working staff since Government have taken over charge. No application for additional staff has been refused. All drivers and firemen who were previously employed are still in employ, except such as have been dismissed for faults. I could tell the number of such by reference to the minutes of the official meetings. The places of such dismissed men have been filled by others of the same class, as far as I know. The strength of the working staff has, if anything been increased. The meaning of a line-clear message is that the message is an intimation given to the drivers that the line is clear of all obstruction, as far as it is known, from one distant signal to the next. Between this and the block system the difference is that in one case you give the driver written intimation that the line is clear, and in the other the driver trusts entirely to signals. The driver, on receiving a line-clear message should not start till he has received a hand signal from the guard; then after passing out beyond the distant signal, he would run his train at such a pace to keep time towards the next station; the whole time in driving he would keep a sharp look out for any signals from the permanent-way men on the line, and he would obey any signals given in spite of his line-clear. He ought to have his train well in hand on approaching the next distant signal, and take his orders from that signal; if that signal showed danger, he ought to bring his train to a dead stop outside the distant signal. I know the Aranghatta station; it is a small roadside station 50 miles, 71 chains from Calcutta, and is situate to the south of Bogoola, and north of Ranaghat. It is about $6\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Bogoola and $5\frac{1}{4}$ from Ranaghat. There is nothing but one long dead siding, about 1,833 feet long. The points lead off exactly opposite the station building and the main signal. This plan Exhibit A, now before the court is correct. The dead siding is marked on it. The positions of the distant and main signals are correctly given. The dead-buffer is about six feet high. Engines at night have a red light in front; the dead-buffer at the end of the siding is not so high that this light would be hidden by it. The main signal shows red and green by night, with ordinary semaphore arms by day. The north distant is from the main signal 1,969 feet, and the south 1,820 feet from the main. The distant signal is about 136 feet from the dead-buffer. The distant signals are worked by a long wire leading from the distant to the lever near the main signal. Both distant signals are worked alike. The distant signals are the same as the ordinarily prescribed patterns on the State Railways. I have been two or three times over the line at Aranghatta, and made it a point to examine the whole station and the line running to and from it; the line is nearly straight the nearest curve to the north, is 2 miles 9 chains away, and that is a 2-mile curve, and the country is clear, and there is nothing to obstruct the distant signals. I went out specially to see how far off the signals could be seen at night. I found that the light was visible from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to two miles off. This specially applies to the north distant signal. This signal would ordinarily remain at danger, and it has to be pulled to be brought down to caution. The arrangements for working these signals are within a few feet of the main, and are visible from the main. Semaphore arms are of use only in the day time; at night a lamp is hoisted on the signal post, and the danger signal is given by a red spectacle, which covers it; the same wire that moves the arms moves the spectacle, and, as in the case of the arms, it would ordinarily remain at danger. As soon as the lamp is hoisted up as high as it can go, it would be at danger. When loosing the wire to bring a caution signal to danger, a green spectacle falls over the bull's eye towards the station, and thus tells the man that the signal is at danger. Distant and main signals are intended entirely for guidance of drivers and guards. There is a disc signal at each point at most stations on this line. This is not a working signal; it is merely an indication how the points are laid. If for the main signal, this signal shows white, and if for the siding, it shows green. It is shown by a disc by day and lamps by night. There is a disc signal at Aranghatta, just opposite the station, where the points are. The disc signal gives merely shunting directions. According to working time-table the 14 down and the 16 up goods should have crossed at Bogoola on the 2nd October; the 14 down was due there at 1-40 A.M., and the 16 up at 2-10 A.M., the mail train stopping at Bogoola for refreshment, its booked starting time being 2-10 A.M. The 14 down mail had on that night 29 vehicles. There was the engine and tender, then 10 covered goods wagons, one second class carriage, one intermediate, six third class, one postal composite, one intermediate, one composite first and second, one first class carriage, one brakevan, one luggage van, two horse-boxes, and two fish vans. One brakevan is the ordinary number for that train, and this train has been run thus for years. When I took over charge, there was a great want of brakevans. The driver in charge of 14 down was Walter Cumming; he had the ordinary number of two firemen, both natives, viz., Gopal and Tomizzuddin. The guard was John Lander. The driver and Tomizzuddin are both dead, but Gopal is missing. I asked the police to look after him, but he has not yet been found. Walter Cumming had been in employ in the Company, and was taken over with the line. I have a record of his services. He was appointed by the Company as fireman from September 1877 to September 1878, and as shunter from September 1878 to July 1880, when he resigned. He was re-employed as fireman and shunter in March 1882, and finally promoted to driver in April 1883, and continued such till his death. I believe Gopal has been fireman since April 1883. The 16 up on the 2nd October had an engine and tender and three 45 wagons and one brakevan. James Morgan was driver in charge; he had two firemen, both natives, viz. Sheikh Aleo and Bundoo; they were not his regular men. The guard was H. Dee. The driver and firemen are dead. Morgan was engaged as fireman in March 1874; he served as such till April 1877, when he was promoted as shunter, and finally to driver in 1879, and continued as such till his death. We had no special system of appointing drivers for passenger and goods trains or other engine, but kept on the system of first in and first out, as done by the Company, the result of which is that a driver may have a goods train one day and the mail another. We were compelled to have this system, though I do not think it a good one. We could not, however, remedy it, on account of having agreed to keep on the Company system of overtime allowances till the 31st December next, and besides I was not anxious to introduce any material changes in the very height of the jute season, when the traffic is the heaviest. As far as records go, the 14 down came to Bogoola in time, composed and marshalled as given above, but the 16 up goods was running late; she left Sealdah about 19 minutes late; the train which then only consisted of engine and brakevan had to wait for the engine; the wagons were picked up on the road, 40 at Chitpore and 5 at Shannuggur. The engine was late because the driver was waiting for his firemen, Golab and Yakoob. They did not appear or send notice that they could not come, and the locomotive foreman had to send two new men. Neither of the trains had to stop at Aranghatta according to the working time-table. The up train being late, while the 14 was in time at Bagoola, it was the duty of the station-master, Bagoola, to arrange for another crossing further down. This he would do by asking for line-clear from Aranghatta, and on receiving line-clear, he would give it to guard, and the guard to the driver. The up train left Chogda at 1-48, and before leaving that station would have a line-clear from Ranaghat. She left Ranaghat picking up line-clear at 2-8 A.M., working under line-clear between Ranaghat and Aranghatta. The Ranaghat station-master, under these circumstances, would ask for a line-clear from Aranghatta, and having received it would give it to driver as the train passed slowly through. It would be known at Bagoola when the train left Ranaghat, and I believe it would also be known when it left Chogda. The duty of station-master, under these circumstances, after giving line-clear to both stations, was to keep main and both distant signals at danger till arrival of the up goods. The usual rule is to give preference to the passenger, but owing to particular disposition of the Aranghatta station, a working order was issued to say that in all cases the up train was to have the preference, and thereby allow the up train to go straight into the siding. Those orders were issued by the Eastern Bengal Railway Company, and have been kept up by us. The mail train, therefore, should have remained at the distant signal till the goods was well in the siding. The station-master's first attention would be to the goods train. On arrival of the up, he would lower south distant, and let the train come in within station limits, keeping all other signals at danger. The south main would then be lowered, and south distant raised to red; he would then open the points, and hand-signal the train into the siding, and then see that all was clear, when he would then lower the north distant signal, and as the down train approached the main, he would raise the north distant signal to danger, and lower the down main, having previously put the points over the main line. The duty of driver of up goods would first be to satisfy himself before leaving Ranaghat as to the contents of his line-clear; he would then have driven cautiously on looking out for distant signal at Aranghatta; he would keep the train well in hand on approaching that signal; if he found it lowered for him he would bring his train cautiously within station limits, and if main signal were lowered he would go on cautiously, and seeing the disc light in his favour, and showing green, and the station-master's signals, he would have taken his train into the siding, and remained there till hand-signalled back, after departure of the mail. The duty of driver of down mail, having satisfied himself of the contents of the line-clear, would keep a sharp look out also for distant signals; on finding these against him, he should have brought his train to a dead stop outside that signal; he would then have crept inside, so as to get protection by that signal, and remained there till main was lowered. In case the distant signal was in his favour, he would come to a dead stop at the station, and under no circumstances have passed the main; he should, in fact, have brought his train to a standstill between the distant and main signal. If the goods had been in the siding, it was his duty to see, by observing the side lights of the brakevan of the goods, if the whole train was within the siding. He could not, under any circumstances, go through to Aranghatta without the line-clear. If he had to run through picking up line-clear, he would have seen both the main and distant signals would have been in his favour. The line being very straight, the main signal can be seen at the same time as the distant. Under the circumstances, the guard of the down having satisfied himself as to the line-clear, would personally give it to driver, he would then keep a sharp look out, and if the driver did not slacken or stop, when he (the guard) thought he should do so, he ought to have applied his brake sharply and otherwise endeavour by danger signals to attract the notice of the driver. In some trains there are communication cords, but not in this one; it is not under the rules a necessary appendage. The train, as composed, could not have been supplied with one, since the stock handed over to me had no spirals. With short trains according to my experience, this cord does act, but not with long ones, and especially mixed trains, when it usually gets jammed. I here put in the line-clear message which passed from both sides (Exhibits B. C. and D. E. F. G.) To understand the meaning of message C "detained here," we must first look to wording of B. The station-master of Bagoola directs to "detain No. 16 at yours;" this was a form of message only necessary when 16 up was running on a through line-clear between Ranaghat and Bagoola, which she was not doing in this instance, and when after giving a through line-clear to No. 16 up from Ranaghat to Bagoola; it subsequently became necessary to stop No. 16 up at Aranghatta; the form of words used by Bagoola in this case was unnecessary. The station-master of Bagoola appears to be in the habit of using this form. The station-master of Aranghatta replied "Detained here" merely in answer to station-master of Bagoola, meaning that she would not be allowed to go further. I think the message on both sides was redundant, was intended as extra, and, in my opinion, ought not to have deceived the driver. The crossing of 14 down and 16 up was not unusual; it had happened on the morning of 3rd, 13th, 22nd, 24th, 26th and 30th of the month of September. I put in copies of the messages (exhibits) that passed on these days. On none of these occasions as far as records show had the 16 up arrived at Aranghatta when the messages were despatched. These messages would, however, worded clearly, indicate that the train had to cross, and the staff would rely for the position of the trains on in and out reports, but the drivers would simply know that they had to go as far as the distant signal. Drivers have to signal watering and crossing stations and train notice note. I produce that of 2nd October for the Bagoola station; it shows the trains the drivers have to cross (points out the signatures of Walter Cumming and Lander.) The duties of the staff above-mentioned are all given in a manual called general rules, which is common to all railways, and in addition thereto subsidiary rules, under the authority of the general rules, have been issued. These rules are given to all officers, who are obliged to have them. Alterations are issued from time to time by circular orders. After the accident, I went to the spot, arriving about 8 o'clock on the 2nd. I saw the two engines were blocked together about 357 feet to the south main signal; the engines had met face to face, the tenders had both mounted the engines, the under frame of tender resting on the outer shell of the fire-box. Driver Morgan and his firemen were still on the engine jammed between tender and fire-box; the rolling-stock of No. 16 up goods was a good deal damaged, and about five goods wagons were derailed. The ten covered goods wagons of 14 down were on the line between engine and platform, and just opposite the platform were the wrecks of the first second class carriage, the first intermediate, and the first third class. The intermediate carriage had overridden and destroyed the second class, and the third class had overridden and destroyed the intermediate, its own condition being only some breakage in the front portion. The wounded had been all taken away. As we came up in the train, we met them at Ranaghat, and I put one of the doctors, Dr. Seamens, in charge of them, and took on another doctor, viz. Dr. Corbett. The Deputy Magistrate had arrived previously, and was then taking depositions of the staff concerned. I saw some 11 passengers' dead bodies, and that of Morgan and one of his firemen. The uninjured portion of the 14 down had been run back to Bagoola. The third class carriage, which was on top of the other two, was in a dangerous position, and was consequently pulled over on to the ground clear of siding, and fell on the top of wire of the distant signal. I was, therefore, unable to enquire if the distant signal was or was not in proper order. I endeavoured subsequently to find this out, and I found it worked stiffly, by which I mean that it did not work readily, and had to be jerked at times to make it fly back to danger. After the Deputy Magistrate had completed his enquiries, at which I listened, I have had enquiries made, and myself made other enquiries. As an officer of experience, I believe, the lateness of the 16 up was not a direct cause for the accident; the whole line-clear system is devised solely to enable you to cross trains at other than their booked crossings. Even if distant signal was in the driver's favour, had the driver done his duty, the accident would not have occurred, and still less if both signals had been against the driver, and he had done his duty properly. Taking the most favourable assumption for the driver, i.e., that distant signal did not show red, I find, first, that he did not approach the station with every caution in accordance with paragraph 12 of Working order No. 80, dated 20th December 1880; second, that he did not pay attention to the main signal in accordance with clauses 228 and 236 of the General Rules; thirdly, that he did not keep a good look out in accordance with clause 227 of the General Rules; fourthly, that he passed the main or station signal when at danger in contravention of clauses 72 and 233 of the General Rules; fifthly, that he did not sound his engine whistle in accordance with clause 252 of the General Rules; sixthly, that he did not attend to paragraph 10 of subsidiary rules regarding the noticing of the brake side lights when passing a train in a siding; seventhly, that he passed the Aranghatta platform and proceeded on without a line-clear in contravention of clause 342 of the general rules and paragraph 12 of the subsidiary rules. I can attach no blame to the Aranghatta station-master beyond having, first, answered a redundancy in the line-clear from Bagoola, which was unnecessary, but which I believed most people in his position would have answered; and secondly, such blame as may attach to him on the evidence with regard to the position of the distant signal. With regard to the latter point I wish to state that the two distant signals are worked from the same point, and the native signaller gets into the habit of never lowering both distant signals at the same time. To lower both at the same time would be quite unusual, so much so that I believe had the station-master by mistake ordered him to do so, the signaller would have been certain to have brought it to his notice, and it is in evidence that the south distant signal was lowered. The disc signal could, in no way, interfere or obstruct the other lights. From evidence before me, I formed an idea that the rate was about 15 to 17 miles an hour: no fixed speed is prescribed for trains going through stations and picking up line-clear; the rules simply require every caution. I would here mention that the 10 mile an hour through facing points would not apply to the 14 down as the points did not face his train. The dead bodies were buried by order of the Deputy Magistrate at about 1 or 2 o'clock; they were then most offensive, and when I spoke to the Deputy Magistrate about it, I agreed with that officer that there was nothing else to be done. The Bagoola and Aranghatta station-masters would know about the same time about the leaving of the up train.

L. CONWAY GORDON, Major, R.E.

The deposition of Reverend W. C. BELL taken on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873 before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is W. C. Bell. I reside at present at Dum-Dum where I am a Chaplain. I was a passenger on the down mail on the night of the 2nd October. I had come from Kooshtea. I don't remember whether I was awake or asleep at Bagoola. I was alone in a first class carriage, but I was disturbed by the shock of the accident at Aranghatta. I looked out of the window, saw and asked the guard what had happened, then got out of the carriage and ran up with the guard along the platform to the wreck of the carriages. We found nobody on the platform. I was eventually taken back to Bagoola. I did not, while at Aranghatta, notice the signal lights. Of my own personal knowledge I know nothing of the cause of the accident. But when talking to the guard, I was told that the distant signal was white, and seeing that the driver had been misled, though the main was at danger, when the guard said this a man, whom I took to be one of the station staff said:—"Oh! the distant signal was out of order." The station-master also remarked at the same time that he had shown a red light, from which I drew the inference that he admitted that the distant signal was out of order. I did all I could to assist the wounded. In order to render assistance I went to the station-room and found the door shut, and going round to a window I saw several (may have been five or six) men all looking very frightened inside. I spoke to them, and after that they came out, and I saw them afterwards showing lights. This was all done in some five or ten minutes. (The station staff being brought before witness says none of these men spoke of the distant signal being out of order.) Among the passengers I discovered an Assistant Surgeon, and with his help was able to afford help to the sufferers. The pilot-engine from Bagoola did not come till 5 A.M to take us back and bring men to render assistance. We left before the wounded were sent off.

WILLIAM CHARLES BELL.

The deposition of BAROO PEARY MOHUN GUHA taken on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873 before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Peary Mohun Guha, I am a pleader. I was a passenger in the 14 down train of the 1st October, which arrived at Aranghatta on the morning of the 2nd. I was in the first class. I got in at Goalundo. I was bound for Ranaghat by that time, I was asleep when the train was at Bagoola, and by the shock of the accident at Aranghatta awoke. I got out of the train immediately after the accident. My carriage was opposite the platform. I saw no lights on the platform. A few minutes after I met the guard. I saw none of the station staff at the time. Wanting a light to render assistance, I went to the station-house, and found the doors shut, and could get no response, though I knocked. This was some minutes after the accident; the door was shut from inside; about an hour after I saw the station people. I don't think they had lights; they may have been out before that, but I did not see them. One of them, who was standing at the door, said, now that the accident had happened, they should render assistance, and not be thinking of the consequences to themselves. I was brought back to Bagoola. I also heard a discussion between, I think, Mr. Ewbank and other European and native gentlemen about the cause of the accident, some saying that the distant signal was out of order; but this a gentleman contradicted on the ground that he had lately examined it. I saw some 10 or 11 dead bodies, and several wounded, and the state of the injured engines and carriages. I did not go round to see if any door on the other side was open. I did not know the station staff and say they were absent because all complained of their absence.

PEARY MOHUN GUHA.

The deposition of PRINGLE DAVID BARCLAY taken on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873 before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, the 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Pringle David Barclay. I am Traffic Superintendent, Eastern Bengal State Railway. I have been Traffic Superintendent since the Company made over the line to Government. No reductions have been made in the working staff, but on the contrary it has been increased. I don't know whether native firemen have replaced Europeans. On the 2nd October, the station staff at Aranghatta were M. N. Ghose, station-master, J. N. Dey, booking clerk, R. L. Biswas, signaller in charge, B. L. Adhikaree, assistant signaller, P. C. Haldar, assistant signaller and other menial servants, names not known. The number of men is quite sufficient; no reductions have been made. The whole staff was there when I took charge. I came up with Major Gordon after the accident occurred. I have heard his evidence given to-day. His description of the state of the injured carriages and other matters is, as far as I remember, correct, except the position of the three damaged carriages, which had been taken back a little northwards. I did not see the dead bodies. I heard the evidence of Major Gordon as regards the duties of the guards and station staff of the several stations under the circumstances, and I quite agree therewith. I am acquainted with the rules and orders alluded to by that officer, and they were correctly given. I concur in thinking that had the driver Cumming obeyed all orders, he could not have been where he was, but ought to have been north of the main signal; in fact nothing can excuse him passing the main signal with a running train, even though the distant were in his favour, if he had been carrying out runs, he ought to have been quite able to pull up before passing the main. I know of no practice that would render it impossible to pull up a train before reaching the main, even though the distant signal was in his favour. From personal experience, at a speed of 20 miles an hour, a line-clear is sometimes picked up. The line at Aranghatta is very straight, and the main signal is clearly visible from a mile and a half off. I take the same view that Major Gordon has done with regard to the conduct of the station staff. I saw the station staff paraded just now; all three men present that time were brought in. No application made for increased staff has been refused. I beg to produce a circular order issued to all station-masters on 27th August 1884, regarding the reprint of line-clear enquiry and line-clear message form (Exhibit M.)

Recalled—Says I produce two copies of line-clear messages 27th and 30th September, and the two original guard's reports of the No. 14 down mail for the train of 2nd, 12th, 21st, 23rd, 25th, 26th and 29th September.

P. D. BARCLAY.

The deposition of ALAN WOOD RENDALL taken on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873 before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Alan Wood Rendall. I am Locomotive Superintendent of the Eastern Bengal State Railway. I took charge on the 1st July 1884. I kept on the old staff of drivers and firemen. I have reduced none of this staff, except for misconduct, nor substituted native for European firemen. There was an increase of two European firemen in October compared with the staff in July. When Europeans were discharged for misconduct, new Europeans have been appointed. The system in vogue under the Company was what is termed first in, first out. I do not approve of it. The system was in vogue up to October. I did not change, as the doing so would create discontent, as it would have made a difference as to the overtime earned by the men under the old rules. I heard the evidence given by Major Gordon. I heard what he said as to what both Cumming and Morgan should have done. I quite agree with Major Gordon thereon. At 3-47 A.M. I got information of the accident; the guard telegraphed to me from Aranghatta. I took the engine of No. 1 up, and arrived at Aranghatta at 5 to 5 A.M. I was the first superior official on the spot. On my arrival, I found the state of the carriages a little different to that described; the third class that mounted upon the other two was intact, but a third class which followed those carriages had its front knocked in, and the two wagons in front of the three carriages were derailed; otherwise the state of things, as stated by Major Gordon, was similar to what I saw. The reversing lever of the down mail was in back gear, but the reversing arm on the way bar shaft was broken off, so that the engine had fallen into fore gear; but whether this happened before or after I cannot say. The steam was full on, and the regulator jammed. The first duty of a driver is to shut off steam, but steam was put on full, as far as I can judge, after reversing. Walter Cumming was alive, but was unable to speak. I saw the wounded there. I went to engine of 16 up. I would like to mention here that I found Cumming's leg had been cut off by the sector plate of the reversing lever. The leg I found jammed there. This would show that he actually was at his reversing lever when the collision occurred. Also from the position of the die block on the brake-screw, I should say that the brake was hard on, and the second fireman was lying on the brake side of engine on the grass. I did not observe the handle of the whistle. The shock of the accident would shut it, if it had been open. On the 16 up, the reversing lever was in back gear, and the regulator slightly open. The driver was jammed on the fire-box and was quite dead; he must have been scalded to death, if not killed otherwise. One fireman was dead. I at once sent all injured passengers to Bagoola, and then the Assistant Surgeon, who was brought up by me, attended to the injured, whom I despatched to Calcutta. I remained at Aranghatta till 8 P.M., and I reckoned that some 11 persons had been killed. They were laid out on the platform chiefly, some on the opposite side. I was there when the Deputy Magistrate arrived. The condition stated by Major Gordon as to the state of the deceased just before burial was quite correct. If the driver had come as far as the distant signal expecting to run through at 20 miles an hour, I don't think he could have pulled up before reaching the main signal, but his train ought to have been going at much less speed than it was when the collision occurred. The usual distance for shutting off steam for these trains is about half a mile outside distant signal. Walter Cumming was a European, also James Morgan. On the whole I take the same view of the conduct of the station staff as Major Gordon. It would have been an additional safeguard had the disc light shown for the siding and not for the main. The engines have all the ordinary brakes; it would be a great safeguard to have steam brakes; we are now about to introduce them, as engines for State lines are so provided. One engine on this line has steam brake, and one with a hand brake in addition to the tender brake. The disc light always shows for the main, except when the points are put for the siding. The driver can reverse his lever in a few seconds. There was a medical man there, besides the man I brought. I thought he was a passenger. The Deputy Magistrate wanted to bring out some of the injured in order to identify the dead, but they were too bad to come out for such a purpose, and attempts were made to get persons to assist in burying the dead, but no one could be got to assist.

Recalled.—I did not find the remains of the missing man Gopal. I believe that he was not one of the killed, but I fancy he must have absconded.

The deposition of WILLIAM INNES taken on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873 before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is William Innes. I am Deputy Traffic Superintendent, Eastern Bengal State Railway. I have been Deputy Traffic Superintendent since Government took over the Railway. I was before Traffic Superintendent of the Eastern Bengal Railway Company. The 14 down starts from Goalundo at the same time now as it did at time of the Company, and the 16 up at the same time from Sealdah. Bagoola was, as far as I can recollect, the crossing station then, as now. The 14 down used at the time of the Company to run with one brake. In the time of the Company it frequently happened that these trains crossed at stations further down, and not at Bagoola, where they are booked to cross. We had no spare brakes in the time of the Company. We do not consider it necessary to run all our passenger trains with two brakes. In the time of the Company it was a mixed train as it is now. This train in the Company's time never had a cord, wagons having no spirals. There has been no reduction in the Traffic Department, nor, as far as I am aware, in the Locomotive.

The deposition of WILLIAM GEORGE BOLTON, taken, on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873 before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, on this the 30th day of October 1884.

My name is William George Bolton. I was station master of Bagoola in October, having been there 15 months. During that time Bagoola was the crossing station of the 16 up 14 times. It was not unusual for the trains to cross further down. H. D. Bannerjee was in charge of the station, but I have to come out to see that all is right. My assistant started the train. I was called from my bed after 3 A.M., and told of the accident. I at once sent for the permanent-way inspector, and I also sent the engine of No. 15, which was here about 4, with all the men that I could collect. I merely went to the telegraph office and learnt that 16 up was at Chogda, and I told this to the guard, but to the driver I only exchanged "good night." It was about a little before 2 that I enquired for the 16 up; neither I nor the guard could have thought that it was at Aranghatta. (Looks at train notice book, and points out Walter Cumming's signature, and says that the words 14 down above his signature is in his handwriting).

The deposition of JONATHAN RIST taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Jonathan Rist. I am a driver. I have been a driver in England and in this country since 1854. I am now a driver from Bogoola. I started first train in 1863, and have been in employ ever since. The witness was asked to look at message marked C, and said with such a message I should have stopped outside the distant signal, if that signal was against me; but if it was white and the main at danger, I should have drawn up within the distant signal. It depends on weight of train and number of vehicle, and other circumstances, when steam should be shut off. Grease on rails and position of wind have all to be considered. I know the line at Arunghatta. It is very straight. The main signal there is easily visible from a distance sufficient to draw up any ordinary train. With such a message I should certainly be going with caution, in order to stop at Arunghatta. If a guard applies his brake hard, the driver can always feel it. I consider I am bound by signal, whatever the telegraph is. A train picks up a line clear at a speed of 10 to 15 miles.

JONATHAN RIST.

The deposition of JOHN PEARSON taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is John Pearson. I am a driver. I have been a driver 15 years and $\frac{1}{2}$. I see this message, exhibit C. With such a message I would keep the train under control till I got to Arunghatta, and even if seeing the distant signal white, I should continue to keep the train under control till I saw the main signal in my favour; and if that signal was red, I would draw up outside it. I know the Arunghatta line. Main signal can be seen from a long distance, sufficiently far off to draw up a train, even at a good speed. When shutting off steam, one has to consider weight of train, wind, &c. With a line clear only to next station, I should enter the station very cautiously. Our rules are all laid down.

JOHN PEARSON.

The deposition of THOMAS EDWIN COLLINS taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Thomas Edwin Collins. I am a driver. I have been a driver 15 years. With this message C, I should expect that No. 16 up goods was up and already in siding; and though the distant signal was in my favour, I would look out for the main, and if I saw it against me, I should pull up outside of it, or at the platform. It is a rule that my train must be quite under control, unless I am quite satisfied that I am to run through. I do not, as a rule, whistle if the signals are in my favour. If such a message and the distant signal were in my favour, though I might think I might otherwise have run through, and if the line clear was not ready for me, or for other reasons I had to stop, when coming inside a station I would always have my train under control: by this I mean from 10 to 12 miles an hour. I know the Arunghatta line and its peculiar siding. If a train were standing at it, the head light would always be visible: a wagon might be in the way, or it might be taken down for trimming.

THOMAS EDWIN COLLINS.

The deposition of HURREEDAS BANERJEE, aged about 21 years, taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Hurreedas Banerjee. My father's name is Khetore Mohun Banerjee. My home is at mouzah Debanundapore, zillah Hooghly. I reside at present in mouzah Bagoola. I am assistant station-master. I was assistant station-master on the 2nd October, and I was in charge. I despatched this telegram B. It would have been sufficient to say is line clear; but to make doubly sure I put the message in this way. I got in reply message C., but from my in and out-reports I knew that the train was not at Arunghatta. I understand "detained here" to mean would be detained, and that the line was clear between Bagoola and Arunghatta. I believe the 14 down came in at due time. I started the train at 2-10 A.M. Cumming was driver and Lander the guard. I saw the latter. I gave him the line-clear message. I sent message D. I heard of the accident at Arunghatta by telegram at a quarter past 3. I was waiting for 16 up goods. I called up station-master.

HURREEDAS BANERJEE.

The deposition of JOHN LANDER, taken on oath or solemn affirmation under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is John Lander. I am a guard. I was in charge of No. 14 down on the 2nd October. We arrived at Bagoola in due time, and started at 2-10 A.M. I have been guard 13 years. I cannot say whether I got the message from station or assistant station-master and gave it to the driver, whom I saw and spoke to. He was perfectly sober, and so was I. When I first sighted the distant signal it was about five minutes before the accident. That signal was white. I could see the main at the same time was at danger. I was a mile from distant signal when I first sighted it. The line is very straight there. By the time I had got my brake on, we were half a mile from distant signal. My brake brought up the train a little, but beyond this there was no lessening of speed. Had driver attempted to stop his train when I put on the brake, we could have done so before reaching the platform, assuming the engine was in proper working order. There was no reason to believe that it was not in good order. When we collided, I should say with my brake on, we must have been going at about 15 miles an hour. I did not notice the disc signal. Whatever light that signal showed, I would have put on brake on seeing main at danger. As soon as we collided, I jumped out on platform, and I saw station-master with a red signal lamp and several others. Some passengers were out before I was. The station-master was on the platform, but too frightened to be of any use. I cannot say whether others of the station staff were about. The accident happened, I think, at 2-30: then looking at his journal says it took place at 2-30 A.M. I looked at my watch to fix the time. As guard I should take the time when driver signalled after receiving line-clear which he picked at passing. No such signal was given. We had a line-clear to Arunghatta only, and could not go beyond without a fresh line clear. The guard of the up train and I did all we could for the sufferers. When I got the message C., I expected we should have to stop at Arunghatta, and seeing the main at danger, I knew we had to stop. Besides Cumming, Morgan, and their firemen, and Mrs. Cann's baby, I knew none of the deceased. I sent this telegram, exhibit N. I saw Cumming after I sent the message. He was alive, but in a senseless state. He said something about distant signal being white. I counted the dead and found 11 passengers had been killed. I did not count the number of the wounded. Dee and I did all we could. I came to Bagoola with uninjured passengers, and returned to Arunghatta in about an hour. I was tending Cumming when he spoke about the distant signal. We had hardly finished extricating the people when Mr. Rendall arrived.

JOHN LANDER.

The deposition of MAURICE HENRY DEE taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Maurice Henry Dee. I am a guard. I was guard of the 16 up goods on the morning of the 2nd October. James Morgan was the driver. My train started late from Calcutta by 19 minutes. We were waiting for engine. I don't exactly know cause. We passed through Ranaghat between 2-10 and 2-11. We approached Arunghatta at very slow speed. The distant signal was lowered for us to enter, but the main was kept at danger, as is the custom when the train is going into a siding. I left the brake immediately after accident, and could not find or get an answer from the drivers or firemen of either train. Then I went to assist the sufferers. Lander and I did all in our power to help the wounded. Some time after I mounted the tender of my train, and found the bodies of the driver and firemen. I also saw Cumming afterwards. I did not count the dead. I remained at Arunghatta all that day. I did notice the north signals. James Morgan did all he could do, and was in no way to blame for the accident. I have been a guard about five years and three months. I cannot say that I felt that the driver had reversed his engine. I did not at first notice the station, but afterwards, when assisting the wounded, I saw station-master and booking clerk.

The deposition of UNNADINATH MOOKERJEE, aged about 38 years, taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Unnadinath Mookerjee. My father's name is Shama Charan Mookerjee. My home is at mouzah Goculgachee, zillah Hooghly. I reside at present in Calcutta, where I am an Assistant Engineer. I am employed as an Assistant Engineer on the Eastern Bengal State Railway. I have been in the Railway service for the last 12 years. I prepared this map, exhibit A. it is drawn to scale and is correct.

UNNADINATH MOOKERJEE.

The deposition of MOHENDRA NATH GHOSE, aged about 26 years, taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Mohendro Nath Ghose. My father's name is Ram Lall Ghose. I am by caste kaist. My home is at mouzah Doncheer, pergunnah Chozdah, zillah Nuddea. I reside at present in mouzah Arunghatta, where I am a station-master. I am employed by the Eastern Bengal State Railway. I was station-master of Arunghatta on the 2nd October 1884. I was three years assistant Station-master at Bagoola and for 18 months at Arunghatta. I was at Arunghatta on the morning of the 2nd October 1884. I first got intimation of the down train by telegram from Bagoola in words of message, exhibit B. I got that message at 1-58 A.M. On receipt thereof I sent message C. Then I sent a reply on receipt (looks at message C, and says I received message B before 1-44, at which time I sent a reply). It has happened before many times that these two trains crossed at Arunghatta. When I sent C, the 16 up had not arrived. By words "detained here," I meant will be detained. All my signals were at danger. It is the normal state for all four signals to be at danger, and I myself saw that they were placed at danger. About the time that I sent C, I received message from Ranaghat enquiring for line-clear for 16 up, exhibit E, and I sent message F. After this I got one message from Bagoola and one from Ranaghat, exhibits D and E. From the out-reports I knew that the 16 up had left Ranaghat at 2-8 A.M., and the 14 down at 2-10 A.M. In consequence of this I was on the alert. I allowed the up train into station limits first. Had the 14 down arrived first at distant signal, I should have kept the down train outside distant signal. Had the 16 up broken down on road, I would still have kept the 14 down standing. About 2-25 A.M. I was first aware of the up train's arrival. I waited for the whistle, and then ordered the distant signal to be lowered, but no orders were given to lower the other three signals. No one has power to lower any signals without my orders. Had any one done so, I should have seen it. When distant signal is at danger, a green light is seen from the station, hence we can tell the state of that signal. When lowering the south distant signal, I specially looked and satisfied myself that all the other signals were at danger, and did not take it for granted that they were so. After the distant signal was lowered, and previous to accident, I gave no orders to any one to lower any of the other signals, and all were at danger. I saw the up-train coming up slowly, and then I noticed it was coming on regardless, as if it had a line-clear right through. At that time on the platform with me were Madhub, policeman, and Hurree, ferash. We all three had red lights in our hands, and we ran forward northwards with our lights, which we raised, shouting at the same time. At our shouts the telegraph Baboos came out and joined us in shouting, but in a moment the collision occurred. The mail train never once whistled, neither grave nor ordinary. I could not see the position of the driver and firemen as they passed me. The mail train ought to have come in slowly after being signalled in, taken the line-clear and gone on to Ranaghat. A fireman or driver, standing on the outside edge of the engine, takes the message. No one was in such a position that night. I was naturally confused and frightened. On recovering myself a little, I looked to see what had occurred to passengers, and went to send telegrams of the accident. There were but few of us station staff on the platform. Some of the passengers ran into the room in the station. I saw Mr. Bell on the platform, as I was going to send my telegram. In the office I found passengers creating much noise. I told them to go out and send telegram, and after that I did what I could for the sufferers. On the night in question the staff for the station were three telegraph Baboos, station-master, booking clerk, one pointsman, two signalmen, two porters and one ferash—eleven in all were employed. Those not on duty were in their basah, some 25 cubits from the station, within station compound—I, the ferash, one signaller, pointsman, and two telegraph Baboos—six in all. Beharee Lall Adhikaree and another, name not known, were the telegraph Baboos. Niamut Sheikh was the signaller, and Sahab Ali was the pointsman. The telegraph staff consists of three Baboos: those present were then on duty, one having just relieved the one absent. At the time of the accident I did not see any one not on duty present, but a few minutes after they came. We all did what we could for the sufferers. I was at the station all that day and removed the locked carriages. I saw the dead bodies, but did not count them. All the dead bodies were collected together. I did not observe any pieces of a dead body so small as to indicate that any missing dead body was not likely to be discovered. Mr. Rendall was the first superior official to arrive and take charge.

MOHENDRA NATH GHOSE.

The deposition of BAHAREE LALL ADHIKAREE taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Baharee Lall Adhikaree. My father's name is Modoo Soodan Adhikaree. I am by caste Boistub. My home is at mouzah Sooksagur, zillah Nuddea. I reside at present in mouzah Arunghatta, where I am a signaller. I see telegrams B, C, D, E, F, G. These were received and sent from the Arunghatta telegraph office on the 2nd October. When C was sent the train had not arrived. The station-master gave us the message and we sent it verbatim. I understood it to mean that the train would be detained. We often send such messages, and with no bad results. When the accident occurred, I was at the door of my office, attracted by the noise of the station-master, who was also showing red lights. I joined in shouting. I afterwards sent telegram of the accident. I sent this, exhibit N. I saw the main signal at danger and the north distant showing a green light.

BAHAREE LALL ADHICAREE.

The deposition of SHEIK NIAMUT, aged about 40 years, taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Sheik Niamut. My father's name is Sheikh Imam Baksh. I am by caste Mussalman. My home is at mouzah Kanholee, zillah Patna. I am signalman at Arunghatta. I have been 5 years at Arunghatta. My duty is to work the signals. I was on duty on the night of the accident. I cannot alter any signal without orders, nor, as a fact, do I ever do so, nor have I done so without orders. On the night of the accident, before the approach of the train, all signals were at danger. On the Ranaghat train's whistling, I was ordered to lower the south distant signal, and I did so. I got no orders before or after that to lower the north distant, and did not do so. In order to lower signal, I have to use some force. On the distant signal being lowered, the points were opened. The main signals remained at danger. I did not do anything to try and stop the down train. The station-house is directly opposite the main signal. The station-master and policeman and a ferash with lamps were on the station: they shouted and showed red lights. The north distant signal was in good order, and I distinctly saw the green light. I did not notice the position of the driver and firemen as the train passed. The points were opened to admit of the up train into the siding.

SHEIK NIAMUT.

The deposition of SAHEB ALI KHAN, aged about 35 years, taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Saheb Ali Khan. My father's name is Furabad Khan. My home is at mouzah Manee, zillah Jounpore. I reside at present in mouzah Arunghatta where I am a pointsman. On the night of the accident I was on duty. I have been pointsman for two months at Arunghatta. I have been elsewhere doing this duty for ten years. I was at my points when the accident occurred. I had opened the points to let the Ranaghat train into the siding. When the mail came in, however, by order of the station-master, I re-shut the points, and the mail went over them without breaking the points. I am certain that I re-shut the points at the order of the station-master. The lights of the points were showing green on both sides. I saw a green light in the north distant signal. The station-master on seeing the mail ordered me to reshut points, and then ran forward, northwards, shouting and showing his hand danger lights. I was naturally frightened when I saw the mail coming on regardless of signals. To open and reshut points the handle must be worked: it won't fly back of itself.

SAHEB ALI KHAN.

The deposition of HURREESH SHEIKH, aged about 25 years, taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Hurreesh Sheikh. My father's name is Roop Chund Mondal. I am by caste Mussalman. My home is at mouzah Arunghatta. I am a ferash of Arunghatta station, and have been so for a year. There are three signal lights and one disc light. I hoist the lamps on the staff. I remember the night of the accident. I hoisted the lights on that evening as usual, and they were burning all right when the accident happened. I had a red light in my hand and was on the platform. I saw the north distant signal was showing green towards the station. I hoisted the light up to the full at the north distant signal and found all was right. The station-master and policeman were on the platform, also with red lights: we all three shouted and showed our lights. As the train passed I did not notice the position of the driver or firemen, or if any one was standing to take the line-clear. Had any one been so standing, I must have seen him.

HURREESH SHEIKH.

The deposition of MADHOO MULLAH, aged about 26 years, taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Madhoo Mullah. My father's name is Kujajat. I am by caste a Hindoo. My home is at mouzah Kuttra, zillah Roy Bareilly. I am a policeman of Arunghatta. I have been employed for six months, and was on duty on the night of the railway accident. I was at that time on the platform. I had rung the bell for both trains, and was standing there. I noticed the north distant signal, which showed green. I had a red light in my hand, and showed it to stop the mail, going northward, by orders of the station-master. I was examined by the Deputy Magistrate. I did not say before him that I had not seen the distant signal. The pointsman was at the points, which had been opened. This I saw by the green lights being north and south, and white towards the platform. I had gone northward, and cannot say whether the points were open when the train passed over them.

MADHOO MULLAH.

The deposition of WILLIAM JOHN PATTERSON taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is William John Patterson. I am Permanent-way Inspector of the Eastern Bengal Railway Company now taken by Government. I have been as such since June 1877. I am stationed at Bagoola, where I have been four years. My duties with regard to signals and signal lamps are to inspect from time to time, and see that they are in repair, and to repair them. Arunghatta is within my jurisdiction. I remember the night of 2nd October. I examined the signals of Arunghatta on 22nd September and found them in good condition and thorough working order: before that I examined them on the 18th September. I went on the 18th in consequence of an extract of a driver's report which was sent me with orders to examine the signals. Points out extract of 12th September—"Down distant signal, Arunghatta, must be out of order: shows white light when at danger." I went to examine the post, and climbed it myself and examined it thoroughly, all spectacles, fastenings of delivery rods, and other fastenings, and balance levers, and found it all right and in good order. I examined the up distant signal also and ordered it to be repaired on the 12th September. On the 22nd September I also found the signal in good order. I account for the extract by saying that either the ferash had not thoroughly pulled up the light or contraction of wires at night: the cold would affect it then. There are compensating arrangements to counteract that. After my visit no further complaints were made. Had they been made, I should have been certain to hear of them. I heard of this accident at 3-19 A.M. from the station-master of Arunghatta. I collected all the men I could, and I arrived about 4 A.M. at Arunghatta. I remained there till 8-40 P.M. on the 2nd. It was not a foggy night. The distant signal showed white at a distance of two miles off, and on nearing red. Climpson drove the engine that took me down. About quarter of a mile from the distant signal it became red, and the train going at 40 miles could have stopped before reaching the station. A half-white half-red light is also "danger." When we came up to the light it seemed quite perfect. I examined the signal again on the 3rd and found it in good order. I saw the dead bodies brought out, and helped to dig the grave. I saw both wounded and dead, and counted the latter. I examined the debris and searched among it for all remains. I saw nothing to lead me to suppose that any one had been so smashed as to become part of the debris. After all identification had been attempted, the bodies were buried about 1 o'clock. Decomposition had then set in. The bodies were laid side by side, and covered with four feet of earth, and sleepers were placed on the graves on the following Sunday. The graves had not been in any way interfered with in the meanwhile. There was a talk of exhuming the bodies on the 3rd, and I had made arrangements for doing so, but received no orders. The Europeans present did everything. In fact, as the natives refused, we placed cloth over the bodies before covering them with earth. Some of the injured passengers returned to Bagoola and some stayed in the compound of the station. Those who were seriously injured were forced to go to Calcutta: others went or not as they liked.

WILLIAM JOHN PATTERSON.

The 31st October 1884.

The deposition of BABOO RAM CHARAN BOSE taken on oath or solemn affirmation, under the provisions of Act X of 1873, before me, W. V. G. TAYLER, Magistrate of Nuddea, this 30th day of October 1884.

My name is Ram Charan Bose. I am a Deputy Magistrate. I am in charge of the sub-division of Ranaghat, and was there on the 2nd October. I have been in charge for four years and one month, with the exception of short leave once. I got information at 4-30 A.M. of the accident, whereon I sent a chuprasie to the station-master to arrange for a trolly or other means of conveying me to the scene of the accident, and sent for the sub-deputy, inspector, native doctor, and the head constable with orders to hurry on to the station with constables. I then went off to the station, arriving at about two or three minutes to 5 A.M. I went on foot. Those I sent for arrived about the same time. I remained at the station till about 6-30 A.M., when an engine with brake-van took us to Arunghatta. Prankissen Dass, sub-deputy, Rashbeharee Biswas, inspector of police, Radhikar Prosad Banerjee, hospital assistant, Bomkesh Adhikaree, head constable at station, and some four or five constables and one chuprasie of mine went with me to the view. I found Mr Rendall there moving the wounded to the brake-van. We arrived at Arunghatta about 7 A.M., and after arrival I gave personal assistance to remove the wounded to the brake-van, and placed the hospital assistant under the Railway Doctor to give whatever medical assistance he could give and he was asked to give. I ordered the head constable with his constables to watch over the dead bodies and properties of passengers which were lying about exposed there. About eight bodies were then on the platform, which the constables had to look after. I found two dead bodies lying by the vehicles, and afterwards I found the bodies of Morgan and the firemen jammed together. After a good search ten were on the spot, the two on the engine, and in the brake-van Mrs. Cann's baby. I made a special search for dead bodies in case there might be others. I did not that day see anything to lead me to think that any bodies had been so cut to pieces as not to be found or identified. Water was much needed for some sufferers, and I did the best I could to procure this. I then went to the brake-van, where the wounded were. I found three females who, I thought, had not been so severely wounded, viz., Mohamoye, Bishumoye, and Romah Bewa: these women informed me that others travelling with them were dead. I asked them to go with me and identify their relatives, but they were in too much pain, and notwithstanding my endeavours to help them, they could not move without serious pain, and so I was forced to leave them; but from what I learnt from them I was enabled to identify all but two persons. Those two were low caste Mahomedans. I then supervised the holding of the inquest by the inspector, and I took evidence as to the cause of the accident, and the sub-deputy and inspector also made an inventory of all property. I endeavoured in vain to take the evidence of driver Cumming. I was there till 2-30 A.M. I examined several persons, and wrote an intimation report and sent a telegram to the Magistrate of the district. On the 3rd I submitted from Arunghatta a second report. I went on that date to meet the District Magistrate and Superintendent of Police. That day a Marwaree came to enquire if his brother was one of the dead: he said his brother was 23, travelling from Assam. I told him there was one up-countryman found dead, who was over 45 or 46 years of age, and I further told him that there were certain properties left by that deceased, which he could come and see if belonging to his brother. I offered to exhume the bodies if he wished it. I took him afterwards to Ranaghat to show him the property, but on arrival there he had disappeared, and though I made enquiries for him, even in Calcutta, could not find him. On that day the Magistrate showed me a bone and some clothes. I am a Hindoo, caste Kaist. I first tried to get moochees or low caste people in order to help me in collecting the bodies, and either to make them over to relations and friends should any such come forward. From three villages all moochees had apparently disappeared. I then asked several spectators of various castes, whose assistance I asked for, but all refused: the bodies therefore remained there till up to 1 P.M., and I thought it best to bury them, and so have them ready to exhume if necessary. According to the Shastras, as far as my knowledge goes, I know that cremation of men dying by accident or unnatural causes is interdicted, and the custom is to throw the bodies into the river. This custom, of course, I could not follow out; to cremate the bodies also men of the same caste is necessary. I could not find out the castes of the dead. There were Kaist, Boishnab, Marwaree, whether Boishnab or not I cannot say, and Mohamedans. I could not have got them cremated had I wished to do so. Besides the application of the one man mentioned, no one applied to have bodies exhumed. Some fourteen days after the accident, a man named Kedar Thakoor came to me at Santipore, and said he was Roomali's husband. I asked him to come and take the body of Naluk Thakoor, who had been travelling with Roomali, but he positively declined to do so. On my arrival, Mr. Rendal and other officials were there, and subsequently Major Gordon and others came. I saw that every one did all that was possible under the circumstances. More could not have been done. A descriptive roll of the dead bodies was taken. Bodies of the Boishnab should be buried and not cremated, they having no caste. Mr. Patterson assisted in the burial. On the 14th October I sent in my final report.

RAM CHARAN BOSE,
Deputy Magistrate.
